SINCE the Tillman and Anti-Tillman racket began in South Carolina the blacks are making a break for the registration books. WASHINGTON July 10.—Representative Henderson, of North Carolina, has received a letter from E. C. Beddingfield, Secretary of the North Carolina Farmer's State Alliance asking whether it be true that the Southern Representatives in Congress had held a private consultation about the sub-treasury bill and had agreed by a majority vote to go against the measure and to give as a reason for their action the unconstitutionality of the bill. Mr. Henderson will reply that there has been no such consultation, caucus or conference, public or private, and that no such action has been taken by any Senators or Representatives in Congress in relation to the measure and that there is no foundation for such reports.—Special to the News and Observer.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. EATON—Here we come again.

Capt. Dave Styron and family left on a trip to New York yesterday.

The hour of services at the Y. M. C. A. has been changed from 6 o'clock to 3.

Trade was pretty fair in the city yesterday. The uptown merchants seemed to be very busy.

The Y. M. C. A. will meet this afternoon at 8 o'clock. It has been thought expedient to make this change. All members are requested to note the hour.

The special train for Morehead leaves this morning at 8 o'clock. The fare for round trip will be one dollar. Ticket good to return on mail train Tuesday morning.

Mr. J. H. Baker, the young man who was arrested here on charges of forgery on Friday was sent to Goldsboro yesterday. His father, whose name he had forged, met him in Goldsboro, arranged the matter and the young man was discharged.

The county convention held Saturday was largely attended and the business was transacted with perfect harmony. After the adjournment there was a meeting of the county executive committee for the purpose of electing a new committee for the ensuing two years. Capt. Matt Manly was elected chairman. The other members will be published in our next issue.

Mr. Simmons' Speech.
The speech of Mr. Simmons at the county convention Saturday was in all respects worthy of the man and the occasion. It is our good fortune to be able to lay a part of it before our readers and from this the whole of it may be judged. Clear, logical and patriotic it received the unqualified endorsement of the convention.

A Distinguished Catholic.
Stopping at the rectory of the Catholic church for a day or two is Very Rev. Father Semmes of Sharon, Ga. Father Semmes, widely known throughout the United States for his learning, accomplishments and genial manners, is of the famous Semmes family whose history is so closely interwoven with that of the late war. Father Semmes is himself cousin to the famous Confederate Admiral who commanded the Sumter and the Alabama. Having spent a month at Morehead the Rev. gentleman about to return home, but has been induced to stay over here till Monday. He will preach at the Catholic church this morning at 11 o'clock. Service again to-night at 8:15.

GRAVEN COUNTY CONVENTION.

HELD IN NEW BERNE, SATURDAY, JULY THE 12th.

Large Attendance Present, and Much Interest Manifested.

Hon. F. M. Simmons Enthusiastically Endorsed for Congress

The County Convention of the Democratic party of Craven County met at the court house Saturday at 12 o'clock for the purpose of nominating county officers and the election of delegates to the State, Congressional and Judicial conventions.

The convention was called to order by S. R. Street and on roll call every township was found to be represented. On proceeding to business E. H. Meadows was made permanent chairman, J. W. Biddle, secretary and E. E. Harper, assistant.

The chair announced that nominations were in order. The names of Messrs. H. H. Perry, Geo. J. Dudley and Wm. Dunn were presented for the Senate. On a vote by ballot Perry received 51 and Dudley 2 votes. Mr. Perry was declared elected. Mr. Perry moved that the vote be made unanimous. Carried.

For the House Messrs. A. Cohn, G. L. Hardison, Jos. Kinsey and J. S. Long were put in nomination. All the names with the exception of Mr. Hardison were withdrawn and his nomination was made unanimous.

W. B. Lane was unanimously nominated for Sheriff.

Messrs. W. M. Watson and W. G. Brinson were put in nomination for Clerk of the Court. A vote by ballot resulted: Watson 49, Brinson 8. Mr. Watson was declared the nominee.

J. W. Biddle received the unanimous vote of the convention for Register of Deeds.

For Treasurer, Mr. Thos. Daniels was unanimously nominated.

For Coroner Dr. Frank W. Hughes was the unanimous choice of the meeting.

