NEW ORLEANS is said to be universally prosperous.

The President's speech at the Log College Celebration was—nothing particular.

The United Confederate Veterans have elected Governor Jan. B. Gordon, General.

LEGITIMATE, ex-President of Hayti, arrived in New York last Thursday, and sailed for France on yesterday.

GEN. RUFUS BARRINGER is endeavoring to organize a Confederate Veterans' Historical Society in Mecklenburg county and offers a liberal contribution to that object.

It is understood that Boss Quay is very sore toward Col. Elliott Flapdoodle Shepard for giving "the Lord" credit for electing Harrison.—Cincinnati Enquirer, Dem.

"NORTH CAROLINA may yet become a great producer of tin. The deposit of this metal at Kings Mountain is now being worked with great energy by the company that owns it."

WHAT Henry Grady wants is not very clear. For a time he was spoken of as a candidate for United States Senator, then for Governor, and it is now said that he is a candidate for Representative in Congress.

DR. JOHN R. BROWN, of Knoxville, Tenn., is applicant before the Board of Directors for the Superintendentcy of the North Carolina Insane Asylum. He is well recommended and has had considerable experience in such institutions.

DR. W. C. MCDUFFIE, of Fayetteville, and DR. FRANK DUFFY, of New Berne, are strongly, almost eloquently, urged for Dr. Grinsom's place. They are both gentlemen of high character and reputation for medical skill.—Wilmington Messenger.

OUTSIDE people visit State Fairs to judge of the entire State, and it is the duty of every prominent man, every good farmer and every working man who wishes to see North Carolina more prosperous and her people given the advantages of outside capital, to see that the coming State Fair is a grand and complete success.—Durham Daily Globe.

How the echoes of it ring repeatedly in one's ears! The shot fired at Dayton seems to have been heard around the world, and its reverberations come home with almost deafening force. State answers to States from mountain to mountain leaps the swift response; even the plains laugh in concord. And the one voice is, "Ohio has set the pace for the Democratic party."—Cincinnati Enquirer, Dem.

CAPTAIN MCKINNEY'S first speech shows that he intends to do his part in the fight. He says that among other things, a rule by Mahons would be a personal bossism, and following would be negro rule, with mixed schools and a Haysian State of chaos, or a revolution. He says that such a State of things, even in its incipency, would give the schools over to owls and bats and the churches to desolation.—Richmond Times.

THE Pittsburg Dispatch remarks that "the West Virginia democrats don't care who cast the votes in that State, so long as they do the counting." Oh! yes, they do. They care a great deal as the republicans of West Virginia found out when one or two hundred republican votes, cast by negroes who had been brought from Virginia for that purpose, were thrown out.—Savannah News, Dem.

THIS, from the Philadelphia Record, is an encouraging acknowledgment of Southern growth: "With the possible exception of the Argentine States, no other country beyond the limit of the Union has made such forward strides as the States South of Mason's and Dixon's line during the time that has elapsed since the close of the civil war. And the work is only well begun. The great mineral resources of the South are merely uncovered here and there; their magnitude is as yet an unguessed quantity."

THE argument that the representation of the Southern States in Congress should be reduced because but a small proportion of the electors cast their votes is very shallow. It is hard to get out the votes of any Congressional district North or South where the party in the ascendancy has a sure majority. Philadelphia seldom polls 90 per cent. of its full vote. The close districts, on the contrary, are contested with such spirit as to secure a practically complete poll. To insist that, politically, one-sided communities should be disfranchised would bear with about equal hardship on both sides.—Phil. Record, Dem.

The News and Observer and Major Tucker.

The News & Observer having finished its complaints against the Governor and its ridicule of Col. Olds, his temporary private secretary, is now exercising itself in opposing what the people of this section regard as of paramount interest to them, to wit: the removal of Washington Bryan as President of the A. & N. C. R., and the extension of that road further into the interior. It and Major Tucker seem to think that to mortgage this road to raise money to make this extension will wreck it; that is equivalent to saying that to build a railroad in N. C. will wreck the men who do it, for the extension would belong to the old road and the counties subscribing to aid in it. But that has not been the experience in North Carolina in recent years, especially where the scheme is as feasible and has as much to recommend it as has this project. This has not been the experience of the W. & W. Railroad and the other roads in the State that have been lately adding branches to their lines.

But has not Major Tucker an interest in another road that would be effected adversely by this extension, and is not this the milk in the cocoanut? The people down here think so.

