EDUCATION should be the first consideration of our people.

THE Mississippi Republicans have nominated Chalmers for Governor.

It is claimed that New York Republicans have got together, Miller having surrendered to Platt.

GEN. GRONER, Republican of Virginia, says that Mahone will be defeated by from 12,000 to 15,000.

It is matter of popular gratification that the University and the various Colleges in the State have opened with an unusually large attendance.

LATE Republican Conventions have been trying to steal Democratic thunder. Unfortunately, for them it is written "By their fruits ye shall know them."

It is understood that the Utah election commissioners, in their report to the Secretary of the Interior, will recommend additional legislation against polygamy.

LAST Monday the Mobile and Ohio south-bound mail and passenger train was "held up," at 3:10 A. M. at Buckatanna, Miss. by highwaymen, and over $27,000 taken.

THE Sovereign Lodge of Odd Fellows, lately in session at Columbus, O., decided to hold the next session in Topeka, Kan., on the second Monday in September, 1890.

WHAT will those Republican papers that are now proclaiming, trumpet tongued, that 25,000 negroes are to leave North Carolina this year, say three years from now about the big Democratic majority in the Tar Heel State?—Charlotte Chronicle.

THE State Fair, the Fayetteville Centennial, and the New Berne Winter Fair ought to be largely attended by people from all parts of the State. North Carolinians should "get together" on these occasions.

OUR co-operating cause of the success of Carnot is undoubtedly the Exposition. That great patriotic display has proved a powerful political agency. It has made Frenchmen proud of the France of today and has inclined them to confide in those who have made and managed the occasion that has made the pride of the French by showing them how high they stand in the world's arts, and that, in all respects, notwithstanding the humiliating humiliations of a few years ago, their country is still among the foremost of nations. Beyond question, the Republic has done more for the world's progress than all the newspaper advocacy and electioneering devices that have been employed, or could be contrived.—New York Star.

JAMES E. CAMPBELL, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, can point with rare pride to one episode in his career. When quite a boy he enlisted in the naval service in the war for the Union. He served for two years on gunboats on the Western waters and was discharged because of impaired health. For ten years he drew a pension. Finding his health restored he voluntarily surrendered his pension to the Government and was stricken from the rolls. This unique act entitles him to especial consideration. The precedent which he set has not been followed, though Ex-Senator Gibbs, of this city, devotes his monthly pension to his G. A. R. Post.—New York World.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

G. H. WHITE—Divorce notice.
E. B. HACKBURN—Don't delay.
C. E. SLOVER—Corned beef, etc.
I. H. BARRUS—Store and dwelling for sale.

Cotton 10 50 to 10-65.
A new box car has been turned out from the railroad shops.

Some good work is being done on the sidewalks by the street force.

The farmers say cotton opens very slowly. This is caused by the wet season, it is said.

A fat squirrel is a choice dish. We see them in market often, selling at twenty-five cents a pair.

The Y. M. C. A. committee on change of constitution and by-laws is requested to meet at the rooms of the Association tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Beaufort Seaside says: "Col. F. L. Perry was in town last week looking around and sounding our people as to establishing a bank in Beaufort."

David Barham, the jailor, took Lemuel Murrill to the Eastern Insane Asylum at Goldsboro, yesterday, and brought back Lizzie Baney, pronounced well.

We are glad to know that the injury to Stewart's fast black horse received a short while since has not proven serious. It is now thought that he will be able to go on the road in a week or two.

Mayor's Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

Wm. Colligan, chsp. 6, sec. 3, transacting business on Sunday; dismissed.

Hardy Singleton, colored, chsp. 5, sec. 3, disorderly conduct; taxed with cost.

Shipping News.

The steamer Eaglet of the E. C. D. line sailed yesterday with lumber, cotton, etc. The Annie of this line will arrive today.

The steamer Tahoma will sail this morning at 7 o'clock.

The schooner Cherubim, Capt. J. Nelson, is discharging cargo of coal at railroad wharf.

The schooner E. A. Pogue, Capt. A. J. Hunter, of Burlington, N. J., with iron pipe for Goldsboro water-works, is at the railroad wharf.

New Berne Fire Engine.

The New Berne Fire Department has for years stood in the front rank with the best fire departments of the country, and we believe it is the best in the State. One of our engines beats the world on quick steaming. But we started to write about the New Berne engine, which is being repaired. The new tubes have been put into the boiler and it was tested by hydraulic pressure yesterday, the test being a pressure of 150 pounds. The work will be completed next week. Mr. O. R. F. Edwards, who is doing the work, says he thinks she will steam in less time than three minutes. If she does it will be nip and tuck between her and the Atlantic.

