BOSTON was selected as the place for next year's Encampment of the G. A. R.

10,000 of Lord Durham's miners are idle by reason of the London strikes.

THE London strikers are now over 150,000 strong and show no sign of weakening.

IT is reported, from Colon, that a steamer, with yellow fever on board, has left that port for the United States.

ON Wednesday last the Secretary of the Treasury accepted $3,821,000 4 per cent registered bonds at 128, and $67,800 four and a half registered at 106 1/2.

AS predicted by the JOURNAL Hon James E. Campbell received the Democratic nomination for Governor of Ohio. The Platform demands Tariff Reform. "The World do move."

IT is not so much the fault of rich American Girls who are captured by titles as it is of the snobbish parents and society, which encourage a hankering after that kind of thing.—Wilmington Star.

THE Jury of the Paris Exposition have recommended that a gold medal be awarded to Boston for its Educational Exhibits and similar recommendations have been made in favor of Cornell University of Virginia.

"WE have never been one of those editors who favor a sacrifice of conviction and principle at the shrine of expediency. We believe that President Cleveland did a grand thing when he defied the hosts of Monopoly and invited to combat the Goliaths of Plutocracy.—Wilmington Messenger.

SENATOR MANDERSON takes his pension bonus with a gulp, without waiting to get a prescription. As a matter of form he now proposes to see what the doctors think of his case. This looks irregular. If it be the proper method to loot the treasury first and file a voucher afterward the problem of how to get rid of the surplus has already been solved.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

IT is a great pleasure to understand that the tobacco crop of the state is excellent, and that prices are ruling high. We congratulate our friends in the tobacco belt on the outlook for them. It is one of the good things about North Carolina that our climate and soil permit a great variety of crops, and the prosperity of the State is not dependent exclusively on any one of the great staples. The tobacco growers are to reap a rich harvest we hope this year.—News and Observer.

Now that Mr. Harrison has put a Confederate ex-Brigadier in the saddle in Virginia, it may or may not be a surprise to him to find that the Brigadier is proceeding to ride rough shod over the "agreement" brought about by the President and the National Committee.—N. Y. Times, Ind.

A REPORT has been flying around that the colored editors J. H. Clark and E. C. Jones, of the Selma, Ala., Independent had been lynched at Meridian Miss. There was no foundation for the statement. They have gone to Washington to seek employment in one of the Departments and swell the bowl of "Southern outrage."

SUCH returns as have been received render it absolutely certain that the increase in the total assessment for the year will be greater than for any previous year in the history of the South. And this is saying a great deal, for there has been a steady advance during the past eight years of $134,891,801 a year.—Savannah News, Dem.

THE same incident affords evidence that Cleveland has not "lost his grip" as a leader. Nothing succeeds like success, and nothing so conclusively proves a man a leader as the fact that he has followers. The Ohio Democracy follows the lead of Grover Cleveland, and in that is proof that defeat does not dim the virtues of the greatest President since Andrew Jackson.—Charlotte Chronicle.

OUR beloved Postmaster General does not allow politics to interfere with business. Bids were invited some time ago for the uniforms of the Cincinnati mail carriers. Many of our local leading furnishers went into the competition. The lowest Cincinnati bid was $29.05 per uniform. But Wanamaker & Brown, of Philadelphia, got the contract at $29. Of course John did not have any tip to knock off that 5 cents.—Cincinnati Inquirer, Dem.

Death of Mrs. Christian.
The following sad telegram was received at a late hour last night announcing the death at Charlotte of Mrs. Christian, the only daughter of that noble and lamented soldier, General Stonewall Jackson:

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 30, 1889.
Mrs. Christian, nee Miss Julia Jackson, only daughter of General Stonewall Jackson, died this morning of typhoid fever at her home in Charlotte.

A Trust Gone to Grief.
The "Moneyed Trust" in New York which recently bought up on speculation an immense amount of United States bonds and then issued a circular setting forth that unless the Secretary of the Treasury advanced the price of bonds that a famine would result have come to grief. To the credit of Mr. Windom, he refused to advance the price and the trust had to sell without making the immense profit they had in anticipation.

Hoopskirts Again
may come into style, but it is hoped not. The transformation which will bring back that style of crinolines ought to be indefinitely postponed. Transformations in the health of thousands of women throughout the country have taken place during the past few years. Pale, haggard and dispirited, they have become bright-eyed and healthy. The secret? Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which cures all other chronic "weaknesses" and distressing ailments peculiar to women.

