EX-MAYOR HODGES, OF BALTIMORE, ON THE FORCE BILL.

We copy from the Globe the following able discussion of the Force Bill by Hon. James Hodges, Baltimore. This distinguished gentleman is a conspicuous favorite for Governorship of Maryland at no distant day. Clear headed, sound and orthodox in his political opinions, scholarly and polished in his thoughts and manners, faithful and devoted to his friends, a fearless advocate of the rights of the people, and an unbought and unpurchasable lover of liberty, he should hold the reins of power in his native State as a patriot and a statesman.

"The opinion in detail follows: I have read the interviews published in the Evening Globe, respecting the election bill, and I am in full sympathy with the letter and spirit of what was said in its denunciation. In my judgment a more dishonorable effort has not been made in modern times by one political party, at a period of profound peace, to emasculate the power of another. It is a device for grasping control of democratic States, which is absolutely disgraceful, and their representatives in Congress who originated it ought to be driven from public life. As a pretext for the passage of the Lodge bill, the republicans claim that the democrats are practicing electional frauds in the Southern States. The cry of unfair elections in the South, as an excuse for the passage and application of the so-called force bill, is a discreditable sham. It is for republican supremacy down there, and not for honest elections Quay, Reed, Dudley and their set are contending. Nor is the race question in any way really involved; sympathy for the colored brother is the least element in the case. It is a party maneuver, undertaken in the spirit of desperation, to secure political dominion over a people toward whom the republican leaders are in every way antagonistic. If electional frauds are perpetrated in the South as alleged, by the conspirators, they are simply construction, and are brought about by negro abstention from the polls. Out of this they would concoct a greater fraud and legalize it by the grace of federal supervisors in the benefit of the republican party.

"The real truth is, the ascendancy of the republican party is threatened by the most burdensome class legislation, and the bayonet bill is a desperate device to keep it in power at all hazards. The idea which its plausible advocates advance, that it is designed to promote the public welfare and purify the politics of the South is a transparent delusion, and the trick of making this bill applicable to all the States may mislead simpletons, but will not deceive thoughtful men. Like the force bill of 1870 it is designed for exclusive use in the South.

"What chance of fair representation, let me ask, is possible for the south under the force bill, administered by a lot of unscrupulous supervisors irrespective of color? No intelligent man can be blind to the fact that such an agency in the hands of such a party means tyranny in its most oppressive and odious form and nothing less. Besides, it may be said in condemnation of the bill that southern republican and southern democratic congressmen, seeing the danger to the peace and prosperity of the south in the enforcement of the bill, have united in protesting against its passage. And this should be regarded as a wholesome warning. A republican congressman from North Carolina, Mr. Ewart, if I remember correctly, declared the bill to be as 'damnable and vicious a piece of legislation as was ever put on the statute-books.' This I believe to be the sentiment of the more intelligent and respectable members and representatives of the republican party everywhere.

"The whole thing is a partisan despotism, conceived by the governing junta of the republican party in the interest of republican supremacy, embracing the legislative and executive power at Washington, the electoral machinery at the south in the hands of white and black radical republican supervisors, and the military power which will be called in to enforce obedience to fraudulent certificates of election. I am not altogether inclined to hold the republican party responsible for this movement. It is the cunning and power-loving device of a few corrupt and dangerous political conspirators. It is a hopeful sign to see so many republicans protesting against it.

"But there are other disastrous consequences more material in their nature to ensure to the south and to the whole country from the passage and enforcement of the force bill. It would interrupt, to a large extent, the economic relations now existing between the southern and western, and eastern states. Northern capital, now excessive at home, would become timid and cease to flow in that direction; and sales of northern merchandise to the south, by reason of political disturbances, would be perceptibly diminished. Northern interests in southern mining and manufacturing enterprises would be materially depressed. No more unproductive period than this could have been selected for the application of a bill to the elections of the southern states, for at no period since the war are the north and the west more largely profiting by southern prosperity. The force bill would be a fatal disturber of all this, and as I have said before would be wounding the goose that has laid millions of golden eggs for the western farmers and eastern merchants and manufacturers. Let the sensible republican constituencies of the country, whose representatives in congress are unwisely pushing the force bill, call meetings to remonstrate against their reckless course."

FORT BARNWELL ITEMS

Fine Crops—Revival Closed—Good School Closed—Baseball, &c.

There is no sickness in this community, thanks to our salubrious climate and pure water.

The farmers of this section are all wearing smiling faces they feel so good over the crop prospect.

Miss Etta O'Neal, and Miss Etta Nunn, of New Bern and Miss Sallie Kinsey, of Trenton, are visiting Mrs. Joel Kinsey.

Rev. Mr. Johnson, has just closed a very interesting revival at Lane's chapel, Craven county. He is a young man of fine preaching abilities.

Mr. E. J. White, Jr., who stands five feet eleven inches in his shoes says he has cotton chin high. Don't talk of poor crops in this section.

We hope everybody in this community will get married, so that there will be no one left to ask the question, "When will such an one get married?"

