NATIONAL BANK—ANNUAL ELECTION.

Business is quite brisk this week.

On February the 24th, What? Our Fair begins.

Prof. Skinner's music class meets tonight at eight o'clock.

Yesterday was the biggest day of the season on the cotton yard.

There will be a meeting of the M. E. Church Working Society tonight.

Rev. J. E. Mann and family are expected to arrive here on Thursday night.

A pleasant evening is promised to every one who attends the "Yule-tide Feast" at Mrs. Chas. H. Blank's Thursday night.

The regular meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. A prompt and full attendance requested.

Prayer-meeting services at the Baptist mission station, market dock, will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. All persons will be cordially invited to attend.

A handsome new organ has been purchased for the Church of the Disciples. It is not a large instrument, but is suitable for the use of the congregation. It will be quite an aid to the congregation in the singing.

In the way of improvements we notice that the residence of W. G. Brinson, Esq., on Broad street, has been handsomely painted and the residence of Mrs. Isaac Patterson, on Queen street, is being repainted.

Mr. J. K. Willis shipped a handsome monument to Beaufort yesterday. It is to be placed to the memory of Mrs. Nancy L. French, deceased wife of Judge C. G. W. French, Chief Justice of U. S. Supreme court of Arizona.

We are glad to know that our people are not waiting, until the last moment to get up exhibits for the Fair. Mr. E. H. Dewey is already making preparations to make a display of wall designs and house decorative art.

Pollockville Male and Female Academy will open on the first Monday in January, 1890. Mr. E. M. Koonce is principal and Miss Jennie Kilpatrick will have charge of the music department. We feel assured that this school will be a very good one, and we hope it will be well patronized.

The Twin City Daily says: "Rev. C. A. Jenkins will conduct the Oxford Female Seminary for the next year, Professor F. P. Hobgood's health being such as to force him, at least for awhile, to give up the great educational work to which he has devoted his life, and in which he has been eminently useful and successful."

It must not be forgotten by the friends of the Onslow Railroad subscription that the registration books close on Saturday the 28th day of December, 1889. After that date no one can register. This is not a new registration, but the election will be held under the old registration, and if you have moved into a new ward get properly transferred by a certificate, and be ready to vote for the railroad on the 9th day of January, 1890.

SHALL NEW BERNE PROGRESS?

No. 6.

The existence of any institution that is a money disburser for labor, is much to be desired in a community and it is surprising how their presence or the want of them affects the financial pulse of small (relatively speaking) communities. Our river and harbor works, our saw mills, our plate and wood pulp factory, our oyster cannery, factories of whatever character, no matter how small, that employ wage earners, are valuable money distributors, as the hundreds of dollars paid weekly is at once put into circulation; it is the aggregate of such things that in prosperous communities contributes the bulk of the trading capital.

So it is then, that any proposition that has for its aim the employment, either transiently or permanently, of any considerable portion of our wage earners, becomes a money disburser and adds to the volume of our local wealth.

The proposed new railroad, among its propositions, makes use of the following language and it should be carefully noted by our laboring men:

"If this subscription is made, no part of the construction of said railroad shall be done with or by convict labor and so far as practicable in the construction of its road, other things being equal, preference shall be given to the citizens of your (Craven) county, in the work of said construction."

Here, while the road is building, not only are we assured that no convict labor shall be employed, but the citizens of our county shall have the preference in the work to be performed.

Before we spend a dollar we are to be the recipients of many dollars that will be expended in our midst, and in this way does the new enterprise inaugurate, what will, let us hope be the beginning of an era of increased prosperity. With the coming of better times (and communities are sometimes themselves largely responsible for the sort of times they have) the labor market becomes more buoyant, the merchant thereby benefited as well the property owner in the greater demand and enhanced value of his property by tenant or purchaser—all share mutually.

Genuine prosperity in any community is that which benefits the whole people; a "boom" which enriches only a few, the successful operation of some close corporation who scoop in all, without the first impulse to let go any, does more harm than good, as it widens the already existing gulf between the few who have it all, and the many who have none.

A practically managed railroad conducted on business principles, without political interference or partisan handicap, managed for the best interest of its owner and the public, is certain to distribute its benefits impartially, and merit and ability only will be the tests of individual preferment.

Let the people, and by that term we mean all classes, take these things to heart and determine in the quiet of their homes that at the approaching election they will take that stand and that interest that the importance of this question merits.

CRONIN MURDER TRIAL.

The Verdict—Three of the Accused Found Guilty of Murder.

CHICAGO, December 16.—The verdict of the jury in the Cronin case is as follows:

"We, the jury, find defendant John F. Beggs, not guilty.

"We, the jury, find defendant John Kunze, guilty of manslaughter as charged in the indictment, and fix his punishment at imprisonment in the penitentiary for the term of three years.

"We, the jury, find defendants Daniel Coughlin, Patrick O'Sullivan and Martin Burke, guilty of murder in the manner and form as charged in the indictment, and fix the penalty at imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of their natural lives.

Forrest, of the defence, at once requested that the jury be polled, and this was ordered by the court. To each juror the question was put by the clerk of the court, "Was this and is this now your verdict?" Foreman Clarke was the first man to rise and answer firmly in the affirmative. The other men followed in turn and gave the same answer.

Forrest, on behalf of the four convicted defendants, entered the accustomed motion for a new trial, and after considerable discussion the Judge fixed January 13th as the day on which the motion for a new trial should be argued, and the prisoners were taken back to jail.

WE were pleased when we saw that Gen. Fovle was in attendance on the funeral of Mr. Davis, at New Orleans, and we are highly gratified to learn that he reflected great credit on our beloved State.

THE only man in the country who cordially approves of Harrison's administration is Rutherford B. Hayes. Benjamin is making Hayes' administration wise, able, and beneficent in comparison with his own.—Chicago Herald.

