THE Germans have organized the 10th corps, to be used as an army of observation of the Russian frontier.

WE beg pardon of our esteemed contemporary, the Durham "Globe," for failing to give credit to a poem recently taken from that paper and printed in the JOURNAL.

WE regret that Miss Mamie Hatchett has retired from the editorship of the Orphan's Friend. Perhaps further changes are in contemplation. She is too good and sweet to be named Hatchett.

A PENNSYLVANIA cow killed herself a few days ago eating pie. Russell Harrison had four kinds of pie when he dined with Queen Victoria, and it didn't even make him sick.—Wilmington Star, Which proves that that which kills a cow may be good for the calf.

WE make our acknowledgements to the Durham Daily Globe for having published in the JOURNAL a beautiful poem, that made its first appearance in the Globe, without giving credit to that excellent paper. We found it on the wing and did not know whence it came.

It is very plain that the eyes of the nation are upon Ohio. In no other State will the campaign excite half the interest. Although Ohio is in the list of Republican States, the impression is abroad that the Democrats have a good fighting chance to carry it this year.—Cleveland Plaindealer, Dem.

NORTH CAROLINA is one of those States whose industrial progress is steady and continuous. It is not by "fits and starts," booms and boomerangs, but regular and sure, like the stream that glides on noiselessly within its banks but gathering strength and volume as it rolls.—Wilmington Star.

In this age of inventive genius—of novelty and originality—the man with quick perception, originality of conception, and practical ideas, which can be utilized, is the man who will reach that goal of success for which humanity is continually striving, while his fellows are panting far in the rear.—Durham Daily Globe.

GOVERNOR ARNES, of Massachusetts, and other Eastern ironmakers and iron mongers are crying out for free iron as well as free coal and iron ore. This cry will be wider and louder as the days go by. The time is coming when Pennsylvania manufacturers will understand how much better it is to bend to the push of Tariff Reform than to break in trying to stop its progress.—Phil. Record, Dem.

THE trade outlook is one of encouragement. Dun's review for the week is very hopeful. There is improvement in the crops generally. The failures are not so many. The weather during the last week has been exceedingly favorable to the crops in North Carolina, and if it shall continue through September, with occasional light rains, we have no doubt it will be worth a million dollars to North Carolina.—Wilmington Messenger.

Oriental, N. C.

Master John Matthews of New Berne, has been at Oriental for sometime. He says the town is flourishing. They have large lumber industries and considerable mercantile trade. The people are trying to get a daily mail from New Berne, which is much needed, we are informed. There is a daily mail from New Berne to Stonewall, and we hope this route will be continued to Oriental. It would be a great help to the town. The town is situated at the mouth of Swift creek and is an important lumber station.

Perpetual Motion.

To obtain perpetual motion has been the study and puzzle of inventive genius for ages and it is more than doubtful if ever such a thing can be mastered. Mr. S. H. Windley, a young man from Trenton, was in the city yesterday and reports that he feels sure that he has solved the coveted problem. He is now endeavoring to find out if any other plan similar to his has been pursued, and if not, he will at once have it patented and place the little machine before the public. He claims that there is no stop to it until it has worn itself out.

Governor Fowle Will Be Sustained.

A gentleman who has recently returned from Western Carolina, where he saw Governor Fowle, says the Governor declares his purpose to do the very best he can to please the people along the line of the A. & N. C. R. In the appointment of Directors and President, and will endeavor to give them an administration that will prove successful and satisfactory.

The people along the line have declared to the Governor their wishes, which are, that they will "sustain him in the appointment of any good man except the present incumbent." If the Governor complies with their request he will be sustained by the people. The JOURNAL pledges itself in advance to sustain the Governor in this, no matter if the man appointed is not its first choice.

Seven Springs—White Hall and the Farmers on the Banks of the Neuse.

Eight miles from the town of La Grange in Lenoir county, on the south bank of the river Neuse and about equidistant from Goldsboro and Kinston, are situated the famous Seven Springs. A beautiful grove surrounds the Springs while the hotel is on an elevation about seventy-five feet above the Springs and about three hundred yards distant.

The hotel is under the management of the Messrs. Maxwell this season and they are conducting it well under the circumstances. Nature has done all that can be asked for Seven Springs. They are beautifully located and the efficacy of the waters has been fully tested. People afflicted with various diseases are constantly going and coming and rejoicing in the relief given by the waters. Numerous vehicles appear almost every day and carry off the water by jug fulls.

Now we must quarrel some with the proprietors. If he wishes to make Seven Springs a profitable, health resort he must make it attractive. He is perhaps well aware of what ought to be done, but we are going to tell him anyhow. In the first place tear out the old plank curbs around the Springs and put in marble curbs, also put a marble bottom in the house instead of strips of plank. This will at once add one hundred per cent. to the appearance and attractiveness of the Springs. In the next place build a decent open house in the grove and supply it with comfortable seats. Then build a ten pin alley, gymnasium or amusements of some sort. People who visit there like to have the water direct from the Springs and like to be made comfortable while there, and many invalids require a certain amount of exercise during the day. It is true climbing up and down the hill to the hotel and back to the Springs gives exercise, but that becomes monotonous and there is no amusement in it. The hotel is undoubtedly located in the right place, and if the improvements are made at the Springs which we suggest, they would become far more attractive and be visited by perhaps dozens where one goes now.

