TALKING about a Solid South, wait until the Force bill is passed. The limestone mountains of the Blue Ridge are like a sand hill compared to what the South will be in solidity after this measure of coercion is put upon them.—Norfolk Landmark.

THE Star says: A terrible tragedy is reported from Galveston, Texas. A beautiful young lady committed suicide by shooting herself, when her father took the pistol from the hands of his dying daughter and killed Professor Davis, formerly of Wake Forest college in this State. Nothing is known as to the cause of the tragedy.

THE Wilmington Messenger says: "Our contemporary, the Raleigh News and Observer did not suppose that the yearly earnings of any North Carolina newspaper amounted to much more than $20,000 a year." The cash receipts of the Messenger from all its sources, that is subscription, advertising and job work, have varied the past year from $2,600 to $3,350 a month, but even with these figures, and with all possible economy, the expenses of the office kept so near the earnings that it often makes matters feel uncomfortable.

A correspondent from Jones county in the Raleigh News and Observer warmly favors Clement Mauley, Esq., for Superior Court Judge.

The schedule of the steamer Cleopatra has been changed. It now leaves New Berne at 7:30 in the morning for Trenton. This line now takes passengers.

Major Battle received a telegram yesterday from Secretary Harrell stating that there would not be an excursion of teachers from Morehead City to New Berne today.

The Baseball Association is arranging to have some sport on July 4th. The "Elm City's" will play the Washington "Stars" a game of ball, after which there will be a foot race and other athletic amusements.

If you go on the fishing excursion (for men only) which takes place Monday at 2:30 o'clock from the steamer Kinston's wharf, it will cost you twenty-five cents, fishing tackle and bait furnished. The trip will no doubt afford more than a quarter's worth of fun.

Col. Owens, U. S. civil engineer, arrived in the city on Thursday night, and with Marshal Hargett inspected the macadamized road yesterday. Col. Owens recommends considerable repairing and an increase in the capacity of the drainage system. The recommendations were forwarded to Washington and the work will be commenced soon. Col. Owens went to Morehead City last night.

When the question came up in progressive Winston to issue $200,000 in bonds for city improvements what did she do? Voted for it unanimously. There was not a single dissenting voice. Her citizens are united and pulling together, consequently a mighty power is being exerted in her onward march of life and activity. We believe that one of the best things New Berne can do is to follow the example of Winston. What say you?

We have before us the first number of "The School Girl," a quarterly school journal, issued by the teachers and students of Kinsey Female Seminary, La Grange, N. C. It is a neat and attractive eight page paper, four columns to the page, containing well written and interesting articles by the students, an account of the commencement, announcements by the principal and teachers and other tastefully selected and well prepared articles. "The School Girl" will add to the advantages and facilities of that excellent school.

H. P. Kennedy, who assaulted John Dixon, Thursday, is insane. As was stated yesterday he left the city after striking Dixon with the hatchet. His friends went in search of him and found him, returning with him Thursday night. He was kept at the police station until yesterday morning when he was examined by Dr. Street and pronounced insane. His relatives agreed to take care of him until he could be placed in the asylum, and application being made a favorable answer was received last night and Kennedy will be taken to the Goldsboro insane asylum today.

Ice Getting Scarce.
There was no ice to be had in the city yesterday except for emergencies. The Jarman ice factory is out of order, and Messrs. Watson & Daniels did not have a sufficient supply on hand to meet the demand. They have been getting supplies from Goldsboro, but that factory is so taxed with orders from various points that it is unable to meet them. The crop North was short and the hot weather has created such a demand that manufacturers cannot supply it fast enough.

Death of Col. John N. Whitford.

Col. John N. Whitford died at his home in Jones county on Thursday night, aged 55 years.

Col. Whitford was a native of this county and had just attained the age of vigorous manhood at the beginning of which he was the major in command. To this companies were added and the 67th regiment of North Carolina troops formed and he appointed colonel, which position he held up to the close of hostilities. His regiment was constantly engaged in the local defence of the vast territory subject to invasions from the Federal forces at New Berne, and kept busy for the duration of the war from the date of its capture. As captain of his company he commanded Fort Thompson in the fight of the combined forces by land and water at the attack upon this city in March, 1862, and made a most gallant defence of what proved to be an untenable position. He was also at the recapture of Plymouth, resisted the Foster raid upon Kinston, and in the final struggle of the Confederates at Bentonville. In all these engagements he bore himself with gallantry and won the esteem of the troops he commanded and the admiration of those in command above him.

