CROP indications throughout the country point to the largest yield of oats ever reported.

RALIGH shipped over three hundred thousand pounds of grapes during the season just closed.

THE Raleigh Evening Visitor says, "We are to have the biggest State fair this year which has ever been held."

SEVERAL other sealers have been captured in Behring Sea since the seizure of the Black Diamond and there is intense excitement in Victoria, and much interest is manifested at Washington.

THE engineers constituting the Missouri River Commission have recommended to the Secretary of War an appropriation of $3,000,000 for the improvement of that river and its branches the coming year.

WHEN conditions are such that labor must go from monopolist to millionaire pleading, "Please; for the sake of charity, give me leave to work," it is a dark hour for the land where it is so.—National Economist.

IT strikes us that the abuse of North Carolina just now as a poor State to live in has gone far enough. We have been in some eight Southern States and we never saw a better State. There is always room at the top.—Wilmington Messenger.

IT is reported that Blaine, Sherman, Foraker, Depew and other Republican speakers are to take part in the approaching Virginia Campaign. We hope so. Their presence on the stump would largely increase the Democratic majority.

SELMA, ALA., is still stirred up on account of the race trouble. Warrants of arrest have been issued for Bryant, Clark, and Jones, of the Independent, for inciting race animosities, but they could not be found in the city. The military is kept in readiness for any emergency.

THE Wilmington Star says: "A telegram from New York yesterday (Wednesday) says: Among the cabin passengers of the steamer State of Indiana, which arrived from Glasgow today, were eighty-five members of the North Carolina school Teachers Assembly, who crossed to Europe about two months ago on a pleasure trip.

THE recent accident to the cruiser Boston has caused some one to look up the fact that an American man-of-war of the same name fell into the hands of the British some years ago, and another was burned to prevent her sharing a like fate. "Give a dog a bad name and you may as well hang him at once."—Norfolk Ledger.

"WHILE the North Carolina teachers were in London they called upon Queen Victoria, and Major Harrell presented her with a beautiful hiddenite set in a nugget of North Carolina gold. Beautifully engraved was the inscription the "Old North State," on one side, and on the other, "To Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, from the North Carolina Teachers" Assembly, July 26, 1889."

THE Democrats have been sneered at by party workers because the last campaign was an "educational" one, in which the Democratic party was knocked out. All right, Mr. Harrison's four years will also be educational, and when they end the people will refuse to be the cat's-paws of monopolists any longer. Then the Republican party, with its protective humbugger, will be sent flying. The people are learning their lesson very rapidly.—N. Y. Herald, Ind.

BUT in this case it seems to us that in the eye of the law the elements necessary to constitute the act of killing Judge Terry justifiable homicide are wanting. The bad character of the assailant has nothing to do with it. Any general purpose that he may have been known to harbor and any threats that he may have previously uttered are not relevant to the question, which is simply whether then and there he did make an attack upon Judge Field whereby the life of the latter was put in peril and saved only by the bullet of his protector.—New York Times. We agree with this view of the case. It was Nagle's duty to arrest Terry, not to kill him.—Norfolk Landmark.

William MacKay Porter.

Many of our citizens remember Captain Porter who was here last winter. He was out of health all the time, and for a while was very ill. It afforded our people genuine gratification to be able to minister to his wants and in some measure mitigate his sufferings. The Washington Post, in an article too long to be inserted here, says: "The case of William MacKay Porter, the pension office examiner, who was arrested in Belfast for obtaining money under false pretenses, and who has a wife and four children living in the city, is stranger almost than the case of Doctor Jaykie and Mr. Hyde. For the last twenty-one years his life has been full of odd freaks and deeds. Four times he has given up honorable and prominent positions, deserted his family and wandered away to different parts of the world, securing his transportation and living entirely by his shrewdness. He is now an admitted lunatic and his two great hobbies are money and an irresistible desire to be always traveling."

"His wife and family have heard nothing from him since his arrest, but Gen. Fitz-John Porter and others have taken an interest in the case, and Mr. Porter, in all probability, will be sent back to the United States and placed in an asylum."

John Harvey—A Revolutionary Patriot.

From the Elizabeth City Economist we see an article in regard to the lost grave tablet of that able and patriotic statesman, John Harvey. We copy the article, also a letter from H. S. Gardner of this place, which gives light as to its whereabouts.

