GOV. HILL says he will not be a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

THE Silver men are confident. They expect to pass their bill in both Houses.

PRESIDENT DAVIS' mansion in Richmond, has been formally conveyed to the Ladies Confederate Library Association.

WE congratulate brother Latham upon his re-election to the office of reading clerk of the House. An honor most worthily bestowed.

DON CAMERON has been nominated by the Republican caucus of the Pennsylvania Legislature for re-election to the United States Senate.

GENERAL MILES' suggestion that a number of Indian reservations be placed under military control has been approved by the President.

THE Economist and Falcon have united, Mr. Creasy being the editor. The JOURNAL congratulates all parties and wishes abundant success to the enterprise.

IN many sections of the country winter grain in fine condition has been covered with deep snow, which is considered very essential for the harvest yield. The longer the snow remains on the ground the better for the wheat and rye fields.

A RECENT correspondent of the New York Tribune writes from California: Four thousand carloads of oranges will be sent East this winter, an increase of 800 carloads over last season. The first carload shipment of oranges this season went from Northern California.

THE officers of the N. C. House of Representatives are R. A. Doughton Speaker, James M. Brown, of Stanly, principal clerk, H. A. Latham, of the Washington Gazette, reading clerk, A. H. Hayes, engraving clerk, H. E. King, of Onslow, door keeper, George L. Kilpatrick, of Lenoir, assistant door keeper.

THE friends of the Force bill censure the Vice President for not being in the chair on Monday when Senator Stewart made his motion to take up the Finance bill. These fiery gentlemen should reserve their censure, for how could the Vice President know what was coming. Besides, after a little they may know enough to censure themselves.

THE Wilmington Star says: It is said that some of the Alliance men elected to the Legislature in Kansas have resigned, alleging as a reason that they resent the system of espionage which has been established by the Alliance to see how they vote on the Senatorial question. Perhaps these are some of the fellows who want to vote for Ingalls, and don't like to be watched.

THE Raleigh Correspondent of the Messenger says: Your correspondent carefully scrutinized the faces of the members of the Legislature last night and today. It is a good body, of earnest, settled men. Nearly every one is of middle age. There are remarkably few old men or young ones. They are nearly all country men and are well, though plainly dressed. There are only three colored men in the House and one in the Senate.

SENATOR INGALLS, who is at heart opposed to the Force bill, was recalled, by order of Senator Hoar, from his canvass for re-election for no good whatever. As a natural consequence he is in no good humor either towards Hoar or the other advocates of the Force bill. Ingalls intends to return immediately to Kansas to look after his "fences" and it is quite safe to predict that even should another attempt be made to revive the Force bill he will not, at least until after the Kansas Senatorial contest shall have been settled, respond to any appeal in its behalf.

Judge Seymour postponed his decision on the yacht and schooner case until today.

There was a basket party at Havelock last night for the benefit of the Methodist Church.

The new revenue cutter Winona was expected to sail for New Berne yesterday morning. In all probability she will arrive here tomorrow.

On account of Rev. T. T. Baker being unwell, he will not be able to fill his appointment at the Baptist Church tomorrow. He is at Fort Barnwell.

A good number of Allen's Forty Lessons in Book Keeping were shipped Thursday to different parts of this State and to Michigan and Nebraska.

The Kinston Free Press says that so far 314 hands have left that place for the turpentine fields of Georgia. The A. & N. C. R. R. taking off 176 of them and the W. & W. branch 138.

Fabio Romani is a drama of exciting and thrilling interest. Its presentation at the theatre last night was met with a warm reception by an attentive audience. It numbers among the best performances ever given in New Berne.

Rev. C. G. Vardell conducted the services at the Presbyterian church last night. He is an accomplished gentleman with fine intellectual powers, and preaches practical, impressive sermons. He will conduct the services at the Presbyterian church tomorrow. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Messrs. Latham & Burrus having added hardware to the line of goods which they have been handling, are doubling the size of their store to accommodate their increased stock, by having a connecting door cut between it and the one adjoining, thus throwing the two into one. The intention is to keep the small shelf goods in the part which they have heretofore occupied and larger articles in the part which are just adding.

Raffling for turkeys has been a favorite amusement with some of the New Berne young men recently. One of the set who loves a practical joke procured a buzzard and announced another raffle to take place. When the game was decided, the proud winner proceeded to take possession of his newly acquired property. The look that overspread his countenance when he discovered the nature of the bird was indicative of anything but pleasure. Who got the buzzard?

COUNTY EXHIBITS AT THE FAIR.

Let Every Adjacent County Compete for the $50 Premium.

The Kinston Free Press is stirring up the Lenoir county people in regard to the importance of their showing to the world the excellenced magnitudes of their county's resources through the medium of a select, diversified exhibit at our coming Fair, compiled with judiciously used advertising matter by such articles as the following:

The New Berne Fair will be held Feb. 23, 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28.

The following gentlemen are vice-presidents of the advisory board for Lenoir county: W. L. K. Mundy, L. Harvey, D. Wood, J. N. Mowborne, J. W. Granger and A. R. Miller. The Free Press hopes that, if all meet together and see to having an exhibit of products from Lenoir county at the Fair.

If a creditable exhibit was gotten up it might do the county considerable good. We hope our carriage factories, knitting factory and all the farmers will send samples of the products of their labor to the Fair. It is time for Lenoir county to wake up and let the world know of her resources.

