IF the State of Montana isn't ashamed of itself for electing such a legislature, it has a complete monopoly of its feelings.

MORE than thirty British noblemen are at present living on charity. In England, of course, in America they would be visiting.—Philadelphia Times.

WE note with pleasure the revival of the Durham Daily Globe, T. E. Eldridge Editor and publisher, R. E. Carr Associate Editor.

FEBRUARY made a most commendable effort to give us a little winter weather, but was not much more successful than January and December.

THE "plain living and high thinking" which Emerson recommended to the American people has been amended by the wealthy people of New York; They believe in high living and no thinking at all.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

CENTRALIZATION and consolidation have sped rapidly under Republican leadership and plotting, but never more rapidly than within the brief period since the 51st Congress assembled, the leaders of which have distanced all their predecessors in the bold and long strides they have made in the direction of an absolute and lawless party despotism.—Wil. Star.

THE lower House of Congress again affords the whole country an object lesson. What it teaches the ingenious American youth is that the supreme duty of a legislator is to stand by his party.

It is coming out that the activity of Federal officials in Florida and in other portions of the South against alleged violators of the election laws has not been inspired by partisan zeal.

LOCAL NEWS.

Fireman's parade today at 2 o'clock. The merchants are "powful" busy this week.

Be sure and attend the Fair exercises today. There will still be something new.

The special train from Goldsboro yesterday contained nine cars packed with passengers.

The steamer Vancleboro will be sold at public auction today at 12 o'clock, at the foot of Craven street.

In consequence of some unavoidable hindrances the outdoor amusements at the Fair were abandoned yesterday.

Two large schooners loaded with oysters were at the cannery of Moore & Brady yesterday.

The Wilson Baseball Club, Capt. F. Rountree, arrived last night and are stopping at Hotel Albert.

Wednesday was a big day at the fair but it was eclipsed yesterday when the east and west bound trains rolled in with between seven and eight hundred people.

So much interest was exhibited among the Alliance men at the fair that the chairman of the executive committee, W. B. Lane, Esq., informs us that all the neighboring Alliances will permanently associate themselves with our Fair in annual meetings.

Mr. G. W. Moore, of the firm of Moore & Brady, of Baltimore, extensive manufacturers, is attending the Fair. It is with pleasure that Mr. Moore informs us of his intention of doubling the capacity of his oyster cannery at New Berne.

Mr. Jonathan Havens says the Wilmington Star is correct in its estimate of the profits in the cultivation of Pecan nuts.

On the Grounds Last Night. Enjoyment on the grounds ran higher last night than at any previous time.

The steamer Annie, of the E. C. D. line, arrived yesterday and will sail at four o'clock this afternoon.

The steamer L. A. Cobb will sail this morning at eight o'clock.

The steamer Tahoma will sail tomorrow morning for Smiths and Adams creeks, and Swan Quarter, Hyde county, at seven o'clock.

The steamer Kinston will sail for Kinston and intermediate points Saturday. She has been making daily trips this week to Jolly Old Field, bringing passengers to the Fair.

They Scattered. On Wednesday night Mayor Williams ran in on a crowd of gamblers in a bar room on Middle street and cleared the house.

Representative Men.

"Is that Caesar?" "I know not, neither do I care. He is a Roman, and that's enough."

These are our countrymen; not all North Carolinians, but Americans all! New Berne is not Rome, but as Rome loved Romans, so New Berne loves New Bernians.

Hon. Theo. F. Davidson is in the city. Governor Fowle came and we rejoiced; Auditor Sanderlin came and we were happy, but no one is more cordially welcomed than the distinguished Attorney General of this grand old Commonwealth.

We are pleased to welcome to our Fair, and to our beautiful city, brother Roscow, of the Goldsboro Headlight.

It affords us special pleasure to greet Rom. M. Johnson, general agent of the Wilmington Messenger.

Bear with us now while we speak of one who is entitled to more than a passing notice. The Queen of Sheba came from the uttermost parts of the earth to see the wisdom of Solomon, and when she had seen, she said "the half had not been told."

"I think the managers of the eastern counties industrial exposition, and the people of the State of North Carolina collectively, are to be congratulated specially upon their exhibit of fish and oysters, for it present not only valuable and visible testimony to the varied and illimitable sea products of the State, but affords an assurance of future wealth and prosperity for North Carolina which no other seaboard State can offer.

William Mason Robinson, Esq., a prominent member of the Michigan bar, has been visiting Judge Seymour and took in the Fair while here.

Four gentlemen from Philadelphia came to New Berne, by the Old Dominion line, for the express purpose of attending the Fair.

THE THIRD EXHIBITION

Of the East Carolina Fish, Oyster, Game and Industrial Association.

5,000 PEOPLE ON THE GROUNDS. Beautiful Weather, and Everybody Appearing to be Delighted.

FOURTH DAY.

FARM AND GARDEN PRODUCTS. In the two rooms on the south side, on the first floor, is an interesting exhibit of farm and garden products.

There is also in this department a patent truck barrel, made in three different sizes, exhibited by Dr. H. D. Harper and S. H. Lotfin, of Kinston.

Entering this department we were struck with the enormous display of machinery, tools, agricultural implements and mill machinery exhibited by Messrs. Whitty & Gates, of this city.

Near this was the exhibit of our townsman L. H. Cutler. He has a mass of useful house-keeping articles and builders' material.

In this neighborhood was the exhibit of J. H. Crabtree & Co., whose engines, lathes and huge circular saws made one feel like standing further or get sawed.

prepared and reflected credit on the exhibitors.

A hay press near by was exhibited by Messrs. Butts & Bell, seems to be of home manufacture and invention.

Geo. D. Dale was exhibiting a miniature engine, and Mr. F. F. Cherry, of Aurora, has a cotton planter which shows a remarkable quality for taking a polish, which is an important feature in manufacturing furniture, etc.

In the room with the farm products, Rev. Edward Bull has a large and remarkable exhibit of native and other woods. There are about seventy different kinds to be seen.

The Kinsey School. One of the most pleasing incidents of yesterday was the appearance on the Fair grounds of about fifty young ladies of the LaGrange Female Seminary.
