PEOPLE who need the protection that the McKinley bill will afford had better not attempt to do business at all.

MR. CHANDLER wants the Senate to follow Reed's lead. The minority must be overridden. Chandler should have more respect for the safety of his ears.

THE House Committee on the Judiciary has ordered Representative Culberson of Texas to report favorably and without amendment the Senate bill to prohibit trusts.

WORK will be commenced on the monument to Alexander H. Stephens, at Crawfordville, Ga., early in June. It is to be erected over his grave in the park at Liberty Hall.

A BILL to give everybody in particular everything he wants at the expense of everybody else in general, is a fair description of the McKinley crazy quilt production after the last patches were put upon it.—New York Star.

THE jute bagging trust was a cloud with a silver lining. Necessity is still the mother of invention, and the late invention of an Augusta lawyer is likely to solve the troublesome bagging question. The cotton-stalk itself promises to render the cotton trade independent of jute, tariff or no tariff.—Charlotte Chronicle.

JACKSON, Miss., April 23.—A fire destroyed the entire business portion of Greenwood, Miss., last night. The fire is said to have been caused by a negro cook throwing ashes on a pile of straw. Thirty-three houses were destroyed and two lives are said to have been lost. The victims are given as John Darrah and an unknown man.

MURAT HALSTED, whose pen dipped in vinegar has kept the Ohio political cauldron boiling for thirty years, has settled in Brooklyn where he intends to make the Standard Union "a square-toed Republican paper with a Roman nose." He will be welcome provided that he doesn't find in New York that senatorship which Ohio politicians who have felt the vinegar in wounds made by his pen denied him. As for Brooklyn, it ought to support a good weekly, but an occasional visitor would question whether there's life enough there to keep a daily out of the hands of the sheriff.—New Haven Palladium.

DELEMATER, who is Quay's candidate for Governor in Pennsylvania, insists upon remaining in the field, but from every quarter information comes that he is being repudiated. Gen. Hastings has secured the indorsement of Blair County, one of Quay's strongholds, and the anti Delemater men seem to control the situation. Where does Mr. Quay expect to secure his much-needed vindication?—New York World.

THE eastern farmer believes the railroads are manipulated in the interest of the Western farmer, while the latter is quite as sure that he is being constantly discriminated against by the carrying trade. About the only point on which the agriculturists of the two sections do agree is that the depression is general and ruinous. There is a widespread demand for a remedy, although they cannot decide among themselves as to the exact nature of the treatment. It is this series of facts that is going to require great thought and diplomacy in the task of placating the American farmer.—Washington Post.

THIS is a step backward. Wise men like Lord Bacon and Blackstone long ago said that it was injudicious to cut off the great body of the people from all hope of obtaining a freehold. But the single example of France should be enough.

When the feudal system prevailed the French peasantry were ignorant and brutal, and ready at any time for a revolution. With the breaking up of the great estates the country people became imbued with new life, energy and intelligence. Small farms have been the salvation of France. Her common people have risen in the social scale. They sustained the wars of the Napoleonic era, and when the last empire fell went down into their pockets and paid off a burden of debt that would have crushed almost any other nation. In no country did the owners of large tracts of land ever contribute as much money for the public welfare as came from the savings of these small farmers of France.—Atlanta Constitution.

Fishing tackle is in demand.

At the drawing last night at Bell's jewelry store the afghan was won by Miss Dammann of Baltimore.

A telegram from Pape & Deyo quote asparagus at $7 to 7.50; Peas $7.50. G. S. Palmer reports cabbage from $2 to $4; strawberries 16 to 23.

J. K. Willis made shipments of marble to Hyde county, Adams creek and Bay river yesterday. The custom of erecting monuments to the memory of departed friends seem to be gaining in prosperity.

Carpenters were at work in Stanly Hall yesterday building a school house for the "Old District School," which will be opened there next Wednesday night. Everybody should be there at the opening.

Mr. W. H. Bray, who lives about a mile from the city, made a shipment of some of his fine Toulouse geese yesterday to Mr. D. F. Bigelow, Peterham, Mass. Mr. Bray has been engaged in breeding fine fowls a number of years and has probably as fine poultry yards as there are in the State. His turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens are of the best strain and are being improved all the time.

"Only a Farmer."
The above is the heading of a communication in this issue of the JOURNAL signed "Lecturer."

