FOR every industrious man there is an idle one wanting to borrow money from him.—Athenian Globe.

It is said that within twelve months past $1,000,000 of outside capital has been invested in Norfolk.

A GHOST is causing trouble in the mining district of Wilkesbarre Pa. Perhaps it's the Republican party, recently deceased in that neighborhood.

AT the Thurman banquet Mr. Springer nominated Mr. Cleveland as the next President. The nomination was received with the greatest enthusiasm.

THE new Spanish Minister, Senor Miguel Suarez Guanes, formally presented his credentials to the President on last Friday. There was the usual interchange of courtesies.

COL. A. K. MCCLUE, of the Philadelphia Times has been to Birmingham. He says Alabama is the richest State in the Union in natural resources, and that Birmingham is the centre of her wealth and development.

"IN 1879 the negroes of Georgia owned property assessed at $5,182,398. Now it has reached $12,322,003. Nearly $2,000,000 of this increase came in the past year." Georgia is a Democratic State with a Confederate General at its head. Now let Reed howl over the oppression of the negroes by Southern Brigadiers.

SOMEBODY who met Jim at the Cumberland Club, Portland, asked Speaker Reed what he thought of the election. Reed answered: "Well, you know the Republican party always did like big things and always strives after big things, and this time it has surely got a big thing—the biggest licking it ever got in its life."—New York Times.

It is again said that Polk is to be run against Vance for the Senate, and that he will be elected by the votes of the Alliance and the Republicans. We do not believe it. Alliance Democrats will obey the instructions of their constituents and vote for Vance.

WHAT did it? McKinley says it was not the tariff; Reed says it was not on account of turning out Democrats, changing the rules and passing the Force bill. Truthful Quay says the Republicans were beaten because they did not get enough votes. Correct, Mr. Quay.

A hare and bound chase is being arranged to take place on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. C. J. Schoelky steamed up and started work at his dry kiln yesterday for the first time.

Governor Fowle has been informed by the contractors that the executive mansion will be ready for occupancy by the end of the year. He has, therefore, decided to hold his New Year's reception there. It will be the first public reception of the kind by a Governor in this State in 25 years.

The Baptist State Convention, now in session at Shelby, has re-elected Col. L. L. Polk president for the ensuing year, and Rev. T. H. Pritchard, Hon. G. W. Sanderlin, and Hon. W. A. Graham, vice presidents. Raleigh has been chosen as the place for holding the next State convention.

The foundations of Mr. J. R. B. Carraway's new residence are being laid. It will be a handsome two-story cottage of the Queen Anne style of architecture, well arranged and nicely fitted with modern conveniences. Mr. Herbert W. Simpson is the architect and Mr. J. A. Simpson the contractor.

It was quite lively for a while yesterday on Pollock street, near the store of J. M. Howard. There was a collision between electricity and gas, but the intervention of bystanders prevented much damage between the two light weights. For further light on the subject see our ex-Mayor or the manager of the Gas Company.

In fulfillment of the plan formed, the Y. M. C. A. week of prayer was followed by a union meeting of the various denominations in the Centenary Methodist Church Sunday night. There was a good congregation, the Association attended in a body—a portion of the church being reserved for them—and Rev. R. A. Willis delivered a grand sermon—animated, forcible and inspiring, that held the rapt attention of the entire assembly from beginning to end. After which Prof. G. T. Adams made a short explanation of the workings of the Y. M. C. A. International Committee and a collection was taken up for its use amounting to $30.15. The music was specially prepared for this occasion and was very fine, adding materially to the pleasure and success of the meeting.

The Flowering Orange.

Mr. R. Berry has received a collection of shrubs known as the flowering orange. It is of recent discovery and is attracting much attention among horticulturists for its beauty and hardiness. It is of handsome form, grows about four feet high, and the odor is the same as that of the bloom from the natural orange tree. It flowers through the entire summer and will live out doors all the year round. They are being adopted in the Northern States for parks, cemeteries, and other places as a beautifier.

