THE very moment a sinner accepts of the finished work of Christ in his behalf, his sins which were many, are forgiven; he is for Christ's sake, accounted as righteous, and that law which before could be satisfied only by his eternal death, has now no claims against him.—Darling.

THE Eastern Republicans who are trying to create Western States out of the immature Territories to strengthen Republican interests begin to see where they miss it. They are giving up the scepter of power and will soon find themselves outlying provinces.—Madison Democrat.

ANY peace that is linked with forgetfulness of God, is a horrible thing. It is the peace of the miasma which is brooding in quiet before it strikes with the arrow of death; it is that dead calm which precedes the cyclone or the earthquake. The perfect peace which God gives sunneth itself in the presence of God; it is a tropical flower which lives in the flaming sunlight; a bird with rainbow wings, which is at home in the high noon of heaven's summer tide.—Spurgeon.

TRUST or distrust is increased by its exercise. If we exercise trust in a friend, our trust in him grows because of our trusting. If we consent to doubt him, our doubt of him is greater and greater, because of our doubting. What a friend seems to us in the long run, depends on how we look at him. There are few persons who would show no cause for being trusted, to one who confidently look for such cause. There is no one who is wholly without flaw, in the sight of him who is persistently looking for flaws.—Sunday School Times.

THE little I have seen of the world, and know of the history of mankind, teaches me to look upon the errors of others in sorrow, not in anger. When I take the history of one poor heart that has sinned and suffered, and represent to myself the struggles and temptations it has passed,—the brief pangs of joy, the feverish inquietude of hope and fear, the tears of regret, the feebleness of purpose, the pressure of want, the desertion of friends, the scorn of a world that has little charity, the desolation of the soul's sanctuary, and threatening voices within,—health gone, happiness gone, even hope, that stays longest with us, gone,—I have little heart for aught else than thankfulness that it is not so with me, and would fain leave the aching soul of my fellowman with him from whose hands it came.—Stangor.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

A. E. WOODRUFF—For rent.

The Rogers exhibition has been closed for the present, but will reopen in a short while.

The steamer Annis, of the E. C. D. line, arrived yesterday and will sail tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Vesper of this line will arrive today.

Some of the residents on East Front street say they need more light after night. It would be well if a light was placed at the foot of Pollock street for the benefit of the ferry travel.

Miss Julia Archbell, adopted daughter of Mr. Thomas Carmalt, of Washington, who was killed on Wednesday night by a pistol shot, was sister to Mr. E. L. Archbell of this city. Mr. Archbell, immediately upon receipt of the sad news, left for Washington.

At a meeting of the executive committee at the city hall last night the various ward meetings were called to meet Wednesday, April 23d, for the purpose of nominating candidates for councilmen for the ensuing year. The places of meeting will be announced in Tuesday's paper.

Mr. T. E. Mace died at his residence in this city yesterday, in the 60th year of his age. He leaves a devoted wife, two children and two sisters to mourn their loss, besides a large number of friends who will remember him as a quiet, unassuming and amiable gentleman. The funeral will take place this afternoon from the Episcopal church at 5 o'clock.

In this issue is an ably written article on the "New Berne Boom," picturing the outlook and bright future that is in store. We cannot agree with "Transit" in claiming that New Berne is on a "boom;" in fact this mushroom growth of towns and cities is not to be desired anyway. There are often false claims set forth in these "pufferies" that cause a reaction and work serious injury. No, New Berne is enjoying a steady growth—one that is solid and sure. The evidences are that way. As "Transit" seems to be so well versed in the movements of railroad corporations and our commercial outlook, we trust that we may again be favored with articles from his pen.

Meeting for Little Boys.

Today is the regular time for the meeting of the boys, all those under fifteen years of age. None others will be admitted. The last meeting was held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at the Methodist church, but this time it will be at the Baptist church immediately after Sunday-school. Prof. G. T. Adams has charge.

Baptist Female College.

The board of trustees of the Baptist Female College has been called by its president, Col. L. L. Polk, to meet in Raleigh on Tuesday evening, April 23d, to decide upon a curriculum, elect a president, and transact such other business as may come before it. We learn that Rev. H. W. Battle is mentioned in connection with the presidency. New Berne would be very reluctant to give Mr. Battle up, but the trustees will hardly be able to find a better man for the position.

