WHAT appears to be an important invention has recently been made public in Phillips, Wis. It is no less than the practical and cheap use of water as fuel.

THE Democrats of Virginia, in convention at Richmond, have nominated Capt. Phil McKinney for Governor, I. Hoge Tyler for Lieut. Governor, and R. Taylor Scott for Attorney General.

ENTHUSIASTIC harmony in the determination to inflict a Waterloo defeat on Mahone Republicanism characterized yesterday's proceedings of the Democratic Convention of Virginia.—New York Star.

ONE of the best rules in conversation is, never to say a thing which any of the company can reasonably wish we had rather left unsaid. Nor can there anything be well more contrary to the ends for which people meet together than to part unsatisfied with each other or themselves.—Swift.

SOME of our contemporaries write of Nevada as "a dying State." In point of fact, this but faintly describes the played out material condition of that "rotten borough" of our political system, and which, unless some plan for breathing into its body and members an altogether new life be evolved, must shortly give up the ghost.—Chicago News.

WE need two or three columns additional for choice miscellaneous matter. With these, then we could add much to the interest and value of the Messenger. We hope to get the needed space yet, and if a strong rally is made for the extension of its circulation, we may get it before the hard winter comes.—Wilmington Messenger.

THE New York World says of the largely increased vote in Kentucky at the recent election; "The Democratic party in Kentucky (and we believe everywhere else) is stronger without the federal office-holders than it is with them." This will be fully demonstrated by the result of the Virginia election in November.—Norfolk Virginian.

KANSAS city, Missouri, Aug. 15. The storm which passed over the Missouri Valley Monday night was the most disastrous known in this section. Over twenty persons, it is said, were killed by lightning, and the damage in animals killed, ruined crops and washouts will run up to over half a million dollars.—Special to News and Observer.

BERLIN Aug. 15. All accounts of the experiments with smokeless powder at the Spandan sham fight, concur in saying that no smoke was visible at a distance of 300 yards, and that no sound was heard beyond a slight tapping. A strange effect was produced by the spectacle of a large mass of troops in firing position seemingly inactive but really pouring forth a deadly fire.

BOYS' races are as nature made them; and, being unlike and unequal, they were not made to live together in the same community on terms of equality—on any ground. The political party which has organized confusion in the South is responsible for every race conflict in the South, and it also is blind to the folly and hopelessness of its unnatural schemes.—Charleston News and Courier.

THE question of railroad regulation will be the paramount issue in next year's campaign in Texas, incidental to the adoption or rejection of the proposed constitutional amendment providing for a Railway Commission. United States Senator Coke of that State has written a letter, in which he takes a very decided but liberal and conservative view, and while he favors a commission, he deprecates any extreme action that is likely to be detrimental to the railroads or their development of the State.—Baltimore Sun.

IN our own State the "reaction," as the colored brethren call it, has been very considerable. Warring delegations have camped at Washington until sheer exhaustion and the President's absence compelled them to come home. There has been much bitterness developed in the struggle for office. We really believe that in some cases Republican applicants would rather have Democrats incumbents continue in office than to see rival Republican applicants appointed.—Mobile Register.

New Earne District M. E. Sunday School Conference.

KINSTON, N. C., Aug. 16, 1889.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Meeting assembled at three o'clock, p. m., President Lane in the chair.

After singing praises and prayer, the regular order of business was taken up. The proceedings of the morning were read and adopted, and upon re-calling the roll, the following additional delegates were found to have arrived: Kinston, Miss Capicola Grainger; Mt. Olive, Mr. Hines; Rocky Mount, Mr. Best.

The first topic of discussion was, "How may our Sunday-schools be made more efficient," by Y. C. Ormand. Mr. Ormand began by saying that the subject of Sunday-schools had been so ably discussed in the forenoon that he was afraid he was unable to interest his hearers or tell them anything new, but in following him along his line of discourse we soon discovered the advancement of new thoughts and ideas. He said that to have a good Sunday-school you must have a good attendance, and to have a good attendance you must interest the pupils. He favored award cards, banners and books, also the appointing of committees to go out into the highways and hedge and induce children to attend. That exercises where children are present should be short and varied, and that it was the duty of the teacher to be well posted on the lesson. Also, as had been previously urged by former speakers, great responsibility rested on the superintendent and parents. Remarks on the above were offered by W. W. Rose, L. W. Crawford, W. S. Rone, R. A. Willis and N. A. Hooker.

The next subject was "How may our young ladies and gentlemen be retained as active members of the Sunday-school," Rev. J. E. Thompson, leader. Rather than make a speech himself, he expressed a preference that the subject be taken up by a number of speakers and discussed from its various standpoints. He had labored many years in the cause principally in the rural districts, but had not yet discovered any plan of retaining young ladies and gentlemen in the school. If they possessed a horse and buggy they were most sure to take Sunday for driving. That they would go ten miles to hear a new preacher instead of attending their own Sunday-school which in all probability was in sight of where they lived. This brought on a sharp and rather sarcastic reply from Dr. Robey. He wanted to know if the young people were more delinquent than the older ones, and if so, why this delinquency? His argument was rather a peculiar one, and we confess that we scarcely knew how to take it. Presiding Elder Willis told the Doctor that, even in the earnest way he had expressed himself, he did not think he meant all that he had said. This brought no explanation from Dr. Robey which to us added to the mystery. The debate was further continued by M. M. McFarland, I. A. White, J. Q. Jackson, J. W. Bryan and Mrs. Atlas Rhodes.