Preparing for the Conflict of 1892.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 15.—In its weekly issue the Farmers' Advocate, the official paper of the Farmers' Alliance or People's party of Kansas, had the following to say of the future of the party: "We shall at once commence to marshal the hosts of the people for the conflict of 1892. In this great work there are many prejudices to be overcome. Sectional lines must be abolished. Interests which are identical must be brought together and the combined forces of the agricultural and laboring classes must be consolidated against the forces of corporations, monopolies, trusts, syndicates and moneyed aristocrats, who have for years feasted upon the substance of the people. The coming contest will not take place between the Northern and Southern sections of our country. The interests of the people of the West and the South are identical and their political forces must be consolidated against the powers of corporate greed. It has been and is a holy mission of the Farmers' Alliance to subdue the sectional prejudice which has been kept up by professional politicians in the interest of monopoly. It is full time for this nation to become united."

"Little Lord Fauntleroy."

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." How much are we reminded of this old and trite saying in reading the wonderful story by Mrs. Francis Hodgson Burnett of "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and its truth comes even with greater force when we look upon it as a play. The character of Cedric is so simple and natural we are drawn toward the simple child with a strange infatuation. The story was written for children and first appeared in the St. Nicholas magazine. But its beauties were soon discovered by the parents, and today "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is found in all well regulated libraries, and is standard as well as the works of Dickens and others. What a beautiful thing it is to see in children the many loving characteristics found in Cedric, the little lord. When Cedric is first made aware of the fact that money and power are at his disposal his first thought is for the poor and he not only thinks but acts. It will be presented at New Berne Theatre Thursday night, November 20th.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.
Since the independence of the American colonies was secured there has been no period of our history as a State in which Divine Providence has blessed us with more abundant returns for labor or indicated more clearly His purpose to preserve our civil and political liberties.

Now, therefore, that public acknowledgment of our gratitude to Almighty God, for His great goodness to us as a State and people, be made, I, Daniel G. Fowle, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 27th day of November, 1890, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise, and I earnestly recommend that the people of the State assemble on that day, at their usual places of worship, and return thanks for the great prosperity which has been vouchsafed to us and for us and for the innumerable blessings which we enjoy.

And that every heart may be gladdened, let us remember the widow and the orphan, the disabled soldier, the poor and the afflicted, whom He hath made dependent upon our care, and contribute liberally of our means to the institutions which have been organized in our midst for their maintenance.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the great seal of the State of North Carolina, at the city of Raleigh, this 11th day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, and in the one hundred and fiftieth year of our American independence.

DANIEL G. FOWLE.

By the Governor:
S. F. TELFAIR, Private Secretary.

Cedar Grove Cemetery.
The following is a copy of one of the pages of a pamphlet which Mr. W. H. Oliver is getting up, and which we are permitted to publish in advance:

Just across the road-way from the Fair grounds is

CEDAR GROVE CEMETERY.
This cemetery was opened in 1800 by Christ church, and in 1854 it was ceded by the church to the city authorities. It contains about twenty acres and is partly surrounded by a wall of conglomerate shell rock. The entrance is through a massive archway of this rock, and from the arch is a constant dripping of water, as if it were tears being shed for the dead. On all sides are handsome and costly monuments. Immediately in front of the main entrance on a swelling knoll is a monument erected by the Ladies' Memorial Association of Newbern to the memory of OUR DEAD.

This monument consists of a large block of granite for its base, and on it large blocks of marble, which is surmounted by a life-size statue of a Confederate soldier "at rest" on his musket. Beneath the monument in a large tomb are the remains of many of the Confederate soldiers who were killed in battle around Newbern, or who died in the hospitals. These remains were gathered under the auspices of the Memorial Association, over which the late Mrs. Elizabeth B. Daves presided, and placed in the tomb. On the 10th of May of each succeeding year our people, together with large numbers from the surrounding counties, assemble to pay their tribute of respect to the memory of our dead. After prayer, an address, and other appropriate services, we bend our way under the strain of solemn music to the cemetery. There, assembled around the tomb—"Tread lightly—'tis a soldier's grave."