A Lament.

Our new poet comes before the public today in the lines given below. He does not write for fame, but because he is endowed with genius and a nature so full of poetry that it sometimes runs over. These lines are a few of the droppings. This poetry is not so beautiful in correctness of metre as it is in genuine sentiment:
And now the melon's lease of life is o'er,
The "melancholic" days have come;
The grape is but a lasting bore,
The "ice-cold soda" now we shun.
Tomatoes know their place no more,
The roasting-eat is a thing of the past,
"Poor-man's beans" are beyond us now,
And "isters" cannot always last.

Personal.

Mr. J. J. Wolfenden's family have returned to the city from the country.

Mr. W. P. Osgood, of the city of Mexico, is registered at Hotel Albert. He lived in New Berne many years ago. Old friends will be glad to meet him.

Among the passengers on the steamer Manteo yesterday were Mr. J. F. Ives, for New York; Dr. J. D. King and family, New Jersey; Mrs. Edwin Hunter, who has been visiting at Mr. R. A. Richardson's, for her home in Virginia; and Mr. A. N. Lockwood, New York.

At Hotel Albert—Dr. Frank Duffy, city; Chas. Franks, Onslow county; W. P. Osgood, city of Mexico.

We see Mr. Seymour W. Hancock, now of Washington, N. C., put down as one of the marshals at the State fair. Ex-Sheriff Gibbs and wife and Miss Mary Gibbs, of Hyde county, who have been visiting friends in the city, returned home last night.

Mr. Garner, of the Beaufort Seaside, was in the city yesterday.

The Lumber Interest.

WILLIAMSTON, N. C., Sept. 23. EDITORS JOURNAL:—On the 8d of July I moved from Kinston to this place, situated near the south bank of the Roanoke, about fifty miles from the mouth, and nearly one hundred miles from the sea. I have spent a large part of my time in holding religious meetings in Martin and adjacent counties up and down the Roanoke. Several matters of interest have claimed my attention, and it will afford me pleasure to give your readers the benefit of them.

Ten years ago I left this part of the State. It was almost destitute of any enterprise. The people were engaged in farming, fishing, and making shingles, as they had been for years. Now things are very much changed. Farming, lumbering, fishing and railroad building are all being pushed with energy on an extensive scale.

Years ago logs were cut all up and down the waters of Albemarle Sound and its tributaries, and taken through the canals in large rafts by two tug boats to Norfolk, where people had become sufficiently enlightened that they had learned how to convert logs into lumber. Less than ten years ago the Norfolk & Southern R. R. was completed to Edenton, and a change began to come over our dreams. Now there are extensive lumber mills at various points, with all the modern improvements. At Edenton there is a very large mill located near the terminus of the N. & S. R. R., where the lumber is loaded directly from the dry kilns on the cars, which quickly take it to the Northern markets. One among the most unexpected and successful of these enterprises is the mill located at Roper City, and the railroad being built by that point from McKey's Ferry to Pantego, Beaufort county. This is a full gauge road, on which the lumber is loaded on the cars from the dry kilns, transferred on barges across Albemarle Sound to Edenton, and thence to its final destination.

At Plymouth are other mills and narrow-gauge roads extending for miles into the country, thus bringing into market large quantities of lumber considered worthless only a few years ago, because of distance from water.

While there are quantities of cypress shingles still being made by hand, sawing shingles is becoming quite an industry. There have been several very large freshets in the Roanoke this year and much large timber has been cut and floated into the river, which could not be handled on shallow water. One large shingle mill has lately begun work, besides many smaller ones, which are being run at their greatest capacity.

Another enterprise worthy of mention is a plant at Williamston for the manufacture of barrels. The manager is from Detroit, Michigan. He says that lumber is becoming scarce there and they are forced to go elsewhere. They are working cotton and bowl gum and think they will be able to use other kinds.

As lumber becomes scarcer in the East and North it increases the demand for ours. The supply is being rapidly consumed in these counties nearest to Norfolk, and work is already active on the tributaries of Pamlico river. In a few years all the lumber of Eastern Carolina will command a good price. The lesson we all should learn is not to waste our forests by fire, or sell them for a song.

Closely connected with this activity in lumber is a general revival of enterprise which is showing itself especially in these parts in the building and planning of railroads in various directions. My communication is already long enough, and I will write of the railroads and other matters in my next.

Maryland Democratic Convention.
BALTIMORE, Sept. 26.—The Democratic State Convention met here today and nominated for re-election as State Comptroller, Col. L. Victor Baughman, present incumbent; the nomination was by acclamation, no other candidate being named. Ex-Mayor Hodges, of Baltimore, was chairman of both the temporary and permanent organization. After adoption of the platform and a speech from Col. Baughman, the Convention adjourned.

