Yellow fever is at Aspinwall.

The National Educational Association is in session at Nashville.

Mahone looks up as a Republican candidate for Governor of Virginia.

A prohibition ticket has been nominated in Virginia for State officers.

Gen. Loyd Brice, the new editor of the North American Review is a Democrat.

The Democratic convention of Mississippi have nominated Stone for Governor.

Last Wednesday a man threw himself on a circular saw in a mill and was instantly killed.

Good morning, Brother Ashe! You have been away a long time, and everybody is glad to see you at home again.

Another Whitechapel horror is reported from London; a woman's throat was cut to the spine and the abdomen gashed in a horrible manner.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker is anxious to obtain a suitable design for his forthcoming two-cent postage stamps. Why not have a plain surface bearing the legend: "Go to Wanamaker's for Bargains." This would be simple and useful to Wanamaker.—Ex.

Republicans are howling and saying that Democrats are trying to steal the new States. It is nothing new for men who steal to lay it on somebody else. A party that succeeded in stealing the presidency are certainly able to gobble up three or four States. Go in, gentlemen, while your hand is in.

The Chronicle has great respect for Mr. Whitney, and it does not assert that Mr. Cleveland will be the nominee in 1892. But it does protest against any combination attempting to force a candidate on the party ahead of time. Wait till 1892, and let the party, through its delegates, give an untrammelled expression of its choice.—Charlotte Chronicle.

"Julian Hawthorne has published a card in which he says that he had nothing whatever to do with the 'Arthur Richmond' letters. He asserts that he would have written one or more of them only on condition that he had been permitted to use his signature. The Scarlet Letter must still remain the most striking letter connected with the name of Hawthorne."

A Chicago paper says a circular has been issued, bearing the signatures of the chief officers of the various labor organizations of the country, with a view to the formation of an alliance which will be by far the most favorable labor organization which has ever existed. The circular has been issued privately to the organizations, and is not supposed to be known to the public.—Wilmington Star.

This writer has again and again said that Granville county can beat the world in fine tobacco and by return. We wish to give one sample. Mr. Hagan Crews paid $40 hire for a boy. He and the boy made a crop of tobacco and sold it for $2,200. That beats creation and takes the cake. He made a crop of corn, wheat, roots, &c., and a good one, in addition. Now do not allow jealousy to deter you from copying this. It is true, and is of great credit to North Carolina as well as to old historic Granville. Spread the news.—Wilmington Messenger.

LOCAL NEWS.

F. ULRICH—Flour, etc.
G. W. NEAL—Private school.
NATIONAL BANK—Statement.
W. M. WATSON—Trustees' meeting.

The grass and weeds on the academy green is being mowed.

Mr. J. F. Taylor is having a fish house and sail loft built at the extreme southern end of Middle street.

The "merry go round," planted on Broad street, next to Jordan's drug store, holds the small boys attention.

Many of our citizens have left for different places to spend the summer months and others contemplate going later.

The residence occupied by Mr. J. J. Laiser on Hancock street is being repaired and painted, adding much to its improvement and looks.

A complaint comes from Strabane of the irregularity of the arrival of mail there. The route has been changed to via Goldsboro and Seven Springs.

"Nothing venture, nothing have" is as true a maxim as was ever uttered. If we want more manufacturing among us we must necessarily take some risk.

Mr. Robert Hancock has taken charge of the custom house at New Berne. He is not without knowledge of its management and will no doubt make an efficient officer.

We call attention to the advertisement of Prof. George W. Neal in this issue. He will open a private school, with high intermediate and primary studies, in New Berne on first Monday in September.

The Wilmington Star says: "Mr. Cook, the leader of the New Berne band, is not only a fine musician, but a wit and humorist of the first water. He was the life of the crowd at the beach yesterday."

From the number of cases that are continually before the court in regards to back yards, it would seem that Mayor Williams thinks it is never too late to enforce the sanitary laws. Clean premises and clean streets are a hygienic necessity.

The latest fad among our young men and boys is to discard suspenders and wear fatigue shirts with a belt about their waist to support their trousers. The custom has long been in use in sporting circles, but until recently in business. For hot weather the style is a good one. It is more comfortable and greatly lessens the wearing of so many collars.

