Gorton's Minstrels, Admireres of artistic minstrelsy will have the opportunity next Thursday evening of hearing the famous New Orleans Minstrels. This is an old established company, which is now in the twenty-third year of existence, and has always borne a reputation for refinement. The Greensboro daily Patriot of Sept., 20th says: "The performance of Gorton's Minstrels at Benbow Opera House last evening was unusally fine. The roaring farce without vulgarity, and the genial wholesome fun without offensive coarseness, combined to form an even-ing's bill of fare which the large crowd received with enthusiastic delight, and digested with unbounded and unrestrained merriment. The company deservedly ranks as first class in its special line of entertainmen, and attracts the will buy the New Berne gas works and favor of the better order of the population in all the communities which it is now visiting. A considerable percentage of the auditory consisted of ladies."