Is He Unpopular or Not?

This is the question propounded by the Raleigh Call about President Bryan of the A. & N. C. R. We do not think such a question would have been asked by the Call if its publisher had made himself acquainted with the sentiment of the majority of the people along the line of said railroad and those who are interested in its future prosperity, nor would it have been asked had he given any credence to statements announced in the JOURNAL at various times. The Call says that from the best information it can get the trouble was started by a newspaper that had differences with Mr. Bryan, and that other papers along the line had almost succeeded in making the public believe that there is really a unanimous desire on the part of the people in that section for the removal of Mr. Bryan, and that so far much more had been said against him by the press than for him.

We only speak for the JOURNAL, and if it has made more complaint than praise, it is because we believe it to have been true and a duty we owe to the stockholders as well as the community through which the road traverses. If we have ever made any misstatements about the road it was unintentional, and we have always stood, not only willing, but glad to correct any error that might have been made.

We do not say that newspapers of integrity are without influence, but we hardly think that those along the line of the A. & N. C. R. would lay any claim towards controlling the action of the magistrates of a county that are appointed by the Legislature, Farmers Alliance, County Commissioners and large organizations of representative business men. Now if the Call thinks the newspapers along the line of the A. & N. C. R. have about succeeded in making the public believe that there is a unanimous desire on the part of our people that Mr. Bryan should be removed, then we think it in knowing that we can wield so much power.

As the Call may have overlooked an article that appeared in the JOURNAL a few days ago, we will re-produce a few paragraphs to verify the weight of the influence the Call has seen fit to bestow upon said papers in appointing Mr. Bryan:

"In answer, we say did not the magistrates of Carter county and a large number of citizens assemble at Beaufort and unanimously pass resolutions requesting the Governor not to reappoint Mr. Bryan? This will not be denied."

"Did not the County Farmer's Alliance in several adjoining counties pass resolutions asking the Governor not to appoint him, and sent a delegation to Morehead City to inform the Governor of their action and lay before him their reasons, which was done in writing? This cannot be denied."

"Did not the county commissioners of Lenoir county pass a resolution, unanimously, asking the Governor not to appoint Mr. Bryan? This is true."

"Did not the association of business men of Kinston in a meeting of about seventy-five members unanimously pass a resolution asking the Governor not to reappoint Mr. Bryan? We have been so informed."

"At the recent appraiser's meeting held in this city, in which every county which the road touches had a representative, we have been informed that it was the unanimous opinion of the board that Mr. Bryan's own statement as to the condition of the road ought to be sufficient to prevent his reappointment."

"And again: so great was the opposition to Mr. Bryan in Lenoir county that prominent Democrats there had to pledge themselves to use every effort with the Governor to have Mr. Bryan removed in order to keep them from drawing out the Governor on this question when he spoke in Kinston before the election."

We also copy an item from the Kinston Free Press which will plainly show that Mr. Bryan is not the right man to induce an increase of business:

"Who is to blame if not Mr. Bryan? If 'Truth' will come to Kinston and consult our shippers he will find many of them who will never patronize it when they can avoid it, as long as Mr. Bryan is President. A competent business man would secure much more freight traffic from Kinston, and we believe other places on the road where there is competition."

If this unpopularity failed to injure the road it would not make so great a difference, but we do not see how any unprejudiced man can see otherwise than that it will prove a hindrance in the increase of the revenue of the road. It is bound to be so and the figures show it when viewed from a proper standpoint. Is it fair or just to say that the administration of Mr. Bryan has been more successful than Col. Whitford's because a four years' term of Mr. Bryan ending May 31, 1889, aggregates $50,000 more than a four years' term of Col. Whitford going as far back as 1889? Certainly not. To be just, the ratio of increase should be given, which is as follows:

RATIO OF INCREASE FOR BRYAN.
1887 over 1886	$6,050.78
1888 over 1887	2 414.15
1889 over 1888	5,013.60

Total for three years.....$13,478.53
At this same ratio of gain, had Whitford been continued as president, the earnings of the A. & N. C. R. would have been, for the year ending May 31, 1889, $170,169.58, instead of $134,465.84, which are the receipts of Mr. Bryan for that year. The statement stands for itself and clearly shows that the road is not succeeding as it should. There is something radically wrong, as the proportionate gain under the administration of Mr. Bryan is far in arrears of that of Col. Whitford.

