"SCIENCE deals with nature; philosophy with reason; religion with the personality."

CONGRESS.—A debating society whose members say that their constituents want to hear. An institution where patriotism means partisanship.

MANY say they think, when they do not even know what it means to think; just as men say they believe, when in reality they only cherish opinions others have formed for them.

"If Brer Ingalls and his fellow statesmen of Kansas do not hump themselves to ease the depressed agricultural interests, the Kansas farmers will build a corn fire under them."

SHOULD Mr. Depew be nominated for the Presidency, he will not forget the agricultural interests. He will shave off his side whiskers altogether, or he will dye them a rich corn color.

THE Wilmington Star has been published twenty-two and a half years. It was not ours to witness the brightness of its rising, but it is ours to bask in its meridian splendor and be led by its light.

WHEN nations truly correspond with one another and thoroughly study one another's habits and get to occupy one another's mental and political standpoint, we shall see the beginning of an intelligent and complete brotherhood.

SHOOTING sweethearts by lovers is getting to be quite a common event these days. Cupid has got to wearing a hip pocket. When fellows get to asking girls at the point of a pistol to marry them and shoot them if they refuse, it is entirely too pointed a way of conducting amatorial negotiations.—Wilmington Star.

THAT peerless songster, Patti, made her reappearance in New York last night at the Metropolitan. Her reception was cordial in the extreme. There is but one Patti and the world will probably never see another. Her voice is as sweet and cultured as ever, and her presence upon the lyric stage is as refreshing as a vision of that paradise where votive music is perennial.—New York World.

Is the Lodge bill should become a law a condition of affairs would be witnessed in the South similar to that which prevailed during the reconstruction period. Labor would be disorganized and business would be partly paralyzed. Every kind of industry would suffer. The marvellous prosperity which the South is now enjoying would be checked.

Northern capital and Northern immigration would cease to flow southward.—Savannah News.

THE greatest of all virtues is "charity,"—charity which makes us lenient towards the failings of erring mortals—charity that makes us enter into the hearts of our fellow men, see what is most needed there, and of our strength give our best, charity that will make us kind to the stranger that is within our gates,—charity, that will cause our natures to expand and deepen and grow until petty follies that so harass as will find no hold and drop from us;—charity that will bring us unto the great white throne to dwell in perfect unity with the Son of God.—Oxford Orphan's Friend.

WE may not doubt that in the next election—in November next—a great tidal wave will sweep over the country and the House then to be elected will be Democratic. We are very hopeful of a splendid triumph. If the people are not blind and stupid they will not keep in office conspirators and demagogues who neither regard law nor usage nor tradition nor the best interests of the whole country. The politicians may forget but the people will not. The gang of revolutionists in Washington are daily driving the nails in the coffin of the most wicked, abandoned and dangerous party know thus far in the history of our Republic—the party of Harrison and Quay, of Ingalls and Foraker, of Dudley and Sherman, of Hoar and Chandler, of Lodge and Reed, of Edmunds and Blair.—Wilmington Messenger.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

VEGETABLE NOLANDINE
ROGERS—Entertainment.
J. W. WATSON—A sacrifice.
MRS. STANLY—Prang's easter cards, etc.
R. J. GOODING—Nothing succeeds like success.

You will be welcomed at Y. M. C. A. service this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Greene county court convenes tomorrow, Judge Boykin presiding. Judge Graves will go from Trenton to Jacksonville, Onslow county, where court convenes tomorrow.

Major C. M. Stedman will deliver the Memorial Address at Wilmington on the 10th of May, taking for his subject, "Gen. William McKee, and the battle of Ream's Station."

We had a pleasant call yesterday from Mr. W. H. Wall, editor of the Hoboken (N. J.) Evening News. He presented us with a copy of the News printed on a rich green tinted paper on Saint Patrick's day, in honor of the Emerald Isle.

Last night closed the first week of the Rogers exhibition. Throughout the entire evenings it has been conducted in the very best order, and all those whom we have heard express themselves have been well pleased. He will continue next week for the same object.

In this issue will be found a communication from Mr. J. B. Calhoun, of Baltimore, giving particulars into the process of canning vegetables, etc. It should be carefully read and considered by our business men, because it is beyond question an important move for New Berne. Besides the labor they will give employment to, they furnish a means of utilizing all the various products that cannot be shipped on account of an over stocked market.

The Onslow Railroad.

It is hoped that work on the New Berne end of the road will be commenced at an early day. From the Wilmington Messenger we learn that track laying is being pushed on the Wilmington end. The Messenger says: "About two miles and a half of track have been laid on the Wilmington, Onslow & East Carolina Railroad, beginning at the company's wharves on the Cape Fear river and extending a quarter of a mile beyond its junction with the Wilmington Seacoast Railroad. Work will begin today at the point beyond the Seacoast Road, and track laying will then be carried vigorously on toward Jacksonville. The rails are being laid with McFarland's track-laying machine which is said to be the first ever used in building a railroad in North Carolina."

