He calls first on the Alumni, but, in so good a work, all citizens should take part. We understand that $35,000 is wanted, and that of this amount $27,000 has been subscribed.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

J. W. KNOTT—New junk store

COTTON—New Berne market—Sales of 129 bales at 8 to 8 1/2.

MR. C. E. FOY, who was elected two weeks ago, was installed as Elder in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Craven County Gun Club will meet this evening at eight o'clock. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance is to be transacted, besides the regular annual election of officers.

The Hancock Street Methodist Church, in response to the request of the Ladies' Missionary Society, are observing a week of prayer and self-denial. There will be meeting every night this week at 7:30 o'clock.

Owing to the calm weather which prevented their sailing as fast as loaded the fleet of oyster boats that furnish Messrs. Moore & Brady with oysters got bunched up and nearly all arrived here yesterday. There were about thirty of them, having ten thousand bushels of oysters aboard. This house is now putting up more oysters than all other packing houses in North Carolina combined, and though they are working hundreds of hands they need still more to enable them to carry on their vast business.

The steamer Nettie W., built for the river freight trade by Mr. T. G. Dixon, jr., and owned jointly by himself and Messrs. C. T. Watson and W. R. Guion, was launched a few weeks ago and has just been finished up. She makes a nice appearance in the water with her light green cabin trimmed with vermilion and hull painted with venetian red. She will make her trial trip tomorrow and the inspectors are expected out here Thursday, so the will in all probability begin running regularly next Friday.

Judge Whitaker is holding court for his first time in New Berne and he has impressed us as the right kind of a man to sit on the bench. It is often that judges do scarcely more than adjourn court and charge the jury the first day but if Judge Whitaker drives ahead on the docket as he did Monday and every other judge would do the same, there would be a great saving in expense to the counties and time with those who are called from their business to court.

Mr. J. U. Smith was made foreman of the grand jury, the charge to which was a good one.

Personal.

Mr. J. C. Whitty left yesterday morning for a Northern business trip.

Mr. Louis Angell left for Wilmington, Del., to take the position of second mate on the new passenger steamer Neuse of the E. C. D. line.

Mrs. M. D. Nelson left to visit relatives in Paris and to take a European pleasure tour.

Miss Johnes Whitford left for Milton to be a bridesmaid at the marriage of Miss Maggie Wilson, daughter of Dr. John Wilson.

Mr. Chas. Cowardin, editor of the Richmond Dispatch came in last night for a visit to his old college chum, Mr. Clem Manly.

Hon. F. M. Simmons, of Winston, is in the city attending Superior court.

Miss Norah Richardson is visiting Mrs. Addie Gaskill.

Mrs. J. D. Taylor and children are visiting friends in the city.

Col. Peter Mallett, a large cotton buyer of New York, is in the city.

End of Dr. Vass' New Berne Pastorate.

The services at the Presbyterian Church were the closing ones of an exceptionally long and harmonious pastorate, the longest in the history of that church, Dr. Vass being the only pastor the church has had since the close of the war. He preached his first here on the first Sabbath in July, 1866, twenty-four years and five months ago, and he leaves the church much stronger than when he became pastor. The roll of members at that time numbered only 40, and 11 of those did not reside here, so that the membership in town was only twenty-nine and only four of those were males, Messrs. Alex. Miller, sr., Alex. Latham, Chas. Slover and Geo. Allen; the two first mentioned gentlemen are now dead and the last one moved away, so Mr. Slover is the only male member left of those who belonged to it when Dr. Vass came here. Since that the average number of new members joining has been about ten each year; the total number during the time was 283; 126 have been lost by deaths and removals, leaving the present membership 157, the largest to which the church has ever attained, twice as large as it had in its palmiest days before the war and four times as large as it was when Dr. Vass came.

Financially the church makes the following excellent showing: Since the first of January of the present year it has raised $457 for general benevolent purposes besides meeting in full the pastor's salary and church expenses, the church has given over $11,000 to general benevolent work since Dr. Vass took charge and the total collections for all purposes during the same period was $60,000.

Dr. Vass is a very intellectual man, and is one of the foremost ministers of the Southern Presbyterian Church, and has received marked honors during his ministry. Orange Presbytery, to which the New Berne church belonged, has sent him four times as a commissioner to the Southern General Assembly. He was a delegate from the New Berne Branch Alliance to the World's Evangelical Alliance, which met in New York in October, 1873; a representative of the North Carolina Presbyterians at the Presbyterian Council in Philadelphia, in September and October, 1880; a commissioner from the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly to the Ecumenical Presbyterian Council in Belfast, Ireland, in June, 1884; one of the representatives from the United States Evangelical Alliance to the World's Evangelical Alliance, that convened in Copenhagen, Denmark, in September, 1884; a delegate from the United States to the Pan Presbyterian Council which met in London in 1888, embracing every branch of the Presbyterian church throughout the world, and was one of the four eminent ministers appointed by it from the Southern Presbyterian church to the Western Executive Commission which is for the continent of America.

Seldom, if ever, is the pang of parting between pastor and people so keenly felt on both sides as in this instance. Nearly a quarter of a century of the best years of Dr. Vass' life have been spent in charge of this church. He has seen many accept Christ under his teaching. He has mingled with all, and shared with old and young the joys and their sorrows, has been ever ready at the call of trouble, has stood by the bedside of the sick and the dying, both by day and by night, ministering the consolation of religion at times of affliction and bereavement as tenderly as a woman, has seen old members of his flock pass away from earth and their places taken by others who have grown up from infancy and married under his ministry. Here he himself married. Here the angel of death removed from him his aged mother and several of his little children. Many are the ties that bind him to this place, many are the tender memories that cluster round it, and equally strong are the ties of love that bind the congregation to him. It is with sorrow that Dr. Vass leaves. It is with heartfelt grief the congregation sees him leave. But a broad field of work has opened for him, duty calls and he is ready.

