MR. GLADSTONE has replied to Parnell's manifesto.

WHEN a big dog gets into a little dog's back yard. See Parnell and Davitt.

THEY do say that Red cannot be balledhead than ever, and wears vengeance on the Democrat.

THE Indians have again begun the ghost dance, this time in connection with the regular winter dance.

IT is said that McKelvey is to go to Russia. Many a working man hopes the bear will catch him and hold him. He squeezed them, and it is nothing but right that he be squeezed too.

"THE threshing machine manufacturers of the United States are forming a mammoth trust." The Democratic party is the great threshing machine, and in it the people put their trust.

THE Berlin Government intimates that the secret of the Koch lymph will not be given to the public for some time. The English college of physicians will not use it so long as it is kept a secret.

"MICHAEL DAVITT says Parnell is furiously angry with a majority of his party." Michael Davitt is delighted with the course of Parnell, because he rightly regards it the only hope for his own elevation.

MUCH has been written about woman in politics, but the wisest advocate of woman's rights never dreamed of her accomplishing such results as followed her discovery that prices had gone up on account of the tariff. A hundred thousand voices ringing out "John, I told you so. Things are riz," did the business.

THE Eastern World is not only disturbed politically but physically, also. All over England severe frosts and heavy snow storms have prevailed. In the valley of the Danube earthquake shocks have scared the inhabitants from their homes, and throughout Bohemia floods have risen and torn away aqueducts, bridges, shops and dwellings, carrying ruin to hundreds.

CONGRESS is in session, but at this writing we know nothing of its doings. The question of the hour is, "Will the Republicans continue their revolutionary tactics and try to pass the Force bill in the Senate and the new Apportionment bill in the House." Two courses are open to them. They can manfully confess their errors and seek to amend them, or they can "harden their hearts and stiffen their necks"—and "be utterly destroyed and that without remedy."

At a regular meeting of the Rough & Ready hook and ladder fire company the following officers were elected for the year 1891: S. J. Taylor, Foreman; D. H. Kinney, Assistant Foreman; Providence Bryant, Engineer; Richard Wilson, Treasurer; Arthur Farrow, Captain of Hose; J. W. Whitfield, Secretary; Jas. Lucas, Janitor.

Owing to a similarity of names, Capt. Isaac Powell, col., the principal of Powell's military school, received a letter, containing a five dollar bill, from the post office supposed to be addressed to his sister, but which was discovered when opened to belong to another person. With commendable honesty they immediately made diligent inquiry for the true owner and did not desert in their efforts until their search was successful. Take warning and if you send a valuable letter write the address plain.

The pupils of Vance Academy are practicing with diligence for the entertainment which they are to give in the theatre on Friday night, the 19th of December, for the benefit of the Oxford and Thomasville Orphan Asylums. An extravaganza, "Uncle Sam's Dream," that will occupy about three-quarters of an hour, is one of the prominent features. The "Uncle Sam" of the play is the character who represents the United States. The entertainment will conclude with a comedietta of high order entitled "Aunt Jerusha's Mistake," in which only the larger pupils will take part. Prof. C. L. Gaskill is taking great interest in training the pupils for the occasion, and a nice entertainment may be expected.

Bonds of County Officers.

The county commissioners reassembled yesterday and continued the work of examining into the bonds offered by E. W. Carpenter, Clerk of the Superior Court; Geo. Green, jr., Register of Deeds; R. P. Williams, Sheriff; H. J. Lovick, Surveyor, and A. G. Oden, col. Coroner. They disapproved them and appointed the following persons to fill vacancies thus created: W. B. Lane, Sheriff; Jas. W. Biddle, Register of Deeds; J. E. Wilcox, Surveyor, and Dr. F. W. Hughes, Coroner.

As the Superior Court Judge of the Second district holds the appointing power when a vacancy occurs in the clerkship, the board ordered the chairman to notify Judge Phillips that such a vacancy existed.

In a case like this it is but simple justice that the opposing candidate, Mr. Wm. Watson, who bore the labor and brunt of the campaign, should be the one appointed to the vacancy. Though there is nothing rendering such a step obligatory we think the fact that he was selected by the Democrats of the county as their nominee and worked zealously for the success of the ticket entitles him to the appointment, and we believe we would be borne out in this opinion by nine tenths of the party in the county, and we hope Judge Phillips will take these facts into consideration and place Mr. Watson, who is thoroughly qualified to fill the position and is the choice of his party, in the office.

