THE BEHRING BAY CONTROVERSY.

For a long time the respective rights of England and the United States in Behring Bay has been in controversy. Just at this should be. Some of the schools time Mr. Blaine is being complimented by Democrats and Re publicans for the manner in which he has represented American interests but we seriously question whether any real progress has been made in the settlement of the delicate and perplexing matters in dispute. It seems to us that the whole subis very much in the condition in which ex Secretary Bayard left it when the Cleveland administration gave place to the present regime. Indeed there are those who contend that the only hope of an amicable adjustment seems now to lie in bringing affairs back to the condition in which President Cleveland's administration left them.

Mr. Blaine insists that whatever privileges Russia enjoyed became American rights when Alaska was purchased and became a part of this country. This position is not tenable. There is a wide difference between privileges and rights. Whether Behring Sea is an open Willis, of New Berne station, arseas has not been made perfectly rived and made a very impressive clear, but the weight of authority address, showing the vital object of seems to be in favor of that conclusion, and, if such is the fact, the United States Government has there was some moving in the oughfare or avenue of the system, the exceeded its authority in making crowd. Circuit Sunday School Conference.

The Craven circuit held its third annual Sunday school conference at Asbury, July 24th and 25th, 1890. On the first day there was a good attendance of the delegates. Reperts were made from eight schools, three were not represented. The reports show that the Sunday. school cause is gaining strength on the circuit, there being about 500 scholars enrolled on the circuit. Some of the schools report very