Messrs. H. A. Marshall, Henry Brown and R. A. Russell were put in nomination for Surveyor. Voting by ballot the result was: Marshall 39; Brown 8, Russell 10. Mr. Marshall was declared the nominee. Made unanimous.

A resolution was here introduced by Mr. M. D. W. Stevenson, that this convention endorse the State and National Democratic platforms. Carried.

The next in order was the nomination for Congress in the second district. The name of Simmons immediately went up with loud applause. A request that Mr. Simmons give his views on some of the principle public questions was responded to in his usual plain, practical and forcible style. At the conclusion of his speech he made the following announcement of his position:

"If the class prejudices which have been recently aroused in this district continue, it is probable no man of my profession can be nominated. The district is a very doubtful one and under the most favorable circumstances it will be difficult for the Democrats to carry it, and they cannot carry it unless the hearts of the people are with the candidate and every democratic shoulder is to the wheel.

Unity of action is not in itself sufficient; there must be zeal and enthusiasm for success. In the two contests heretofore made by me in this district the vote received by me was due to the harmonious, undivided and enthusiastic support I received from the party all along the line. Nothing less will win victory now.

Certainly not. The laws which produced them were enacted by the Republican party, through the influence and for the benefit of a class of people, who live chiefly in the North and New England, and these laws will continue until the agricultural South and West, forgetting the sectional lines which have divided them, come together and blot out the wrong.

If farmers have wrongs, and indeed they have many, let them visit the punishment upon those who have inflicted the injury and not upon a part of our people who had no hand in their making and who would gladly undo them.

For these reasons, my friends, I want it understood that I am neither a farmer's, a lawyer's, a mechanic's, a doctor's nor a merchant's candidate; but a democratic candidate. If nominated I shall appeal for support to the whole citizenship of the district, irrespective of the occupations they follow or their past political affiliations; and if elected I will in matters of legislation treat every interest in it with impartial fairness.

If I am to be the democratic candidate for Congress in this district, it must be with the distinct understanding, that my hands are not to be raised in discrimination against any legitimate interest in it. You may nominate a candidate upon other lines than these but you cannot elect him.

Here, in North Carolina, the host of democracy are all aboard the same boat, upon a dangerous sea; we must all row together or go down in one common wreck. Distant, far distant be the day, when the democratic household of North Carolina and the South divided into warring factions shall rend themselves to pieces, while the iron grip of despotism from without shall tighten faster and faster around their necks.

To the farmers of Craven county I appeal, in the name of that measure of prosperity we now enjoy in North Carolina: in the name of that happy peace and tranquillity, that good order and feeling now existing among all classes of our people; in the name of the bright promises of our future, do not, by discord and divisions, strike down the party to which, before God, I believe we owe it all.

The convention then by acclamation endorsed Mr. Simmons for Congress. The following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we earnestly endorse Hon. F. M. Simmons for the Democratic nomination for Congress from this district. We have full faith in him, and judging his future by his past actions, believe him to be in every way worthy and deserving the confidence of every Democrat; and instruct our delegates to the congressional convention to vote for him in the Wilson convention.

Previous to the address of Mr. Simmons the following resolutions were read and adopted:

Resolved 1, That the great depression in agriculture, and scarcity of money among the people of this section is due mainly to unjust federal legislation; that by means of a high protective tariff, the Northern manufacturers and monopolists have been enabled to form trusts and combines that are ruinous and oppressive to the people; that class legislation has taken millions from our pockets, and circulated a vast surplus in the treasury which always invites dishonesty and corruption in the public service.

2, That we demand that this oppressive policy of the government shall cease, and that agriculture, in which is employed a large majority of our people and which furnishes three-fourths of the exports of the country, shall receive fair and just consideration from the government.

3, That the federal election bill that has recently passed the House of Representatives meets with our unqualified condemnation. It is an outrage upon this section of our country, an encroachment upon the rights of the people, and calculated, in our opinion, intended to stir up strife, disturb the peace, and retard the prosperity of the Southern States.

4, That it is in the sense of this convention that the interest of the great masses of the people of this country require the free and unlimited coinage of silver under same rules and restrictions as is accorded to gold.