Dick Oxford's Photograph.

The Philadelphia detective bureau will probably rival that of Paris in its minutiae. Detective Tate has forwarded to Mayor Williams a picture of Dick Oxford, the notorious gambler, who was caught here by Mr. Williams during our Fair and afterwards taken to Philadelphia on charges of gambling on the Pennsylvania Railroad last December. His sentence was one year in the city prison. On the back of the photograph of Oxford, which was taken by the detective force, is a complete list of blanks filled in with a full description of him whereby he may always be known.

We copy from the "Ledger" a brief account of Oxford and a few others of his "pards."

Albert Miley and Richard Oxford, fair fakirs and card sharps, were yesterday convicted before Judge Arnold of conspiracy to cheat Frank Scott of $50 in a game of euchre. Scott is train dispatcher in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Jersey City.

In December last, while he was coming over to this city, in a smoking car, Miley, who was seated in front of him, invited him to join a euchre game, which Oxford and a man named Shaw were playing on the other side of the car. Miley falsely claimed that the players were strangers to him. Scott agreed to play a "social" game, with Miley as partner. He was dealt three low hands, but refused to make side bets. Miley, however, bet on his hand once and won $10. Finally, Scott was dealt two bower, an ace, queen and a tan spot. After some persuasion he agreed to bet $50 that he would not be euchred. This was his claim, but the other side alleged that Shaw bet that Scott would not take five tricks. The seven, eight and nine spots were played by Shaw on Scott's right, left and ace. Then Scott played the queen and Shaw scooped it in with a king, and claimed the money. Shaw got out at the junction with the money and has not been seen since.

Miley was arrested in this city, while Oxford was apprehended in North Carolina. It was in evidence that the three men had worked the same game on the cars before. Sentence was deferred.

CANNING VEGETABLES.

The Cost, Giving Full Particulars, &c.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—As my article on the canning industry has awakened such interest, and your people solicit further information, I shall endeavor to be more explicit and give figures. I herewith submit estimate of cost of outfit and the necessary articles of machinery for canning 2,000 3 lb. or 2,750 2 lb. cans per day—to be used with steam or set in brick:

1 scalding kettle, 1 exhaust kettle, 1 process kettle, 2 scalding baskets, 2 exhaust cages, 2 process cages, 1 crane, 3 furnace doors, 8 sets of grate bars, 2 gasoline firepots, 2 capping machines, 3 soldering cappers, 2 tipping cappers, 1 forging stake, 2 pair of can tongs, 1 vise, hammer, 2 files, etc. This outfit can be purchased in Baltimore for $150.—F. O. B.—the purchaser can, by instructions sent with outfit, put up and operate it without the aid of skilled help. It would require 15 hands to successfully operate it as follows: 1 processor, 1 capper, 1 tipper, 12 peelers and packers—the latter could be done by women, boys and girls. In Maryland processors, cappers and tippers receive from $3 to $2.50 per day. Peelers and packers $1 per day, but often farmers do their own processing, which could be done in this case. Thus the farmer could supervise over the capper and tipper, this work being simple, it could be had for $1 per day. Thus the labor necessary for packing the above number of cans would consist of 1 processor (the farmer himself), $2.50 1 capper and tipper, 2.00 12 hands (peelers and packers)..... 6.00

We will now figure the cost of raw material, cans, cases, labels, etc., required for packing 2,000 3 lb. cans per day. Tomatoes will be taken for example—100 bushels will be required to fill these 2,000 cans (3 lb.). Thus we have 100 bushels tomatoes at 20 cents per bushel, 20.00: 2,000 cans.....$45.00 Labor (in packing)..... 10.50 Labels, solder, etc..... 4.00 Cases (containing 24 cans, 3 lb.)..... 7.02

Now $87.42 is what it costs to pack 2,000 2 lb. cans of tomatoes per day (labor and material) this includes pay for the farmer at $2.50 per day; also $20 is included for his raw material. We now market these 2,000 cans consisting of 88 cases and receive $1.65 per case, the present market price. Thus we have $146.95, or a profit of $49.53, a pretty good showing for one day's work. Where one has wood or coal to buy it would reduce these figures, but a profit of $40 could be counted on, even where one has to furnish all labor and buy his raw material, wood or coal.

I would advise farmers to plant their own crop and not depend entirely on his neighbor for his canning supply. He can then realize a profit on his product in two ways. I would not advise farmers to pack corn; the labor and expense attached to packing this article is so much that they could not compete with the Western packers. It requires expensive machinery for silking and removing the corn from the cob, and as they have every facility and pack nothing else, there would be in utilizing the same acreage in tomatoes or other vegetables.

