OLD PAPERS for sale in quantities at JOURNAL OFFICE

MEETINGS are to be held all over Ireland today to express their alliance in Parnell.

The prompt declaration of Col. Polk that he favors the reelection of Mr. Ingalls is very gratifying.

FRENCH hostility to Germany is shown in the refusal to allow the importation of Dr. Kapp's lymph.

So far as we have learned Thanksgiving Day was very generally observed throughout the country. This is especially true of the South.

DAVITT has published an appeal to the Irish people in which he says if Parnell remains at the head of the party there can be no hope for Ireland.

I HAVE known many persons destroyed by accident spirits who were never completely intoxicated during the whole course of their lives.—Dr. Benj. R. K.

The Richmond Dispatch, of the 28th, comes to us in mourning on account of the death of Henry K. Ellison one of the founders and proprietors of that paper. He was a highly honored citizen and died respected by all.

The Farmers' Alliance are determined to make war upon sectionalism and its advocates wherever they may show their heads. In this, at least, the Farmers' Alliance deserve the support of moderate men of all parties.—Philadelphia Record.

It is a glorious thing to be on the right side, to know that one's ways please God, and to walk in paths of righteous ness, upheld by the faith of Christ and the power of God. The Lord stands by the men who are content to stand with him, though they stand alone.

The Washington Star exclaims: "By the shades of Jackson, will it never end? Municipal elections yesterday in Dover, N. H., and Providence, R. I., indicate further Democratic gains." "Never, no never, hardly ever," until Republican misrule becomes impossible.

The Northern Neck News has the following: Wanted—Immediately, if not sooner, two hundred physicians of undoubted skill to come to the Northern Neck and try and stimulate the remaining fragments of the Republican party. A steady job from now on. A feeling for suffering humanity prompts the above.

JUST at present there is a general protest against the correctness of the census returns. Just wait until the mortgage statistics are in, showing the conspiracy to make people prosperous in spite of their indebtedness, and every paper that is now condemning the superintendent will be found declaring his figures beyond suspicion.—National Economist.

A ROANOKE, Va., dispatch, of Nov. 27, says: Mrs. Clara Spencer, wife of H. B. Spencer, a carpenter who came here a few months ago from New Berne, N. C. died Tuesday night from an overdose of morphine, taken with suicidal intent. She made an unsuccessful attempt in the same manner on Monday. She was a handsome woman and had been married to Spencer about three years. Her first husband, according to her statement, was Captain Benson of Norfolk, a seafaring man. A note from her to Spencer indicates that jealousy led her to commit the act.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS
DANCING CLASS.
W. H. OLIVER—Accident insurance.

COTTON—New Berne market—Sales 33 bales at 7.50 to 8.25. Sales for the week, 674 bales against 433 same week last year.

The Ladies Auxiliary is planning for a "doll show," to be held about the 15th of December, for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A.

Messrs. Moore & Brady's immense canning factory will be lighted through-out Monday night and afterwards by electricity.

"Christmas Chimes" is the name of a holiday edition to be issued as a supplement to the JOURNAL. One whole page will be illustrated with ringing bells enclosing a mortised space in which small advertisements can be inserted.

A telegram was received by Mr. W. H. Oliver yesterday morning announcing the death of Col. George W. Collier, who died at his home in Goldsboro yesterday morning. Col. Collier was one of Wayne county's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens.

We see from an exchange that our former townsman Maj. Wm. A. Hearne will commence the publication of the Pilot at Winston on the 13th of December. It will be a weekly of twelve pages, devoted to "industrial, commercial, educational, scientific and mechanical subjects," "comprehending the whole field of human energy and endeavor." Maj. Hearne has the good wishes of many friends in New Berne. He is a fine writer and the State ought to have such a paper as he proposes.

Poisoned.
Mrs. M. Makely's sister, Mrs. M. Havener and Miss Gracia Havener, of Alexandria, Va., who have been visiting Mrs. Makely, returned home, yesterday.

Signing Radical Bonds.

The county commissioners hold their regular monthly meeting Monday that is the time for the Republicans who have been elected to county offices to give their bonds if they can. While we believe the commissioners will treat them with perfect fairness we do not believe that they will accept a flimsy, imperfect, unreliable bond, and if the Democrats refuse all aid it will be difficult, if not impossible, for them to furnish a good one. Why should any Democrat assist a Republican in this way after voting against him? We see no difference except that the bonding is a greater favor, is a greater violation of Democratic principles and is doing vastly more to rivet the fetters of Radicalism upon us than any man's vote could do. We believe that without Democratic assistance they cannot qualify for the offices. Therefore it still rests with the Democrats to say which party shall control the county. We hope that not one Democrat can be found in the county so recreant to the welfare of his party as to put his name for any amount on any Republican's bond.

Get Ready for the Fair.