At night an address on "Influence of the Sunday-school upon the Nation," was delivered by Rev. Dr. Robey. It was beautiful, logical and scholarly, and was given a close hearing by the large audience present.

SATURDAY MORNING.

Convention assembled at ten o'clock. After devotional exercises by the Presiding Elder, R. A. Willis, the minutes of the last evening session were read and adopted. The following new delegates were reported present: New Berne, W. R. Barrington; La Grange, R. M. Harper; Goldsboro, J. W. Bryan; Carteret, N. M. Journey.

The first subject on the program was "Music in the School Room, its Nature and Importance." The leader, J. K. Willis, being absent, T. A. Green was substituted by the President. Mr. Green made a very pointed and practical talk of about fifteen minutes. He told them that he was no musician, but as he heartily endorsed having good music in the Sunday-school, he would dwell upon the subject as best he could. Additional remarks on the subject were made by M. M. McFarland, W. R. Barrington, W. L. Arendall, E. R. Ball, W. M. Robey and H. Edwards.

W. L. Arendall made a motion to dispense with the program temporarily, and hear reports from the various schools as to their method of work, progress, &c. By request of Dr. Robey the motion was withdrawn. After a renewed discussion on music, the following resolution was introduced by W. S. Rone and adopted: "Resolved, That it is the sense of this conference, that as soon as possible, and as far as practicable, our Sunday-schools should adopt and use our new hymn books."

Next on the program was "Importance of Mission Work in the Sunday-school." Rev. J. T. Abernathy had been assigned as leader, but in his absence, the chair appointed J. Q. Jackson as a substitute. Mr. Jackson handled the subject well and showed that he was not unacquainted with its workings. With a rich, low and mellow voice at times he became eloquent. References were made by O. H. Allen, E. A. Willis, W. W. Rose, Hines, L. W. Crawford, Dr. Whitaker, J. E. Thompson, W. L. Arendall, N. A. Hooker, H. Edwards, Dr. Robey, Y. C. Ormand, J. W. Bryan, W. S. Rone, N. M. Journey and Mrs. W. H. West.

Meeting adjourned till 9 o'clock in the afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Convention met at two o'clock. Devotional exercises were conducted by Dr. Robey. Minutes of morning session read and adopted.

The secretary stated that he was in need of a record book, and on motion of J. W. Bryan he was authorized to draw on the treasurer for sufficient funds.

The election of officers was next in order, which resulted as follows: President, Y. C. Ormand; Vice-Pres.

O. H. Allen; Sec. W. L. Arendall; Treas. T. A. Green.

On motion of J. W. Bryan a committee of three were appointed by the president as an executive committee, which consisted of J. W. Bryan, T. A. Green and W. L. Arendall.

La Grange was chosen to hold the next annual meeting. A resolution to memorialize the next annual conference to change the ratio of delegates was offered by J. R. Bell, but it was postponed.

Other resolutions were read and adopted as follows: Resolved, That the thanks of this body are due and are hereby tendered the good people of Kinston for their elegant and refined hospitality extended to the members of our conference during their session. Also we tender our thanks to the authorities of the A. & N. C. R. for reduced rates.

Resolved, That the thanks of this convention are due and are hereby tendered our retiring president, Bro. Daniel Lane, for his courteous, faithful and efficient services while in office. Resolved, That the thanks of this convention are due and are hereby tendered to our secretary for the faithful manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office. The convention adjourned at four o'clock after a most profitable and pleasant sitting of two days in the beautiful and hospitable town of Kinston.

Isaac H. Smith and Colored Exodus. EDITOR JOURNAL:—As my views have been asked for I freely give them. I express myself thus: I will give this fall five hundred dollars, and five hundred next spring, to assist the colored race to better its condition.

ISAAC H. SMITH.

DIED.
Near New Berne, N. C., July 26th, 1889, of malarial fever, Sallie Mallison, formerly Mollwean, aged 23 years, wife of Mr. B. B. Mallison, who last year led her happily to the matrimonial altar, and this year follows her remains, with broken heart, to the tomb.

Sallie possessed from her early childhood a lovely character which beautifully adorned her home, the school she attended, and the community in which she lived.

I was her teacher several terms of school and I never met a more congenial disposition during twenty-five years as a teacher.

She grew to womanhood perfecting those traits of loveliness which began so early to develop. Seven years ago she joined the M. E. Church South, at Beech Grove, and died triumphant in the faith she professed.

As death approached she calmly said, "I'm not afraid to die."

She was loved by all who knew her, and loved most by those who knew her best.
