THE Bankruptcy bill will go over until next session.

THE President is once more in Washington. Just so. Accidents will happen.

THREE hundred houses were burned in the village of Ruth, Switzerland on Monday and their late occupants are homeless.

PATTERSON'S election, Governor of Pennsylvania, is confidently expected. Ingalls canvass of the State is said to have made many converts to the Democracy.

It is reported that John Robinson's circus is heading towards Raleigh. It is supposed to be after the fellow who can turn half dozen summersets before landing.

WE do not credit the report that General Gordon recently came near fighting a duel. He is a very brave man, and dares to carry his religion into everything he does.

THE Atlanta Constitution tried to interview Gordon as to what his reply would be, but he simply said: "I shall be content to leave the people of Georgia to reply to Mr. Norwood's letter."

NEW BERNE is not ashamed of the past or the present, but she is looking steadily in the eye of the future with the intention of charming it with her beauty that it may bring her prosperity and glory.

SENATOR ALDRICH and Representative McKinley, replying to inquiries state that it is their opinion the tariff bill will be disposed of this week, and that Congress will be ready to adjourn about October 1st.

IRELAND presents a very hard problem. She is threatened with famine. Friends of the English Government say it is because the people are in constant revolt and don't work. The advocates of Home Rule say it is because of the oppression of England.

EVANGELIST FIFE began a series of meetings in Morganton Sunday. He is preaching in A. L. Butt's tent, to which a frame addition for the choir has been annexed. Crowds are going to hear Mr. Fife, and there were 72 conversions on Monday night.

"THE news from Maine is that the issue is fairly joined between Blaine and Reed and both are seeking the Presidential nomination." If forced to a choice between them we would take Blaine, but the worst Democrat in the country is preferable to either of them.

"A SUIT in New York for $30,000,000, which has been in litigation for fourteen years, was decided a few days ago by a verdict for six cents in favor of the claimant." That is about the way the Republican party will come out—possibly they won't get "a red" and will have the bills to pay.

As throwing some light on the present "unpleasantness" between Gordon and Norwood, it may be well to remember that some years ago Norwood was an independent candidate for Governor of Georgia against Colquitt, and Gordon contributed largely to Norwood's overwhelming defeat.

REED is fruitful of expedients. The other day when the Democrats were all absent to prevent a quorum he had a photographer to come in and take the picture. The Democrats have been voting in the negative, but that is a negative in which they can't be seen, and yet appear badly.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS
W. B. LANE—Taxes.
JAMES REDMOND—Engines for sale.
M. MANLY—Dem. Ex. Com. meeting.
R. A. RICHARDSON—Meeting of Knub Club.

COTTON—New Berne market—Sale of 150 bales at from 9.40 to 9.78.

Mr. James F. Taylor is enlarging his wharf in front of his buildings at the lower part of the market deck.

A special meeting of the Craven County Gun Club will be held at the rooms of the Club this evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Ans Arthur has brought us some very fine grapes raised by him on his farm over Neuse river, six miles from the ferry.

The boy off Brant Island slue is gone, and its absence is a serious menace to navigation. It should be replaced at once before disaster emphasizes its urgent need.

The work on the New Berne and Beaufort canal is getting on very well and will be completed quickly as possible, but it will be over a month yet before the dredge is through.

Rev. Edward Bull and other Republican candidates will speak at Pleasant Hill school house, about five miles up Neuse road tonight. This is their third meeting of the campaign. The Democrats have not begun their canvass yet.

Mr. Hill Humphrey, alias "Big Ike," the proprietor of the strictly cash store, is re-hanging his big auction bell to notify people to go to the auction he holds nightly at 7 o'clock. The bell also summons members of the Farmers' Alliance to their meetings held in the same building.

The schooner Nina, now lying in the stream off the market dock is a recent acquisition of Capt. James T. Salter of New Berne. He has just purchased her in Baltimore and this is her first trip here. She is intended chiefly for plying between New Berne and Elizabeth City.

To properly and fully meet the demands of the fall trade the vessels of the E. C. D. line are now making four trips per week to and from New Berne. The ships Eaglet and Vesper now arrive Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and sail Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

There is a good revival in progress at Harlowe under the charge of Rev. N. M. Jurney, assisted by Rev. G. F. Smith, the Beaufort pastor. It is less than a week since the meeting began and we are told there have already been some eight or ten conversions. There is a large attendance every night and a number of penitents.

Pe schal.

Mr. Jos. F. Rham left yesterday for the University of Virginia to study medicine.

Mr. Fred. L. Hunter left to visit his father at Laurinburg.

Mrs. H. J. Foy has returned from Winston, and Mrs. Claypoole and her son Jesse from Durham.

Mr. P. M. Pearsall of Trenton, Mr. W. S. Thompson of Edenton, and Mr. Marion Butler, editor of the Clinton Caucasian, went down to Morehead last night to enjoy the fishing. Ye fishing editor, tell us what luck.