Not a week passes now without the Fair ground race track being brought into use by those owning fast horses having friendly contests of speed and practicing for the races to come off during the Fair. Yesterday morning the track was occupied by Messrs. J. W. Stewart, W. C. Willett and G. N. Ives, and some interesting trials of speed and skillful handling of horses were witnessed by those present. Remember there will be races every day of the Fair, and the aggregate amount of premiums offered on races is larger than was ever offered before by any Fair in the State. They are well worth practicing for.

Mr. B. H. Scott has in his front store window on Middle street a handsome fifty-two pound pumpkin that he is going to take good care of and exhibit.

Mrs. S. E. Stanly showed us yesterday a beautiful Japanese persimmon raised by Dr. W. J. Montford, of Ward's Mill, Onslow county, that measures three-quarters of a foot in circumference. The tree is said to be filled with fruit equal to this specimen, and some still larger. Dr. Montford ought by all means to pick out a number of those persimmons and put them carefully away for the Fair.

Are our farmers and others doing all they can in the way of saving exhibits for the Fair? How often, as a visitor making his inspection of what is at a Fair, do we hear the statement made, "Why, I could have shown something that would have surpassed what they have got in a certain line." Reader, has that ever been the case with you? If so we hope for better things from you next time. Think of the Fair right now; keep it in mind and get together everything you can that will help to make it interesting.

Exhibit something at the Fair, even if you cannot show much. It will be a credit to you to take that much interest, and will be of benefit to the Fair and will help that much to bring this section into notice. Competent judges are giving us the credit of having the best Fair in the State, and let us again fully sustain that reputation.

Greater preparations are being made for the coming Fair than was made for any of its predecessors, the railroads have given us better rates than ever before—only one cent a mile—and the Fair is to be extensively advertised. The managers have authorized the issuing of a special illustrated edition of the WEEKLY JOURNAL of five thousand copies, and six thousand show display circulars of three sizes, each one handsomely illustrated and printed in ten different colors have been ordered from Cincinnati and will be used in every town in the State. The size for store windows is 15x40 inches, and the ones for public resorts—hotels, post offices, etc.—measures 33x60, which is the largest that could be procured. The premium list is in the hands of the printers and will be ready in about ten days.

We may safely count on a tremendous throng of visitors, and let us bend every energy to show them something worthy of the Athens of North Carolina.

The World's Fair.

Mrs. Chas. Price of Salisbury has been appointed a vice-President of the World's Fair to be held at Chicago in 1893. She is the daughter of Mr. Asa Roberts, formerly of New Berne, and is a niece of Messrs. Geo. H. & E. B. Roberts and is an able, active worker.

We hope North Carolina will not fail to make use of the opportunity that this Fair will present of enabling us to show to the world the wealth of resources that we possess. Begin in time so that the Old North State will stand among the foremost.

Carteret County Items.

Carteret is a great one for raising fine horses and ponies.

Curtis Taylor sold a fine mare pony last week to Mr. G. W. Smith of Onslow for $150.

Mr. Furny Taylor has just finished his new dwelling near his father, on the sound, and it is a model house.

Dr. J. W. Sanders leads in fine hogs we believe. He pens his hogs the year round, starts them on melons in the summer and never lets them get poor.

Mr. B. F. Taylor has some of the largest short leaf pine timber in the county we reckon; some of these logs measure 4 ft. in diameter, 40 ft. from the butt.

Mrs. M. Prescott aged mother of the wife of our esteemed county man and successful farmer Mr. J. M. Thomas died last week at the advanced age of 80 yrs. She was a good woman.

Billy Bell has a mare and colt that he says he thinks of carrying to the New Berne Fair. They are both very fine stock, the mare makes a mile on dirt road inside of three minutes with heavy buggy. The colt is the prettiest animal we have seen in the county.

Our people are getting interested in the railroad business. The citizens will meet at Stella on the 4th inst. on mass to show why the railroad should go by Stella instead of another route, we understand that Capt. Terry will guarantee $50,000 worth of freight per year to the road provided it will tap that place.

Two deaths in Onslow last week. Mr. W. I. Gillet a highly esteemed young man on New river, died with consumption aged about 28 yrs; he leaves a young wife and one child. The other death was an old colored man named Holiday Sanders, a former slave of the late Col. J. N. Sanders and probably the oldest man in the county, and perhaps in the state, he was known to have been 107 years old and might have been some older.

We have had a terrible fire the past week in our community, in which several thousand dollars in property were consumed. The principal sufferers were, Messrs. Alex. Dennis, Shepard Bell, Jas. Pickett, Cicero Parker, and Jno. Taylor. Others suffered, losses not known. Mr. Bell lost his stables and barn, Eli Sanders and S. J. Sanders like to have lost their dwelling houses. It was very dry and the flames leaped upwards like lightning seemingly to the height of several hundred feet, catching a distance of a half mile away. Turpentine and turpentine trees were the principle losses.

Shooting Scrape in Jones County.

