"The Congressional scoop shovel continues to clean out the Treasury."

The taxpayer has no rights which a Republican Congress feels bound to respect.

It is estimated that the tariff debate in the Senate will last about five weeks.

The correspondence between Great Britain and the United States relative to the Behring sea fisheries has been transmitted to Congress. It is very long and contains a full history of the case.

The New Orleans Chamber of Commerce suggests that a convention of Southern business men be held to consider what is best for the South to do if the Force bill now before Congress should become a law.

The Indian Appropriation bill was before the Senate Tuesday. An amendment inserting an item of $10,000 for the protection of the Cherokee Indians in North Carolina was considered but no conclusion reached.

"Not for twenty years has the public mind been so much disturbed, and never was a land in the midst of peace and prosperity so forcibly menaced as ours is by the course in Congress of the majority party."

The Washington correspondent of the Richmond Times says: "There is a growing impression that the election bill will be abandoned by the Senate. Each succeeding day develops more determined opposition to the measure."

The Farmers Alliance Rally, at Greensboro, Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday was a grand success, not less than five thousand being present. A letter to the Dispatch says: "The Alliance men are almost unanimously Democratic and for Vance."

UPPER up men of the South. Stand united. Do not allow passion or prejudice or ambition or anything else to break you up into factions. Work and vote together, and resist oppression at every possible turn and in every possible way.—Wilmington Messenger.

ON Tuesday W. E. Schenk, of Greensboro, and Charles McNeil, of Chatham, met at Fayetteville and a personal difficulty ensued. Pistols were drawn, but shooting was prevented by the timely arrest of the parties. McNeil charged Schenk with having alienated his wife's affections.

At the rate of decrease of population in Maine, Vermont, and Connecticut, the Representatives from those States may not have many constituents ten or twenty years from now, but they will have numerous deserted villages and deserted farms to stand up for.—Wilmington Star.

The New York World says: "The Federal Government, on the showing of the Secretary of the Treasury is already bankrupt, without counting the River and Harbor bill which is prospective, or the enormously increased liabilities for pensions. In addition there is the sinking fund to be accounted for."

We like to read of Northern invasions of the South of the friendly, affectionate manly kind. The coming of enemies to spy out the nakedness of the land is not desirable or welcome.—The rush of "smart Alecks" who fly through the South and write budgets of lies about our people for Northern newspapers anxious to malign or to misrepresent are not to be sought after or encouraged. The coming of political tourists and vermin to colonize negroes, to swell the vote at the polls, to bulldoze white men in casting their suffrage are desiderata to a free people. But the coming of capitalists to invest their money, and to help build up the State is a thing to be welcomed with earnestness. Such an invasion has recently occurred at Asheville when Northern men organized the Western North Carolina Mining Company.—Wilmington Messenger.

LOCAL NEWS.

Good rains in this section yesterday. Politics among the Republicans in the city is hot.

Messrs. John Cooper, Rudolph Ulrich and James B. Clark are having a neat boat house built, near Cooper's mill, for their handsome row boats.

There is loud complaint in many of the towns of the State on account of the very imperfect census work. We have heard no complaint in New Berne.

The M. E. Sunday School conference of Craven circuit was held at Asbury yesterday. There was a large attendance but the rain interfered very much with the exercises.

The Republicans of the first ward have elected the following delegates to the county convention: M. Hahn, Moses Moore, Major Chapman. The same compose the ward committee.

The Wilson Advance says: "The Advance believes the nomination of Hon. F. M. Simmons as the Democratic candidate for Congress in this district this year means his election. We believe the nomination of any other man means defeat."

Poor Bill—he is dead. In the prime of life disease fastened its hold upon him. He suffered long and uncomplainingly, and though affectionate hands did nothing undone that it was thought would tend to restore him to health or alleviate the pain, he gradually yielded to the inevitable. (We are writing about Rom Nunn's goat.) Bill was an excellent goat—of genial disposition, very intelligent and—never did butt anybody. Poor Bill.

Personal.

Messrs. James Howard and John C. Green made a business trip to Goldsboro yesterday.

Rev. R. A. Willis left yesterday for Asbury, this county, to attend the Sunday School Conference of Craven circuit. He returned last night.

Miss Maggie Watkins, of Durham, passed through the city yesterday on route from Morehead to her home.

Prof. Skinner, of Vance Academy, is off to Pamlico county, in the interest of his school.

Mrs. Fred Hunter and children returned last night from visiting friends in Greene county.

Dr. Edward Thomas, of New York, is in the city, visiting his brother, Hon. C. R. Thomas.

Mr. C. H. Foy, of Jones county, is in the city.

Mrs. Dr. G. K. Bagby and children arrived in the city last night.

Mrs. J. L. Stewart, of Clinton, arrived last night on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Battle.

Among the passengers on the steamer Manteo, outward trip yesterday were Messrs. J. F. Taylor and W. R. Guion, of this city and Capt. J. M. White, of Kinston.—Mr. Taylor and Capt. White for Northern cities and Mr. Guion for New York.

Mrs. C. Erdman has returned from a visit to Baltimore.

Big Day For Trout.

