CALLED TO A PASTORATE.

Dr. Vass Elected Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Savannah, Ga.

The Savannah (Ga.) Daily News gives an account of Dr. Vass' call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of that city. We, in common with his congregation and the citizens of the community generally, will be sorry to lose him, but if he feels that the providence of God directs him to another field of labor, we must acquiesce in the decision. The following is a portion of the article from the News:

Dr. L. C. Vass, of New Berne, N. C., was elected pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Savannah at a meeting of the congregation held after the regular service yesterday morning.

Dr. Vass came over from New Berne the day previous and filled the pulpit yesterday morning by request of the church. His subject was "Drifting," and the text Hebrews ii, 1: "Therefore we ought to give the most earnest heed to the things which we have heard lest at any time we should let them slip."

After the regular services were concluded Dr. Vass retired, and the meeting was called to order for the election of a pastor by the Rev. R. Q. Way, of the Anderson Street church, it being necessary according to the church rules that a minister of the same presbytery shall moderate all congregational meetings for the election of pastors. Mr. Way was the only available minister, and after holding services in the Anderson Street church he came to the First church and opened the meeting as moderator.

The committee which was appointed to supply the pulpit during the summer and to recommend candidates available for the pastorate made its report, which was received and adopted. The report recommended that thanks be returned to the ministers who had given the church the benefit of their services during the summer and submitted the names of several leading ministers of the denomination for the action of the church.

A vote was taken and Dr. Vass received something over 100 votes. Fifteen or twenty scattering votes were divided among other candidates. Upon motion Dr. Vass was unanimously elected pastor of the church.

A committee of six of the oldest members of the church, three ladies and three gentlemen, was appointed to notify Dr. Vass of his election. The committee called upon him immediately after the meeting and received his acceptance of the pastorate.

It will be several weeks before he will be able to take charge, as the call will have to be prosecuted by the congregation both before the North Carolina presbytery and the presbytery of Savannah.

Dr. Vass is a man well fitted to fill the position of pastor to the church by which he has been chosen. He is a man not only of erudition, but of great observation, which he exhibits in his sermons. He is about middle age, of warm, genial temperament and a thorough student of human nature in all its aspects, which enables him to preach from knowledge and not from theory. He is a Virginian by birth, and studied at the Union Theological Seminary at Hampden Sidney, Va., and was a student there when the war began. He promptly enlisted in Stonewall Jackson's brigade and was with the brigade as chaplain throughout the war. He was frequently left in the ranks of the enemy with Southern prisoners, and in company with other Confederate chaplains was carried North with the prisoners and attended them in prison.

Since the war he has served faithfully as a pastor of his denomination at different places.

He comes here from New Berne, where he has been twenty-five years. He was sent as a delegate to the pan Presbyterian congress in Paris several years ago and has since traveled extensively in Europe. He is the author of several theological works of standard merit.

His elder son is now at Davidson College, N. C.

A DUEL TO THE DEATH.

Between two Young North Carolinians Who Loved the Same Girl.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Oct. 28.—Lemuel Allen, a young man of prominence in Ansonville, this State, accompanied Miss Grace Greene to a dance near that place last night, and while the affair was at its height, Julius Tyson, an old admirer of Miss Greene, called young Allen out of the room. The young man present knew that unfriendly relations existed between the two, and several of the crowd followed them. As they neared the place where the two young men had stopped, they heard them talking in a loud tone. They rushed up to them, but by the time they reached the spot, Tyson had his knife out and was literally chopping Allen. They tried in vain to separate the rivals, but they seemed bent on killing each other. Allen reached for his pistol, and with a steady aim, pulled the trigger. The ball took effect in Tyson's temple. Tyson fell to the ground dead. Allen made no attempt to escape, but went to the officers and gave himself up, saying that it was in self-defense, and his love for the young woman demanded that he should put Tyson out of the way.

Mr. C. Thompson, the Alliance County Lecturer of Onslow county, passed through the city yesterday en route for Carteret county to fill appointments there.

Reply to F. D. Koonce.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—I find a communication in your paper of the 30th inst., purporting to be from the various Alliances of Onslow county, denouncing the card of C. Thompson, Lecturer of Onslow County Alliance, also F. W. Hargett of Richlands Alliance No. 1877, as making a false statement in regard to Frank D. Koonce as an Alliance man. Now, Mr. Editor, I must acknowledge that when the Alliance of Richlands was first organized three years ago Mr. Koonce did join finally and was made County Lecturer. Afterwards his profession debarred him and he was requested to resign, which he refused to do, and had to be expelled. As for the names we find in his article we know a majority of them to be Gilman men. Now we ask, where did Mr. Koonce get these names? By misrepresentation—by getting them to sign some paper as Alliance men, not thinking what they were doing. Now we want the people of the Ninth Senatorial district to know that the Democrats and Farmers' Alliances of Onslow county will stand by and support Thomas E. Gilman, the nominee.

At the time C. Thompson's card was published, which is dated October 17, 1890, Mr. Koonce had not signed any pledge. He was asked the question at Pollocksville on October 18th, and refused to answer. If he has signed up to this time we know nothing of it. Having traveled through the county of Onslow I can safely say the only votes Frank D. Koonce will get will be those who claim to be Democrats but are disorganizers, and a part of the negro votes. And when the sun goes down on November 4th next, we, the Democrats of Onslow, will roll up a majority of five hundred for Thomas E. Gilman, Carteret, seven hundred and fifty, and Jones three hundred and fifty, where will Frankie be?

The President of the State Alliance and the Lodge Force Bill.

ATLANTA, Oct. 28.—A telegram received from Owensboro, Ky., today, states that in the course of a speech there Senator Carlisle read a copy of a letter purporting to be from L. F. Livingston, President of the Georgia State Alliance, to John Livingston, President of the New York State Alliance, in which the Georgia is made to favor the Lodge Force bill. S. F. Livingston is the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Fifth district. As soon as the telegram was shown to him, he telegraphed to Senator Carlisle as follows: "Hon. J. G. Carlisle, Owensboro, Ky.: The letter of John Livingston that you have read as being signed by myself, is an infamous and outrageous forgery, and as such I ask you to denounce it."

The letter referred to is being industriously circulated through Georgia.

Senator Vance in Shelby.

SHELBY, N. C., Oct. 29.—Senator Z. B. Vance arrived here at 8:40 this evening from Lincoln, and was met at the depot by about a hundred persons who escorted him to the hotel amid loud "hurrahs." The Senator made a short speech of thanks for the reception, and promised to "kill snakes" in his address tomorrow. He was somewhat hoarse.
