"We are glad to learn that Senator Vance is neither scared, frightened nor alarmed."

JOHN BOYLE O'REILLY, the poet, and editor of the Boston Pilot, died on Sunday from an overdose of chloral, taken for insomnia.

THE Senate committee on post offices and post roads have ordered the anti-lottery bill to be reported with a recommendation that it pass.

HARRISON'S administration has given many evidences of weakness, but in nothing does the President show his unfitness for high position so much as in his advocacy of the Force Bill.

THE Farmers' Alliance seems to be making great headway in the South, but the leopard is not changing its spots. Their nominees and leaders are Democrats, and will be more useful to that party under the guise of farmers than under their proper name. It would, for example, be extremely awkward for Republicans in the Senate and House to get up and denounce the Farmers in the language they usually employ when speaking of Southern Democrats.—Philadelphia Ledger.

If Mr. Blaine is also opposed to the elections bill, as is now stated, and if his visit to Cape May to see Mr. Harrison does not straighten him out, the chance of its passage is gone. In 1874 he opposed what was known as the "force bill," which Gen. Grant recommended, and succeeded in defeating it. He can do the same with the present measure in the senate if he desires. The way things are going, Mr. Blaine is evidently preparing to be a live candidate for the presidential nomination in 1892.—Boston Evening Record, Rep.

Now that the women of North Carolina are appealed to to help the movement to secure a Confederate Soldiers' Home at Raleigh, and they are to receive commissions to work in the different counties for that end, we may expect complete success. When the Southern women set their heads together to carry out a patriotic or benevolent scheme they know of no such word as failure. We understand the commissions are neat and are embellished with colored lithographs of the Confederate flag and the flag of North Carolina, and bear the names of President and Secretary Stronach and the directors.—Wilmington Messenger.

THE old "Tar, Pitch and Turpentine State" is about to show up the greatest conceivable possibilities in that line. The old State has the greatest possibilities in everything if they were only known and developed. But the matter of interest now is what appears to be a mine of actual tar which has been found on Mr. R. S. Pallen's land, about four miles from the city. The substance, whatever it is, comes from out the side of a bank of earth in a stream about the consistency of putty. This stream (if it may be called a stream) forces its way out of the land pure and solid. It is about six inches in diameter, it is out six when three or four inches have cozed out. People who have been there declare it is pure tar. Mr. W. O. McMeekin, among others, has been there. He says "it looks like tar, smells like tar, tastes like tar and, by Jupiter, it is tar."

LOCAL NEWS.

The steamer Manteo brought in forty passengers yesterday morning.

The trolling season has begun at Morehead. The sport is now very fine. The watermelon "crap" is being thinned out. Scuppernong grapes will soon have the floor.

Henry Nelson, colored, of Adams creek, brought a boat load of the finest watermelons to market on Tuesday that have been seen here this season. He had a hundred which he claimed would average forty-five pounds a piece.

The steamer Beaufort will make her regular trip, leaving New Berne tonight at 9 o'clock, for Ocracoke. It was found that only slight repairs were needed, and the agent of the O. D. line here received a telegram from Washington yesterday, stating that the regular schedule would be run.

Yesterday we were handed a board, from the shingle mill of Mr. Warren Ellis, in which was imbedded a Minie ball. The board was sawed out of a log eighteen inches in diameter, and the ball was found about the center of it. The log was cut at Bachelor's creek, a few miles up Neuse river, where a battle was fought in 1863, during which the Minie balls whizzed in a lively manner and many were imbedded in the bodies of the trees. Mr. Ellis has found a number of cypress logs from that place with balls in them.

Accidentally Killed.
News reached the city yesterday that a white man (name not learned) was killed at Hines' saw mill, near Dover. He was engaged with other men pushing cars that were being loaded with lumber, when his head was caught between two cars and his brains mashed out.

Perfect Hand Fire Extinguisher.
There will be an exhibition of the working of the Perfect Hand Fire Extinguisher at the corner of Middle and Broad streets this afternoon at 7 o'clock. A large box will be covered with tar and filled with kindling wood and saturated with oil and set on fire, and after the flame reaches the height of fifteen or twenty feet the extinguisher will be brought to bear on it and will extinguish it almost instantly. The exhibition will be attractive and pleasing. The city firemen and the ladies are especially invited to be present. The match will be touched at precisely 7 o'clock.

MURDER IN LENOIR COUNTY.

Julia Morgan Brutally Shot Down at Her Own Home.

Two miles from Kinston, on Mr. Chaney Gray's farm, lived a white woman named Julia Morgan with her mother. On Tuesday night Mr. Giles Parker, in search of hands, knocked at her door, wishing to hire her to pull fodder the next day. Julia came to the door and asked him if he was the person who had knocked at her door a short time before. Being answered in the negative she immediately walked by Mr. Parker in order to look behind the house. Mr. Parker thinks he heard her exclaim "Don't!" and instantly a gun fired not more than four feet off and Julia Morgan fell heavily to the ground with a load of duck shot in her neck. She never moved afterward. Mr. Parker sprang around to the place where she fell and glimpsed the dark form of some person running for the woods. Mr. Parker then came to town for help, and Coroner R. W. Pope held an inquest Wednesday morning. The decision was that "Julia Morgan came to her death by a shot-gun in the hands of Alex. Morton, with Hill Dove accessory." These parties are both colored and have been arrested and placed in jail.

Julia Morgan was a woman of irreproachable character; was about thirty years old, and a marriage between her and a negro was annulled six years ago by the court, since which time she has been living with her mother.

Alex. Morton, the party that did the shooting, is a woman and has acquired great notoriety by wearing man's clothing. She was thought to be a man until she astounded the community by giving birth to a child eight or ten years ago. Hill Dove, the other party, is said to be a desperate character.

An Exciting Drive.
A gentleman and lady were driving the other day, and had quite an unusual experience. Going out of town, on a street in the suburbs of the city, they noticed a rope stretched across the road, about a foot above the ground. The gentleman examined into the matter and found that one end of the rope was tied to the fence, and across the road, on the other end, was a calf (he thought it was a calf, taking a rather credulous glance) in the ditch. Somewhat worried by the interruption of a pleasant drive, they drove on. About dusk they came back over the same road, and the same calf was still tied to the fence, but he had moved over on the other side of the road nearer the post to which he was tied, so that he had room to move about. Just as the buggy passed the beast he "up tail, down head, and dashed for the vehicle." It was a bull, nearly grown, and for a short distance, until he got to the end of his rope, he made it exciting for the young couple. The gentleman used his whip on the bull, quickened the gait of his horse, and escaped.

But wasn't it a careless thing for the owner of that bull to tie him on the public road?

FARMERS' ALLIANCE.
FIVE HUNDRED DELEGATES AT THE MEETING IN ASHEVILLE.
ASHEVILLE, N. C., August 12.—The State Farmers' Alliance met here today with five hundred delegates in attendance, every county in the State being represented.
S. B. Alexander, a prominent delegate, who is the Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth district, said today that the Alliance, as a body, would not oppose the re-election of Senator Vance, and he was certain that he would be renominated.

That tired feeling now so often heard of, is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives mental and bodily strength.

PROGRESS.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.
