THE President has signed the Anti-Lottery bill.

JUDGE CRISP, of Georgia, is now leading the Democrats in the House, and he is doing it well.

CAPTAIN ALEXANDER has opened the canvass in the 6th district to the satisfaction of all Democrats.

HON. JOHN S. HENDERSON, although a member of Congress, has found time to speak to the people of his district.

THE County canvass in Wake will begin at Cary on Monday Sep. 29th and end at Garner's Saturday, Oct. 25.

THE Republican State Convention of South Carolina, last Friday, adopted a platform indorsing the most ultra Republican measure now before Congress.

"LIONS, leopards, elephants, baboons released from a menagerie." This does not refer to the adjournment of the late South Carolina Republican Convention.

An exchange says: "The farmers of North Dakota have called a State Convention for next Thursday in which they invite the Prohibitionists, Knights of Labor and Union Labor Societies to join."

THE joint canvass between John S. Henderson and P. C. Thomas for Congress begins tomorrow at Wadesville. Both gentlemen have made several speeches since the Campaign opened.

On Friday the House discussed the bill to reduce the amount of United States bonds to be required of national banks, and to define and regulate the jurisdiction of the United States courts, but no action was reached.

THE other day Reed attempted to secure a quorum by closing the door of the House of Representatives, but it wouldn't stay shut. The time hasn't come yet for Congressmen to be locked up on the order of a tyrant.

THE New York Pioneer says liquor-drinking is said to be alarmingly on the increase among the women of the big cities of the country—Kentucky produced 23,130,501 gallons of whiskey for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890.

THE Democratic nomination for President in 1892 appears to be making itself. All reports of Democratic Conventions held this year represent that the mention of Cleveland's name "called forth great applause" or was "received with great enthusiasm."—Phil. Ledger.

THE Wilmington Star says: "A New York doctor insists that if cannibalism was more general it would improve the human race morally, mentally and physically. We don't know about that, but it would give the country a big boost morally speaking if the Republican party were devoured."

HON. W. C. OATES, of Alabama, one of the ablest men in Congress, expresses the opinion that the Farmers Alliance will hold the balance of power in the next House. He mentions the remarkable fact that, while many Alliance men have lately been nominated for Congress, of the four Alliance men now in Congress McClammy of North Carolina and Morgan of Mississippi have been defeated for renomination.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
L. H. CUTLER & Co.—Scales, etc.
JAS. REDMOND—Annual meeting.

The nights are getting cool but the days are still warm.

The catch of fish at Morehead during the past few weeks is spoken of as the largest ever known there at this season of the year.

Remember the annual business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The rooms are now open and the boys are invited up.

Nearly every day we are recording new subscribers for the WEEKLY JOURNAL. Subscribe now and get the advantage of reduced campaign rates.

The Rev. Mr. Clayton, Universalist, will preach at Trenton Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 25th, 26th, 27th and 28th. All are invited to go and hear him.

The hand bills are being put up for then drama, "Uncle's Darling," in which the young actress, Hettie Bernard Chase takes the leading part. They will be here Thursday night.

A wagon belonging to Mr. Wright Moore, a farmer Lane's chapel, broke down yesterday on Neuse road a short distance from town, while heavily loaded with cotton picking hands on their way to his farm.

Some bold thief entered the house of Mrs. J. W. Fulford, on Johnston street, yesterday about noon, and took two pair of boys' pants. Mrs. Fulford was in an adjoining room at the time the theft was committed, but knew nothing of it at the time.

Mr. E. M. Foscoe, a well-known farmer of Jones county, was taken with a stroke of paralysis in the right side, about nine o'clock yesterday morning, while in his gin house attending to ginning cotton, and he continued very ill up to last night.

Mr. Samuel Willis, the mate of the schooner J. E. Kelsey, was arrested yesterday by U. S. Deputy Marshal C. B. Hill and policeman Moses T. Roberts and lodged in jail on the charge of breaking articles of agreement as mate. He was accused of deserting the vessel after she arrived at New Berne. The case will be tried before U. S. Commissioner E. G. Hill this morning.

A flat that has been decked over brought 45,000 shingles from A. Lee & Co.'s mill to the Clyde line wharf late Saturday evening and she was left there with the shingles on deck with the expectation of being unloaded Monday. The flat sprang a leak and the water in her hold caused her to tip to one side and throw the whole 45,000 shingles overboard. The most of them have been recovered.

Farmers' Co-operative School.
The Goldsboro Argus has the following good words to say for the Farmers' Co-operative School at Morehead City: "That Farmers' College at Morehead City is going to be a truly great institution. It is properly located where the rich ozone from the sea will clear the minds of the pupils and make them healthy of body, as well. Success to the enterprise."

