A FINE line of SMALL HAMS, 5 to 7 pounds at JOHN DUNN'S.

SENATOR VANCE has made another able speech on the tariff.

GOVERNOR HILL advocates taking the census by state authority.

CONGRESS can't change the constitution, but a Republican caucus can. Next!

A SAN Antonio, Tex., dispatch says small pox is epidemic along the Mexican side of the border.

THE Republicans of Chattanooga oppose the force bill and the Democrats ridicule the boycott idea.

THE Wilmington Star says: "The proposed boycott is unwise and impracticable. It is bad politics."

GOVERNOR FLEMING, of Florida, declines to be a candidate for election to the United States Senate.

DUN & CO'S weekly report shows more money in circulation, prices higher and the tone of business generally more satisfactory.

ALL admirers of pluck, genius and patriotism will be gratified to learn of the renomination of Congressman Crisp, of Georgia.

MAKE Republican leaders realize that their poisoned darts are boomerangs and they will be more careful how they throw them.

THE American firm of Russell & Co. will take part in the foundation of a Chinese bank in Shanghai, which is to have a capital of $50,000,000.

SUPERVISORS are to "watch" naturalization, but who is to watch supervisors? Except for purposes of fraud, such a bill could never have originated.

THE suggestion of the nomination of ex-Secretary Vilas to be Governor of Wisconsin, indicates a vigorous and successful canvass on the part of the Democracy of that state.

If the Democratic Administration managed to save $100,000,000 a year and the Republicans manage to spend all the income of the Government and $100,000,000 more, which is the best administration for the people—Manchester Union.

NEW YORK Republicans are debating whom they will select as the successor of Mr. Evans. They are reminded of the Frenchman's receipt for cooking a hare. "First catch your hare." Secure the Assembly, then talk about who you will elect.

BETWEEN being obliged to laud Secretary Blaine as a godlike diplomat in the Behring sea controversy and to denounce Mr. Blaine as a political heretic and apostate when discussing the McKinley bill the position of Administration organs is quite distressing.

THE New Orleans Playmate in speaking of the despicable Bayonet measure says: "It is the daring project of the Republican President, who is exerting all his influence to have it enacted into a law. All the mean and despicable men of the Republican party are in favor of it. Statesmen like Blaine oppose it, but statesmen are now at discount in Federal politics. The conspirators are sanguine of success."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LUDDEN & BATES—The New South. JOSEPH KINSLEY—Kinsley Seminary. G. T. ADAMS—New Berne Collegiate Institute.

Several days ago Cora Daniels and Georgia Ann Rowe attempted to burn the house occupied by Mr. M. T. Roberts, but the fire was discovered before any considerable damage was done. On yesterday they were brought before the Mayor who bound them over to the Superior Court in the sum of one hundred dollars. In default of bail they were sent to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Termination of the Catholic Mission.

We understand that the mission conducted by Father Julius has been quite a success. A number of conversions are reported. At the High Mass a large assembly of all denominations were present and expressed themselves as highly gratified. At the night service, long before the hour of beginning, the church was crowded to hear the sermon on "Hell." It is said to have been the largest crowd assembled in the Catholic church for many years. The sermon was a powerful one, vividly painting the terrible suffering of the damned, and enforcing, as a consequence, the necessity of reforming morals and serving God. It was perhaps the best of all the sermons of the mission and formed a fitting conclusion to a series of many able ones. The audience showed the utmost attention and the highest appreciation. Rev. Father Julius left for Morehead last night and after spending one or two days at our great resort, will then go to Atlanta, Ga.

Personal.

Judge Boykin was among the passengers from Morehead yesterday morning.

Mr. T. J. Turner left yesterday on a business trip North. Mrs. Turner accompanied him as far as Kingston, where she will visit relatives.

Mr. W. S. Wooten, now of Wilmington, is in the city visiting friends.

Mrs. Geo. W. Neal has returned from Henderson.

Col. A. B. Andrews, of Raleigh, passed down to Morehead last night in his private car. A party of friends accompanied him.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Manly are spending some time in the western part of the State.

Johnnie "Q" is Solid.

Yes, Mr. Argus, you can show your heavily freighted trains rolling through your city and your manufacturing industries, water works, etc., but you can't get away with New Berne when Johnnie "Q" is on the ground. No, sir, he will allow no place to put New Berne in the back ground when such monster steamers as the Defiance of the Clyde line, Manteo, of the Old Dominion and the Eaglet of the Eastern Dispatch line handle our commerce. You must bring in another horse. Here is the encounter between the Argus man and said Johnnie "Q":

"The genial and thoroughly good humored John C. Green, of New Berne, than whom there is not a better fireman in the State, read in a Goldboro paper that the knitting mill was ready to begin operations, and so this morning dropped in to see how the thing worked, intending to start one of his own in New Berne. Well, John found the building just receiving its plastering and, instead of standing around watching the delicate thread go round and round the knitting machine, he had to amuse himself elsewhere. He gave our pleasant streets and nice houses a very fair canvass and finally 'pulled up' at the depot, where he fell into the clutches of an Argus man. Parties who were around thought it was a slight good for sore eyes to see 'John C.' and the quill-driver engaged in a dissertation upon those large locomotives which are accustomed to roll by on the A. O. L. It was New Berne vs. Goldboro and was 'nip and tuck' between them, till finally they made it 'even Stephen.'

