MARYLAND producers expect to grow 12,000,000 quarts of strawberries this year.

THE Republicans in Congress are very busy forging chains which soon will bind them hand and foot.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

CORONAL TANNER'S practice in Washington is worth $20,000 a year. And yet there are old fogies who claim that advertising does not pay.—Minneapolis Tribune.

IF it shall be ascertained that Columbus, as a matter of fact, discovered this continent in 1493, and Congress decides that the celebration shall be in 1893, Chicago, of course will not object. The Fair is the main thing.—Chicago Times.

Oh, no, you cannot get out of it that way. You have bluffed long enough, and you must now show what cards you hold. If you cannot hold the World's Fair, you must acknowledge the fact. There is no backing out.—N. Y. Star.

BRITISH officers who, during the stay of the United States squadron of evolution in Gibraltar, have had an opportunity of inspecting the Chicago, Atlanta, Boston, and Yorktown, are loud in their praises of the magnificent fittings of the American ships. In the matter of comfort the vessels are more like yachts than like men of war. The American squadron will visit English waters in the spring, and will then, no doubt, attract a great deal of attention from naval men.—London Court Journal.

"THE new gunboat Concord is to be launched at Chester today. The vessel was named in honor of Concord, Mass., where the first blood of the revolution was shed, and as is customary on the launching of vessels named for cities, the officials of the Navy Department made an effort to invite the municipal officers of Concord, Mass., to witness the launch. In sending out the invitations, however, the officers of Concord, N. H., were addressed, and while there had been no great amount of revolutionary blood shed in that immediate vicinity, the invitations intended for the New Hampshire Concorders were highly pleased and correspondingly honored. On the other hand the Massachusetts Concorders are in anything but a happy frame of mind over the mistake."—Washington Post.

The whole story of the personal difficulty of the Kentucky correspondent and the Kentucky Congressman, that resulted in the use of the ready revolver in the National Capitol, we do not know, but there is this much clear, that the members might as well understand once for all that they are legitimate subjects for criticism by the press, and that the representatives of the press are in all the qualities of manhood, in education, in social position, in intelligence, intellect, character, and reputation, the equals of the members of Congress; and that while members may kick and cuff and knock and pull each other, if that is their pleasure, they must keep their hands off the press, or subject themselves to the application of the agencies of civilization.—Cincinnati Gazette.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

F. E. MORTON—Pianos and organs tuned, etc.

The business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held tonight at 8:15 o'clock. Herrings are scarce and are selling high. They brought $15 per thousand, wholesale, yesterday. Shad keep up—forty cents a pair for bucks and eighty cents for roe, wholesale.

A match game of base-ball was played on the Academy Green yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock between the Athletics, Captain Oswald Kafter, and the Buttons, Captain Willie Schuler. The score was 8 to 9 in favor of the Athletics. John Gaskill, umpire.

Everybody didn't enjoy the snow-balling frolic on Saturday. Two boys were before the Mayor yesterday charged with dealing too roughly with a colored woman. The State was unable to prove the charges, however, and the boys are nothing "out."

The Treasurer of the Fair Association requests us to ask all persons who have bills against the Association and those who are entitled to premiums to call at Bell's jewelry store between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock p. m. today. The Treasurer desires to close his books for the year.

Mr. John M. Harget left yesterday by steamer Howard for Polokoville with a crowd of the cutters, whom he will take across the country to cut cross ties for the Onslow railroad. We understand that Mr. Harget will give employment to a large number of tie cutters; and those who wish employment can apply to him at the works, on the line of the road.

A reporter stepped into the jail yesterday and found the three gamblers recently confined there, enjoying themselves. They were having a game at cards, smoking cigars, seemed to be in a good humor, and apparently had no thought for the morrow. Jesse Brown, who is to be hanged on the fourth of next month, was pacing the floor of his cell, but stopped long enough to ask for a chew of tobacco.

Y. M. C. A. Business Meeting.

By order of the executive committee the regular monthly business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. is called tonight instead of Wednesday in order to meet the State Secretary, Mr. L. H. Coulter, who will arrive in the city this evening. Every member of the Association is earnestly requested to endeavor to be present and bear the reports of the committee and remarks from Mr. Coulter. Besides the regular business, delegates are to be appointed to attend the State Convention which convenes in Goldsboro Thursday.

A Mad Bear.