Yes, Major Tucker has the right, as he says, as a private stockholder to have and express a preference for President of this road, but we do not think he has a right to name the man. That was the ground of complaint against Governor Scales. The people down here with almost one voice (and we are satisfied Governor Fowle knows it) say any competent man save Mr. Bryan. Major Tucker says nobody but Mr. Bryan. Why should Major Tucker be pleased in this matter and the people ignored, for surely their position is a more reasonable one than his. We are satisfied the Governor is not deceived as to the wishes of our people in this matter, and that he will take pleasure in respecting their just request.

It is not true that a State controls a stockholders meeting, though it owns two thirds of the stock of this road. Under the scale of the charter the State can never cast more than three hundred and fifty votes while the aggregate vote in these meetings ranges from 1,200 to 2,000—the private stock being well split. Sometimes one stockholder will get enough proxies from small and indifferent stockholders to cast twice as many votes as the State. Maj. Tucker knows this, and the News and Observer ought to know it.

Pears are more plentiful this year than for several years past.

Washington Simmons, colored, was taken up to the Eastern Insane Asylum yesterday by David Barham.

The first bale of cotton to arrive in this city came down on the train last night from La Grange. It was shipped by J. D. Walters.

The game of baseball between the first and second nines of this city yesterday afternoon resulted in a victory for the first nine. Score, 17 to 11.

Since January first 107 marriage licenses have been issued in Craven county—40 whites and 67 colored. Three, all colored, were issued last week.

The Raleigh Call is writing up, in happy style, the marriageable men of Raleigh. But from what the Call says, we don't see how these men remain single, they are so very marriageable.

The Working Society of the Methodist church are preparing to give an entertainment at the parsonage on next Wednesday night. All who attend may be sure of a good time.

We learn that the work on the Wilmington and Onslow road is being pushed vigorously. The track is laid about 15 miles from Wilmington and they are pushing on to Jacksonville.

Mr. Eldridg Hanks, aged 74 years died last night at the residence of Mr. John E. Crabtree, on Hancock street. Funeral at 4:30 o'clock from the Methodist church. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

The mission prayer meeting conducted by the young men of the Baptist church will be held at Market dock at 9 1/2 this morning; D. G. Smaw, leader. Afternoon services at Long wharf at 5 o'clock; J. A. Patterson, leader. All persons cordially invited to attend these meetings.

New Berne High School.

The first week of the High School closed with fifty-six pupils.

Under the circumstances this is doing remarkably well. It is rather early to open schools in New Berne, as many of the children have not yet returned from their summer vacation. The High School ought to, and doubtless will, have one hundred pupils enrolled by the first of October.

Without intending any disparagement to the many excellent private schools in the city, the JOURNAL thinks the people ought to unite in making the High School such as Eastern Carolina will be proud of. The Principal and assistants are qualified in every respect to make the school a success and other assistance will be secured as soon as the patronage will justify. The building and grounds are all that can be desired. The people responded nobly in contributing money for the erection of the new building, now why not unite and have a school that will be a credit to the city.

Some people imagine that they cannot help the school unless they have children to send. This is a great mistake. Speak to your friends from the surrounding country who have children to educate; tell them of the advantages of the High School; the cheapness of board and the healthfulness of the city; tell the Principal about them and give him their names that he may send them his prospectus and such other information as will likely induce them to send their children there to be educated. Now how many merchants and business men will do this? Will not every one who feels an interest and a pride in the growth and prosperity of the city make an effort of this sort?

When the commencement season begins next summer it will be indeed a pleasure to the JOURNAL to count the High School among the number. We have trifled with this school question long enough; let us come together now and do our whole duty.

Major John Hughes.

The news yesterday from Major John Hughes, who has been seriously sick at Beaufort for several weeks, was very discouraging; indeed, it is said that the end is nigh. This is sad news for New Berne and this entire section; it is sad news for the State of North Carolina.

Beecham's Pills cure bilious and nervous ill.

Wants to Rent the Sidewalk.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—I notice in the proceedings of the city council, they have rented a portion of the sidewalk on Pollock street at $1.00 per year. I am desirous of renting a small portion of the same in front of my store, for the purpose of showing my goods, and will promise to remove the same every evening at sundown, if they will rent to me. Please let me know through the JOURNAL if such is the case, so I can make application for the same to the city council. By so doing you will greatly oblige.

Very respectfully, etc.,
 W. E. SNELLINGS

A letter from S. P. Wardwell, Boston, says: "I used Clarke's Extract of Flax (Euphion) Catarrh Cure in June last for Hay Fever with great satisfaction, and find it is the only thing I have seen which would allay, without irritating, the inflammation of the nostrils and throat. Its soothing and healing properties were marked and immediate. Large bottles $1.00. Clarke's Flax Soap is the latest and best. Try it. 25 cents. Ask for them at F. S. Duffy's drug store."