IT WON'T BARE BREAD—In other words, Hood's Sarsaparilla will not do impossibilities. Its proprietors tell plainly what it has done, submit proofs from sources of unquestioned reliability, and ask you frankly if you are suffering from any disease or affection caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The experience of others is sufficient assurance that you will not be disappointed in the result.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From the State Papers.

Elizabeth City fair October 16 to 18. They want one hundred boys with ponies to be a special detachment of the staff of marshals at the State fair.

Sanford Express: Eight thousand bushels of wheat were raised on eight miles square about Carter's Mills, Moore county, this year.

Chatham Record: A volunteer watermelon vine grew this year on the farm of Mr. I. S. Upchurch, of Williams township, that bore fourteen melons which weighed 196 pounds.

The man with the largest foot in the world is probably Rev. John Farham, of Charlotte, N. C. He wears a number thirty-five and a half shoe, which requires a sole twenty inches long and seven inches broad.

Wilmington Review: Stewart Ellison, of Raleigh, is one of the most prominent colored men in the State. He said that the Mississippi Delta was not the place for the colored man to migrate to, and that some of those who had already gone out there from North Carolina were anxious to get back. Laborers are paid there but 75 cents a day and supplies are all much higher there than in North Carolina. We think a reaction will soon set in and that the exodus fever will die a natural death before the year is over.

Oxford Ledger: The "coon" who represents Wanamaker on the Oxford & Clarksville railroad, and runs as route agent from Keyville to Raleigh refused last Wednesday night to take on or deliver mail for Oxford, giving as his excuse he was sick and not to trouble "dis nigger wid yer trash." This was something never known to happen before in this State and our people were very indignant at the action of this negro. Our worthy postmaster at once reported the sick "coon" to the Post-office Department, but we suppose he is one of the pets of Billy Mahone nothing will be done with him and we will have to submit to the insult.

Washington Gazette: Mr. Stanly Elks caught 24 wild turkeys in three visits to his trap. We learn that Mr. F. R. Swindell's barn was burned on the night of the 23d inst., near Pantego. He barely saved his house by the help of the railroads. Oil is thought to have been poured on the end of the barn and a match applied. A representative of Northern capitalists is talking a bonded warehouse to be built here, where cotton and other stores could be placed and held until a rise in price. At the same time an advance of 75 or 80 per cent. would be made to the producer when the stuff is turned over to the warehouse.

Beaufort Seaside: We understand from good authority that from twenty to thirty fine horses have died in this county during the past two or three weeks from "blind staggers." This is an alarming extent, and some steps should be taken to check the rapid progress of this dreaded disease among horses.—Merriman items: Mr. Stevens, one of our prosperous and popular farmers in this section, left his home Friday to visit friends in the neighborhood, and on his return found that his once happy home was nothing but a pile of ashes. Cause of the fire unknown.—Sanders' Store items: We have the champion walker of the State, carrying the mail on route 13,580 from Maysville to Sanders' Store. Wm. Dudley carries the mail and walks the distance six times a week—making over 200 miles weekly. He is over 60 years old and has a large family.

Raleigh Call: On Tuesday of fair week there will be at the fair grounds a marriage, in which general interest will centre. Its novelty will be a great attraction. Mr. Bateman, the young gentleman farmer of Mackey's Ferry, Washington county, has agreed, with his fiancée, to postpone his marriage from October 2d to that date, and have the ceremony performed here. He is the gentleman who wrote here some days ago for a sufficient amount of cotton bagging to make his wedding suit from, meaning thereby to show his opposition to the jute trust, and trusts of all kinds, and his loyalty to his native section. He will wear that suit at his marriage, and it is said that the lady will wear a handsome costume made from North Carolina plaids. But this is not all of the novel and attractive features. He will have ten attending couples, and all of the gentlemen will wear suits made from cotton bagging. It has been proposed that all the bridesmaids wear costumes of North Carolina plaids, and this may be done, but it is not positively determined upon. The marriage will surely be an interesting ceremony.—Over seventy counties have reported that examinations will be held for applicants for admission to the Agricultural and Mechanical College. Chatham county beats the list, having appointed a county student. The college opens on October 3d.

Immense Soap Factory Burned.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—A dispatch from Cincinnati says, a telephone message received this morning from Ivory Dale says that flames broke out in Emery's big soap factory and soon got beyond the control of the department. The large buildings were completely gutted and it is estimated that the loss will be in the neighborhood of $135,000.

The many remarkable cures Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes are sufficient proof that it does possess peculiar curative powers.
