THE RACE QUESTION.

A Strong Appeal by a Republican for White Supremacy.

[San Francisco Argonaut.]
 To most of our readers it must be plain that while we have nothing but kindness for the colored race, do not believe it is best for them to rule the white race, or to shape or color the policy of this government. What we are not willing to do ourselves, or have our neighbors compelled to do, we can not insist that people in other communities shall do.

We know full well, and so does every other man who reads this, that here in California we would not in any community submit to have our property taxed, and the taxes misused, and our courts presided over by negroes and Chinamen. Therefore we can not rejoice with those who wish to see such rule as we could not tolerate perpetuated in the negro States of the South. The mass of the white people of the South never owned slaves at all. Of the eight millions of white people who lived there prior to the late war, only about five hundred thousand owned slaves. These seven million five hundred thousand working whites—now become twelve millions—were hard working, poor people, just as they are all through the North. They never considered themselves on a par with negroes. They never admitted them, of their own free choice, to any kind of equality. They were not responsible for slavery in any form whatever. They felt it to be pretty hard on them—when they were not responsible for the sin of slavery, when they made a dollar out of it, but were kept poor because of it—that their brethren of the same class in the North, hard working farmers and laboring men, should condemn them to give these negroes work, feed them, clothe them, pay taxes to educate them, and at last to be governed by them.

The dominant element of the Republican party, led by Mr. Reed, insists that they must consent to be governed by the negro, and to give up in the race of attempting to achieve homogeneity as a nation with the North.

Are these white people, now numbering nearly, if not quite, twelve millions, to be degraded to the crib of the negro, or shall they be permitted to rule the South, and make it a vast section of the Union, filled with hard working, brave, free white laborers, and owners of small portions of the soil, such a people as the French are—the most patriotic and the richest of nations?

Shall the dream of the white people to become as their brethren are, be rudely dissipated? Shall they (because a few thousand whites held slaves) be doomed for all time to take their civilization in the wrong direction—from the negro as a ruler and a taskmaster?

Nowhere in any of the original free States has this matter of the homogeneity of the race that is to govern and give complexion to the laws, the government, and the habits of the people of the commonwealth been more fully discussed and pondered over than in California.

Here we have been brought face to face with the Chinese menace, and how did we feel with it? We never ceased to agitate their exclusion from the country until it was accomplished, and we are ready at any time to take issue with any who insist that upon principles of philanthropy and humanity we must acknowledge Chinamen as our brethren.

We all know that any man who dared to advocate putting Chinamen, even of education and wealth, upon the same footing as white fellow citizens, would be execrated by nine-tenths of all the people of this State. What we fear is that the Chinamen, being more economical, more willing to work on a cheap basis than white people, will underbid them in the field of labor, and thus render it more easy to make labor subservient to capital. That is one of the reasons assigned for our position, but the true one is that we are not willing to have them as voters, as officers, or as those having any sort of governing power over us.

It was not originally thought of in any of Mr. Lincoln's plans that negroes should be made voters, and, practically, so far as mere law could make it so, the rulers of the whites anywhere in this Union, it would have been far better for the general welfare of all concerned if the States in rebellion (admitting, for argument's sake, the white people thereof were not to be trusted) had been kept under military rule, and no voting allowed until the negroes had shown some capacity for honest government, rather than to have produced the carpet-bag government of the reconstruction period. All thoughtful men now agree that this was a mistake; that, at the most, restricted suffrage should have been given the colored people. Why then should we again by means of the force bill, endeavor to rule the whites by the negroes. Why not submit this question of voting to the people of each State, restricting their representation to the basis of their voting population?

Do we not know that the twelve millions of our brethren of the same race in the South are as much interested as ourselves in material prosperity and in satisfying the demands of their people? What have they to gain by war or race conflicts? Are they not better able, being upon the spot, to deal with all these questions than we are?

They know that slavery is gone, that to be prosperous they must become a people of diversified industries, and we see that they are daily moving upon that line. They are just as fully aware as we are that they must have peace or ruin in those sections where the negro outnumber them. Is it not, under these circumstances, safer for them and for the whole country to confide in native born, white Americans, for the most part our own kind and kin who want to assimilate the North to the South, and make a strong homogeneous nation, rather than to ignore them, and take for our allies the eight millions of negroes?

We must do one thing or other; run negro equality before the law down the throats of the twelve millions of the Caucasian race of the South, and make them even hostile and enemies, or we must let them settle the negro question. If let alone, are we to believe that, tried by the storms of adversity, and most of them turning utterly away from slavery and all that it meant as opposed to free labor—that this industrious improving, brave and essentially American people are incapable of fairly governing eight millions of blacks? The white are giving these people work, and food, and clothing; they are taxing themselves millions of dollars yearly to educate them; they are doing nothing against them, except protecting free white civilization against African ignorance. Upon which side will the whites of the North stand? Which is the best for the nation—that the majority of whites shall rule, or a majority composed of whites and negroes?

With malice toward none, we must say we believe in white rule. And we think the great Republican party would do better to go to its form position, and base the government upon white people primarily.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, Nauright, N. J.

CATARRH.
 Catarrh is a most disgusting ailment and yet many unnecessarily suffer with the disease. They will try local applications, which do no good whatever, but fail to try such constitutional treatment as is afforded by a use of B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) which removes the mucous poison in the blood and thus eradicates the cause of the disease.

N. C. Edwards, Lampassas Springs, Tex., writes: "I was greatly annoyed with catarrh which impaired my general health. The discharge from my nose was very offensive, and I used various advertised remedies without benefit until finally the use of B. B. B. entirely cured me. I am proud to recommend a blood remedy with such powerful curative virtue."

B. C. Kinaré & Son, Towaliga, Ga., writes: "We induced a neighbor to try B. B. B. for catarrh, which he thought incurable, as it had resisted all treatment. It delighted him, and continuing its use he was cured sound and well."

It has been suggested that Congress at its coming session should not merely fix the number of Representatives for each State, but should also from the several Congress districts. Aside from any party consideration, this is as unobjectionable a suggestion as ever was made on the subject of apportionment. Beyond the mischief of this plan is the consideration that the States have always exercised the right of making their own districts for Congress; and they should never surrender one of the attributes of their sovereignty.