To the Democrats of Craven County: Whereas, It behooves the Democratic party in Craven county to strongly unite against the Republican strength; and it appearing that the official bonds of Republican officeholders are almost entirely composed of Democratic surties, be it

Resolved, That this convention do earnestly urge upon and appeal to the Democrats of Craven county in the interest of their party to decline and refuse to sign any bond for Republican officeholders in Craven county.

To be presented at the judicial convention the names of Messrs. Clement Manly and E. R. Bryan were placed before the convention as a choice for the Judgeship. The vote stood, Manly 35; Bryan 24. Mr. Manly was declared the choice, which was afterwards made unanimous. The delegates were appointed with this choice in view, but unpledged.

A resolution was offered that it be left with the chair to appoint delegates to the different conventions. Adopted. Meeting adjourned.

Reply to "Citizen."
EDITOR JOURNAL:—I was exceedingly surprised to see that "Citizen" was attempting in your issue of today to pose again as a real living lawyer. I know, Mr. Editor, that he is not a real lawyer, because the conclusion reached after reading his first article has been rendered an absolute verity by his second one. As to his being a living lawyer, I think "Citizen" might with considerable profit meditate upon the lamentable condition of the Irishman's turtle, which I will relate. On one occasion Pat was passing a place where turtles were being killed and cleaned for the market. Just as he reached the spot the head of a large sea turtle was severed from the body and thrown upon the ground. The eyes began to roll about and the mouth to snap with the same vigor as when the turtle was in the best of health. Pat, after viewing for some time this remarkable conduct upon the part of the head, gave expression to his thoughts in the following expressive language: "Faith and he jabs her dead sure, but he hasn't found it out yet." This exceedingly disfigured corpse of a pretended lawyer uses the following language in reference to the construction of the contract between the city and the Electric Company: "On this contract all the merits of the case hinge and verbal understandings are as naught." This is a very wise, and strange to say a very correct statement of a legal proposition, but unfortunately it has no application to the facts in this case, and furnishes us with additional evidence of "Citizen's" wonderful lack of the power of discrimination. I am informed that this is the law in reference to the construction of contracts: "That if a name or term having a well-established technical, scientific or trade meaning, is used in contract, the name or term used is to be construed according to its known use in trade unless the name or term has been manifestly understood in another sense by the parties."

Now if this is the law (and my informant does not claim to be infallible) "Citizen" has admitted himself out of court, as the lawyers say, in his article of today, instead of accomplishing a similar feat by argument, as he did on Wednesday. Here are the admissions which "Citizen" tacitly makes: "First, that the term twelve hundred candle power is a well understood trade term. Second, that it does not mean actual candle power. Third, that instead of having been understood in another sense, the parties expressly contracted with reference to its known trade meaning."

And now in conclusion, Mr. Editor, permit me to repeat what I have stated before that the Electric Company knows that it has complied with its contract, and if the city authorities will not recognize this fact except at the end of the century, when the amount of this indebtedness is sufficiently large to justify the step, institute an action for its recovery. The company will certainly regret to be compelled to pursue this course and add the cost of the suit to the burden of the city, but it has no misgivings as to the result of any litigation in reference to the matter.

To Keep Ice From Melting.
A housekeeper gives a few hints that may be valuable to those who find it an object to economize in the use of ice. There are three or four things, she says, that will help to keep the precious nugget of ice from melting away if the housekeeper will only remember them. One is to keep ice warm in the way to keep it cold. A piece of ice in a pitcher with a pall over the pitcher and a rug over the pall will keep all night. But the greatest trick of all is newspapers. With plenty of newspapers above, below and on every side, the way a piece of ice will keep is a joke. All that is necessary is to wrap it closely in newspaper so as to exclude the air.—Wilmington Star.

Wonderful Discovery!

The German Anti-Rheumatic Ring!
A speedy and permanent cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Gout, and all other diseases where a general warming, quickening strengthening and equalization of the circulation is required.
It will last for years, gives no shock, and but a mild, soothing sensation on wearing it. No waiting long time for results. It acts quickly; generally the first week, more frequently the first day, and sometimes even in the first hour its curative powers are felt.
It is inexpensive, harmless in operation, while simple in application, not interfering with the patient's ordinary avocations. Though marvelous in the results it has achieved, its seeming simplicity has the effect of causing many to doubt its virtues. For further information and price call on