"Tread lightly—for a man bequeathed, Ere laid beneath this sod,
His ashes to his native land,
His gallant soul to God."

And after appropriate services, and amid solemn music, the mound is banked with flowers.

"Cover their graves with choicest of flowers,
The rarest, the purest that grow."

Although never neglected, yet on the 10th of May, memorable as the anniversary of the death of the lamented Stonewall Jackson, these soldiers sleep under a bank of flowers. "They there rest—"

"On fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread;
And glory guards with rosemound
The bivouac of the dead."

"Yes, give me the land where the ruins are spread,
And the living tread lightly on the graves of the dead;
Yes, give me the land of the wreck and the tomb,
There is grandeur in graves—there is glory in gloom."

In front of this monument is one to the memory of

JOHN DAVES HUGHES,
who was drowned at Beaufort in 1879 at the destruction of the Atlantic Hotel at that place by a storm. In his effort to save the lives of others he lost his own.

"The fittest place for man to die
Is where he dies for man." O.

Judge Thurman.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 15.—Judge Allen G. Thurman wishes to acknowledge through the Associated Press the receipt of several thousand letters and telegrams of a congratulatory nature, which he received yesterday and last night from all parts of the country, and to which he finds it impossible to reply personally. He sends greetings, and assurances that he has never enjoyed better health or felt more buoyant than he has since the great banquet in honor of his 77th anniversary.

LA LIBERTAD, VIA GALVESTON, Nov. 15.—Advices received from Honduras are that Gen. Lanchez has been captured by the forces under President Bagan, and the revolution is probably at end.

Killed by Rev. Sam. Jones' Brother.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., November 15.—A special to the Times from Cartersville, Ga., says: Charley Jones, a brother of the Rev. Sam. Jones, shot Jim Young, colored, three times on Main street this evening. He died in twenty-five minutes. Jones is in jail.

It gets worse and worse for the Republicans in Michigan as the count is revised: The most that the Democrats had gained in Congressmen was supposed to be three, making the delegation stand six Republicans and five Democrats. Now it proves that Gen. Cutocheon is beaten in the ninth district and the Democrats have gained two more besides, making the delegation stand eight Democrats and three Republicans, with the eleventh district still in doubt. The party is having hard work indeed to find bottom out West—or anywhere else for that matter.—News and Observer.

The trustees of W. T. Blackwell will pay, on Friday next, the depositors of the Bank of Durham, a dividend of ten per cent., which will be the 100 cents on the dollar. This speaks well for the credit of our town, and the management by the trustees which enables the depositors to realize all of their deposits.—Durham Sun.

The Great Benefit

Which people in run down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver. 3

What Does It Mean?

The question is asked daily by people living in town and country what does all this mean that I see in all the newspapers and on hand bills of so many merchants closing out their stock at 10c., 50c., and 75c. on the dollar of New York cost. Now as I have had considerable experience in this line of business, I think I can explain it to those who do not understand in a way that they will be benefited. Now in a few words, and as short as possible:—

There is a man in town whose name is Big Ike, who is always on the lookout for some merchant who can't pay his bills, and gives him from 10c. to 50c. and 75c. on the dollar, that is, on a hundred dollars' worth of goods the highest Big Ike pays is 67c. on the dollar, and on a thousand $670.00, and the stock he has just received from Kinston cost four thousand dollars in New York THIS AUGUST, 1890, and only cost Big Ike two thousand and seven hundred dollars. Now I think every well-regulated man, woman and child will understand this explanation and at once see the advantage that Big Ike has over every merchant in Eastern North Carolina.

Now, my friends, this is not the only advantage that Big Ike has over the other merchants in buying; he has a great advantage in saying he is the only man in North Carolina that can say NO, hence the credit system is killed, and not one dollar's worth goes out of his store until paid for. The above plainly shows why Big Ike can afford to give for the next 30 days a 25c. present with every one dollar's worth of goods sold. Newbern, N. C., Nov. 14, 1890.
