THERE are sensational reports of the mysterious disappearance of the Czar of Russia.

SOME grades of pearl Buttons have advanced 400 per cent. under the stimulus of the new tariff.

THE St. Louis Globe, leading Republican organ, says the Force bill is as dead as the Southern Confederacy.

WE are glad to learn from the News and Observer that the State Fair "has been a great success this year despite the horrible rain on Thursday.

THE Newport R. I. Daily News, hitherto strong Republican, has come out in favor of the Democratic candidate for Congress on account of the tariff issue.

ACCORDING to the New York Sun the difference between the Porter census of New York city and the police census is a matter of 146,000 people, about 8 per cent. of the population of that great city, and, at the present ratio, equal to one Congressman.

THE lower house of the Ohio Legislature has refused to pass the Senate bill giving the Governor power to remove members of the Cincinnati Board of Improvement, and providing for the election of a new Board next April—Thus is the reform efforts of a Democratic Executive thwarted by Republican legislators.

"A DISTINGUISHED scientist quotes statistics to show that the suicide mania is more prevalent in October than in any other month of the year. It does not seem easy to account for this. The delightful weather that we generally have in October should make life worth living, even to the most discontented."

MR. J. M. MEWBORNE, of Lenoir county, has announced himself as "a regular Democratic candidate for Congress for the Second Congressional district." Whatever preferences we may have had in the past, we are now heart and soul for Mewborne. Lift up the standard, and rally around it. Rally Democrats rally!

DR. EVERETT, candidate for Congress against Henry Cabot Lodge, said in accepting the nomination: "The passage of the McKinley tariff act and the customs administration act; the proposed force bill, in which your present representative is so largely interested; the pension legislation; the wholesale admission of new States, and the wholesale seating of members to increase their boasted majority; the autocratic conduct of their Speaker; the systematic endeavor to prevent the voice of the minority from being heard, form a list of proceedings on the part of the majority which, for alternate violence and servility, are quite unprecedented in Congressional history."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

E. W. CARPENTER—Notice.

COTTON.—New Berne market—Sales 149 bales at 8 3/4 to 9 1/4.

There will be a lecture tonight by the pastor at the Hancock Street Methodist Church.

Four entire editions of Allen's Forty Lessons in Book-keeping have been disposed of, and the fifth edition is now ready and the sale has commenced on that.

A musical entertainment will be given in this city one day this week by a class from Oxford for the benefit of the asylum at that place. Surely they will get a warm greeting in New Berne.

A visitor to the steamer wharves yesterday might well have imagined that the spring time had come, so much truck was being shipped. Hundreds of boxes of beans went off by both the O. D. and E. C. D. lines.

By regular schedule the mail train leaves Goldsboro for New Berne at 3.30 p. m., but it has been decided for it to leave one hour and a half later during the holding of the Goldsboro Fair, making the time of leaving 5 o'clock and the time of its arrival here 7.30 p. m.

Hon. L. J. Moore will address the people of Jones county on Monday the 27th day of October, on the issues of the campaign. E. C. Beddingfield, Secretary of the State Alliance, will address the people at Trenton, Tuesday, October 28th. We trust that every Alliance man in Jones and every non-Alliance man will attend and hear him.

Our agent, Mr. L. E. Duffy, who has recently completed a canvass through the Grifton section, speaks in high terms of the citizens of that thrifty little village and its surrounding territory. He was much impressed with the activity he saw going on and the prosperity following in its wake. If there is one section where the WEEKLY JOURNAL is more widely circulated and better paid for than another it is and around Grifton with Fort Barnwell closely following.

Crop Prospects.

A visit to Fort Barnwell on last Saturday enabled us to see the best cotton we have seen this season. Although most of the fields have been gone over, the plant is heavily laden with the fleecy staple. Such a crop has not been made in that section in many years, if ever before. We heard of farmers who have already gathered a bale to the acre and will get more. The corn is unusually good, and all crops taken into consideration. This is a year of abundant harvest.