A farmer living near the village lost all of his cabbage one night recently, during a big meeting. Guess he will have to fall back on his blue collards and onions.

A. G. Hoyt & Bro., with the renovating machine, have been with us several days and are doing nice work. The people are pleased at the work and are coming constantly to see it.

The boys are beginning to talk baseball already. Barnwell has the finest material for a club of any village in North Carolina. She has come off victorious in every game for the past two seasons.

Shall Barnwell be without a school the balance of this year, and Craven the banner county of the State in educational progress? Why not Barnwell keep pace with her sister villages in schools? our citizens are able and most of them willing to maintain a good school. There is certainly no place as large as Barnwell more in need of a school, and yet we have none.

Hanlan Challenges Gaudaur. DULUTH, Minn., July 31.—Edward Hanlan, the oarsman, last night issued a challenge for a three-mile race with Jake Gaudaur, for $1,000 to $2,500 a side. Hanlan put up $2,500 as a forfeit.

CHOLERA IN JAPAN.

RIOTERS DESTROYING RESIDENCES AND OTHER PROPERTY.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—The steamship Belgic arrived this morning, twenty-three days from Hong Kong and fourteen from Yokohama. Japanese advices state that on the 11th inst., the total number of cholera cases was increased to 239 with 114 deaths. Forty seven fresh cases and 15 deaths were reported that day, and on the 12th 30 fresh cases and 27 deaths were reported from Nagasaki.

Latest reports of disorder on account of the high price of rice came from Alkawa, Sado Island. They say that 2,000 people, aided by miners, began a riot on the 1st inst., and the police being powerless, the Governor ordered troops from a neighboring garrison. Telegraphic news on the 4th inst., stated that the rioters were becoming more powerful and were destroying the residences and property of the rice merchants.

Religion in the Colleges.

The colleges never had so many professing church members in them as at present. A few examples will show this. Yale College in 1795 had but four or five students who were church-members; today nearly one half hold such membership. Princeton in 1813 had but two or three openly professing the Christian faith; today about one-half, and among them the best scholars. In Williams College 147 out of 218, and in Amherst 233 out of 352, are members of churches. In many other colleges, as proved by Dr. Hodge, from whose carefully prepared tables these figures are taken, the proportions are still more favorable to the prospects of religion.—Harper's Magazine.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." Trinity College.

The New York Nation of July 3 says: "The leading Colleges of the country have been almost transformed since the 'Nation' was started, and a class of advanced students have come into existence that were unknown and unexpected at the close of the war. The Schools of Political Science, which the principal Universities now contain, turn out yearly both writers and thinkers whose contributions to the literature of political philosophy, history, archeology, political economy, and administrative law are extremely important, and have placed the country in the very front rank in fields of inquiry to which it was, five and twenty years ago, almost wholly unrepresented."

TRINITY COLLEGE is the only institution in North Carolina which has a regularly organized School of Political and Social Science with courses extending through two years. Applicants may enter at the beginning of either term. Terms begin Sept. 4 and Jan. 1. See Catalogue, pages 61-64 inclusive. Address JOHN P. CROWELL, President, 1718 dim wit Trinity College, N. C.

ALDEN'S Manifold Cyclopaedia

A Cyclopaedia of Universal Knowledge, and Unbridged Dictionary of Language in 40 handy vols., large type, over 4,000 illustrations. Cloth binding, per vol., 60c., per set $24.00. Half Morocco, 80c., per set $34.00. Vol. 18. Now Ready. The volumes thus far issued will answer more questions in the practical every-day life of the average reader, than all the volumes of any complete cyclopaedia in the market. Test them and see! A specimen volume may be ordered and returned if not wanted. $18.00 cash with order before Nov. 1, will secure the full set of 40 Vols. in cloth binding, or $26.00 in half Morocco, all sent prepaid, those now ready at once, remainder as issued. "The price is very low, the form exceedingly handy for a work of reference, and the editing skillful and comprehensive."—Literary World, Boston. "The literary skill and judicious editorship which have characterized the undertaking from the outset have been in no degree relaxed."—Sun, New York. "It is an unabridged dictionary and a storehouse of information on almost every conceivable topic. The more we see of the work the more we are pleased."—Educational Monthly, Akron, O. "The convenient form, the excellence of binding, paper, and illustrations, and the skillful arrangement of articles make this a handy cyclopaedia, which will be used ten times where the bulky 'Britannica' would be consulted once. The illustrations are of every difficult word in plain, rounded, No matter what other cyclopaedia a writer may have, 'Alden's Manifold' should be upon his shelves."—The Writer, Boston. "It is a remarkably well made book for the price. The peculiar shape makes the book extreme easy to read, which is a most valuable thing to the student. The clean-cut, heavy-faced type used for titles is a good feature and materially lightens the task of the investigator. The accented syllables of every difficult word is plainly marked and the pronunciation, when it offers any difficulties, is set forth phonetically. In a word, this popular work is most carefully edited and ready and accurately manufactured."—American Bookmaker, New York. JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, NEW YORK, 396 Pearl St., P. O. Box 1227.