THE aggregate wealth of seven teen members of the United States Senate is estimated at $78,000,000. The Senate is not a brilliant body, but having so many rich men in it tends to make it safely conservative. Money talks, but its possessors, as a rule, do not.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

STANLEY predicts rapid growth and a great future for East Africa. He has blazed the way, and the Dark Continent will be dark no more forever. It will not be long before the locomotive will follow where Stanley has led, and the story of civilization and progress will soon be told.—Wilmington Star.

SPECIAL attention is called to "An Appeal," on our editorial page, by Gen. Green, of Fayetteville, representing the "Davis Land Company." The subject addresses itself to every generous heart in the South, and we trust that the people of North Carolina will respond with the broadest liberality.

WHEN history, that shall not be half false, is written it will tell of these things. It is that hour the soldiers of the South and the noble women of the South will shine with a glory that shall be unrivalled. The young Republic was short lived but it was a mighty giant, let us never make any apologies for the past. Principles never die.—Wilmington Messenger.

MR. CLEVELAND's brave speech to the business men of Boston fills us with admiration for the man and the principles he avouches so manfully and nobly. Mr. Cleveland has gone very far to the South in commanding the affections, no less than the confidence, of the people. Our people are beginning to feel proud of him as a great leader and regard him as a great benefactor of a new and noble man who leads his whole country.—Columbian Record.

There are those who are always seeing the dark side. No matter how bright a thing may be they are sure to find a shadow. There is most radiant colors, but they will blot it all with black when they come to look at it. They are always seeing difficulties in the path, and in the way. They do nothing but prophesy evil, and find out and forest difficulties and obstacles in the way of others.—Wilmington Messenger.

THE SWAMP LANDS OF NORTH CAROLINA.
The North Carolina Board of Education own about one million acres of what are designated generally as "swamp lands," though this title is in no small degree misleading. Mr. Theo. W. Poole, of Williamston, N. C., has been appointed commissioner to negotiate for the sale of these lands. From an interview recently had with Mr. Poole, by a reporter of the Raleigh, N. C. News and Observer, we gather the following interesting data concerning this terra incognita.

The commissioner states that these lands are not only valuable for their fine timber, consisting principally of cypress, juniper, ash, oak, pine, poplar, maple and gum; but that a large proportion of them can be readily drained, and made available for agricultural purposes. Nearly all of them are located on navigable waters, or in close proximity to railroads.

In the opinion of the commissioner, these lands are equal in fertility to the richest lands of Texas and Illinois—capital and enterprise only being needed to render them available. Some of the tracts are admirably adapted to stock-raising; others as furnishing desirable locations for sporting clubs, winter hunting parks, or game preserves.

Mr. Poole is now negotiating with prominent Northern capitalists for the sale of large tracts of these lands.—Raleigh Visitor.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.
It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued his use and in a few days, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful discovery free at R. N. Duffy, Wholesale Druggist, For sale wholesale at 83 per dozen.

Influenza in New York.
NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Influenza has appeared in this city. It is stated that the disease is the same as that which has spread over Europe. This far eight cases have been reported to the Health Department, and they are all in one family. The first victim, a young lady, was taken down Thursday last. It is supposed that she contracted the disease from a family who returned from Europe about ten days ago. Her first symptom was vertigo, speedily followed by headache and chills. Then she became deathly sick with pains in her limbs and muscles. This succeeded by bronchial catarrh, soreness of the throat and coughing, followed by fever and an exceedingly rapid pulse, which at times reached 120 to the minute. Since then other members of the family have been attacked by the disease. In all of the cases the symptoms are said to be identical. Health officers say they are not surprised at its appearance here. It is not dangerous, but if it tends to become epidemic, all cases will be quarantined. The treatment is spraying of the affected membrane freely and frequently with a solution of quinine and an internal administration of quinine, belladonna and camphor.

Kinston Items.
SHOOTING A BEAR.—On last Wednesday night, about dark, a colored man came running up to the house of Mr. Tull, about three miles from Kinston, very much excited and told Mr. Tull to get his gun and go down to the branch near the house, as there was a big bear there eating something. Mr. Tull got his gun, loaded it with buckshot, and then went with the colored man to the place where the bear had been seen. Sure enough there was the bear eating something on the ground. Mr. Tull thought that he had better not venture too near, so he raised his gun and taking good aim, fired, whereupon the bear sprang towards the man and began to give chase. The negro and Mr. Tull at this moment thought that it was time to return to the house. After running a short distance Mr. Tull ventured to look back and saw that he had shot an old mule instead of a bear. He then called to the negro, who had almost reached the house, and told him it was nothing but a mule. The old mule was lying down biting off some grass, and Mr. Tull could only see his head and shoulders. He put three buck shot in the mule's shoulder, but they did no damage, as the mule was too old and his hide too tough to be penetrated by buck-shot.

Ringling Notes.
In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Robert Browning Dead.
LONDON, Dec. 12.—A dispatch just received informs us that Robert Browning, the poet, died at ten o'clock tonight without any suffering. During the day he expressed himself as satisfied with the success of his new volume of poems.

CONFIRMED.
The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers, the California Fig Syrup Company.

Clarke's Extract of Flax Cough Cure.
It is a sure cure for whooping cough. It stops the whoop, and permits the child to catch his breath. It is entirely harmless. Good for any cough of childhood or old age. It heals the bronchial and lung, and stops the cough. For winter or bronchial cough this syrup is the best ever discovered. Only one size, large bottle. Price $1.00 at F. B. Duffy's drug store.

Clarke's Flax Soap makes the skin smooth, soft and white. Price 25c.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a purely vegetable preparation, being free from injurious ingredients. It is peculiar in its curative power.
