THE State has closed its case against the Cronin conspirators.

ASHEVILLE had its first snow storm, of the season, last Saturday.

THE train that brought President Harrison back to Washington had but one dead duck aboard.

ON being twitted about anti-election prophecies, the Chicago Inter-Ocean remarks that "the prophecies were all right, the trouble was a failure to fulfill them."

THE announcement, some weeks ago, that Free Delivery had been established in Asheville, was premature. We are gratified to learn that the system will be established in that beautiful and progressive city "to begin not later than January 15."

MR. DAVIS arrived at New Orleans on Saturday much improved. His physician, Dr. Chaille stated that "Mr. Davis has been quite sick at Briarfield with a severe cold, but that he was much improved now, and there is no cause now for alarm."

REPORTS from Washington say that the President will recommend a "judicious revision" of the tariff and that the Republican majority in Congress will promptly respond and a bill be passed if the Democrats don't resort to filibustering to prevent its passage. Such a recommendation as this will not take any one by surprise.—Wilmington Star.

THE Chronicle believes that it would be unwise for the recently-elected Democratic Legislature in Ohio to elect a millionaire to the United States Senate; not that the possession of wealth, per se, disqualifies a man for the United States Senate, but that public sentiment in Ohio now favors the election of some man whose title to renown rests on something other than a cash basis.—Charlotte Chronicle.

THERE is no doubt that all over the country the people are learning more and more of the disadvantages, oppressions and absurdities of the present Republican war tariff, and the unconstitutionality and dangers of the protective system. The late elections speak trumpet-tongued just here. They tell of a steady, quiet, determined revolution in economic views, and that the campaign of education is bringing forth the most satisfactory results.—Wilmington Messenger.

In writing of the present Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, the News and Observer, says: "It was our good fortune to be associated as a law partner with Judge Merrimon for half a dozen years, and we came to know more thoroughly perhaps than others the many excellencies that adorn his character. But generally the people of North Carolina have a just estimate of his great worth and legal attainments, and they will recognize the entire appropriateness of his succeeding to the mantle so admirably worn by the distinguished Chief Justice of this State."

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS
PROF. LOISETTE—Memory.
C. E. SLOVER—Mince meat, etc.

Virgil Osby, an old colored man, was taken from this city to the Eastern Insane Asylum at Goldsboro yesterday.

Mr. C. B. Hill, of this city, has been appointed deputy United States Marshal for the Eastern district of North Carolina.

The M. E. Church Working Society will meet at the parsonage tonight at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

One case in Mayor's court yesterday. H. T. Hawkins, charged with being drunk and disorderly, submitted the case and was let off with cost.

Services tonight at the Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock. Leader, Dr. J. D. Clark. Subject, Isaiah 40: 3. Explanatory texts, John 11: 39; Mark 16: 15, and Romans 10: 8.

Though the bright summer days are past, the new macademized road is still popular for evening drives and horseback riding. Nearly every day numbers of people go out to enjoy its pleasures.

There was a little smash up at the corner of Pollock and Middle streets yesterday, in which Dr. Hughes' buggy was run into by another vehicle. One of the hind wheels of Dr. Hughes' buggy was broken.

A grand barbecue will be celebrated at Vanceboro on the first Saturday in December, 1889. R. B. Hunter, the Assistant State Lecturer, will be present and will address the crowd. Ladies are especially invited.

"Well, there's nothing like getting used to a thing," said an old fellow yesterday. "The very short crops would probably have made the people complain in louder tones if it had come suddenly, but when it is an every-year occurrence for several years, why we get some hat accustomed to it."

The Davis boys will attend the Fayetteville Centennial celebration, leaving La Grange today by special train. This is a free trip, we understand, to the cadets, railroad fare, board, and all other necessary expenses, being paid by the school. We'll bet a brass button that the boys will "get there."

At the union meeting at the Baptist church last night there was still another increase in attendance. The service was conducted by Mr. J. C. Whitty. His talk was short and to the point. He uses no waste words. Other remarks were made by Rev. Dr. Vass, Rev. Edward Bull, and Mr. J. V. Williams. One hundred new song books were distributed among the audience, and with the assistance they rendered the choir, added inspiration in singing praises.

Two amateur baseball clubs met on the field of battle yesterday to try their luck. From the written report, which was left at the office during our absence, we find it quite difficult to decipher their orthography, that is the name of the vanquished club. The name of the victorious club, "The King of the Stars," used their opponents so much that we suppose they had rather remain unknown, and unheard too, for that matter, but the "Stars" are not so bashful and are willing to shine in public print.

No Go.

A large barge, Capt. S. F. Blockson, belonging to the "Brandywine Granite Company," was towed up Neuse river to the city yesterday and it was attempted to go through the draw of the railroad bridge, in order to get to Blades' mill, where the barge was to take in a cargo of lumber; but she was too large and could not squeeze through. She is 110 feet long and 35 feet wide. She dropped back and anchored opposite the Clyde wharf.