Mr. Humphrey's Letter

Mr. R. W. Humphrey, writing from Carteret county about the public speaking at Newport, says that Mr. F. D. Koonce, the independent candidate from that senatorial district, made a fine impression in that section. From our limited knowledge of Mr. Koonce we believe him to be a man of ability and unusually well informed upon some questions that are of great importance towards the welfare of the country, but when Mr. Humphrey asserts that an independent can break into the ranks of the true Democracy of North Carolina and disrupt their future hope and safety, it has got to be done when the Democrats have committed a much greater error than when they put up T. E. Gilman for their standard bearer.

Mr. Gilman is also a man of ability. He has been tried, and the strongest endorsement that he was true to the people that elected him is his renomination. If Mr. Gilman is the faithful servant that we believe him to be, and the regular nominee of his party, Democrats can do nothing less than support him.

Again, Mr. Humphrey states that the position of Mr. Koonce was satisfactory to the Alliance. This is not in accordance with a card from Dr. C. Thompson, the Alliance lecturer from Onslow county, the home of Mr. Koonce. Dr. Thompson says that Mr. Koonce has no connection with the Alliance of his county and that he does not possess their confidence.

Is This Business?

To us it is with much regret to know that a large amount of New Berne capital has recently been invested in other portions of the State. We are not positive as to the amount, but believe that $80,000, and probably more, have been carried away from New Berne within the last few weeks and put in an enterprise somewhere near two hundred miles distant.

It is not for us to censure or dictate to any one in the exercise of their individual rights, nor is it for us to question the motives or judgment of these gentlemen, save from a public standpoint. In the first place it shows a lack of patriotism and love for home and its people. In the next place, if the gentlemen will pardon us, we doubt the wisdom of the movement.

We have no desire to over-estimate our resources and future prospects, but there are many indications that prove beyond all doubt that the business stability of New Berne is on a firmer basis today than since the war or probably ever before. Her increasing manufacturing industries, heavy commerce, building, painting, demand for houses, street and road improvements, the wonderful growth of our trucking interests and increase in farm valuation, the new railroad that is pushing on this way from the South that is to open up one of the finest sections of country in the State and form a direct line of travel North, and numerous other signs of life and activity that present themselves, is sufficient evidence to know what is in store for us and only awaits development. Do not understand us to mean that these developments are entirely dormant. We believe that the past twelve months will chronicle double the amount of new enterprises of any former period for the same length of time.

These gentlemen are expending their energies for the upbuilding of other sections at the expense of their place of residence, and at the same time with means, it is fair to suppose, that were realized from home patronage. They are among our very best citizens and have been successful in their individual pursuit of personal gain, but with us they are guilty of disloyalty to their native heath and the confidence our citizens had imposed in them as men of public spirit.

To look upon the flattering opportunities that surround us and draw a comparison with some others that have scarcely nothing except the pluck, determination, and unity of purpose of the people, it is too plain not to see and know why we are not outstripping any section in the State. Any one who has visited the New Berne Fair and seen such products as were exhibited from our rich and fertile soil, and sounds, rivers and creeks, cannot fail to realize that they are the fruits of a land that has been exceptionally blessed by nature; and why they have not been more extensively utilized is a question that is now beginning to solve itself.

Repeatedly have we spoken of the advisability of establishing new manufacturing enterprises, because they are paying all over the entire South with the very fewest exceptions, and the rule is that they are enlarging, running on extra time, and in many instances behind with orders.

Next Monday night there is to be a meeting of the Co-operative Manufacturing Company, and every business man in New Berne who has a spark of public enterprise about him should endeavor to be present.

Visit the Goldsboro Fair Today.

The following telegram was received yesterday by Mr. Chas. Reizenstein, the treasurer of our Fair, from Mr. Jos. E. Robinson, editor of the Goldsboro Argus, in regard to the Goldsboro Fair.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Oct. 21, 1890.
TO CHAS. REIZENSTEIN:—Grand balloon ascension to the clouds just come off. The most thrilling event ever witnessed in this section. Entirely successful. A headlong leap from the clouds. The people are wild with excitement. It will go up again tomorrow. Be sure and tell the JOURNAL, and bring everybody to see it. Fine races tomorrow.
JOS. E. ROBINSON.