The farmers, while they may not be as scholarly as some few others of our citizens, are as intelligent and upright as any class of men we have. They are apt to be careful in their thoughts and views, and generally possessed of sober judgment. Being the tillers of the soil, the occupation that first gives power in revolving the wheel of industry, they are often termed the backbone of the country, but what availeth it there are no other members to operate in unison with the spinal column? Just as important as they are to make up the complete body, just as necessary are the various branches of industry and professions. One is dependent upon the other, and cannot meet with success where all the vocations are attempted.

It is true that many of the young men of the country are seeking the cities in their pursuits through life, and in the majority of instances we believe to their detriment. The small farm carefully tilled guarantees a home and a living, both of which is not obtained by a large portion of those living in towns and cities. The majority of planters have but little cause to complain of the hard times, and many of them are men of means and prominence. In the country there is more moderation and less extremes. The cities may have more wealth among one class, but there is greater poverty on the other hand. The same comparison is true in the educational line. North Carolina is rapidly going forward in the education of her sons and daughters, but the facilities are yet very deficient.

The JOURNAL has always been a warm supporter of the Alliance and believes there is a grand work before it in bringing the farmers together in an interchange of ideas, profiting from one another's experience, and planning for their benefits.

Ward Nominations.

On last Wednesday night meetings were held by the Democrats of the first, second and third wards for the purpose of nominating candidates for Councilmen, to be voted for at the municipal election to be held on the 5th of May. At the meeting in the first ward Mr. R. P. Williams received 55 votes and Mr. John C. Whitty 54 votes, and Mr. Williams was declared the Democratic nominee for Councilman. In yesterday's JOURNAL Mr. Whitty has a card in which he claims to be "the regular nominee," "having received a majority of the qualified Democratic votes of the first ward of the city of Newbern." Mr. Whitty expresses his thanks for the honor bestowed, and says, "If elected I shall carefully guard their interests and do all in my power to advance the best interests of the city at large. I am pledged to no man and know no slate." Here is an unpleasant complication. Men of character are divided in opinion as to who is the nominee of the Democratic party for Councilman in the first ward. The JOURNAL cannot decide between them.

In the second ward Mr. Ferdinand Ulrich and Dr. George Slover were candidates for the nomination, and Dr. Slover having received a majority of the votes cast was declared the candidate of the Democrats of that ward.

In the third ward Benj. B. Lane and Hugh J. Lovick were the candidates and Mr. Lovick received the nomination.

The nomination of Dr. Slover and Mr. Lovick is fully endorsed by the Democrats in their respective wards, and they will no doubt receive, as they deserve, the unbroken support of their party. We trust that the first ward will be as fortunate in the election of a Councilman as the second and third wards will be.

Mr. Whitty claims that he received a majority of the qualified Democratic votes, but in a card today Mr. Williams claims that votes cast for both candidates were challenged and that no objection or protest was raised against the decision of the chairman.

Where the Danger Lies.

It is reported that the "six footer" was in Beaufort a few nights ago and frightened some colored women. The "six-footer" is gaining wide notoriety. If the report is true that he has left New Berne, we should congratulate ourselves. However, the poor fellow may have left to escape the ward politics war—wise with all of his midnight folly. Putting joking aside, though, the fact that a great many people are carrying arms on account of the supposed danger of meeting the supposed terror, is a serious one. There is danger of some one getting hurt—not by the "six-footer" but by some hero(?) who would shoot the "six-footer" if he should see him. The fellow who fired a ball through Mr. Robert's sitting room window the other night is just the one to kill some innocent person.

Personal.

Mr. Wm. Hollister, Jr., left yesterday morning for New York and other northern cities on a prospecting tour.

Lieut. Francis Winlow returned from New York last night.

Mrs. J. M. Howard has returned from a visit to friends and relatives in Jones county.

Mrs. P. J. Ridg and daughter, Miss Ella, of Sharon H. H. Pennsylvania, are in the city visiting Mrs. Isaac Patterson.

Mr. C. H. Foy, of Jones county, is in the city.

Shipping News.

The steamer Vesper of the E. C. P. line sailed yesterday with full cargo of general exports among which was about fifty boxes of peas. The Annie of this line will arrive today.

The steamer Stout, of the Clyde line arrived from Baltimore yesterday with full cargo of general freight.