The first assemblage ever held in North Carolina independent of royal authority, was presided over by John Harvey. It was held in this city just one hundred and fifteen years ago tomorrow.

The article from the Economist is as follows:

"Our young friend R. L. Blount, of Hertford, Perquimans county, was in town and called to see us on Thursday. Among other pleasant subjects, we discussed the subject of John Harvey's grave tablet, which cannot now be found in the family graveyard of the Harveys in Harvey's Neck. The remains of John Harvey, our leading revolutionary patriot, were probably washed into Albemarle sound before the graves were removed from the shore by the late Charles W. Skinner, somewhere about the year 1850. We visited the burial place of the Harvey family in 1886 and it was not more than 20 feet from the bank upon which the sound was constantly encroaching. John Harvey died in 1775. He was at the time the leader of the Revolution in North Carolina and the 'Moderator' of the conventions that protested against the acts of the British crown. He was a man of large wealth and great distinction. His ancestors for a hundred years had been the most distinguished and most wealthy in North Carolina. In the graveyard, all of them have marble tablets over their graves with the 'Harvey rose' engraved upon them; and yet no tablet in that graveyard records the name and deeds and character of John Harvey, the most illustrious of them all, the man whose marble statue Colonel Saunders thinks should represent North Carolina in the National Memorial Hall at Washington. It must have been that this proud and wealthy family placed some memorial tablet over his grave. Where is it? What has become of it? It is probably some thirty or forty feet in Albemarle sound, having been washed in with the crumbling bank before the remains were removed inland by the late Charles W. Skinner. Mr. Blount has promised to ascertain this fact by an examination of the sound bottom near the site of the old Harvey graveyard, and the pious labor will entitle him to the gratitude of every patriotic Carolinian."

NEW BERNE, N. C., Aug. 20, 1889.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—I noticed in the Elizabeth City Economist of August 6th an inquiry in regard to the tablet of John Harvey's grave. The tablet was removed by myself and the late John Skinner in April, 1865, to another graveyard about half a mile from the sound graveyard, and as near as I can now recollect, about half way between the sound and the site where Harvey hall used to stand. The grave then was washed away. All we could find was a small bone and a part of a brass hinge which belonged to the coffin. Mr. Skinner took charge of them and they may now be in the possession of his family.

Very respectfully,
H. S. GARDNER.

It is quite a pleasure to go out for an evening's drive on the new macadamized road, but some of our citizens think that the road should not be used by baby carriages. Nurses like to go in numbers and sometimes as many as five or six baby carriage are seen bunched together. Some of them were on the road the other evening when there came near being an accident from a passing buggy. On the side walk is the proper place for babies.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From the State Papers.

Washington Gazette: On Tuesday morning the Pantego Mills, owned by the Roper Company were destroyed by fire. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Loss about $1,500.

Lenoir Topic: No deaths have occurred within incorporation, thus far, this year. Where is the town with nearly a thousand inhabitants with such a record? This a glorious country.—A fifty thousand dollar hotel, with all the modern improvements, is to be built at Blowing Rock, overlooking the beautiful valley of John's River by opening time next year. It will be built by Northern capitalists, who see the superior advantages in climate to other summer resorts.

Asheville Journal: It is generally believed that Asheville has a larger number of visitors this season than ever before in its history as a summer resort. Almost every State and Territory in the Union is represented.—The many friends of General Johnstone Jones, of this city will regret to learn that he has decided to make his future home in San Diego, Cal., for which place he leaves with his estimable wife tomorrow morning. In parting with General Jones the people of Asheville, as well as of the whole State, wish him success and prosperity in his new home. He has served the State faithfully and well as Adjutant General for the past twelve years.

Raleigh News and Observer: Under the management of the present Board of Directors much work is being accomplished toward the completion of the building and the making of the institution as near self-supporting as can be under existing circumstances and laws. The legislature provided for the hiring out of certain large numbers of convicts to railroads at the yearly compensation of $125.00 per convict. These convicts are turned over to the directors who hire them to contractors on the line of their roads at 10 cents per hour and work them 12 hours per day. Just so long as such laws are created and carried out so long it will be utterly impossible to make the penitentiary a self-supporting institution.