Shipping News.

The steamer Eaglet, of the E. C. D. line, sailed yesterday with a full cargo of exports. The Annie, of this line, will arrive tonight and sail tomorrow afternoon.

The steamer Howard arrived from up Trent river yesterday with cotton.

The steamer Defiance, of the Clyde line, sailed for Baltimore last night with a cargo of lumber and shingles.

The steamer Newberne, of the Old Dominion line, sailed for Norfolk yesterday, carrying some passengers and a good cargo of general freight.

Prof. Loissette's Memory System is creating greater interest than ever in all parts of the country, and persons wishing to improve their memory should send for his prospectus free as advertised in another column. nov20 dtw

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Capt. A. B. Powell and Mrs. J. A. Simpson left yesterday morning for Fayetteville. They will attend the Centennial celebration.

Mrs. Hendren, of Winston, who has been in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Mary Mayhew, returned home yesterday.

Judge A. S. Seymour left yesterday morning for Raleigh.

Capt. H. W. Wahab is off to the Fayetteville Centennial celebration.

Mr. T. O. Kelly, of the La Grange Eastern Sentinel, was in the city last night and called to see us. He says the Sentinel will be removed to Goldsboro. R. H. Houghton, Pittsboro; J. A. Ring, Norfolk; C. H. Pray, Boston; O. Credle, Washington, N. C.; E. M. Wooten, New York; W. T. Hayden, Philadelphia; A. J. Reed, Washington, N. C.; Hon. Jno. Manning, Chapel Hill; J. A. LATEST NEWS.

Called from the Press Dispatches.

THE "UNITED STATES OF BRAZIL."

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 1.—The new government has announced that it will firmly maintain order. It is preparing a circular to foreign governments relative to the overthrow of the empire, which will be telegraphed to them through the Brazilian representatives abroad. The Province of Bahia has signified its adherence to the republic. News from the other provinces show that they are also in favor of a republican form of government.

Dom Pedro and the imperial family left yesterday for Lisbon on the steamer Alagons, which was escorted on the Brazilian coast by the Riachulo. Senor Patrocinio has been imprisoned for conspiring against the republic.

The governors named by the provisional government are all military men. The nomination adopted by the government for the republic is the United States of Brazil. The province of Bahia has proclaimed for the republic. Peace and quietness reigns. The republic will allow the deposed Emperor 800 contos de reis per annum during his life.

The five articles of the government decree are:

- First. The republic is proclaimed.
- Second. The provinces of Brazil, united by federation, compose the United States of Brazil.
- Third. Each State will form its own local government.
- Fourth. Each State will send a representative to the Congress, which will convene shortly, and the final decision of which the provisional government will await.
- Fifth. Meantime, the governors of the States will adopt means to maintain order and protect the citizens' rights. The nation's internal and external relations will be represented, meanwhile, by the provisional government.

THE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

FAYETTEVILLE, Nov. 18.—The glitter and glare and gorgeous decorations and grand preparations for the great Centennial, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, present today a scene which finds no parallel in the history of the Cape Fear Metropolis. Enthusiasm and patriotism are at high tide and the town is alive with the brightest anticipations for the approaching event. The artillery from the War department has arrived and everything is now in place. The tents for the State Guard are being pitched and nothing has been left undone to make the event the brightest page in the State's history. Every incoming train is loaded down with passengers and the crowd will doubtless exceed fifty thousand.

A NATIONAL BANKRUPT LAW.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Col. Broadhead, of Missouri, heading a committee representing the St. Louis and Minneapolis bankruptcy conventions, called on President Harrison today and urged the recommendation of the passage of a National bankrupt law in his forthcoming message to Congress. The President listened attentively to the addresses of Col. Broadhead and other members of the committee, and promised to give the matter attention.

In an informal discussion which followed, the President expressed himself as favoring a uniform system of bankruptcy.

Ringling Notes.

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Painting—Portraits.

Miss Mace will reopen her school of drawing and painting Monday, November 4th, and will also teach the art of making life size crayon portraits from small pictures. For terms apply at her residence on Johnston street. 10c89-1m

RAMBLES ABOUT TOWN.

But nothing has been said relative to Martin Blount. It will be remembered that Miss Patty Leach was met at his house by the person keeping the diary from which we have quoted. Martin Blount owned and lived on the Bellair place, now the property of the Richardsons. He was a society man and a hunter. Mr. Blount

"Cherished a friend and relished bumper; One fault he had, and that was a thumper."

In his time there were but five brick houses in the town—the palace, jail, Episcopal church, Dr. Haslin's house, where now reside the Misses Custis, corner of Pollock and East Front streets, and the small brick house, still standing, just a few steps north on East Front street. This is beyond doubt the oldest house in the county. In the country were two, Governor Spaight's, at Clermont, built by "Madam" Moore, and Martin Blount's house, on Bachelor creek. This house at first was only partly finished inside; the eastern rooms were plastered, the others were not.

