ADAM FOREPAUGH, the veteran circus manager is dead. La Grippe did it.

THE South cannot deport the blacks, but she can import whites enough to give our race an overwhelming preponderance.—Atlanta Constitution.

NOTHING could be more likely to have the project for the World's Fair come to grief than to begin the controversy with a rivalry between Congressional committees.—Boston Traveller.

SPEAKER REED evidently regards Democratic Representatives as interlopers who must be suppressed. Has he forgotten that Congressional elections are held every two years?

THE Methodist Episcopal Church at Winchester, Illinois, has placed a fine American flag in position behind the pulpit as a permanent decoration and object lesson of patriotism?

MORRISON R. AVERY, a young man from Raleigh, son of Judge Avery of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, swallowed carbolic acid by mistake for whiskey, in Washington city on Wednesday and died in an hour.

THE chief of the Republican party bear willing testimony to the wonderful industrial development of the South during the past ten years. Moral: Respect Home Rule in that section and keep your hands off.—New York World.

THE same reasoning that makes the blacks of this country African makes the rest of the Europeans Africans. Suppose we all send each other into exile across the water and abandon the country to Indians and desolation.—Boston Globe.

In the statistics of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States there is an increase in the number of Sunday-school scholars for the year 1888-89 amounting nearly to 33,000, nearly a quarter of the increase being in the diocese of Pennsylvania.

How grand is the Bible! It is the wreath into which are twisted all garlands; it is the song into which are struck all harmonies; it is the river into which are poured all the great tides of hallelujah; it is the argument in which suns and moons and stars and constellations and universe and eternities wheel and blaze and triumph.

This negro is not a question, as some people in the United States seem to believe. Instead of being a question he is a negro, and the only question is of ways to make him a better negro than he is already. If he is made a partisan issue it will result in making him permanently a worse negro. As a negro he can live in the United States in contentment and prosperity, a benefit to himself and to his country. As a partisan issue he cannot live so in any State of the Union.—St. Louis Republican.

Keep your blood pure and you will not have rheumatism. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and tones the whole system.

A perfect specific—Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
G. MARLY—Executor's notice.

Are you going to Goldsboro tomorrow evening to see Patti Rosa?
Special music will be furnished at the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Nearly all the ministers of the city have very annoying cases of the “grip.” We are glad to learn that Rev. Mr. George, who has been unwell during the past few days, was much better yesterday.

There is considerable painting and repairing going on in different portions of the city. The people are getting ready for the Fair in February.

There were three marriage licenses issued by the Register of Deeds during the past week—one to a white couple and two to colored couples.

The yacht Magnolia was launched from Howard's ship railway yesterday afternoon, repairs having been made to her propeller. She went down to Ellis' wharf to “coal up,” preparatory to leaving tomorrow for Florida.

The Register of Deeds says that mortgages are coming in not so fast as usual at this time of the year. Haven't the people got the money to loan or are the farmers tired of the mortgage system—tired enough to quit it?

The congregation of the Church of the Disciples gave the pastor a pounding on Friday night. We are glad to learn that Mr. Chestnut, who has been quite sick is improving. Mrs. Chestnut, who was also sick, is better.

Everything is in readiness for starting up at the canning establishment. The machinery, etc., was tested yesterday and pronounced to be “O. K.” Superintendent Coakley said that they would begin operations tomorrow or next day.

When the rumor came to the reporter yesterday that two trains a day would soon be put on the A. & N. C. railroad, he went to headquarters with it. Mr. Dill said that two trains a day would be put on in about a month—that is, during the Fair.

The pretty little launch Alice was given a trial yesterday on Trent river. She was found to be all right, and is considered a “daisy” by everybody. She is owned by Mr. W. P. Howard and Rev. N. M. Jurney, and will carry passengers and the mail between Morehead City and Beaufort. Messrs. Howard, Jurney and John Ives will go down to Morehead City on her tomorrow.

A mule hitched to a cart with a bale of cotton in it was pursuing his way down Craven street to the Cotton Exchange yesterday afternoon, when he “stumped his toe” and fell down. The cart came down with the mule, and the shafts broke and the bale of cotton was tumbled out. The mule got his leg skinned. The driver left the mule at police headquarters and went off to have his cart repaired.

Shipping News.
The steamer Eaglet of the E. C. D. line will arrive today. The Annis of this line will sail tomorrow.

Personal.
Mr. Chas. C. Clark, Jr. is on a prospective trip to Knoxville, Tenn.
At Hotel Albert: W. B. Lane, Craven county; J. T. Lincoln, Bayboro, N. C.; H. W. Blanchard and R. G. Clifford, Boston, Mass.; T. Barrow, Baltimore, Md.; W. F. Day, N. Y.; N. J. Kitchen, Trenton, N. J.; G. H. Toadwine, Md.; H. L. Hanton, N. C.