Personal.

Mrs. J. R. B. Carraway and child returned last night from a visit to friends in Grifton.

Miss Siddle King, of Beaufort, who has been visiting Miss Annie Whitford, returned home last night.

Miss Theresa Higgins left for Beaufort last night to visit friends.

Mr. John Mayo, who for some time has been suffering from aberration of the mind, was taken to the insane asylum at Raleigh yesterday. We regret very much to learn that his disease has grown worse.

Mayor's Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

Estle Jeffrey, riotous and disorderly in the city limits. Fined $10 and cost or 30 days on the streets.

Fred Hardison, riotous and disorderly in the city limits. Submitted. Taxed with cost.

Eliza Holly, colored, disorderly in the city limits. Submitted. Taxed with cost.

Hardison & Asher, disorderly house. Dismissed.

Mary Davis, colored, charged with violating chap. 5, sec. 4, city ordinance. Dismissed.

Mat Ransom, colored, charged with violating chap. 5, sec. 4, city ordinance. Dismissed.

The Collegiate Institute Literary Society.

In connection with the Collegiate Institute there is a literary and debating society, composed of the more advanced students. It is an attribute of the school, and an important one. The Society meets every Friday night for the purpose of debating various questions and to engage in literary exercises. On last Friday evening the exercises were public, a very interesting program had been arranged, and those who attended had an hour or two of delightful entertainment. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Willie Powell, who presided with grace, dignity and wisdom. The duties of chaplain were performed by Mr. Adams, principal of the school. Mr. Leo Burrus declaimed the "Wind Harp" in an impressive manner. He was followed by Mr. Herbert Thomas, orator for the occasion, who had for his subject the "Usefulness of a Literary Society." His style was felicitous, thought good, and his speech was delivered in a most pleasing manner. Then came the debate on the question, "Resolved that spirituous liquors are more injurious to the human race than war." Messrs. Carlyle Hancock, Robert Jones, Edward Roberts, and Charles Roberts appeared on the side of the affirmative and Messrs. J. E. Patrick, T. C. Haskins, Albert Bangert and George Makeley on the negative. The speeches were all interesting and some solid arguments were advanced. Some of the speeches were couched in language that was graceful and elegant, and all showed that the speakers had given the subject thought and study. The committee appointed to decide the question after hearing the debate, according to the arguments advanced, was composed of John S. Long, Esq., Rev. Dr. L. C. Vass and Mr. W. R. Barrington. They returned a verdict in favor of the negative.

After the debate the chairman called upon Rev. Dr. Vass and Mr. Long for remarks upon the subject. Dr. Vass declined, not feeling like entering into the discussion. But Mr. Long came forward and made an excellent talk of a few minutes' length, not upon the subject of debate, but concerning the Society, speaking words of approval and encouragement to its members. We have no doubt the earnest and eloquent remarks of Mr. Long, who is such a devotee to literary work and a zealous friend of literary organizations, will have a stimulating effect upon the members of the Collegiate Institute Literary Society.

Several members of Vance Academy Literary Society were present. Mr. Haskins, being called upon, excused himself, but Mr. Melton spoke briefly and wished the Collegiate Institute Literary Society God-speed. Mr. Harry Smith, being present, was called upon and he responded in a pleasant little speech. Then, on motion, the meeting adjourned. A large number of friends were present, the audience filling the room comfortably, and all were greatly pleased with the exercises. Such a Society is of great usefulness to those who compose it. Mr. Adams takes great interest in this branch of his school, which, we think, is worthy of all the attention he may bestow upon it.

M.: Brethren—You are hereby requested to meet at your hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of paying the last sad tribute of respect to our deceased brother, T. E. Mace. ### DIED.

Entered into rest on the 12th of April, 1890, Thomas Ellwood Mace in the 60th year of his age.

The funeral will take place at five o'clock this afternoon from Christ Church.

COMMENDABLE.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

NEW BERNE BOOK.

The Great Outlook and Bright Future!

Railway Extension and Development Contributory To It.

Soon a Commercial Centre On Great Through Lines!

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Railroad development and extension throughout considerable portions of Eastern Carolina are working very important changes and modifications in the business and transportation conditions of all our people of the Eastern sections of the State.

