DOING is a great thing. For if resolutely people do what is right, in time they come to like doing right.—Ruskin.

MANY a man prays "Lord, increase my faith," when the prayer ought to be, "Lord, stir me up to make some good use of the little faith I have."

GOD counts silence, inaction, and indifference among mortal sins. The blood of a thousand million souls will be required of this generation.—A. T. Pierson.

GOD regards a saint in rags more than a sinner in robes. The whole of the crumbling tabernacles now occupied by his people will soon be leveled with the dust; but it matters not, since "he hath prepared for them a city."—Jackson.

EVIDENCES of the inaccuracy of the Porter census are of almost daily occurrence. The police census in Brooklyn will increase the population of that city about 40,000 over the Federal census of June last.

ENDEAVOR to find out what gifts God has imparted to you, and set yourself to work with them; and whether the door may be wide or narrow, whether it be in your power to benefit many or only few, if you do the work which God in his providence has given you to do, you will at the last hear your Master say of you, "He has done what he could."

"THEN they that feared the Lord spoke often one to another; and the Lord hearkened and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord and thought upon his name. And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels."—Mal. 3:16.

JOHN WESLEY once sent a five-pound note to a poor preacher, with the text, "Trust in the Lord and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed." The preacher replied that he had often admired the text, but never had seen before so useful an expository note upon it.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Wilmington and New Berne railroad is now laid to within five miles of Jacksonville, and the bridge over New river at Jacksonville is being built and its construction is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

The Goldboro Argus says: "That renowned hunter, Mr. John R. Overman, of this county, whose 'luck' is phenomenal, reported to us yesterday that on Monday he shot into a drove of black birds and killed 71, besides crippling at least 25 others. Next."

There was a destructive forest fire in the vicinity of Sander's Store, Carteret county, Thursday night. The loss in turpentine, fences and buildings amounted to $2,500. There were no residences destroyed, but persons living in the vicinity were compelled to fight fire all night long.

Messrs. Watson, Daniels and Bell sent up from Morehead yesterday a cargo of fish scrap, fish oil and 1,200 sides of porpoise hide. The fertilizer factory of Messrs. E. H. & J. A. Meadows will use the fish scrap, and the oil and porpoise hides will be shipped to New Jersey by the E. C. D. line.

Dr. L. C. Vass will make his last appearance in the Presbyterian pulpit under the present pastorate at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The services will take the form of an address, especially to the young; but not to the exclusion of adults. It will be in harmony with the morning discourse and adapted to all who may attend. Dr. Vass and his family will leave for Savannah Tuesday morning.

The Raleigh State Chronicle, editorially, very ably calls attention to the necessity of North Carolina doing something decided, so as to be well and fully represented at the World's Columbian Fair. The Press of this State should continually keep the matter before our people, and let us be known on that occasion, bringing fruits worthy to stand in comparison with all the world's productions.

The elegant passenger steamer Neuse, which has just been built for the E. C. D. line by the Harlan & Hollingsworth Co., will be turned over by them to the owners next Tuesday, and is expected to leave Wilmington, Dal., the following Monday and arrive here Thursday after next. She will bring out a party of Northern gentlemen when she comes.

Mr. T. A. Green returned last night from attending the meeting of the directors of the Oxford Orphan Asylum in Raleigh, to elect a successor to Dr. J. T. Harris, who died last week. They elected Dr. W. S. Black, who has been the presiding elder of the Raleigh district and associate editor of the Advocate, as superintendent, and appointed Dr. B. F. Dixon, who was superintendent before Mr. Harris, to oversee the Asylum until Dr. Black could take charge.

The Lime Kiln Enlarged.

