The Convention at Asheville.

As had been anticipated, the Inter-State Immigration Convention, is a large and deliberative body, and represented from nearly every portion of the South and other places. It is more than probable that it is the largest assemblage of the kind ever held in the United States, and will no doubt work THE Raleigh Chronicle says that good results in the near future. The following telegram was received on

Miss Marie Pernet, formerly teacher of French at St. Mary's, Raleigh, now of Little Rock, Arkansas, who has been THE Washington correspondent visiting Miss Nannie Roberts, left yes-

Such statistics as he is collecting will form a separate volume of the census reports. It will give as full and accurate information as can be obtained by a ressonable amount of research on the local finances of incorporated towns and cities, showing their receipts and expenses, from what sources their revenue is derived, taxes, licenses, etc., and what way it is expended.

It will also give the bonded indebtedness of the various cities and the amount of their floating debts, and shows whether there is a sinking fund and what it amounts to each year and what is the amount of taxable property and the rate of taxation on each.

THEY DECIDE AGAINST THE CALL FOR A TRIRD-PARTY CONVENTION.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 16 .- At a meeting in Jacksonville last night attended by General Master Workman Powderly and John Davis, members $1,000. elect of Congress from Kansas on behalf of the Knights of Labor; President Polk, National Lecturer; Will Etts member of the Election Board, S. Dard well, of North Dakota, and others of the Farmers' Alliance, it was decided to have no convention at Cincinnati February 28d, as had been arranged. It was decided that the call for the Cincinnati Convention should not be formally issued, but that instead, a conference committee of five from each of the organizations appointed should be held some time in February, which should go over the ground carefully and, without taking formal action, practically decide what course of action should be pursned. This is a decided victory for the con servative element among the third party men,