Mr. Benj. H. Melton, of Pollockville, a former pupil of Vance Academy, came in yesterday from Onslow where he has been engaged in teaching school, to spend a few days in the city. He has our thanks for a club of subscribers which he secured for us.

Thief Captured.

Mr. James F. Taylor sold a bill of goods, among which was a whole cheese, to Mr. W. G. Temple, of Club-foot Creek, Wednesday and placed them on his little schooner, the Marion Temple, which sailed that night. Very early yesterday morning Mr. Taylor and his principal salesman, Mr. B. B. Davenport, heard that a negro boy had been seen on the street a little while previous with a cheese in a wheelbarrow. Thinking that it might be that he had stolen the one which was sent to the boat the night before, Mr. Davenport started out to investigate the matter and succeeded in tracing the boy and following him up town partly by enquiries and partly by the wheelbarrow's track. The boy somehow found out that Mr. Davenport was after him and went as rapidly as possible with the wheelbarrow and cheese up by John Johnson's church and then around by Mr. Nathan Tidale's and eluded Mr. Davenport for a while by turning and hiding in some field pea vines in Mr. J. W. Stewart's field.

After going up Neuse road a distance Mr. Davenport retraced his steps, caught sight of the boy hiding and gave chase. The boy abandoned the wheelbarrow and cheese and escaped through the fort, and Mr. Davenport had the recovered articles brought back to town.

Investigation proved that the boy stole the cheese from the boat between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday night, then stole a row boat belonging to John Daniels and carried the cheese to Major Dennison's wharf where he left the boat, then went to the market and stole a wheelbarrow from Wm. Elliott to take the cheese further with. It is supposed that he came out with it yesterday morning with the intention of selling.

Mr. Davenport recognized the boy, whose name is Emanuel Canaday, and had Esq. E. G. Hill to issue a warrant for him, and he was found and arrested last night at Mr. Hill Humphrey's store. The trial will take place today. It is a good piece of detective work on the part of Mr. Davenport.

The boy is an old offender, and we hope will receive the full penalty of the law for his violations.

The Convention of Democratic Clubs.

Twenty-seven Democratic clubs were represented in the convention held in Raleigh yesterday and the day before, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

Mr. J. S. Carr of Durham, the President of the State Association of Democratic clubs, called the convention to order about 11:30 o'clock. Gov. Fowle made the address of welcome. R. N. Haskett, of Wilkes, responded. C. B. Aycock, of Wayne, was made temporary chairman, the necessary committees appointed, and the convention adjourned to 2:30 o'clock.

In the evening Hon. Duncan E. McVey, of Moore, was made permanent chairman; Robert Hayden, editor of the Charlotte Chronicle, permanent secretary, and representative of the Democratic press present. Nine vice-presidents were appointed and a set of stirring patriotic resolutions unanimously adopted, after which Senator Vance, Hon. W. H. Kitchen and State Alliance Secretary Beddingfield addressed the meeting. Mr. Beddingfield heartily endorsed Senator Vance and said four-fifths of his name was in the Alliance and he believed that four-fifths of his life work had been for the interest of the men who compose the membership of the Farmers' Alliance, and he urged the importance of Democrats standing together and perpetuating Democratic principles. After he concluded the convention adjourned till 8 a. m. yesterday.

Special Meeting of Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association is starting out nicely in the new rooms. There is a good attendance every night. Numbers are making use of the reading rooms and the games are exciting a great deal of interest. There will be a special meeting tonight and those who are not yet members but who wish to enjoy the advantages offered will then have another opportunity of connecting themselves with the Association.

The reading room is free to all men, but none but members are allowed to share the privileges of the games, gymnasium and bath rooms.

IN AND AROUND KINSTON.

COTTON CROPS, POLITICS, AND THE NEW RAILROAD.

When great interests are at stake, the signs of the times are closely observed. This is especially true of the cotton producers of the country, who, this season, have raised more cotton than they can house. Every sign of fair weather is pointed to with exultations of joy and delight.

The fruitless mosquito is unusually numerous this summer and loves the flavor of the white man, but like the white Republican federal office holder flourishes on the blood of the negro.

Politics, in this section, are getting hotter and more interesting. In certain portions of the county, great "noise and confusion" have been made among Alliance men because of a certain nomination. The Pinkhillians and some of their neighbors are "taking on" seriously at the defeat of W. B. Nunn and the nomination of E. S. Pittman for Register of Deeds. Mr. Pittman fills the Jeffersonian measure for official position, being "honest and capable," and his defeat now, under the circumstances, would be a political calamity to such an extent as to induce Benj. Sutton, a former Republican treasurer of Lenoir county, to declare himself an independent candidate against Pittman for Register. It is believed, however, that Mr. Sutton in this move is "spreading his butter on too much bread," for realizing the imminent trouble, the ever vigilant Captain Grainger, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Lenoir county, has "thrown out the life line," and most of the dissatisfied have seized hold of it, and thus Mr. Pittman will be patted triumphantly through the contest.