Mr. Tobe Hooker did the best work with hook and line yesterday that has been recorded in fishing circles lately. He caught a hundred fine trout, at Otter creek, eight miles down Neuse river, in about one hour. He started out to catch crabs, but accidentally struck a school of trout. He worked hard on them for an hour or more, not even stopping for the rats.

THE PRESS CONVENTION.

Adjourned Yesterday—Officers Elected—Complimentary Concert—Off to Morehead City Today.

(Special to the JOURNAL.)

DURHAM, N. C., July 25.—The Press Association concluded their work today. J. P. Caldwell, of Statesville, was elected President for the ensuing year, and J. B. Sherrill, of Concord, Sec'y.

Last night's grand concert was given at Stokes Hall, complimentary to the editors. It was under the management of Miss Lessie Southgate and reflected great credit upon this talented and charming young daughter of Durham.

A portion of to-day was spent in visiting some of the most important manufacturing establishments in the city.

To-morrow the Association will participate in the exercises of laying the corner stone of the co-operative cotton factory and of the American Tobacco Co.'s prize house, after which they will leave for Morehead to be guests at the Atlantic hotel a few days. H.

A "Water Bicycle."

Messrs. Charles Hall and Hughes Holland have invented what they call a "water bicycle." If you want to go rowing, why you don't need any oars at all—you just sit on a seat something like the saddle of a bicycle and propel the boat with your feet—that is, you put your feet on the peddles and turn the wheel, just as you would a land bicycle. It is a great invention, so the boys say. What is most remarkable about it is the fact that Mr. Hall got the idea from a dream he had a few nights ago. He dreamed that he had invented such a machine and that he had a race with the steamer Manteo—that is he raced a little while, but soon got so far ahead that the contest ceased to be interesting. He won $2,000 on the race, which was to be paid on arriving at the wharf. But (horror!) he woke up, just as Capt. Southgate was about to hand him the money.

The boat did not make quite the speed on yesterday that it did in the race with the Manteo, but of course it has not been perfected yet. A patent has been applied for.

The Man About Town.

We fell in yesterday with a group of politicians who were discussing the election law now before Congress. All present, and all absent, so far as heard from, were opposed to it. Then the sub-treasury bill was taken up, but the previous question was called and discussion out off by the arrival of a delegate to the Weldon convention, who proceeded to give an account of his stewardship. The nominations of the convention were approved in general terms and the selections pronounced very good.

Another assembly later in the day was somewhat diharmonized by a "kicker" who had his ears lopped and looked as if he would let fly with both feet if the election were to come off now; but upon an argument being heard, it is thought that he will submit and vote straight the tickets now in the field and all that may yet come, as the output of regular Democratic combinations. Nothing like being a Democrat just now—except possibly being an Alliance Democrat.

The Alliance men are all right, and no fears of their upsetting the old Democratic ship this fall need be entertained. They will only ballast her a little more carefully and put her in the better sailing trim. It was thought the old craft was getting a little lop-sided on account of the unequal storage of the big I's and little U's, but an equilibrium will be obtained by the introduction of more of the W's among the cargo.

The crop prospects are favorably reported by all who were seen from the rural districts, and no season yet has exceeded this in the matter of fine watermelons and cantaloupes. This is a great blessing to the male population, whose better halves are away from home, and who with remarkable self denial are economizing at their tables in order that their loved ones may enjoy the comforts and pleasures of the favorable summer resorts.

One citizen was encountered who had a good deal of blood in his eye for the English sparrows. He was for war to the knife on them. No killing in detail or by retail would answer, but a wholesale slaughter was his murderous purpose. If the sparrows know when their bread is buttered they will exult soon. I thought of George Wilson's remedy for rats, but as his wife and little boy were away, I concluded not to tell him of it. I saw and heard right smart more about town but at present will withhold.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has a steadily increasing popularity which can only be won by an article of real merit. Give it a trial.

Church Notice.

Hancock street Methodist church, Sunday, July 27th, preaching at 11 a. m. by the pastor, and at 8:15 by Rev. J. V. Williams. Prayer meeting at 9:15 a. m. Sunday school at 4 p. m. W. R. Barrington, Supt. The public are invited to these services and will receive a cordial welcome.

The Judicial Convention.

Speaking of the convention in Weldon on Wednesday, the Weldon News says:

"The convention was well attended by delegates from all the counties, who were a manly and brainy set of men. They were representative men of Eastern North Carolina. It is not often that Weldon has the pleasure of entertaining such an assemblage of men.

There was considerable caucusing during the morning but it resulted in nothing, as the ballots show.

Everyone seems satisfied with the action of the convention, and while there may be a little disappointment among the friends of the defeated candidates the district will be solid for Bryan. He is an able and upright lawyer, a Christian gentleman and a good man."

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Cor. Richmond Dispatch: A Republican convention in Windsor, which was managed entirely by negroes, broke up in a row, with broken skulls, scarred faces, and bruised noses.—A gentleman named B. F. King caught a pickerel near Windsor that weighed twenty-three pounds. It was said to be the largest fish of the kind ever caught in those waters.