Early Monday morning Mr. Chas. Andrews went into the yard of Mr. James Cox, in the upper edge of Jones county, near Bonus post-office, while Mr. Cox was cutting wood. A dispute arose and Andrews called Cox a d—lie. Cox ordered Andrews out of his yard. Andrews attacked Cox and got the axe from the latter and tried to cut him with it, but Cox dodged the blow. Andrews' father was present and got hold of his son and pushed him out of the yard. While in the public road Chas. Andrews again cursed Cox and threw a cart round at him. Cox went in his house, and got his gun and ordered Andrews to leave, which the latter refused to do and again cursed Cox, who then shot at Andrews but missed. Andrews continued to curse Cox, who shot at him, hitting him this time and Andrews went down in the road following murder.

The above facts, we are told, came out at an investigation before Justice Hamilton Monday evening at Bonus.

Both parties were bound over to next term of court in sums of $200 each. Only a few bird shot struck Mr. Andrews and he was not seriously hurt.—Kinston Free Press.

MARRIED.

Mr. J. P. Haskitt and Miss Kate D. Miller were married last evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. G. E. Miller, Rev. I. Harding officiating.

A couple drove up in front of Mr. R. C. Hill's residence and wanted a similar knot tied uniting them, which Dr. Harper proceeded to do in his usual expert style. The couple were Mr. T. J. Laughinghouse, of Craven county, and Mrs. Louisa R. Barrum, of Lenoir county. They were married while sitting in the buggy, and drove off as soon as the ceremony was performed.—Kinston Free Press.

At the residence of Mrs. M. A. Russell, the mother of the bride, last Wednesday morning, Nov. 26th, at 11 o'clock, Miss Carrie Russell and Mr. Oscar Durant, of Brunswick county, by the Rev. T. C. Lovin.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party retired to the dining hall, the table was superbly decorated and bountifully but delicately spread. After partaking of the good things before them, the happy couple left for the groom's home in Brunswick county, accompanied by myriads of good wishes from their many friends and acquaintances. J. J. Explanation.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—It is true that I made an affidavit that certain property was only worth fifty dollars according to my idea of estimating its value. It is true that it was alleged that this property could be proven to be worth more. But before this was ever proven myself and the contending party withdrew the case. It is true that a note contredire was entered of record in the case. Now, to those who know not what note contredire means, and are so deeply interested in the matter, I invite you to ask some little school boy. The argument was, we both quit contending and be friends and neither one speak in any way except that become a gentleman to speak of another. It is a lie that Mr. Palmer received any money from me in the settlement of our differences. It is also an infamous lie, and the one who tells knows it, when it is said I relinquished any indebtedness held against Mr. Palmer. It is also another intended infamous lie, when the gas bag blower says, I made any overture to settle this matter of difference except such as become a gentleman, and a wise man. Everybody on earth, saving and excepting a few fools, know full well, that it is far better to live in peace with all mankind, if possible. It is true, I signed a little paper, the meaning of it is that all our differences, are now ended. If we have settled all our differences in good faith, why not let the gossipers know it to their own satisfaction? It is true another paper expressive of the agreement. Nothing that I have signed will hurt. But suppose I had signed a paper, that the sun should shine no more; do you suppose the sun would cease to shine? If the street tattlers, blowers and gossipers would stop to think, they would see, that I am clear out of their sight, and they will never during their life get where I am now. I paid last year nearly $200 taxes. I pay my debts. I treat everybody right. I think it is about time all the blowers attend to their own business and get something to shelter them from the stormy blast. Because God made me your superior intellectually, I can't help it.

EDITOR JOURNAL: It is true, that there will be more people in Hell, who unjustly treated and spoke of me, than any man who ever lived: Who gives the widows, orphans and the poor in general more than I do? God knows I do more good deeds than one hundred of the street blowers, and misconstruers, etc. If God was not for me, why is it I get along so well and you don't? If I am so wrong why is it I get along so much better than you? You are good, why is it time are so hard with you? Why keep on whipping the devil around the stump? Come and own the corn, and say this, "Yes, I don't like Mr. Smith, because he can get along and make money and I can't." Kind friends, the only way for you to throw me off my guard is to seemingly be my friend, then I would not be so watchful. Suppose a plan by arrangement could have been agreed to between the powers, that were 1776 and 1861 would not this been much better? Mr. Palmer is to pay all that he was to have paid. The settlement is a manly one and I can't see anything in it to hurt me. You forget, that you are telling me, that I am a very important man, when you take my name for dinner, supper and breakfast. It is an infamous falsehood, that I agreed, offered, or even that any such thing was spoken of, to discharge Mr. A. F. Moore as a part of the compromise, and those who say so know it. If one individual citizen has the power to do all you say he has, then North Carolina should blush at her unlinked—exalted—judicial glory. I have enough to last me the remainder of my life, if I don't make another dollar, while that class of people who don't fail to dine on my name have not got enough to last them until Saturday night. I am safe and perfectly contented, and in fact I am always happy but when bread is scarce, and when times are hard, I am of all men most miserable. But if a wrong has been done me in this settlement, or any other matter, since I have been in New Berne, I know that the wrong will burn like a ball of fire in the bosom of the wrongful doer, and the same wrong will serve me as a blessing coming from God Himself.