"True love never did run smooth," and, we suppose, never will.

"Oh how this spring love resembleth The uncertain glory of an April day, Which now shows all the beauty of the sun."

But by-and-by a cloud sweeps all away.

Mr. and Mrs. Blount first contended mildly with each other for the plastered side of the house for their respective company. The debate became louder and louder, and each with the other more incensed, became as the days rolled on. Finally, the climax was reached, and friends, "gentlemen," were called in, and possessing too much gallantry, gave the finished side to Mrs. Blount, leaving Mr. Blount out in the cold. The passage of the house was decided with a line drawn on each floor, and that was hewn to a chip. Finally, after both were up to a white heat, the old lady, as is generally the case, tired of such fun, and when she beckoned he rushed into her arms, and the weld was stronger than before the break, and forever afterwards they, (it was said by Moses Kennedy, the servant of John Stanly) lived with more particularity and greater circumspection. They felt then like there was no place like home, sweet home.

The writer would mention, in passing, that Moses presented him with his photograph, accompanied by a note written with his own hand just previous to his death, which occurred a few years ago, when he was near ninety years of age. He was the trusted servant of Mrs. Stanly, who had him emancipated. The original owner of Moses' family, John Fonville, was Max Stanly's grand father and lived not distant from Blount in the country. Hence Moses' knowledge of the family affairs of his neighbors.

But to return, Blount was a hunter, and his sure aim gave many a bounding buck his bound. But the broad acres of this place finally came in possession of John H. Richardson, Esq., for something over three thousand dollars. Mr. Blount gave twelve thousand dollars for the same tract. A considerable step backwards is seen here with time. But the hunting was forward. Listen:

A friend not long from the North, in passing Wilson, got hold of a copy of the Wilson Advance, a paper newswy, able and progressive, on the cars, which finally fell into the writer's hands, and from the very first page of the paper we copy as follows:

"I wish I was a boy and had as much man's sense as I have got now. It makes me right and to see Carl and his schoolmates plotting and planning for their Saturday frolic. I wish to go with them, but I can't. I see them cleaning out their guns and loading up their shells and patting the pointer and talking so merrily about the birds they are going to kill, but I can't go. I want to climb a walnut tree and hear the music of the walnuts rattling down. I want to go rabbit hunting in the snow. I want to go a coon hunting, what a glorious frolic it would be!—but I can't. I am too old. My time is out. I couldn't keep up. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak, very weak."

It might not be suspected, but that boy Carl's father was a great coon hunter, with his faithful dog and often tried and once trusty gun. How many coons did he bring to bay and lay low in the dust! His gun is now useless, laid aside, a thing of the past. W.

A Dream of Fair Women.

Tennyson, in his exquisite poem, dreams of a long procession of lovely women of ages past. This is all very well, but the laureate would have done the world a greater service if he had only told the women of the present how they could improve their health and enhance their charms. This he might easily have done by recommending the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Health is the best friend of beauty, and the innumerable ills to which women are peculiarly subject, its worst enemies. Long experience has proven that the health of woman-kind and the "Favorite Prescription" walk hand in hand, and are inseparable. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

From the State Papers.

Charlotte Democrat: Gov. Fowle was pleased with the Charlotte cotton factories, especially the installment feature in payment of the stock.

Raleigh and Wilmington business men are talking about closing their places of business tomorrow, so that all hands may go to the Fayetteville Centennial.

Chatham Record: Mr. B. F. Thomas, near Lockville, says that his Bailey cotton grows so luxuriantly that the limbs on one stalk in his field held the weight of a man, and for proof of this refers to J. A. Parham, Esq.

Goldsboro Argus: There was a shipment of strawberries—one crate—second crop, made from the city yesterday by express to New York. Mr. Johnson says he will be able to make another shipment in a few days, unless the weather becomes very severe.

Charlotte Chronicle: The double-headed woman who passed through the city about a week ago, en route to Columbia, as one of the wonders of the side show at the Fair grounds, passed through the city yesterday returning from the Fair. There are two heads joined to one body. One is named Milly, and the other Christina. Milly can go to sleep while Christina stays awake, and vice versa. The monstrosity was born in North Carolina, and is a negro.

Baleigh News and Observer: Last week an opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Killbrew vs. Hines was filed, in which the doctrines as laid down in Coor vs. Smith and Brewer vs. Chappell, in the 101st North Carolina Reports, were modified and in some instances overruled. In this case, it is held that a mortgagor in possession can give a valid lien for advances, which will prevail against any claim of the mortgagee upon the crops arising by virtue of the mortgage. This decision is very important, in view of the fact that it modifies so greatly the former ruling of the court.

Do you suffer with catarrh? You can be cured if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. Sold by all druggists.