It gives us no pleasure to record any ill success of the road save in a way that we think would remedy the evil. Whenever it has come to our knowledge we have gladly given note of any improvement or development connected with it, and we shall continue to do so. The appointment of a President for another term is soon to take place, and we trust that Governor Fowle will give it careful and thorough consideration. There are numbers of men along the line of road that are amply competent to manage it, and as a four years' term under the present administration has given so much dissatisfaction, it seems to us that a change not only suggests itself but is highly important.

Mayor's Court.

The brethren and sisters of the "Tin Cup Alley Christian church" were out in full force yesterday morning to hear the trial of Robert Rogers and Redin McIlwain, both charged with the same offense, viz: disturbing the peace by riotous action and firing a pistol within the city limits.

For sometime the church has been in a state of disruption. There are two factions, one led by McIlwain, the other by Rogers and Elder Leffers. McIlwain seems to have the biggest crowd, and when Rogers and Elder Leffers excommunicated them circumstances were ripe for the fracas which occurred on last Monday night.

Both defendants pleaded not guilty. McIlwain took the witness stand and testified, embellishing his statements with dramatic gesticulations and eloquent outbursts of surprise and mortification at the conduct of "Brer Rodgers." "Brer Rodgers," said he, "when you pulled dat pistol, I saw death 'megiately.'" Then to the court, "Look here, I got to die, ain't I? Rodgers drew dat pistol! Soon as he got through shootin' he run out de back door and come runnin' to de front door, an' I met him. I says, Rodgers, Rodgers, my God! I wouldn't had you do dis fur fifty dollars in my pocket. I swear it was you if I was blind. I been scoered ever since."

There was a dozen or more witnesses and all were much mortified (?) by the way the other side acted. A great deal of time was taken up by them in emphasizing the fact that they were telling the truth. One sister contended that the shooting was from the front door towards the pulpit, yet the ball was found in the wall over the front door.

Some of the evidence was very amusing. "All save me tonight," says one sister, "Brother Rodgers, I got under det' bench to save my life. I'm a judgment woman—you shot!"

Rodgers' witnesses swore positively that they saw McIlwain do the shooting, but in the cross examination they told some very crooked truths.

Elder Leffers, who had been hiding under a bench with some of the sisters, was so excited he couldn't walk, and was handed, feet foremost, out of the window, after the firing ceased.

In the meantime a general fight was going on in the front part of the building, and somebody outside was trying to nail up the door.

It seems that Rodgers, after doing the shooting, ran out at the back door and down the street a little distance and then came up and wanted to know "what in the world is the matter here." He said he tried to stop the row and was a peace-maker.

This was a very thin tale, however, and the court charged him $30 and cost or 90 days on one count and $5 and cost or 90 days on the other. He took an appeal to court.

McIlwain was discharged.

HERIT WINS.

We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. For sale by R. N. DUFFY, wholesale and retail druggist. Price per dozen bottles, $8.00. Jan23 1y

Personal.

Mr. Jos. A. Enslow, jr., so well known among our grocery merchants as a traveling salesman from New York by reason of his visits here for the past ten years, is at the Hotel Albert. He is bidding farewell to his friends previous to his going into the trans-Mississippi States. His son, Mr. Jos. A. Enslow, third, accompanies him and will succeed his father in his old territory of North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia. Mr. Jos. A. Enslow, sr., is still in business in Charleston, S. C., and has business friends here too. It isn't often we can issue a personal involving three generations with an unchanged name.

Mr. O. Marks is in the Northern markets buying his fall stock of dry goods. Capt. Southgate and Chief Engineer Hand, of the steamer Manteo, and party came up from Morehead City yesterday morning. They caught fish by the wholesale. The sport is very fine at Morehead City now.

The following passengers left on the Manteo yesterday: Miss Lizzie Roberts, who has been visiting Miss Guion, for Chestertown, Md.; Mr. Kavele and wife, Norfolk; C. H. Fowler, of Stone-wall, and W. H. Sawyer of Bayboro, for the Northern markets.

Mr. Frank Harper of Kinston is in the city.

Mr. Geo. Howard returned to Baltimore yesterday.

Miss Kate Bryan, who has been visiting friends in Fayetteville for the past month or two, is at home.

Mr. J. K. Willis has returned from the western part of the State.

Mr. William Watson of Asheville is in the city.

Miss Etta Nunn has returned home after a few weeks in Kenansville.

Mr. Geo. W. Aiken, representative of John Robinson's circus, was in the city yesterday.

THE LADIES DELIGHTED.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowel.