So far as New Berne's interests are involved it is plainly apparent that the outlook for this city and section never was so bright and encouraging. Of all the towns and cities of North Carolina there is not one so completely in possession of all the elements of steady progress and permanent prosperity. Nowhere else do there abound all the resources for cheaply and bountifully maintaining a population as profusely as they are found here. The atmospheric conditions and proximity to the salt sea afford the conditions of almost perfect healthfulness, while the mild and generous climate is as beneficent to human existence and comfort as it is liberal in the production of the fruits of the earth.

There is possible here, and to a large extent actually existing, a wider range for the employment of wage-earners than in any other section of the State, outside of the phenomenal, and necessarily temporary manufacturing points of specific products of short-lived command of the world's market, like tobacco, for instance. The progress of the branch lines and loop system of the Wilmington and Waldon Railroad Company, the central body of what is denominated the Atlantic Coast Line indicates the speedy placing of the city of New Berne on a great through line of rail and quick water communication between New York, Norfolk, Wilmington and Charleston, an event already so plainly in sight that speculation is lost in its absolute certainty.

Another event no less certain in the near future is the deepening of the water on the Beaufort Bar to the best draught of any port between Portland, Maine, and the mouth of the Mississippi River on the Gulf. Occupying her commanding position at the head of the Sound system of inland navigation, on a through line of North and South railway communication, with an entrepot as the terminal system of East and West transmontane and trans continental railroads, and possessed of such varied resources of land and water, and with unsurpassed climatic advantages, one must look far and wide over the State and along the Atlantic coast and among the boasted hill regions, for anything approaching New Berne and her tributary traffic regions of country.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

April 11th, 1890.

A special meeting of the board of city councilmen was held this afternoon at four o'clock, Mayor Williams presiding. Present—Councilmen Burrus, Ulrich, Lane, Crawford, Bishop and Kennedy. The Mayor stated that the meeting had been called to settle with him as treasurer during 1888-9, as a report had been circulated that he was short in his accounts.

The finance committee made the following report, which was read by the Mayor:

The finance committee met April 5th, 1890, with the auditing committee, at which meeting Councilmen Lane and Burrus were present. On account of the absence of Councilman Bishop, who had the vouchers of the former treasurer, R. P. Williams, the committee adjourned to meet on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

The two committees met on Wednesday night. Present—Messrs. Bryan and Dunn of the auditing committee, and Councilman Lane of the finance committee.

Councilman Bishop was present with the treasurer's vouchers. The vouchers were examined by the auditing committee, and a voucher for $118 48, which had not been credited to the treasurer by the auditing committee, was found among the vouchers brought before the committee by Councilman Bishop.

The finance committee met Friday afternoon, April 11th, 1890, and found that the treasurer, R. P. Williams, had on hand at the time his accounts were audited by the finance committee at the end of the fiscal year the sum of $778 92, funds of the city. We find that since that report the treasurer has paid over to his successor $326 07. That he is entitled to credits for $46 74, orders paid. Vouchers, $339 12.

This is to certify that I have examined the receipts and disbursements of the treasurer, R. P. Williams, and find that he has received to Silas Fulcher, tax collector, for twelve thousand nine hundred and seventy-one dollars and fifty-six cents ($12,971.56), and that he has paid out vouchers as per list recorded in this book, twelve thousand six hundred and fifty-eight dollars and twenty-eight cents ($12,658.28).

GEORGE ALLEN, Chmn. Aud. Com. Jan. 7, 1890.

The undersigned, having examined the accounts of R. P. Williams, ex-treasurer of city of New Berne, beg leave to present the following report of said examination:

Bal. due city of New Berne. $ 893.74
We find voucher No. 458, March 5th, 1889, $118.48, missing from the list of vouchers submitted to us.

Respectfully submitted, E. K. BRYAN, JOHN DUNN, Auditing Com.

The undersigned beg to correct their report, and say that after a thorough examination this day they have found missing voucher No. 458 of March 5, 1889, for $118 48, which will make our balance due the city $775 26. Respectfully submitted, E. K. BRYAN, JOHN DUNN, Auditing Committee, New Berne, N. C., April 9, 1890.

Councilman Crawford moved that the report be received and adopted. Yeas, Councilmen Burrus, Lane, Crawford, Ulrich, Bishop and Kennedy. Nays, none.