Charlotte Chronicle: It would not take an enquiring citizen a half hour to strike up with many persons whose names were not taken in the recent census of Charlotte. One gentleman who had 99 men on his payroll, found recently that 13 of that number had not been recorded by the census enumerator. Another gentleman discovered that four out of ten clerks in one store, had not been enumerated. These are only two instances; others are known.

Weldon News: For fifty years every sheriff of Rowan county has died in office.—The Hon. W. H. Kitchen published in last week's issue of the Scotland Democrat a card announcing his withdrawal from the contest for the nomination for Congress. It would give us pleasure to print the card in full because of its true Democratic ring and because it contains advice which it would be wise for every Democrat to heed.

Winston Daily: Edward McCullough, of Charlotte, the blacksmith who went crazy over Sam Jones's preaching, has gone to Morganton asylum.—News reaches here that a white man by the name of Samuel Potter was assassinated near Snow Hill, N. C., a few nights ago. The assassin was unknown. Potter left his home at night in order to stop a fight which was going on at a respectable resort near by and was shot during the scuffle.

Raleigh Chronicle: The teachers of Western North Carolina have organized a Western North Carolina Teachers' Chatsauqua with the following officers: Dr. R. H. Lewis, president of Judson College, Hendersonville, president; Messrs. H. L. King, of Buncombe, R. A. Sentell, county superintendent of Haywood county, and Prof. J. U. Gibbs, county superintendent of Swain county, vice-presidents; and Prof. R. L. Madison, principal of Cullioee High School, Jackson county, secretary and treasurer. President Crowell and Major E. G. Harrell were present and made addresses.

Durham Sun: A white buzzard we never saw before, but yesterday morning one was seen flying with a flock of black ones over the western part of the city. The colored people in that vicinity claim it as a bad sign, and say something bad is was going to happen. Whether the black buzzards thought it was an enemy, or else they didn't believe in social equality, we are unable to say, but they would keep darting at it as if intent to kill or drive it away. The last seen of it it was making a straight shoot in the direction of South Carolina, where we suppose it migrated from.

Beaufort Seaside: The census population of Beaufort is 2,000, a loss of 9 per cent.—The North Carolina Teachers' Assembly has grown to be an organization of voluminous proportions. At the recent meeting at Morehead, one thousand teachers were in attendance one day, and nineteen hundred were registered during the season.—Mr. Gibbs, of Gibbs Preserving Company, Baltimore, was here this week prospecting with a view of establishing an oyster cannery in this county. He was much pleased with our town as a place to build, and the prospects of getting large quantities of the oysters which he proposes to utilize. Plenty of labor can be had here, and the oysters are not far away. The citizens of this county who make it a business to catch and freight oysters to New Berne during the winter would much rather bring them to Beaufort.

Chained to a Negro.

DANVILLE, VA., 23.—Several days ago a gang of convicts passed through this city, and among the number was a white man who was chained to a negro. The man was sent to the penitentiary from North Danville for having out his antagonist in a fight, and is well known here, where he has relatives. The matter has been much discussed and the people are very indignant that the white man should have been subjected to such humiliation, especially when among his own people. Gov. McKimney has been written to on the subject and requested to see to it that the indignity is not repeated.

Growth of Southern Cities.

One of the most encouraging, as it is one of the most surprising results of the census returns is the growth of Southern cities.

We are prepared for surprises from the West. That is a new and rapidly growing section. Immigration from abroad and from other parts of the country has contributed steadily and liberally to the swelling of its population.

But in the South we have not looked for any exceptional or striking advances in urban population. Such, however, are now disclosed by the returns—increases which far surpass those of many flourishing Northern and even Western towns.

St. Louis, whose population increased from three hundred and ten thousand in 1870 to three hundred and thirty thousand in 1880, now shows more than four hundred and forty-eight thousand, an increase of twenty-eight per cent. Louisville has grown from a hundred and twenty-three to a hundred and eighty thousand; Memphis from thirty-three to seventy-five thousand; Nashville from forty-three to seventy-two; Atlanta from thirty-seven to sixty-five; Savannah from thirty to forty-three; Dallas from ten to thirty-nine; Galveston from twenty-two to thirty-five.

In the census of 1880 Chattanooga is credited with a population of less than 13,000; it now has, with suburbs, 45,000. Birmingham, Ala., then had 3,000; it now has 27,000, or, including suburbs, 55,000. Fort Worth, Texas, has risen from 6,000 to 31,000, an increase of 385 per cent.

Such evidences of Southern progress are matters for national congratulation. We trust that the full census returns will show a degree of industrial and commercial prosperity in the South that will surprise the country.—New York Herald.

The Colored Fair.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Special premiums will be given by Eastern N. C. I. S. & Fruit Fair as follows:

To the best base ball club, $40; second best, $30; third best, $20.

There will also be given out special premiums on various games. The managers will have premium list out by the first of August. They are doing all they can to make this the greatest colored fair held in the State. They are constantly receiving encouraging letters from all parts of the State.

Having secured very low rates over the different roads, everything looks promising for a large attendance.

We hope the citizens of New Berne and especially our merchants will do all they can to aid them. We hope New Berne will not be behind.

W. W. LAWRENCE, Sec'y.