Mr. Reizenstein made a partial canvass and succeeded in securing a party of a hundred people, among whom the fair sex is well represented, who have promised to attend today, and everybody else ought to do so who can, and we believe they will come back delighted with the trip, the exhibits, the races and the daring balloon ascension.

Goldsboro takes an active interest in our Fair and many of her prominent citizens attend annually, and it is well for us to return the compliment when the opportunity offers and help swell the crowd in attendance at their Fair. The rate is very low—only $1.70 for the round trip, including admission to the Fair. Take a day for pleasure, and go up and enjoy yourselves.

A Curiosity in Port.

Yesterday afternoon the schooner yacht Manatee arrived in port from Washington, D. C., in charge of Mr. J. W. Zellers, who has aboard two wonderful and rare curiosities known as the Manates, or Sea Cow. They weigh upwards of seven hundred pounds apiece and inhabit both land and water. In appearance the head is like that of a cow and the body is similar to the whale. They were taken off the Florida coast and belong to that order of animals that is fast becoming extinct. The scientific name of this odd creature, which will be on exhibition here a few days, is Trichechus Latirostris. That's right, pronunciation and all.

Energy Intelligently Directed.

We learn that Mr. J. B. Reel, one of the wideawake, go ahead farmers near Grantsboro, ginned eleven bales of cotton, averaging over 500 pounds each, in one day with one 60 saw Brown gin. That is a good day's work even with the improved machinery of the present day and indicates not only that Mr. Reel is a stirring man but that he brings his intellect to bear on what he undertakes, and equips himself with late improvements in implements and machinery which he keeps in such excellent order that when they are in use there is no waste of time owing to imperfections but everything being perfectly adjusted to its appropriate use all moves forward smoothly and the desired end is accomplished with facility.

Industry is ever a distinguishing trait of an agricultural population, and it is gratifying to see manifestations that this industry is not confined simply to routine work, performed in an automatic manner by methods in vogue during a former generation or even properly in use a few years ago but which ought to be and are now fast being superseded by the latest achievements of inventive genius.

The spirit of progress is not confined to cities but throughout the country there is a commendable spirit to keep fully abreast with the times and by well informed, wisely directed exertion to obtain the highest results from every effort made.

PUBLIC SPEAKING AT NEWPORT.

Simmons—Koonce—Gilman.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—On Thursday night, the 9th, our little town of Newport was made lively by the personal appearance of the little magnet of Eastern North Carolina, F. M. Simmons. His presentation of men and measures were forcible as they always are.

On the night of the 10th F. D. Koonce, the independent candidate for Senator of the 9th district, spoke upwards of an hour and a quarter upon the political issues of the day. Koonce is small in stature, anything else but a balloon, but as a debater he is one of the most powerful we have, which was fully proven at Newport. His arraignment of the two old parties for inconsistency and incompetency, and for their sins of omission and commission, was particularly strong and convincing; and his presentation of the objects and principles of the Alliance, was forcible and fully satisfactory to the members of the order and the large crowd which greeted him with enthusiasm and applause. His arguments and illustrations interspersed here and there with the opposite and spicy anecdotes, was simply grand and kept the crowd in full sympathy with him all the time. The enthusiasm was wonderful, and Koonce is a wonderful man. He will carry Newport by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. Gilman, the nominee, in the presentation of men and measures, seemed to meet the approval of his friends. R. W. HUMPHREY, Bogue, Carteret County, N. C.

The Secret of Libby Prison.

One dark night in February, 1864, more than a hundred Union officers escaped through the tunnel of Libby Prison, Richmond. The Confederate sentinel on guard at the time was true to the Southern Confederacy, and saw the shadowy figures as they emerged into the light of the street lamp, and yet did not challenge or fire upon them. It has long been a source of wonderment why he acted thus, and the real reason has never been made public. The true explanation is given in Nos. 40 and 41 of "The Holiday," which paper will be sent, on receipt of five cents, to any address in the country. Address "The Holiday," 19 Beakman street, N. Y.