W. Kinyon Baker, the successful farmer of the darkly flowing South West, is proclaiming himself from every house top an independent Alliance candidate for Sheriff in opposition to Jas. D. Sutton, the present Sheriff and regular candidate for re-election. Kinyon declares he feels the glow of victory in his "blood and bones"; but it really looks like he might as well attempt or hope to draw the capital prize in the Louisiana Lottery as to compass the defeat of the invincible Sutton. Therefore let friend Baker take himself to the "umbrageous perennial" of his rural home and in sweet communion with his environment, contentedly sing:

"Cotton in the bale,
Money in the pocket,
Baby in the cradle,
Pretty wife to rock it."

The "dry rog" is wearing out the "Grand Old Party" in this locality. The party organization is virtually in the hands of Federal office holders who neither desire nor expect county or State success. They keep up their perfunctory organization, that they may be looked upon, in Washington, as leaders of the party and thus receive official recognition and favor. They have ingloriously failed so far to get out a county ticket. The party, in this locality, under the present leaders, has reached the condition of jelly-fish slowness and is wholly without mental or moral backbone. In a few years, if the present leaders should be continued, little Obadiah Parker will in the order of natural evolution take command of the organization. He is in full flight now of the bad eminence. "What a fall, my countrymen!"

The iron horse of the Kinston and Halifax branch of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad came into Kinston last Tuesday and ran up the track of the A. & N. C. Railroad to the water tank and took in a supply of temperance liquid to carry him back to Greenville. So this road is practically finished to Kinston.

A report is in circulation here that the purchase of the A. & N. C. road from Kinston to Morehead, leaving the section from Kinston to Goldsboro in the hands of the present management or with any "other fellows." That indeed would be an inglorious "gobbling up" of the "old mullet." At such a consummation, Col. Whitford might honestly shed "copious gushing" tears over the spoliation of the enterprise of his genius, his energy, his patriotism and his youth. For to him more than to any other man is due the conception and the building of the A. & N. C. Railroad, and if his counsels had prevailed, there would be, at this time, a great highway reaching from Morehead to the Father of Waters.

Cotton is coming in briskly. Jute bagging is almost exclusively used this fall. No cotton has yet appeared in white bagging. The staple was never known to open so fast, but during the whole time, from planting to harvesting, the weed has not had a single set back and hence is now ripe to full fruition.

Fatal Explosion at Newcastle, England—The Floods in France.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—An explosion occurred today on the steamer Pandora, at the Armstrong shipyard, Newcastle. Twelve persons employed about the steamer were so badly scalded by the escaping steam that they will die.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Further reports as to the damage by the floods are being received. The town of Annonay, in the Department of Ardèche, and the surrounding country have been inundated by the overflow from the Canez and Dozams rivers, and the damage is enormous. Factories are destroyed and bridges swept away, and the railways are damaged to such an extent as to make them impassable. The floods have been accompanied by loss of life. In Annonay a manufacturer and several women were killed. The waters are still rising.

Every tissue of the body every nerve, bone and muscle is made stronger and more healthy by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Sudden Death of Mr. E. M. Foscoe.

Mr. E. M. Foscoe, one of the most prominent farmers of Jones county, was taken with congestion of the brain Monday morning about 10 o'clock while attending to some business in his gin house, and died that evening about sundown, only eight or nine hours after the attack, and was buried Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Foscoe was about fifty years old. He was a thrifty, prosperous farmer, a kind hearted man, a good neighbor and an exemplary Christian; a member of the Episcopal Church. He represented his county in the last Legislature and has served several years as chairman of the board of county commissioners. He had $3,000 insurance in the Royal Arcanum and $3,000 in the Knights of Honor. He was also a member of the Masonic fraternity and was buried by them, Rev. T. M. N. George, of New Berne, reading the burial service. There was a very large attendance at the funeral.

Mr. Foscoe leaves a wife and four children, the oldest daughter, Miss Myrtle, who was at Greensboro Female College, was telegraphed for when he was taken ill and arrived home Tuesday evening.

Mr. Foscoe's many estimable qualities made for him a large circle of warm friends, and his death will be a loss to the community, and will be keenly felt by many.

New York Ledger.
The New York Ledger for October 4 is a mine of interesting fact and fiction regarding the South, both the New South and the Old. It leads off with a brilliant character sketch of Henry W. Grady, journalist, orator and patriot, written on the New South of Grady's life-work is luminously explained. A crisp editorial on "The Marvelous Revival of Prosperity in the South" tells its own tale. The Old South is pictured in the opening installment of a Kentucky war story entitled "Reunited," the product of a distinguished Southern officer. In "For Label," Marrice Thompon gives a vignette of ante-bellum life in Louisiana. James Parton tells the story of Cesar Rodney of Delaware. An illustrated ballad by Thomas Dunn English and a story by Mrs. Amelia E. Barr are published in the same number.

"A SUIT in New York for $30,000,000, which has been in litigation for fourteen years, was decided a few days ago by a verdict for six cents in favor of the claimant." That is about the way the Republican party will come out—possibly they won't get "a red" and will have the bills to pay.