It is gratifying to know that his new surroundings will be such pleasant ones, a large and influential church in one of the most delightful Southern cities, affording a grand opportunity for usefulness, and the church is to be congratulated in securing a pastor so amply qualified to fill the position as is Dr. Vass.

Two Thousand Men Trying to Reach Tellers' Windows in a N. Y. Bank.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The run on the Citizens Savings Bank continues. Two thousand depositors who want to draw money are in line and they are pushing and pulling to get to the paying tellers' windows. The police are busily engaged in preventing a stampede. All the demands of the depositors have been met so far.

A Fine Sermon.

As previously announced, the pastor, Rev. L. L. Chestnut, delivered a sermon Sunday night on "The Leading Features of the Doctrine of the Church of Christ," a denomination generally known as Disciples. There was a large congregation present, and their undivided attention was given the speaker. It has been our pleasure to hear Mr. Chestnut a great deal for the last ten months, the time he has been in New Berne, and, able as has been any of his past efforts, the sermon Sunday night stands pre eminent. The text was from Col. 1:18, and ably was it taken up and unraveled. So plain and concise was the argument produced that to us it seemed impossible to discover a single point for disagreement. His assertions were all based directly on the Bible, and fully sustained. There was nothing vindictive or offensive to any one, but it was a clear, bold, determined and uncompromising fight for what he believed to be the teaching of the Holy Book.

The case of petition for a writ of habeas corpus, granted by Judge Armfield and returnable before him at the late Jones Superior court, and by consent of council for both parties, was transferred here to be heard by Judge Whitaker, was heard and determined.

The object of the petition was for the mother to get possession of her child from the reputed father, Doc Cooper. Judgment was rendered in favor of Cooper with privilege granted the mother to visit the child. L. J. Moore, Esq., appeared for Cooper.

Oklahoma Bank Failure.

GUTHRIE, Oklahoma, Nov. 21.—The Commercial Bank of this city, which is the largest bank in the Territory, made an assignment late last night for the benefit of creditors, to the sheriff as assignee. The proprietors have all left town. The failure involves all that many of the depositors have. A large crowd have stood about the building all day. Orders on the receiver are tacked upon the doors of the bank in great numbers. The failure was caused by the failure of the Newton (Kansas) National Bank a few weeks ago. Liabilities and assets cannot be ascertained. A run was made on other banks this morning, but upon showing ample funds depositors were satisfied and the panic stopped.

Dillon and O'Brien Criticized.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Six members of a local branch of the Irish land league have united in issuing an address criticizing the methods and motives of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien that will attract wide attention among the friends of Ireland. It goes so far as to charge they fear to have an Irish land league here to which have to account for money subscribed by Irish Americans and that they have endeavored to stop the raising of money to prepare for the impending famine in Ireland for fear that it would interfere with their purposes.

DISCIPLES' CONVENTION.

From a Report of the Virginia Convention of the Disciples, held in Richmond, Va., Nov. 12, 13, 14.

One of the most pleasing events of the convention was the reception of the fraternal greetings from the Virginia Baptist Association, which held its annual session in Richmond during the time of our convention. Dr. James Nelson came into our convention on Thursday night bearing these greetings, and was introduced by Judge Good. His remarks were tender and touching. He said: "We stand together in the defense of a common faith," and he desired a closer unity among the people who were thus set for the defense of the gospel.

Colonel Cary responded to Dr. Nelson in a well timed address, after which the large audience joined in singing: "Blest be the tie that binds Our hearts in Christian love."

On Friday Colonel Cary bore our fraternal greetings to the Baptist Association, and his reception is thus described by the Richmond Dispatch:

COLONEL CARY RECEIVED.

Rev. Dr. James Nelson reported that as the representative of the general association he had received last night a hearty greeting at the hands of the Virginia Disciples. He recognized in the house Colonel John B. Cary, who came to bear the greetings of the Disciples to us.

The association rose to their feet as Colonel Cary was conducted to the platform and introduced to the Association. He made an earnest and eloquent speech, in which he urged that the highest citizenship of the centuries was that in the "commonwealth of Israel," and expressed his gratification that the belligerency of other days between his people and these had ceased, and his earnest hope was that the day might come when they should be one in reality as he hoped they now were one in heart and "one in Christ."

Rev. Dr. J. S. Felix being called on by the president, made an eloquent response, in which he reciprocated the fraternal regards of his brother, and prayed God's richest blessings on him and his people.

At the close of the remarks of Dr. Felix a brother struck up "Blest be the tie that binds," and a large number of the delegates crowded forward and gave Colonel Cary the hand of Christian fellowship.

The scene was a touching one, and seemed to produce a profound impression.

It is gratifying to know that the great bodies of the Baptists and Disciples are coming into closer sympathy with each other. May the Lord hasten the day when they shall be one people in the Lord.—Missionary Weekly.

EX-PRIEST BOYLE.

The Goldsboro Headlight says: "Ex-Priest J. J. Boyle has been heard from again. Not from a monastery in Scotland as generally supposed, but from a Catholic tribunal in Rome, Italy, which he has been summoned to disprove the charges made against him by the Catholic clergy of the West. Boyle with his usual brazenness had the audacity to write to Bishop Haydn in this State, to send him a letter of recommendation in order to prove his good character while in North Carolina. This information we received from Justice Barbee, of Raleigh, a prominent member of the Catholic Church there."