Now we will take the profits on one acre of tomatoes, grown for canning purposes. In the first place the plants can be put out after all danger of frost is passed. The farmer can now obtain seed that will yield him from 300 to 700 bushels per acre; for an average we will say 450. He disposes of his product either by packing it in cans himself, or selling to his neighbor at 50 cents per bushel. Thus he realizes $90 per acre; runs no risk from early planting, and he is sure of getting his money, quite different from the present mode of disposing of his product. Sometimes he does, and again he does not, but more often finds himself in debt. Even so, he can ship as long as he can find it profitable; then when it does not pay to ship, the surplus can be packed. As to the capital one has to have in order to undertake the canning business, I will say that the cost in the cans, not the outfit, we will figure on the amount necessary for one to have:

Cost of outfit.....$150.00 Freight (about)..... 8.00 Brick work, etc..... 50.00 25,000 labels (to start)..... 45.00

The cans can be purchased on six months time where parties can close account with approved paper, bearing six per cent. interest. This allows one to dispose of his entire pack and pay his note without any inconvenience whatever. I know of no business where so small an investment will yield such satisfactory results. If your people wish information as to outfit they can address and I will turn their letter over to the manufacturer in person.

J. R. CALHOUN.

New York Market Review.

G. S. Palmer reports market as follows: Asparagus continues in more liberal supply, as Norfolk put in appearance today, and prices range from 50 to 75 cents per bunch; culls 50; cabbage in moderate supply and prices are holding firm, fancy Florida selling up to $4; Savannah $3.50 and Georgia $3 to $3.50; green peas $4 to $6 per crate, lotions $3 to $5 per barrel. Market is ruling firm on eggs, and in view of the increased demand for Easter, firm prices will hold, selling today 14 to 15 cents; duck $9 to $9; geese $5 to $6.

The less a pair of lovers have to say, when sitting up o' nights, the longer it takes them to say it.

A TERRIBLE CYCLONE.

Hundreds of Lives Lost, and Great Destruction of Property.

LOUISVILLE, March 28.—A tornado struck Louisville at 7:30 o'clock last evening. It entered the southeastern portion of the city at Eighth street, and swept a path five blocks wide diagonally, reaching in a ragged line to Seventh street, levelling every building in its path—probably twenty-five hundred houses. A rough estimate puts the killed at five hundred, with thousands injured. The city is filled with a crazed mass of people, wildly seeking friends.

Such desolation in the city has not been known in this century. Every building, tree and telegraph pole in the district struck was leveled. The cyclone was predicted by the Signal Service bulletin yesterday afternoon, but no heed was paid to its warning. The cyclone came with scarce a warning sound, and in all of the buildings struck the inhabitants were engaged in their usual avocations, without an effort to escape when their homes collapsed.

The district laid waste comprises an area of the city three miles long and nearly half a mile wide. CHICAGO, March 28.—A special from Metropolis, Ill., says: The cyclone of last night cut a clean swath of about quarter of a mile wide clean across the town, wrecking property of all descriptions, and burying men, women and children in the debris of the falling buildings. The number of victims cannot be ascertained with anything like accuracy, but it is reported that several hundred people were killed or wounded and between two and three hundred houses were swept from their foundations and dashed to pieces above the heads of their unfortunate occupants.

CINCINNATI, March 28.—Late dispatches state that the tornado struck the town of Bowling Green, Warren county, Ky., and completely wiped it out. As the wires are down no detailed report can be obtained, and but the meagre fact that the calamity had occurred has been received. Bowling Green has a population of about five thousand inhabitants, and the loss of life is conjectured to be corresponding large.

MARION, Ky., March 28.—This city was devastated by the same storm that wrought so much ruin at Louisville. There was great loss of life.

COMMENDABLE.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

Everybody Knows

That at this season the blood is filled with impurities, the accumulation of months of close confinement in poorly ventilated stores, workshops and tenements. All these impurities and every trace of scrofula, salt rheum, or other disease may be expelled by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier ever produced. It is the only medicine of which "100 doses one dollar" is true.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

The reason RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER is the most wonderful medicine, is because it has never failed in any instance, no matter what the disease, from LEPROSY to the simplest disease known to the human system.

The scientific men of today claim and prove that every disease is CAUSED BY MICROBES, —AND— Radam's Microbe Killer

Exterminates the Microbes and drives them out of the system, and when that is done you cannot have an ache or pain. No matter what the disease, whether a simple case of Malaria Fever or a combination of diseases, we cure them all at the same time, as we treat all diseases constitutionally.
