VERY often the only difference between something unfortunate and something funny lies in whether it happens to you or somebody else.

MR. EX-CZAR REED will do well to give attention to affairs way down in Maine. Blaine is not a candidate in Reed's district, but a friend of Blaine is.

A LARGE part of the time of the Senate on Saturday was passed in the delivery of tributes to the late James B. Beck, Senator from Kentucky. The eulogy of Senator Blackburn was eloquent and touching.

The late Henry W. Grady said: "When you enter a store to buy anything, ask if it is made in Georgia, and give a Georgia made article the preference over its competitors from the North."

HERE is a strange amputation. Edward Alle, aged fifty-six years, employed on the tugboat Susquehanna caught his leg in a rope just as the boat steamed from the dock. Before the boat could be stopped the leg was cut off.

FORTUNATE Mr. Depew! Chauncey Depew has been the most popular of Railroad Presidents. Under his management the New York Central has prospered, and it is fortunate for him that the present great strike occurs in his absence. Vice President Webb is responsible for the situation.

The iron mines at Chapel Hill are to be reopened and operated on an extensive scale by a syndicate, the principal members of which are well known railway men. Nine years ago these mines were opened, but for some cause work was soon suspended, though the ore is of great purity and easily accessible.

We mentioned in Sunday morning's paper that the family of Mr. Samuel Cohn, of Goldsboro, consisting of eleven persons, had been poisoned. Their cook, a colored woman named Lexity Thompson, has been arrested on the charge of poisoning them by putting "Rough on Rats" in the coffee, and committed to jail in default of $500 bail. The wife of our townsman, E. Dannenberg, is a relative of the family.

A Reign of Terror.

BUCKEUS, Ohio, August 25.-A reign of terror exists here. Citizens are boldly assaulted on the streets at night. Others are made to give up their money at the muzzle of a revolver, while daring burglaries are committed nightly.

PROGRESS.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figa is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

The Colored Fair Opened.

The Eastern North Carolina Colored Industrial Stock and Fruit Fair was opened Tuesday under favorable auspices. The weather was fine, the attendance good and the exhibits very creditable indeed when it is considered that it is their first fair and gotten up under so short a notice.

The procession formed on Broad street, headed by the Golden Link Band, and after marching through some of the principal streets proceeded to the grounds. The principal feature along the line of march was Powell's military school composed of about one hundred children in uniform.

After arriving at the grounds the band entertained the crowd with a number of well performed pieces of music, until the arrival of the orators. The chief marshal, Major Oden, introduced General C. A. Battle, Mayor of New Berne who, in a few brief remarks, gave the approval of the city to what he considered such a laudable enterprise and bid them God speed in its future development.

Hon. John S. Long was next introduced and formally opened the Fair in one of his best and most practical talks. He urged upon them the importance of further developing these industrial pursuits by bringing together the products of the soil and the handiwork of the laborer. Mr. Long was very plain in explaining that as a race they should give more thought and attention to the development of their resources and education, and that every one of them should join together and make these Fairs a success. Indeed, he expressed himself, as much surprised at this one. It was far better than he expected and worthy of the highest praise. Good attention was paid the speakers and they were warmly congratulated for their kind words and hearty endorsement.

THE MAIN BUILDING contains the principal bulk of the exhibits. All of the various departments were represented and made quite a nice presentation.

THE AGRICULTURAL DISPLAY was probably the best. There were squash, egg plant, pumpkins, ground pea, pepper, beets, tomatoes, onions, sweet and Irish potatoes, apples, grapes, dried fruit, melons, etc., all of which any locality could be proud of. The pumpkins were as large as we have ever seen.

FLORAL HALL. In Floral Hall were numerous evergreens and blooming plants, besides decorations in moss trailing vines, etc.

NATIVE WOODS. The collection of native woods is large and attractive. An exhibit of coffee made of sweet gum, varnished, shows excellent work and handsome finish.

ART DEPARTMENT. In this department there is quite a variety. Oil paintings, portraits, crayon and pencil drawing, enlarged photographs, ornamental penmanship, representing birds, animals, etc.

MISCELLANEOUS. To mention everything under this heading would be too numerous. Fancy work of various styles and colors, quilts, ornamental rugs, counterpanes, patchwork, mantle coverings, matings, woollen and cotton homespun goods, knit goods, fancy embroidery and needle-work.

The poultry exhibit is very large and contains some fine birds. The selection was not confined to merit, but odd and peculiarly shaped and feathered fowls. Some of the chickens were real curiosities.

But little stock is on the grounds yet. More will be brought in today. Some of the hogs were fine, but the cattle and horses only medium.