White Hall is a neat little village and seems to be doing considerable business. There are six stores and most of them seem to carry good large stocks. We noticed particularly Parks & Grimes, W. R. Simmons and Mr. McGee, and one other where George F. Kornegay is a clerk (we have forgotten the proprietors' name) carry good stocks. But we must quarrel with them too. There is the town located within eight miles of La Grange on the A. & N. C. R., yet they have their mail dragged over a heavy sandy road three times a week from Goldsboro, a distance of about eighteen miles. Trenton, about the same distance from the railroad, has a double daily mail to and from the railroad and a daily to New Berne across the country via Polkville. Now White Hall, in connection with the Springs, which are within a few hundred yards of the village, is almost as important a place as Trenton, save and except that Trenton is the county site. But the fact that they have gone on so long with such mail facilities is positive proof that they are not as enterprising as the people of Trenton. Gentlemen, get up a petition at once for a daily mail. Do not interfere with the route you already have to Goldsboro. Simply get up a petition for the route to La Grange once a day; set forth all the facts in regard to the amount of business, the Springs, the farming country in the vicinity, etc., etc., and we will almost guarantee the route can be obtained. Let the mail leave White Hall daily in time to meet the train from the west and you can read every night, if you want to, the daily papers of New Berne, Goldsboro, Wilmington, Raleigh, Durham, Greensboro, Charlotte, Richmond, Washington City and Baltimore on the same day of publication. Such a route would be hailed with delight by all visitors to the Springs, and the proprietor ought not to rest until he has it established.

Now we must give a little attention to the farmers, who were very kind to us while in the neighborhood. We are under special obligations to Major D. S. Davis, T. A. Rouse, Alonzo Rouse, Col. N. B. Whitfield; in fact, all the farmers in the neighborhood and their good wives were anxious for us to spend a day with them. They acknowledged that "times are hard," but they cannot forget their old time hospitality and may the Lord bless them in their efforts to better their condition which a series of short crops have brought about.

The farmers in this community have a just cause of complaint about getting their produce to market, yet it seems that the complaint can be easily remedied. From Kinston to Goldsboro the public road runs on a sand ridge, and the residences of the farmers are also on this ridge while the farms lay between the ridge and the river, and fine farms they are; some of them are subject to overflow, but a large majority are not. From about Major Davis' place up to White Hall the farms are fine and very productive, and here is where they are troubled about transportation. Whether they go to Kinston, La Grange or Goldsboro, they have to haul their produce, upon an average, from twelve to twenty miles over very heavy sandy roads. Now where is the remedy? Why, nature has provided that in Neuse river. Many of these farms border on the river and if a steamboat, something like the Blanche of this city will be when she is repaired, was put on and regular trips made for one year every farmer would soon become convinced of his folly in hauling cotton or other produce, and would ship it by boat. We are of the opinion that the Blanche would run to White Hall, and probably to Goldsboro, at least ten months in the year. And if this can be done, why kill teams and wear out vehicles hauling over heavy roads? The merchants at White Hall do almost business enough to keep a small boat running. Will not the owners of the Blanche investigate the propriety of putting her on this route, and will not the farmers along the river and the merchants at White Hall encourage the enterprise? It would pay them to join together and buy the Blanche and run it to suit themselves much better than killing their team over sandy roads.

We would like to say something of our Pink Hill friends, but our space is up. We are at home out there and if we fail to thank Rete Jones, John Worley and John Noble for favors it is all right any way.

Proceedings of the New Berne Bar, on the Death of Maj. John Hughes.

The members of the New Berne Bar met at the court house yesterday at 10 o'clock to take action in regard to the death of Maj. John Hughes. The meeting was called to order by H. R. Bryan. Judge George Green was then called to the chair and O. H. Guion elected secretary.

In explaining the object of the meeting, Judge Green spoke in feeling terms of Maj. Hughes. He had known the deceased for 40 years, and could truly say that his character was without spot or blemish.

On motion of H. R. Bryan, that a committee of three be appointed to draft resolutions, the chair appointed H. R. Bryan, M. DeW. Stevenson and C. C. Clark.

The following resolutions were offered and adopted:

Whereas, We, the members of the Bar of the city of New Berne, have learned with deep sorrow of the death of our friend and brother John Hughes, which took place in the town of Beaufort, on the morning of the 9th inst., and whereas it is meet and proper that we should give public expression to our feelings on this sad occasion. Therefore be it Resolved, 1st. That in the death of Maj. John Hughes, this city, county and State have lost a man at once wise, conservative and patriotic, in public affairs ever faithful, and one whose life, as a private citizen, has been a bright example of the virtues of such a station.