The steamer Manteo, of the O. D. line, sailed yesterday for Norfolk, carrying a full cargo of freight, including a good shipment of green peas, and there was a large list of passengers.

To the Voters of the First Ward.

At the regular Democratic primary, held in the first ward on last Wednesday night, Mr. John C. Whitty and myself were candidates for the nomination for Councilman. Mr. Whitty received fifty-four votes and I received fifty-five votes. Some of the parties who voted for me and some who voted for Mr. Whitty were challenged, and their right to vote was decided by the chairman's decision, no appeal was taken, and no protest was entered. All who were present, both mine and Mr. Whitty's friends, acquiesced in the chairman's ruling, and the parties were allowed to vote. After the ballot was announced I was declared to be the regular Democratic nominee for Councilman from the first ward, and no protest was entered or objection made by any of Mr. Whitty's friends. This settles the question as to who is the regular Democratic nominee according to the party machinery and organization. I understand that Mr. Whitty claims that I received the votes of parties who were not qualified voters in the first ward. I desire to submit this proposition: Let him furnish a list of the men who voted for him, and a list of those who voted for me, and I will guarantee to show to the satisfaction of any fair-minded man that Mr. Whitty received more votes cast by persons not qualified to vote than I did. I also understand that Mr. Whitty's friends charge that I attempted to vote one John Williams, a colored man, in the primary meeting. I am prepared to prove to any person who desires proof that Mr. Seth Fisher, one of Mr. Whitty's staunch friends, gave Williams a Whitty ticket and sent him into the meeting to vote for Mr. Whitty.

Mr. Whitty says in his card: "I am pledged to no man, and know no slate." I am perfectly willing for every man in my ward to know for whom I expect to vote, and I state now that if I am elected I shall at all times and under all circumstances work and vote for the election of Silas Fulcher as tax collector. I have supported him in the past and shall continue to do so in the future. R. P. WILLIAMS. Feb. 25th, 1890.

Only a Farmer.

Not many days since a citizen, being asked who a certain man was, and answered, "He's a right good fellow, but he is ignorant, he is only a farmer."

There is a tendency to associate agriculture and ignorance as twin brothers. Last year a prominent writer said, "The wealth and intelligence of the country are gathering into the cities."

I would simply ask this question: When the ignorance and poverty of the land are left to support it, what will become of our beloved country?

It is, alas! too true that much ignorance prevails among the agricultural classes of our land, but there is a school now well organized, in which all who will may get instruction as to the surest and best way to drive ignorance and poverty from the farmer's door.

This school is the "Farmer's Alliance." It is doing more now to elevate the farmer to his proper place, as a factor in the great progress of the age, than all other agencies combined.

Brother farmers! the only way for us to command the respect due our noble occupation is to attend to our own business, instead of delegating others to attend to it for us, when we can do it better ourselves.

If we would accomplish more, we must think more.

We have let others do our thinking for us too long.

Next to the Gospel preacher, he who tills the soil should of all professions be most intelligent, as more depends upon him. LECTURER. April 24, 1890.

The Spring Medicine.

The popularity which Hood's Sarsaparilla has gained as a spring medicine is wonderful. It possesses just those elements of health giving, blood purifying and appetite restoring which everybody seems to need at this season. Do not continue in a dull, tired, unsatisfactory condition when you may be so much benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood and makes the weak strong.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. July

NORTH CAROLINA. Superior Court. Craven County. February Term, 1890. Washington Bryan and M. DeW. Stevenson, vs. Samuel Huggins and others.

By virtue of authority conferred upon me, as a commissioner, in a judgment of court, in the above entitled action, I will sell, on Monday, the 26th day of May, A. D. 1890, at public outcry, at the Court House door in the city of Newbern, N. C., at 12 o'clock, M., to the highest bidder, the following described lands: All those tracts of land situated in said Craven county, on the south side of Neuse River—one tract of said land containing 150 acres, more or less, bounded on the north by Neuse River, on the west by the lands of William Bailey, on the south by the lands of C. B. Wood, and on the east by the lands of Stephen B. Holland; the other tract containing 150 acres, more or less, adjoining the above tract, being the same land which was conveyed to Margianna H. Middleton by E. W. Carpenter, by deed dated April 18th, 1872, and recorded on records of said Craven county, in book 25, pages 226 and 227, to which reference is made for more full and perfect description. Terms Cash.