From a general standpoint the exhibit is a good one, and far beyond our expectations, and is what ought to be the foundation of building up an annual exhibition among the colored people of this section. They should be encouraged in the undertaking by the white people, and we hope to see more of them in attendance.

Wm. E. CLARKE, P. M.

Profitable North Carolina Fruit.

We give below two extracts from State papers. They give some idea of how North Carolina fruit raising can be made to pay. The first is a statement of Mr. W. P. Williamson in the State Chronicle. He says:

In the year 1885 I planted on a gravelly top soil, with clay subsoil, four acres in grape vines-2000 Ives and 1000 Champions, they being the two earliest known reliable varieties.

In 1887 I gathered my first crop of grapes, getting results as follows:

1887 14,995 pounds.
1888 17,948 " "
1890 23,026 " "

Making 54,969 pounds for the three years, which were sold to net me above all the expenses of the cultivation, fertilizing, packaging, shipping, selling, etc., $1,238.80, being $412.96 per acre for three years, or an average of $137.62 per acre each year.

My crop for 1890 has turned out as well or better.

Here is what Mr. T. G. Williams has to say in the Red Springs Chief on melons and peaches:

Last year the peach business fell between $30,000 and $40,000 net with us, and the melons this year will leave between $20,000 and $30,000.

I can cite you instances where orchards have netted, year after year, from $150 to $250 per acre; of a single acre that netted $500 in one season. Last year, notwithstanding the large quantities of peaches on the Northern markets not bringing freight, there was not a single orchard in our section, owing to our superior fruit, that netted from $100 to $150 per acre of the orchard through. I had an orchard of three-year-old trees that netted over $100 per acre.

One Perfect System, in All Its Entirety.

EDITOR JOURNAL-Objection has been urged to combining the Atlantic with the North Carolina Railroad, on the ground that the North Carolina Company would lease the A. & N. C. division to the Richmond & Danville road.

This is no objection at all, for if it so leases it would certainly not lease for a period beyond the present lease of the North Carolina road, which expires in the year 1901.

So far as the matter of leasing is concerned, it is a pity that the lease of the North Carolina road, in 1871, did not include a lease of the A. & N. C. road. Had the Danville road gotten control of the A. & N. C. R. R. in 1871, it would have been a great blessing for this portion of Eastern Carolina. It would have made of New Berne and Morehead City great shipping ports, and long ago have introduced millions of active capital into this section of the State. It is not too late now; and if such a lease should follow the proposed acquisition of the A. & N. C. R. R. by the North Carolina Company, it is one of the strongest arguments in favor of the proposed arrangement. For wherever the R. & D. Company has gained a foothold in the State, the people of such sections have been blessed and benefited.

The North Carolina Road extends from Charlotte to Goldsboro, 233 miles. Here it ends, an intermediate link in the great railroad systems of the State. Thus situated it is a dependent system, and as such could not maintain a separate existence for one year profitably.

But unite with it the 95 miles of A. & N. C. R. R. from Goldsboro to Morehead City, and it would present 328 miles of trunk line, with an outlet of its own to the sea, and controlling, for all time, the very best port, for deep draught of water ever, possible on the coast of North Carolina.

There is absolutely no argument against this proposition. Every interest of the State, as majority stockholder in both corporations, owning $4,250,000 in both; every interest of the people, from Charlotte to Morehead City; every resource of the tributary territory, from the mountain country to the sea, all point to the necessity of an indissoluble union between the Atlantic and the North Carolina railroads; one perfect system, in all its entirety. Congressman Watson, of Pennsylvania, Falls Dead.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.-This morning Congressman L. F. Watson, Pennsylvania, fell dead while standing in a hall in the Shoreham hotel of this city. He was an influential member of the committee on naval affairs and always spent his time at this hotel while Congress was in session. No direct cause of his death has yet been assigned, but it is thought that heart trouble had something to do with it. The House of Representatives have adjourned out of respect to the dead member and arrangements are being made for the funeral services which will take place here probably Wednesday morning. His body will then be taken to Pennsylvania for interment.

Probable Revolution in Hawaii.

SEATTLE, Washington, August 23.-Admiral Brown, of the flagship Charleston, which has arrived from Honolulu, in an interview expresses the belief that the incoming steamer from the Hawaiian Islands, will bring the news that a revolution has broken out on the islands, and probably a new republic has been declared.

Why It Is Popular. Because it has proven its absolute merit over and over again, because it has an unequalled record of cures, because its business is conducted in a thoroughly honest manner, and because it combines economy and strength, being the only medicine of which "100 Doses for one Dollar" is true-these strong points have made Hood's Sarsaparilla the most successful medicine of the day.