The bear exhibited at the Fair by Mr. S. H. Coward has been purchased for a manager in New York and will be shipped by the steamer Newberns today. The bear created a little excitement at the wharf yesterday afternoon. He was caged in a box not overstrong and when "dumped" off the dray and bystanders punched him a few times with a stick, he got mad. He got his claws into a crack in the box and began to tear one side off in short order. He was chained to the box and a man drew the chain tight, trying to choke him down, when it slipped from the bear's neck, and he began to smash the box faster than ever. At this critical moment some one gave the alarm "He's out!" and the spectators rushed in every direction, breaking the record on a hundred yards dash, a daring young clerk in the Clyde line office taking the lead. It was a false alarm, however, for a thoughtful colored man turned the box over, broken side down, and others seeing that the bear was safe for a while at least, hurriedly rolled up barrels of kerosene oil which were on the wharf and panned the ferocious beast. It was funny, after the crowd saw that the bear was safely confined.

There is danger in impure blood. There is safety in taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. 100 cents one dollar.

The Non-Resident Oysterman.

Mr. Wm. Ellis, oyster commissioner, has received a letter from Mr. J. C. Thomas, one of the patrolmen at Coinjock, telling him of the attempts of non-resident oystermen to smuggle oysters from our waters. We make the following extracts from the letter, by permission of Mr. Ellis: "On the first of the month schooner Ida G. Farrow, Geo. L. Lawson, master, Baltimore, came up. I stopped her and served warrant on the captain for 'attempt.' * * * I didn't remain in court, only to testify that to the best of my knowledge and belief the oysters (1,800 bushels) had not been planted for two years. * * * I heard that the court fined him $50 and costs. I was on the canal bank when the captain came from court and went aboard. He persisted in the attempt to proceed northward. I stopped his vessel again and told him he couldn't go. He said he had paid his fine. Told him I knew nothing about his fine; I couldn't fix a price for violating the law of the State. * * * The Superior Court required him to deposit $800 as collateral security for his appearance at the next term of court to be held in September. * * * This morning a negro, Capt. Banks, of the sloop Starlight, came up. He swung out for the bridge to be opened, but I held the bridge. He tied up; said he had a load of corn. I went aboard with Herbert. The Captain very willingly raised his batches and sure enough there was a load of three and a half barrels of corn in the hold and 125 bushels oysters under the corn. The corn is on the cob. We smelt the oysters and found them. * * * The magistrate has gone to court. We will keep the negro until he comes." We are sorry to learn that the patrol is ordered to leave Coinjock and go to Ocracoke and Hatteras. Commissioner Ellis regards Coinjock as the point where the patrol is most needed. Mr. Ellis left last night for Coinjock.

Boys' Meeting.

The boys' meeting, held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon, at the M. E. church was largely attended and made very interesting under the supervision of our talented young townsman, Prof. G. T. Adams. They were spoken to in an entertaining and instructive manner by Mr. Adams, who has the happy faculty of knowing just how to get the attention of the boys. He told them of some interesting events from the Bible and asked them a number of Scriptural questions which were surprisingly well answered. The fact was impressed upon them by Mr. Adams that it was their meeting, and that no person above sixteen years would be allowed to attend, with the exception of himself and the President of the Y. M. C. A. (your reporter) and the Pastors of the city. The meetings are to be held monthly, changing from one church to another.

Personal.

We had the pleasure of a visit on yesterday from Rev. J. A. Speight, associate editor of the Raleigh Biblical Recorder. He is a companionable gentleman, and his paper is one of the best religious journals in the South. On Sunday Mr. Speight preached in the Baptist church, to delighted congregations, morning and evening, and in the afternoon he fairly captured the children of the Sunday school. He left on the last evening's train for Morehead City. The JOURNAL, and our people generally, will always be glad to welcome Mr. Speight.

Mrs. Sarah Farrior, of Kenansville, who has been in the city, visiting her father, Rev. T. P. Ricard, returned home yesterday.

Miss Camille Rodman, of Washington, N. C., is in the city, and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Guion.

Hon. C. C. Clark, accompanied by his son Mr. C. C. Clark, arrived from Knoxville, Tenn., last night. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Clark, jr., who has been quite sick in Knoxville, is improving.

Miss Jalia Cuthbert and little sister, left for Winston yesterday. Mrs. Cuthbert will join her children there in a few days, and they will make Winston their future home.

Miss Mollie Fulford left yesterday morning for Savannah, Ga., to visit friends. Messrs. Clement Manly and M. DeW. Stevenson left for Raleigh, to attend the Supreme Court, yesterday.

Shipping News.

The steamer Annie, of the E. C. D. Line, sailed yesterday with a full cargo of general exports. The Egret, of this line, will sail tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The steamer Taberna will sail this morning at 7 o'clock.

The steamer Defiance arrived from Baltimore, yesterday, with cargo of general merchandise. Will sail today for Baltimore.