There is a greater effort being made now to establish manufacturing industries in our midst than for a long time and if the object is given careful and sufficient study by our business men, those who have or ever expect to have any interest here, they must come. They are a necessity for the life of any place and they must be resorted to if we wish to keep in the line of progress.

The New Berne Steam Fire Engine company returned yesterday from its visit to Wilmington. They tell us in all their lives they never had so pleasant a trip. The hospitality of the Wilmington firemen in particular, and the citizens generally, was unbounded. We are grateful for this courtesy, but we must say that no attentions could exceed the merits of our firemen. The Wilmington papers were exceedingly complimentary to the firemen, and took occasion to speak in high praise of their band playing it among the very best in the country.

The Newspaper at Home.

Since the JOURNAL has been in existence, it has been its endeavor to furnish only such news as might be read in the most refined families. We do not claim to have been entirely successful in this, but it has been our desire as far as the hurry and worry of issuing a paper six days in the week will allow.

In many households the newspaper has become a forbidden object to the eyes and hands of the children because parents are unwilling that the youthful should familiarize themselves with the great amount of crime that is being enacted throughout the world and concentrated by the hungry and ravenous newspapers to be spread at the firesides of the innocent and unutilized minds.

The means and greed with which our big and progressive city dailies have of collecting and publishing the news is wonderful and commendatory, but the desire which some of them display in heralding that which is sensational and unsavory to refined tastes is to be deplored. The publishers of these vile sheets claim that the reading public craves and demand it and that the vitality of the paper rests upon this course. While many readers of newspapers yearn for news of this class, all do not, but even then, is a publisher justified in sending broadcast all the evil and debased happenings of the country far and wide? Not unless he believes it uninjurious.

Newspapers are supposed to be moulders of public opinion and can wield an influence that will exert itself in any community where the integrity and sincerity of the editor is undoubted. It can ennoble and elevate to a higher plane, or debase and lower the senses of morality. To deprive children of the current events of the day may not be well, but if it is at the expense of character, they should go uninformed and such papers ruled out from their presence. Instead of educating and up-building as they can so easily do, they degrade and tarnish and plant evil influence that takes root and thrives.

Why Is It?

Why is it that the people of our place do not feel satisfied unless they can leave home during the summer for recreation? It must be some other cause than that other places are superior to our own abodes. As to New Berne being a pleasant place to live at, it speaks for itself.

There are very few days that refreshing breezes do not blow from our broad rivers and exhilarate our people. The signal service reports and a careful record of the JOURNAL thermometer substantiate the fact of our even and mild temperature. Also bleak and freezing winters are scarcely known to the inhabitants of this section.

The principle reason why so many absent themselves during the summer we would suppose to be because a change of locality and scenery is desired and one can be easier spared from their business at this season.

Mayor's Court.

In Mayor's court yesterday William Taylor, col., was fined $3.50 and cost for disorderly conduct. Amos Jones, col., was up for larceny, and in default of bail was sent to jail to await next term of Superior Court.

Personal.

Miss Blanche White, who has been visiting friends in the city, returned to Kinston yesterday.

Capt. J. A. Richardson and wife and son Carl and Miss Mamie Amyette left for Chapel Hill yesterday.

Shipping News.

The steamer Eagle of the E. C. D. line sailed yesterday with a cargo of lumber, truck, &c. The Annie of this line will arrive today.

The schooner John R. P. Moore is loading lumber at Cooper's mill.

The usual summer encampment of the Eastern North Carolina mosquito association has opened in New Berne. This city is a popular resort for the mosquito, and the encampment this year is well attended. The famous "mosquito lullaby," as sung by the "boys," is charming these cool nights.

Watermelons are becoming plentiful now, and the glad voice of the small colored boy sings:

"O, dat sweet watermelon!
It am de sweetest fruit dat grows:
I love it, I'll have it,
No matter where I goes."

PROVERBS.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

Benjamin's Pills cure bilious and nervous ailments.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From the State Papers.

Raleigh Call: The seventy-five horse power boiler and engine for the wagon factory arrived this morning and will be placed in position at once.

