BUTH'S ADDRESS TO NAOMI.

вети 1; 16, 17.

'Entreat me not to leave thee," dear! Ah whither should I go? A victim to tormenting fear: To wretchedness and woe.

Return from following after thee! What e'er may me betide; So great an evil may not be To wander from thy side.

I could not live without thy love. Thy sweet, thy cheerful smile; The world to me a blank would prove, No joys could me beguile.

"Whither thou goest" I will go; I' I see no other way, Not all the pleasures here below. Shall tempt my feet to stray.

'And where thou lodgest,' I'll abide "Thy people" mine shall be; I ask no earthly good beside -To love - be loved by thee.

Thy God" - "I am;" - "Jehovah "Lord"

"My God" shall ever be; The Holy Ghost;" - "The Logos; "Word. The blessed Trinity.

And "I will die;"-"when thou hast died; "And then I'll buried be; 'If aught but death," do us divide, "The Lord do so to me,"

And in the grave we'll sweetly rest Till God shall bid me rise; And then triumphant with the blest, We'll meet him in the skies

Ah! the secret is they sim to please. It is an effort in many in stances for them to smile, and were it not for a desire to look pleasing and pretty many would 'never smile again.' Why? Because in a large majority of instances they don't feel like smiling. They feel more like crying.