Annual Meeting.
Tonight is the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. for the election of officers for the ensuing year, and the transaction of other important business. The executive committee request the presence of every member of the Association. There will be a large number of candidates for membership who will be required to be present for initiation according to the constitution and by-laws. This is a new year with the Association, and their starting upon it is bright towards the accomplishment of the work they hope to do than ever before. With the prospects that now lie before it we believe that much greater results will be developed than has been obtained in the past. The meeting will be held in the devotional room of the new hall.

What steam is to the engine, Hood's Sarsaparilla is to the body, producing bodily power and furnishing mental force.

Jones County Nominees.

The Jones county Democratic county nominating convention met in Trenton Saturday and put the following ticket in the field:

For Clerk of the Superior Court, Jas. F. White; Register of Deeds, J. C. Haskins; Sheriff, L. F. Dillahunt; Treasurer, J. J. Simmons; House of Representatives, Samuel Hudson.

Demand for Cotton Pickers.

Cotton is reported opening rapidly everywhere, and the task of picking it out is more than the people living regularly in the country can accomplish. The farmers around New Berne both near and from quite a distance are now carrying out wagon loads of hands, chiefly women and children, to help gather the crop. Mr. John Phillips from Kinston took up a number on the train yesterday morning, and Mr. E. H. Henderson from the same neighborhood is in the city after forty to assist him. There are so many here that it does seem that there ought not to be much difficulty in securing them.

Dropped Dead.

Thomas Morris, an industrious, hard working colored man, who for many years has acted as stevedore in New Berne, dropped dead from heart disease yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock while unloading the schooner Virginia.

He was in the hold shoveling coal and stopped and sat down. In a very short time the other workmen noticed that he was lying down, and that he was lying down, and that he presented no signs of life. They supposed that he had fainted, and wet his face but without any effect. He was then taken on deck and the unavailing exertions to bring him to consciousness continued until becoming alarmed at the failure of all their efforts Dr. Frank Duffy was sent for who pronounced him dead. After which he was taken to his home.

The deceased lived on Berne street. He was about fifty years old and leaves a wife but no children. He was a strong, healthy man, and there was no indication of any malady except that during the past month or two he has at intervals complained of shortness of breath.

Personal.

Rev. W. S. Rone, P. E., passed through yesterday, returning to his home in Goldsboro from holding quarterly conference at Harlowe.

Mr. H. Rishon returned to New York from a visit to his daughters in New Berne.

Miss Alice Eaton, of Morehead, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Addie Tolson.

Mr. W. J. Ballance, an Elizabeth City printer who has been in New Berne a few days, left yesterday for his home. He has been on a visit to relatives in Florida, and took advantage of the trip to see other places also.

Mr. Wm. Leighton, of Boston, Mass., who was a Union soldier under Gen. Foster during the war, is revisiting some of the spots where he once found lively times. He arrived here Friday on the steamer Newberne of the O. D. line, and has been up to Kinston viewing the place where he was engaged in battle there. He came back last night bringing with him a number of pieces of wood suitable for making walking canes to serve as mementoes of the occasion.

Mr. C. B. Felton, editor and proprietor of the Beaufort Seaside, was in town yesterday on business connected with the paper.

Mr. Louis Angel went down to Morehead last night and will spend a while cruising in the sound.

Major W. H. Harvey went down to Morehead last night on business, and will remain there for two months.

Mr. Geo. Green has returned home from a visit to relatives in Durham.

A BEAUTIFUL AND PROGRESSIVE CITY.

A NEW BERNIAN'S VISIT TO AND DESCRIPTION OF SAVANNAH, GA.

It has been my good fortune to spend some pleasant days in the beautiful city of Savannah. It is delightful to see such commercial activity, and such a growing city in our Southland. Savannah is situated on the Savannah river, eighteen miles from the ocean. It was founded in 1733, that is twenty-three years after New Bern, by Gen. James Oglethorpe of England, as a refuge for poor and distressed, but worthy debtors. At that date they were harshly treated under English law. By kindness, and a wise treaty with the Yamacraw and Creek Indians, and by aid of an excellent Indian chief, Tomochichi, Gen. Oglethorpe made a peaceable and most advantageous settlement, and laid out the plan of a beautiful city. The plan has been enlarged, and its wisdom is seen in the numerous public squares, and elegant broad streets, with sometimes three or four rows of trees, giving them refreshing shade. Live and water oaks, magnolias, palmettos and poplars are the prevailing varieties of trees. Everywhere, often under the central avenue of shade, the street cars with their tinkling bells give easy transit. Soon electricity will supplant the horses, as the track is now being changed.

BUILDINGS.