2d. That as a member of the Bar he was diligent and attentive to his business, polite, courteous and respectful to the court and to his fellow members.

3d. That the Bar attend his funeral in a body.

4th. That the chairman of this meeting be and he is hereby requested to present these resolutions to the Superior court of this county at its next term, and ask that they be spread upon the minutes of the court.

5th. That these resolutions be published in the New Berne JOURNAL and the Raleigh News and Observer, and a copy be sent to the family.

After reading the resolutions, Mr. Bryan made appropriate and touching remarks upon the life and character of the deceased, and was followed by Mr. Stevenson, who seconded the resolutions. Mr. Stevenson was followed by Messrs. John S. Long, L. J. Moore, C. C. Clark, Clement Manly and F. M. Simmons, all of whom spoke in highest terms of Maj. Hughes' purity of character; his uniform courtesy to the members of the Bar, his fidelity to clients, the roundness and completeness of his intellect, his devotion to Christianity and active work for the church, his eminent conservatism; and they all spoke in terms of deep regret of the loss the community sustains in his death.

With the exception of one or two members, who were unavoidably absent, the entire Bar was present, with a number of other prominent citizens.

A feeling of sadness seemed to pervade the meeting. It was an occasion of great solemnity and each heart mourned the loss of so noble a man.

A CARD.

NEW BERNE, N. C. Sept. 7, 89.

MR. EDITOR:—In Mr. Hugh J. Lovick's card, as published in the JOURNAL of the 7th inst., he evidently intends to prejudice the public mind against Mayor Williams by omitting the main facts in the case in which he (Mr. Lovick) states that he was "brought before Mayor Williams and adjudged guilty."

As he has opened the matter for public discussion, I deem it but just, as the counsel who appeared in defence of one of parties charged with the offence, and against Mr. Lovick and the other co-defendants for an assault on Peter Williams, my client, to give the public whom Mr. Lovick has by his card given his side of the story, the entire story that they may be enabled to judge correctly in the premises. Now the facts are these: Hugh J. Lovick, J. B. Clark, John Green, W. M. Asher and Peter Williams were all arrested and up before Mayor Williams, charged with being disorderly and committing a breach of the peace. The evidence of the only two disinterested witnesses, J. W. Harrell and Virgil Bryant, is that they saw the entire difficulty, and that J. B. Clark held Peter Williams around the neck, Hugh J. Lovick had his (Peter's) arm pinioned behind him, John Green had an uplifted chair, W. M. Asher at the same time struck Peter Williams in the mouth. Williams was in the court with his face swollen and bloody. It was further in evidence that at one time during the fight Asher had a beer bottle and Williams a chair. The witnesses for Mr. Lovick and the other defendants stated that they saw only a small portion of the difficulty, and knew but little about the matter. It is true that Messrs. Lovick and Clark, defendants and interested parties, denied the statement made by the two witnesses above named. Upon hearing the evidence and knowing full well that whenever it appears from the evidence that a deadly weapon was used or serious injury done, the Mayor is then ousted of jurisdiction, and probable cause appearing, it is his duty to desist from trying the cause, and bind the party or parties over to answer the charge in the Superior Court, the Mayor therefore simply bound all the parties over to court and did not "adjudge Mr. Lovick guilty," as he stated in his card. This is the head and foot of Mayor Williams offending Mr. Lovick, and his friends surely cannot complain of the treatment he received at the hands of Mayor Williams, for after the judgment of the court had been rendered he used language and his conduct was such that the Mayor would have been justified had he committed him for contempt of court. As to the matter of controversy between Mr. Clark and Mayor Williams, lugged in by Mr. Lovick, I have no concern and will not notice further than to say that it had nothing to do with the case then on trial. From the tenor of Mr. Lovick's letter one would think that he had special privilege, is above the law or his presence is too august to be brought before so small an officer as the Mayor. As in this Democratic country there are no privileged classes, Mr. Lovick would fare better in the Sandwich Islands, where there are privileged persons, and he may attain that dignity.

In his card Mr. Lovick occupies the novel position of defendant, witness, judge and jury, revealing Pooh Bah in the play of Micado. My client was also bound over to court, but I shall not attempt to try his case before the public whom I believe care very little about what is done with either of the defendants.

Respectfully, J. E. O'HARA.

Wants Sunday Trains Discontinued Through the Summer.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—As the time is at hand for the appointment of directors and President of the A. & N. C. R., it is to be hoped that such men will be selected who will have enough respect for the Lord's day to desist from running trains on the Sabbath through the summer. I understand the excuse for running Sunday trains is that the Pullman car has to be in town Sunday.

God will not excuse the persons who violate his holy day on account of the Pullman car. I would suggest that if it is kept up through the summer hereafter, that the funds be set apart and given to the needy cause.