About five years ago Mr. J. V. Williams and another gentleman started a small lime kiln at the foot of German street to manufacture shell lime for agricultural purposes. They made about one ton per day. A year later Messrs. W. P. Burrus & Co. purchased the kiln and immediately enlarged it so that they could make three tons per day. Ever since then the kiln has been kept continually running through the oyster season, at which time the shells could be easily obtained, and the demand for the lime has been keeping so far ahead of the capacity that it has been found necessary to enlarge again, and the burning capacity has just been increased to twenty tons per day and the storing sheds are also being enlarged to about two and one-half times their former size. The kilns are constantly running and Mr. Burrus expects to make two or three thousand tons this season.

The lime is a splendid fertilizer and is especially beneficial to certain soils and crops and as our farmers find it out they are inclined to use more and more of it.

The success that is attending Messrs. W. P. Burrus & Co. in thus utilizing one of our common latent resources and converting it into a useful and valuable article of merchandise is but an illustration of what might be done in various lines of manufacturing and is an additional evidence in support of the claim we have made before that if a man would invest his money here in any manufacturing industry that he understood and pay the same attention to it that he would to a mercantile business that it would prove a profitable financial investment and assume larger proportions. Keep the ball rolling. We hope many others will follow the example of Messrs. W. P. Burrus & Co.

Ought Not Thanksgiving Be Observed? Mayor Battle, in accord with the action previously taken by the President of the United States and the Governor of North Carolina, has issued his proclamation requesting that our citizens duly observe next Thursday as a day of Thanksgiving and that employers so arrange their business as to give their employees an opportunity to do so. We hope that all our business places will remain closed the entire day and devout thanks be rendered to our benefactor and our Creator for his protecting care and manifold blessings so richly showered upon us as individuals, families and New Bernians, and upon our State and country. And let us remember from our abundance any neighbor in less fortunate circumstances than ourselves, and especially those worthy, charitable institutions in our State, that provide for the bereaved little ones left without a tender parent's care.

No loss accrues to business men by letting clerks and other employees have an occasional holiday. And a day like Thanksgiving should be kept by everybody. We intend to close our office that day and give the entire JOURNAL force liberty to observe it as they choose.

Sport for Thanksgiving Day. The managers of the hare-and-hound chase on Thanksgiving Day desire to give notice that no formal invitation is needed for participating in the chase. The conditions of the run will be the same as governed on former occasions, and will be announced before the start.

The meet will be at the crossing of Broad and Hancock streets. The start will be promptly on the strike of 12 o'clock m. Every one joining the hunt will be expected to report to Capt. Manly at the place of meeting fifteen minutes before the time of starting. Already six ladies have declared their intention of joining the chase, and many more are expected. An appropriate prize will be given the winner as a souvenir of the occasion. Boys on ponies and ladies on horses will be given an advantage in the start. No postponement on account of weather.

Personal. Mr. N. C. Hughes left yesterday morning for Wilmington, Delaware, to take a position as purser on the steamer Neuse, which has just been constructed for the E. C. D. line and will arrive here on the 5th of December.

Mr. F. L. Pittman, chief engineer of the new railroad, was in town yesterday on business connected with the road.

A HORRIBLE SIGHT.

JAMESON EXPLAINS HOW THE FEAST OF CANNIBALISM OCCURRED.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Jameson writes the papers requesting them to insert the following letter from her husband, who died a fortnight after it was written, and was therefore unable to take further steps by which he intended to clear his character of the charge of instigating cannibalism. The letter, which is dated Stanley Falls, August 31, 1888, and is addressed to Chairman McKinnon, of the Emin Relief Committee, describes Assad's statements as false, and says: "On arrival at Ribaruba the chief invited me to his residence, where I witnessed a native dance, which Tippoo Tib said was usually followed by a cannibal feast. I expressed myself as skeptical about this; whereupon another Arab described the cannibalism. It was a horrible story, and I declared it to be impossible. The Arab retorted: Give me a bit of cloth and you will see. I thought it was a mere ruse to obtain a gift, but I gave the cloth. Then followed the most horrible scene ever witnessed. The whole thing happened so quickly that it would have been impossible to sketch it, even if I had wished to do so. Furthermore I had nothing to sketch with. The small sketches I made were done in the evening in my own house. The girl never looked for help, and seemed to know that it was her fate. How the girl was obtained I do not know. I will send all the particulars obtained by witnesses as promised. I enclose Assad's retractions, which says that the story of my buying the girl was based on a misunderstanding."