Many elegant mansions and splendid public buildings give evidence of wealth, and public spirit. The De Soto hotel is one of the handsomest structures in the country. The Georgia Historical Society building is the gift of two ladies of the Telfair family, and contains some 15,000 volumes, of which the public has free use. The Telfair Academy of Art, with $100,000 endowment, has a handsome collection of paintings, engravings and statuary, with an art director, and offers facilities for a school of painting and sculpture. But the list of hospitals, public buildings, grand stores with beautiful displays, and handsome churches, would be too long for a hasty tourist's letter. I must, however, mention the extensive park just opposite me, as I write. It is a pleasure to stroll along its winding ways, under the delightful shade of pines, oaks, magnolias, palmettos, and other trees with their festoons of ivy and gray moss, and amid the flowers and foliage plants and giant bushes of Japonicas. Benches afford convenient resting places. In the middle is an elegant fountain, or group of fountains, modeled after the one in the Place de la Concorde, Paris. The flashing streams fall in silvery showers on the green discs of the water lilies, that fill the capacious basin.

MONUMENTS.

On one side of Forsyth Park is the extensive and open green of the parade ground for military drills. In the center rises a splendid Confederate monument to the dead Southern heroes. A bronze soldier of life size stands at rest on the top. On the opposite side of the park, from the front gate, guarded by its two Sphinx, runs the fashionable boulevard, known as Bull street, filled with handsome buildings on each side, and notable historic monuments in the center of its many green squares. Count Pulaski, Sergeant Jasper of Fort Moultrie fame, Gen. Greene, and others, are here kept in memory green.

WESLEY.

John Wesley came over with Oglethorpe and began his labors in Savannah. On the same site where he preached stands an Episcopal church. Wesley says "The first rise of Methodism was in 1729, when four of us met together at Oxford. The second was at Savannah in 1736, when 20 or 30 persons met at my house. The last was at London, on this day, May first, 1738, when 40 or 50 of us agreed to meet together every Wednesday evening." The four referred to by him were John and Charles Wesley, George Whitefield and Benjamin Ingham.

Wesley began a Sunday-school here in the parish of Christ Church (Episcopal) fifty years before Robert Raikes' celebrated movement in Gloucestershire, England. This school was continued by Whitefield at Bethesda, nine miles from Savannah, where his Orphanage, was founded. It still flourishes, and claims to be the oldest Sunday-school in America.

SAVANNAH'S BUSINESS.

The wharves here are lined with shipping. Steamers of 3,000 tons burthen run to New York, and large "tramp" steamers to Europe. Immense wholesale establishments of many kinds are filled with goods for the inland trade. This is the largest depot for naval stores in the United States. About 1,000,000 packages of naval stores, worth $8,000,000, were handled here last year. It is the second cotton port in America; the receipts last year reaching nearly one million bales. This year it is expected that there will be more than a million received. Last week, September 7-13, there were received 4,278 barrels of spirits of turpentine; 10,539 barrels of rosin, and 32,700 bales of upland and Sea Island cotton. More than 20,000 bales of cotton were exported; of which 10,000 went to Liverpool. That was one week's business. I have not time or space to write about the cotton mill, new cotton presses, rice, railroads, lumber, and other businesses here. The population has increased 41 per cent since the last census, and is now between 40,000 and 50,000. The past year's trade reaches above $100,000,000. This is the stirring, beautiful, aristocratic city of the great State of Georgia. Enterprise and hope reign in this commonwealth.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Jaly

OUR DEAD IN VIRGINIA.

HEADSTONES FOR OUR CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS WHO LIE BURIED AT FREDERICKSBURG.

Gov. Fowle has addressed the following open letter to the public. It is hoped that there will be liberal responses, and that others will add their names to those which appear below:

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 19, 1890.

To the People of North Carolina:

In the Confederate cemetery at Fredericksburg, Va., there are one hundred and sixty-four North Carolinian soldiers, whose graves are without headstones. It will require three hundred and twenty-eight dollars to purchase them.

Virginia, Maryland, South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Florida and Texas have placed headstones at the graves of each of their soldiers. Will not the men and women of North Carolina do as much for her brave dead soldiers?

Contributions for this purpose will be gratefully received and acknowledged through the columns of the News and Observer and the State Chronicle.

Money may be sent to Joseph G. Brown, cashier Citizens' National Bank Raleigh, N. C.

DANIEL G. FOWLE.

The following contributions have been received: Dan'l G. Fowle, $10; A. M. Scales, $20; Thomas S. Kenan, $5; Theo. F. Davidson, $5.—News and Observer.

The above explains itself. The object for which this money is to be used is one that should awaken patriotic feelings in every North Carolinian, and the small amount needed ought to be raised almost without effort. We would like to see the sum made up by small contributions from a number of persons and we hope the appeal will meet with a ready response in New Berne.