John was inclined to think that the immense steamers which run to his home could surpass in carrying power and engineering anything we could show, and was just entering into an elaborate statement defending his position, when a heavily laden fruit train, a regular ground shaker, came rumbling along. John's experience was something like the deacon's—'First a tremor and then a thrill.' He quickly stepped back to 'give the thing more room,' but as he saw car after car loaded with inviting melons pass him he subsided into his wonted self—he had seen something he was acquainted with. And then, well, that's enough. Come again, Johnnie, and don't be selfish next time; bring some of those genial New Berne fellows with you, and drop in to see us. Our latch string is always on the outside."

DURHAM—A TYPICAL CITY.

WHAT SHE WAS TWENTY YEARS AGO—WHAT SHE IS TO-DAY.—HER CITIZENS AND NOT RESOURCES THE CAUSE OF THE CHANGE.

It was our pleasure to spend three days in Durham during the recent State Press Convention and were our pen not too feeble we should endeavor to give something like a worthy presentation of this wonderful and progressive city.

We will speak very briefly, but sufficiently to prove that Durham means business. It is rapidly going forward and her citizens are determined that it shall continue.

As the first evidence we present the increase of inhabitants: Population in 1870, 256; in 1880, 2,100; in 1890, 8,000. The assessed valuation of property is upwards of $3,000,000.

The amount of capital invested in 1870 was $25,000. In 1890 it is $4,000,000.

In 1870 there were only 50 operatives employed. Today there is nearly 3,000.

During the year 1890 for advertising alone there has been spent $1,000,000.

Total receipts for leaf tobacco for year 1889, 15,960,000 pounds. Cigarettes manufactured for the same period, $30,000,000.

Amount of revenue paid out for year just closed, $663,902.

Articles of manufacture consist of cigarettes, (largest in the world,) smoking tobacco, snuff, (only factory of the kind in the State,) chewing tobacco, cigars, cloth bags, cotton goods, bobbin and shuttle factory, (only one in the South,) fertilizers, furniture, sash, doors and blinds, wagons, harness, saddles and numerous other smaller articles.

As to the big institutions of Carr and Duke, to appreciate their immensity you must go through them. In the former factory 1,000 hands are at work, which, together with the busy hum of machinery, produces a lively scene.

Cigarettes from Duke's factory are sold over the entire world and these plucky Durhamites do not mind telling you that the city of Durham is much better known than our State. Their smoking tobacco and cigarette factories are the largest in the world.

There are three banks aggregating over $300,000 capital stock.

The fourth railroad tapping Durham has just reached the city.

Durham has two daily papers and one weekly, electric lights, water works, paved streets, and more than all, live business men. Within the corporate limits we were informed that there were six millionaires and that the bulk of this money was made there.

The question now naturally arises, how has this state of affairs been brought about? Is it the backing of a rich and fertile country, or is it that Providence has seen fit to especially bless this locality? It is neither, but simply because there is living in the city of Durham a people, one and all, who have energy, who have pluck, who have determination and who are working in unanimity for the upbuilding of Durham. With such a people coming together with one accord there is little they cannot accomplish. Did you ever hear a Durham man speak ill of Durham? Did you ever hear an inhabitant of Durham speak on any other terms than complimentary about his home? If so, and you have any interest in the welfare of such an one, do not report him, because all would not be well should his fellow-citizens hear of it.

Again, in the city of Durham the people are at work. The men of capital have discovered that it is better to put their money in manufacturing industries and employ the people than to invest in bonds and draw interest. They are willing to take some risk and keep money in circulation. In keeping the wheels of industry going they realize that it not only benefits the public but themselves individually.

An industrious, aggressive and determined people cannot be kept down.

Hood's Sarsaparilla has a steadily increasing popularity which can only be won by an article of real merit. Give it a trial.

Late News Notes.

The threatened revolution in Beauce Ayres has broken out, and desperate fighting in the streets is now going on. Many have been killed on both sides. The President has made his escape, and the revolutionary government is announced with Senor Arem as President.

A shooting affray occurred in Asheville Friday night between a barkeeper named John Milster, and a butcher, Philip McIntyre, which resulted in both of them being killed. The former was riddled with bullets, an investigation disclosing eight holes. A woman is supposed to have been the cause of the difficulty.

Another deadly cyclone is reported, this time in the eastern section of our country. The town of South Lawrence, Mass., was struck Saturday morning, about 10 o'clock, devastating a section twenty rods wide. Ninety wooden dwellings were destroyed, six lives were lost, and thirty-five persons injured. The loss of property is estimated at $110,000.