BONNY'S REPORT.

Bonny's official report, published by the Times, is dated at the Arab village of Unaris on the Aruwih river, July, 1888. Bonny says that after Stanley left the Arabs followed him closely, attacking villages as Stanley departed from them and capturing the natives. He does not know whether or not Stanley was cognizant of this.

An Evicted Tenant at Home.

The Herald of Tuesday, on the same page with its three column account of the Irish meeting records, oddly enough, the following: "Henry Bluesey walked into the Eldridge street station house last night accompanied by his wife Susan, and asked the sergeant in charge to oblige him and his wife with lodgings for the night. Bluesey said he had been out of work for sometime and yesterday morning was dispossessed from a furnished room which he had occupied at No. 43 Hoyt street, Brooklyn, for non-payment of rent. He stated that he had paid out his last five cents for a loaf of bread which he and his wife ate. The couple spent the night in the station house." That same night $37,000 was given to the Irish. How much for Bluesey? The Herald printed Bluesey's case simply as a news item, without comment. An Irish landlord would not have dared to put that man and his wife out into the street without first notifying the authorities so that he might be taken care of. I wonder how many evicted tenants lie underneath the dark waters of the rivers that gird this little island of Manhattan. But we do so love to pick the bones of other people's eyes while neglecting the beams in our own. There are more people right here in the United States unable to pay their rent than there are in Ireland.—Statesville Landmark.

Rev. Tom. Dixon, Jr., on the Election. The Rev. Thomas Dixon, jr., in his talk at the Y. M. C. A. hall yesterday, said:

"The election on Nov. 4th last was a genuine surprise. It was more than a tidal wave, more than a cyclone, more than an earthquake, it was a political Johnstown. The flood of the people's rights overwhelmed their oppressors. The victors were so amazed that they forgot to shout, and the defeated have not yet enough recovered from the shock to know what struck them."

"From the election we learn several things; that ballot reform has come to stay; that hereafter people will not bow down to party lines; that the era of principles has dawned on the last of the 'bosses.' The policy that has laid the people under more taxation than does the standing army of European countries is overthrown and completely routed."

"The election has determined that New York is not the pivotal State, and that, instead of the slums of New York City controlling the country, the centre of power has traveled from the green grassy hills of New England to the broad plains of the West. This also indicates the downfall of Tammany Hall, for which God be praised. It has been a severe lesson to the great leaders, McKinnon and Ingalls, that the people will hereafter choose what is right and best for themselves. In short, it was an uprising of a people that had stood tyrannical and oppression long enough."

A New Comet Coming Into View.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 19.—Prof. Chas. N. Thornburg, professor of engineering at the Vanderbilt University, night before last found the comet which was first seen in Colombo, Italy, on Nov. 1. He says he telegraphed Harvard College, and that he received a reply that he was the first astronomer in America to discover it. The location of the comet is as follows: Its right ascension is 33 degrees, 10 seconds, and its declination is 33 degrees, 37 seconds north. It is the comet "E" of 1890, and will be visible from the earth for several months and probably to the naked eye before long. As it is now the nebula is visible.

Proclamation.

Whereas Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States, and Daniel G. Fowle, Governor of North Carolina, have issued proclamations setting apart Thursday, the 27th day of November, 1890, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise, therefore

I, Cullen A. Battle, Mayor of the City of New Berne, earnestly recommend that the people of this city assemble on that day, at their usual places of worship, and return thanks to the great Creator for His wonderful goodness to us as a people.

It is especially recommended that all business houses be closed during the hours of worship, and that such freedom be allowed to employees as will enable them to observe the day as designed by our National and State chief executives. On this day of thanksgiving let us remember the poor, and carry blessings to sorrowing hearts and desolate homes.

CULLEN A. BATTLE.