Wilmington Star: The Star office was complimented with a serenade last night by the New Berne Cornet Band. "Dixie" and other selections were rendered in fine style.

Lenoir Topic: Corn is $1 per bushel in Ashe county.—Mr. A. H. Boyd, of Globe; raised 54 stalks of rye from one grain sown. The heads average 45 grains to the head.

Statesville Christian Advocate: Surveys and sketches of the city have been made and sent out to different companies with the view to procuring water works for this city.

La Grange Sentinel: Crops in the Seven Springs section were badly damaged by the recent rains, but they are coming out nicely.—We learn that the corn and cotton crops in the Bucklesby section are very good.

Washington Progress: Typhoid fever seems to be prevalent in our town, several cases are reported. Is this caused in any way by the digging of trenches, etc., in the town, for drainage purposes? If so that work had better be delayed until the fall.

Snow Hill Free-Will Baptist: It was feared that the excessive rains had damaged the crops on high land in this section, but the showers in the last few days have been of considerable advantage, and the prospects at present, are in favor of a fair crop.

Washington Gazette: A good many familiar faces have been missed among the colored people of this town of late. It seems that a quiet but gradual exodus is going on, but we are not advised as to what particular direction they are making. There seems to be a restless spirit prevailing.

Wilmington Messenger: A Messenger reporter talked last night with several of the New Berne visitors, and they all expressed themselves as carried away with their royal treatment at the hands of the W. S. F. E. boys. They were especially well pleased with the elegant dinner and supper served at Mr. Brown's.

Greensboro North State: Many of the Wrightsville visitors are wending their way homeward. It is amusing to see what a difference there is in the manner of estimating the beauties of the resort. One man will say he had a delightful time, and another will say that he was driven away by heat, and flies mosquitoes.

Winston Daily: It seems that this section abounds in curiosities. Yesterday Mr. John G. Young brought into our office a dove colored crow, which he says was killed from a flock of black crows a few miles from this place. This is the first dove colored crow we have ever seen or heard of.

News and Observer: Ground was broken yesterday morning on the cotton factory site, to carry out the contract for the grading which is to be completed within three weeks. President Lewis is pushing right ahead now in executing the work and Treasurer Wynne is taking in the cash to pay for the same. A cotton mill architect of national reputation was telegraphed for last night, and another will arrive today. There will be no delay from now on in getting the factory to work.

Scotland Neck Democrat: By Monday's mail we received three special communications from Ringwood giving information of the burning of Dr. G. E. Matthews' dwelling on Saturday night, 13th. Dr. Matthews lives near Ringwood, and on Saturday night between twelve and one o'clock, the family were aroused by the burning of the dwelling. It was too late to save any of the furniture, the family barely escaping themselves. The fire was supposed to have originated in the cooking apartment, catching from the stove. There was no insurance, and the loss was between $1,000 and $1,200.

Farmers' Dinner and Picnic.

There will be a picnic and farmers' dinner at Pleasant Hill church in Tuckahoe township, Jones county, N. C., on Thursday the 8th day of August, under the direction of the Pleasant Hill Alliance No. 205. F. D. Koonce, Esq., of Richlands, Onslow county, N. C., has consented to deliver the address. We cordially invite all citizens in reach, and especially all farmers and their families, to join us. Bring your well-filled baskets and let us have a pleasant and profitable meeting. The Alliance will have plenty of ice-cold drinks at reasonable prices.

By order of committee,
JOHNNIE SMALL, Sec'y.

Meeting of Trustees.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Trustees of New Berne Academy will be held at the office of the President, Monday afternoon, July 23d, at four o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

Woman's Smiles and Woman's Tears.

One to enliven the other to soften the heart of mankind. An old bachelor once said women were either "all smiles or all tears;" but this cannot be true for what would there be "twixt a tear and a smile?" Women have enough to bear to make them "all tears," and enough to hope for to make them "all smiles." When afflicted with nervousness, "female weakness," sick headache, and the numerous diseases peculiar to their sex, there is necessity for contemplation, and for "tears," but when they consider that there is a sure remedy in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for all such "female complaints," there is reason for "smiles."