Collision of Schooners.
The Wilmington Messenger of Friday says: “A dispatch through the Signal office from Southport says: The small two masted American schooner Martha, Capt. _____ bound from Charleston to New Berne with phosphate rock, while at anchor in the harbor was at 1 o'clock this morning run down by the American schooner Howell Leads, Capt. Crammer, which was outward bound. The Martha had both her masts and bowsprit knocked away, and her yawl was cut in two. The Leads was not damaged but lost. The Star of yesterday says: “The schooner Martha which was run into and damaged while at anchor at Southport by the schooner Leads, as previously reported, was towed up to the city yesterday. It is estimated that it will cost $300 to repair the Martha. Capt. Crammer, master of the Leads, offered to pay half of this amount if the pilot would pay the remainder; but this the latter have not yet agreed to do.”

The Martha is owned by Capt. Thomas Thomas, of Beaufort, and her master is Capt. Sabiston, of Beaufort. The cargo is consigned to the A. & N. C. railroad.

Beacham's Pills act like magic on a weak stomach.

“Peg” Disgusted and the Would-be Exodusters Disappointed.
The scene at the A. & N. C. railroad depot yesterday morning was called a “mess” by a good many who were present. “Peg-Leg” Williams, the famous emigration agent, came down on Friday night. It was reported that a man in Louisiana had telegraphed for “nineteen carloads of niggers.” Yesterday morning about three hundred and fifty expectant faces greeted “Peg” at the depot. It was soon seen that “Peg” was not going to take along many of that crowd. Some of the would-be “exodusters” got mad, and to make the situation interesting two sisters engaged in a clawing-match, or fight, and two of the men made rousing speeches. But all this did not stir the emotional nature of “Peg.” “Peg” looked around as best he could and selected five families of “country niggers,” got them on the train, gave the engineer the wink and left the others almost before they knew it. “Peg” got disgusted when fellows with “biled” shirts and white collars on came to him to get taken to the “promised land.” He wanted homespun-shirt fellows. About fifty disappointed would-be exodusters were left on the platform.

Along the route to Goldsboro, however, “Peg” picked up about 375 exodusters and no doubt did a good day's work.

Mr. Hannis Taylor.
It is always a happiness to note the good fortune of any citizen of New Berne, and second to this is the pleasure we experience in calling attention to the success of a former citizen whose kindred are still with us in this good old town. We have had occasion heretofore to allude to the rising fame of Mr. Hannis Taylor, a native of this city, and a cousin of Messrs. Mark and Harry Stevenson and Mrs. Dalis Stevenson Whitford, but we cannot withhold from our readers the following very high compliment taken from the Boston Post:

Mr. Hannis Taylor, of Mobile, Ala., is a new candidate for literary honors of the first rank. He makes good this claim with the first volume, in octavo, containing over 600 pages, and the promise of a second, which, when finished, will complete a work of solid merit on a subject which to the patriotic American scholar must seem the greatest in secular history. His purpose is no less than to show the growth of the English constitutional system and the development of the federal republic of the United States. It rarely happens that an author on his first appearance presents such credentials of distinguished merit as this book affords.

There is a certain irony of fate in the fact that it should be reserved for a scholar from Alabama, one of the States in rebellion in the war of secession, to teach the American people with profounder instruction than was ever given to it before the transcendent worth of their federal nationality and its organic relation to English constitutional history. It is, however, a happy augury to have such instruction come from the South, for these volumes will teach, if they teach anything that will life of this nation in the life of an indivisible whole.

The Hon. Edward J. Phelps, late minister to England, writes:
The work is, in my judgment, a masterly, philosophical and exhaustive treatment of the most important chapter of political history which the world has ever seen or is likely to see. It is a great and needed contribution to a subject which in different phases and parts of it has been elucidated by the writings of Hamilton, Jay, Madison, Marshall, Story and Cooley in its American deductions, and by Hallam, Stubbs and Macaulay in its earliest British history.

Sad Death of a Young North Carolinian.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Mr. Morrison R. Avery, son of Justice Avery of the North Carolina Supreme Court, took carbolic acid through mistake this morning and died in half an hour thereafter. Everything possible was done to save his life but without avail. He had swallowed a large quantity of the poison. The sad event was a great shock to the North Carolinians in the city. The young man had just returned from field work in Arkansas, connected with the geological survey. He was about 31 years old and had graduated with high honors at Davidson College two years since, having delivered the valedictory. He was a youth of brilliant talents and the very highest character.