The Democrats of Kansas City, Mo., which claims to be a cosmopolitan city, held a meeting yesterday and adopted resolutions against the passage of the Federal Election bill.

James A. Bryan for Congress.

MR. EDITOR.—I regretted very much to see in yesterday's JOURNAL a card from Mr. Simmons stating that he would not allow his name to be run as a candidate for the next Congress.

I don't think that there has ever been a North Carolina representative in Congress who has served his people more faithfully nor made a better Congressman, in every particular, than Mr. Simmons. I say that I am sorry that he refuses to be a candidate but Mr. Bryan will fill the position equally as well as Mr. Simmons. He is a gentleman of considerable note of influence in this Congressional district, the largest farmer in this section, and a man of means, all of which are very essential in order to secure the election.

Mr. Bryan has, as we all know, been a member of the Board of County Commissioners of this county for about 15 years and chairman of the same board for the same number of years, and in that capacity has served his people well and will do even more if elected to Congress.

Let Craven county's delegation go up in full force for James A. Bryan.

The Agriculturist.

SWANBORO, N. C., July 22, 1890. EDITOR JOURNAL.—A ride through the country at this writing is a delight to all who have eyes, and especially to old farmers who have witnessed of late years so many blight disasters and disappointments to that noble class of our population, with scarcely an exception, every patch and field in cultivation, is clothed in dark green material, of good quality, and the outlook for plentiful harvests reminds us that the earth has not refused to yield supplies.

We visited and inspected with much interest and pleasure the two large plantations of our indomitable and energetic countyman, G. W. Smith, who knows how to execute what he undertakes in the best style. He has a large acreage in cotton, and with a favorable August, will run close on to a bale per acre. His corn, peanuts, watermelons, and other side crops, with his prospect for most supplies in the way of beef and pork, clearly index the character and capacity of the man. His close attention to and skillful management of each department of operations, show what brains and industry can accomplish. We left the hospitable proprietor with the impression that he deserved success, while it is true that farmers are at a disadvantage on account of having the short end of the stick at present. Let us put forth a little more strength and endurance and stand until we can reverse things politically, for the time is coming and near at hand when their oppressors may have to call upon the rocks and mountains to hide them.

The agriculturist while largely outnumbering all other professions combined, have been the pack horse and their burdens have been borne submissively, but they have become very grievous now. They want relief; they want peace, and unified they are strong. The war party took charge of them in 1860, and had a bloody riot and a big carnival at the farmers expense. We want them to step down and out and we expect to send them an invitation next November. PARAGORIC.

North Carolina Minerals.

Our Salisbury correspondent gives an interesting bit of information about the successful test of a piece of North Carolina granite in the North recently.

The mines and quarries of North Carolina stand the test everywhere. In the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company's exhibit at the Richmond Exposition in 1888, North Carolina was perhaps the most conspicuous of all the States. Granite of the finest quality, marble of the most beautiful colors, and gems and minerals of the rarest variety were there in great numbers.

The wealth of the State in its minerals is boundless. Enterprise and capital are all that are needed to convince the world that, (as Mr. Edison says), St. Peter tipped over his laboratory in Western North Carolina.—Charlotte Chronicle.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Chatham Record: There is an old man named Archie Andrews, living near the dividing line between Chatham and Orange counties, who will be 103 years old next February. He married when only 17 years old and he and his wife lived together for 80 years, she having died three or four years ago. He has a son now living who is 83 years old, and another who is 81 years old.

Wilmington Star: Receipts of cotton at this port for the crop year to July 25th, 133,811 bales; to same date last year, 152,015 bales. Decrease, 19,304 bales.

Winston Daily: Register of Deeds Stanton commenced figuring up today the tax list for Forsyth county. According to the returns he says that the taxable property will amount to $7,000,000, which is nearly one-half million in excess of last year.

Charlotte Chronicle: R. G. Kendrick, who lives twelve miles South of Charlotte, owns a pig which has two tails, one the regular size of a pig tail, and the other a little smaller.

Raleigh Visitor: The art gallery of the State Library presents great attraction. No stranger visiting Raleigh should leave without seeing it. Librarian Birdsong will take great pleasure in giving a cordial welcome to all who call on him.

Six bottles of canned huckleberries that were lost over 50 years ago were recently found by workmen who were digging in an oil cellar at Washington. Much of the fruit was well preserved.—Exchange.

The New South Again.

We hear on every hand that the New South is making wondrous strides commercially. Do you wish evidence of the fact? Then look at the ad. of Ludden & Bates, Southern Music House of Savannah, Ga.

Another great summer offer. A clearance sale that offers immense advantages to those who think and act quickly. No house has a more solid reputation for selling only the best Pianos and Organs at the fairest prices. Easy enough to see why Ludden & Bates should do a business of $500,000 a year. And of such enterprises is the New South made up. [29-1t.]