The commissioners also examined and accepted the bond offered by the recently elected notables of the various townships.

Messrs. L. J. Moore and Clement Manly acted as counsel for the board and Mr. M. D. W. Stevenson represented Messrs. Carpenter and Green.

Death of Ex Mayor Howard.

Mr. Isaac S. Howard has been ill for some weeks past, but not enough to excite any alarm among his friends, and he did not appear any worse yesterday morning, consequently it was a sudden shock to our community when the news began spreading rapidly about eleven o'clock that he was dying. Alas, the news was true. His heart began failing near that time and in about an hour he was dead.

Mr. Howard was born in Portsmouth, N. C., on November 1st, 1821, making him 69 years old. His father moved to New Berne when he was about six years old, and he has resided here ever since, with the exception of about three years during the war when he moved his family to High Point.

Mr. Howard possessed a good mechanical head, and was an industrious, progressive man. He accumulated property and engaged extensively in ship carpentering, cotton ginning and grist and saw milling. He was, in conjunction with Mr. Amos Wade, the originator of the ferry now run by Mr. J. L. Fowler. During the war he was engaged in building gunboats for the Confederate government at White Hall on Neuse river.

He served the city for a number of years with ability as councilman and mayor, making one of the best that we ever had. He has also been active in church work in the positions of trustee and steward. He was a member of the building committee when the Centenary M. E. Church was remodelled, and owing to his experience in such matters he rendered valuable assistance. He was the prime mover in recovering the Hancock Street M. E. Church from the parties who used it for such a long period after the war, and after possession of it was again obtained he took a prominent part in raising funds to put it in order and in having a church organized there, and has rendered it substantial assistance since its organization.

Mr. Howard leaves a wife, a son, a widowed daughter, Mrs. J. P. C. Davis, who lost her husband last Saturday, several grand-children, and two brothers, all of whom live in the city.

The funeral service will take place this afternoon from the Centenary Methodist Church at 4 o'clock, but owing to sickness in the neighborhood, the bell will not be tolled.

The Steamer Neuse

Mr. Geo. Henderson, agent of the Eastern Carolina Dispatch Line, left yesterday morning to join the new steamship Neuse of that line at Norfolk.

The Neuse left Wilmington, Del., Monday and arrived at Norfolk yesterday; will reach Elizabeth City today and leave there for New Berne tomorrow morning, arriving here tomorrow night sometime.

The Neuse brings out a party of Northern gentlemen on this her first trip, several of whom are prominent railroad and distinguished business men. On Friday morning these gentlemen will be driven through our truck section, viewing the fine exhibit our truck farms make, and later in the day will, by special train, be taken to Morehead City, from thence to the beach, and other points of interest. It is hoped that these Northern railroad gentlemen will be interested in Morehead City and seek to influence some of the enormous patronage of Long Branch, Cape May and similar Jersey summer resorts, to gravitate this way when the ocean breezes are sought.

After the return of the Neuse from conveying the visitors North it is, we believe, the intention of the E. C. D. people some day early in next week to give the people of New Berne and vicinity an opportunity of testing the excellencies of the new boat by a trip to the mouth of Neuse river and return. Of this we will be enabled to speak more definitely later on.

Col. Geo. W. Collier Dead.

The Goldsboro Argus gives the following tribute to the memory of Col. Geo. W. Collier, a brother-in-law of Mr. Wm. H. Oliver:

A life spanning three quarters of a century and measuring all the years of Goldsboro's history, from her earliest hamlet to the present hour of her broad domain and massive structures, has gone out in our midst. In the quietness of the sleeping chamber the soul of one of our oldest citizens passed on yesterday morn into "the dreamland of man's sublime destiny."

Col. Geo. W. Collier is dead. This is the sad intelligence that confronted our citizens when they came forth from their homes Saturday morning to meet their daily duties, and it filled all hearts with sorrow inexorable, for he was universally revered and beloved. He was in the 76th year of his age, and leaves a wife and five grown children, three sons and two daughters, who will feel their loss most keenly, for he was ever a devoted husband and loving father. But it is not their lot to "mourn as those who have no hope." With the eye of faith they can follow him out "beyond earth's sight" into the blessed light of God's unveiled face, where the pledge of the Saviour of mankind is fulfilled, that He will give His beloved rest.

The funeral of Col. Collier was held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from St. Stephen's Episcopal church, of which he was a member from the formation of the parish, and was largely instrumental in the erection of that beautiful edifice.