Judge Avery was telegraphed for and is expected here tomorrow morning. The remains will be taken to North Carolina.

The bottles from which he drank was plainly marked whiskey. The accident happened in Avery's own rooms.

Notice to White Public School Teachers of Craven County.
Professor Alderman, by authority of the school laws of the State, will hold an institute for white teachers at the Academy, in this city, beginning Monday, February 23, 1890. This institute will continue one week. There will be public addresses delivered on Friday of that week. Public school teachers of the white race are required to attend. They will be compelled to suspend their schools during the continuance of the institute. I hope they will all be promptly on hand.

Respectfully,
J. S. LONG.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.
From the State Papers.

The Charlotte Chamber of Commerce will have a big banquet February 6th.

A labor agent says that 35,000 negroes have left North Carolina since last October.

A new opera house is going up in Asheville. It will cost $60,000 and is being erected by Mrs. J. C. Spears.

Wilmington Messenger: The largest crop of corn we ever heard of was that of Dr. Robert Patterson of Halifax, N. C. On more than fifteen acres he averaged more than 100 bushels of corn.

Raleigh Chronicle: There is now over $100,000 on deposit at the Raleigh Savings Bank. Does this look like people are on their way to the poor house.

The taxes of Wake county for the year 1889 amounted to $28,614 57.

Raleigh News and Observer: A peculiarly sad fatality occurred at Durham yesterday. A white man named Parish, a train hand, was coupling some cars about a shifting train, and while walking backwards in front of a moving section of the train his heel was caught in a switch. He struggled to free himself, but before he could do so the car was upon him and crushed him. He died in a few minutes.

Raleigh Call: Sam Jones, the evangelist, will hold a series of meetings in Charlotte during the month of April. The citizens propose the building of a suitable Tabernacle for the purpose, to be called the Sam Jones Tabernacle.—The A. & M. College, so far, is very successful in the way of students. Every seat in the class room has been taken and arrangements are being made for additional accommodations. An order was sent North today for physiological charts and other needed appliances.

Snow Hill Baptist: We learn that the farmers in this county are making every possible effort to enrich their lands this year with home-made fertilizers. This is probably one of the good lessons which they have learned from the Farmers' Alliance; at any rate it is an important one, and where is the use of buying fertilizers when the Greene county swamps abound with beds of fine marl.—Mr. Richard Jones, on less than a fourth of an acre of land, raised and housed one hundred and five bushels of rutabagas this winter. This is a splendid yield, and a profitable crop. Who can beat it?

Ex-Senator Riddleberger Dead.
WINCHESTER, Va., Jan. 24.—Ex-Senator Riddleberger died at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

Harrison Holt Riddleberger was born at Edinburg, Shenandoah county, October 4, 1844. He had a common school education, and then studied with a tutor at home for two years. He was seventeen years old when the war began and was for three years in the Confederate army as lieutenant of infantry and captain of cavalry. After the war he studied law and was admitted to the bar, beginning his practice at Woodstock, where his home was. For two terms he was Commonwealth's attorney for this county, he served four years in the House of Delegates, and for a similar period in the State Senate. He was a member of the Democratic State Committee until 1875, a Presidential elector on the Democratic ticket in 1876, and on the Readjuster ticket in 1880. In 1888 he entered the United States Senate as a Readjuster, and his term of service ended in 1893. In the meantime he had several contentions with the colleagues, General Mahone, and during the last campaign as a Republican “licker,” he opposed Mahone.

List of Letters
Remaining in the postoffice at New Berne, Craven county, January 25th, 1890.
Albert C. Burt, Wm. A. Bond, James Brummage, D. C. Corelton, Mrs. Mozella Collins, Miss Patsy Colman, Mrs. Olive Daugherty, John Hall, Prudy Nelson, J. M. Phillips, Mrs. Patsy Smith, Miss Mand Smith, Mrs. Kate Smith, Mr. Willis, care of W. H. Willis, Miss Jennie Williams.

Persons calling for above letters, will say advertised, and give date of list. The regulations now require that one cent shall be collected on the delivery of each letter advertised.

WM. E. CLARKE, P. M.

GRATIFYING TO ALL.
The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of its qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.

Rheumatism
Is undoubtedly caused by lactic acid in the blood. This acid attacks the fibrous tissues, and causes the pains and aches in the back, shoulders, knees, ankles, hips and wrists. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla a positive cure for rheumatism. This medicine, by its purifying action, neutralizes the acidity of the blood, and also builds up and strengthens the whole body.