After the surrender Col. Whitford engaged in farming in Jones county and was elected to the State Senate from the district composed of that, Onslow and Carteret counties. In the Senate he took an important stand and was consulted by many of the democratic members from other districts.

He was spoken of as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor and had not the democracy of the East felt the great importance of carrying the election of 1876 and therefore surrendering the claims of the section to who ever could have the greater influence with the other sections, his name would have been presented to the convention with earnest zeal. But the times were too critical to risk a single vote and his friends readily assented to the section of a candidate whose larger experience in political life might render additional strength to the State ticket. In this the colonel was in hearty approval as he would in no way suffer his own preference to stand for one moment in the way of every honorable means of wrenching the State government from the hands of the party then in power which he, in common with others, deemed it of the most vital importance to the people of the State.

He was a gallant officer, a true patriot and a good citizen; and in his death there will be many to mourn the loss of one so endeared to them by the recollections of a common exposure and the sharer of common sufferings in the days that both tried and proved who were men.

Col. Whitford was twice married and leaves a widow and four children. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church South and died in the hope of a blissful immortality.

HON. F. M. SIMMONS' VIEWS.

Written by Request of the Secretary of the Farmers' Alliance of Greene County.

(From the Hookerton Clipper.)
MR. EDITOR:—The enclosed letter will doubtless prove interesting to many of your readers. It is written in answer to a letter addressed to the writer requesting a statement of his views as a candidate for Congress with regard to the economic questions which are now being agitated by the Farmer's Alliance.

Y. T. ORMOND.

NEW BERNE, N. C., June 19, 1890.
Y. T. ORMOND, Esq.,
Sec. Greene Co. Farmer's Alliance.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your esteemed favor of recent date, which was handed me upon my return from Washington. I have not, I must confess, read and studied with due care what is known as the Sub-Treasury bill recently introduced in the Senate by Senator Vance, but I believe I understand the general objects and purport of its provisions, and while I do not mean to speak with reference to its details, I can with the utmost candor and sincerity say, I am in hearty sympathy and accord with the Alliance in its laudable determination to secure for the use of the people an increase in the volume of our money and money substitutes by the free and unrestricted coinage of silver and the establishment of better systems of banking than we have, and to devise and enact into law some feasible scheme by which the farmer can by using the product of his toil as a basis of credit, secure at cheap and easy rates the money needed in his operations.

The organization of our farmers for the purpose of resisting the encroachments of capital, monopoly and corporate influence was imperatively demanded by the exigencies of the times, and will, I confidently believe, result in needed reforms and the enactment of more just and equal laws.

With all the aspirations and purposes of the alliance in this direction I am in hearty sympathy.

But let me urge you and through you the Alliance which you represent and for which you speak in your letter to me, in your just clamor against injustice do not forget the enemy who has inflicted the wrong and for years flched you of what was rightfully yours. Let me ask you, is there a single law on the statute books of which your Alliance complains, and from the enforcement and operation of which its members are now suffering, that was not placed there by the Republican party? The Internal revenue, the tariff, the National Banking act, and the demonetization of silver, are they not each and every one of them Republican measures. And if that party has now and then amended these laws, has it not always amended them against the toiler, whether in field or factory, and in the interest of money, capital and combination? That party not only enacted these laws which you so justly complain, but it has steadfastly defended them against the often frustrated and as often renewed assaults of the Democratic party, and it is today defending them against the combined demand of the farmers of this great country and in defiance and disregard of the mutterings and groans of the fifty-five millions of people upon whom it has laid these grievous burdens.

The Republican party is and has been the enemy of the farmer.

The Democratic party is his friend and only hope for the redress of his great wrongs, and I do earnestly trust that nowhere in this country will your great organization allow itself to fall into lines of antagonism to the latter and by divisions pave the way to the continued ascendancy of the former.

For myself, permit me to say my father is a farmer and so were all his ancestors before him. I was myself born and raised on a farm. Almost every dollar I own is invested in farming lands, and it would, it seems to me, be strange indeed if under those circumstances I did not feel a community of interest with that class of my fellow citizens for whom you speak in your very kind letter.

Believe me, sincerely yours,
F. M. SIMMONS.