The advisory board for this county should meet together as early as possible and talk the matter over.

Lenoir could make a double exhibit of timbers, marble, etc. products, and many other things. If this exhibit was gotten up it might be said to have a short write-up of the county printed and circulated throughout the Fair, as there will be many people there from a distance, some home-coming. This write-up should list the products of the towns of Kinston and Lenoir, for manufacturing, etc. the number resources of the county, the substantial advantages, giving some of the yields of the past season, the advantages to truck farmers, etc. We believe it would do good.

Gentlemen of the Advisory Board, will you take hold of this and try to do something for the upbuilding of your county? If you will the Free Press will endeavor to do every very possible thing to make it quicker! If any of you wish the Free Press to call we will do so with pleasure.

That's right, brother Herbert, wake 'em up, make things lively and do not let them get quiet again until it is an assured fact that your people are going to make a rousing county exhibit and secure the $50 premium for the best one if they can. Even should you miss the premium, the beneficial results flowing from such an exhibit as Lenoir county can make would amply repay you, and is, after all, the strongest reason for making an fine one as possible.

Not only Lenoir, but Wayne, Wilson, Greene, Pitt, Washington, Tyrrell, Dare, Beaufort, Hyde, Pamlico, Carteret, Jones, Onslow and every other county in this vicinity ought to compete for this premium, and no only ought there to be county exhibits, but good individual exhibits from all of them.

Our Fair has taken the lead in this portion of the State, and while it is located in New Berne, and from that cause is generally allowed to as the New Berne Fair, it should not be considered simply a New Berne Fair any more than the Fair should be considered a Raleigh Fair because it is held in Raleigh. It is meant for the entire eastern section of the State and it behooves every portion of it to take advantage of the opportunity offered to bring each important neighborhood into favorable notice.

Good Work—Advertising the Fair.

Rev. Edward Bull, who has just finished a little tour of duty, and distributing the same, and talking for our Winter Fair, saw that about fifteen hundred miles passed through forty counties, looked after the posting and circulation of some three thousand or four thousand bills, saw a large number of newspaper men, and obtained a favorable notice in nearly all the papers published in the area traversed.

He found those people who had attended one or more of our former Fairs and were pleased and would come again; and lots of others who had heard of it from the one who had attended and were pleased in anticipation, and said they would come. He met with no adverse criticism whatever.

For the Fair.

Lieutenant Governor Holt has sent to Mr. William H. Over for exhibition at the Fair samples of the various goods manufactured by him. Let every cotton and woolen manufacturer send samples and there will be a display ahead of any which has ever been held. If you make a piece time send a sample, if plaids, sheeting, suitings, bleached goods, knit goods, any and everything manufactured of cotton or wool, send it and let the people see what the South can do. Don't wait until just before the time but send right away.

SANTA CLAUS IN SUNDAY SCHOOL.

A MERRY CELEBRATION AT THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The following clipping from the columns of the Savannah News, giving an account of the Christmas festivities at the church of which Dr. L. C. Vass is now pastor, will be read with interest by our readers:

"The children of the First Presbyterian church had a Christmas tree at the church last night. The exercises consisted of songs and responsive readings. There was also an address by Dr. L. C. Vass.

The presents were distributed by Supt. H. F. Train, assisted by a very lively Santa Claus, whose appearance caused great merriment among the children.

The tree, with its decorations, was a pretty sight. The presents were numerous, and a large number of children were made happy by being remembered.

At the close of the distribution Santa Claus presented Dr. Vass, for himself and Mrs. Vass, a handsome silver service from the congregation. The present consisted of a carving set, with silver handles, a set of table spoons, a set of dinner forks, a set of dessert spoons and forks, and a set of teaspoons, all of solid silver.

Dr. Vass returned his heartfelt thanks to the congregation for their kindness. In behalf of the school he presented Supt. Train a gold fountain pen with pencil attached, a handsome token of his appreciation by the school. Mr. Train thanked the school very feelingly.

The celebration closed with a general distribution of oranges.

Sallie Doe in Heaven to Her Mother on Earth.

My mother, I am safe up here
In Jesus' loving breast,
And tho' you loved me very much,
He knows it is the best
For you, for me, for all, that I
Should leave the easy nest
You made for me at our hearth-stone
Upon thy faithful breast.

Mother, do not regret thy child
Should join the angel band
Before you; and the other hearts
That love me understand
Why angel death should come so soon,
And take me from thy arms,
While you were happy with thy babe
In all her infant charms.

I have a mission, mother dear—
Thy baby, Sallie Doe,
An angel tho' she be in heaven,
Will visit thee below;
I'll meet thee at the twilight hour
In humble, holy prayer
For grace to heal thy wounded heart.
Yes, mother, I'll be there;

And should you hear a heavenly voice,
'Tis Sallie Doe that sings,
And calls thee to a higher life
By touch of angel wings.
Tell father, brother, sisters too,
To live pure, useful lives,
And I will come for them when death
Shall call them to the skies.

You must not grieve that I am gone,
Your little one is blessed
In having missed the ills of earth,
And gained the heavenly rest.
O could you view the wonders here,
Wrought by redeeming grace,
Thy soul would burst her earthly bands
To reach this glorious place.

And now, sweet mother, let thy faith
Rest in the Holy Word,
'Thy sleep in Jesus, and are blessed
Forever with the Lord.
