We are decidedly in favor of Solicitors receiving a regular stipulated salary.

EVERYBODY likes to have a V. Democrat will have four in the Senate. Vance, Vest, Voorhees and Vilas.

SOMEBODY has enquired, "Are you in favor of Revolution if the Force bill passes?" The Force bill is revolution.

THE country is to be congratulated on the election of Gov. Hill to the United States Senate. His ability is great and his influence commanding.

W. M. F. VILAS, Postmaster-General under Cleveland has been nominated for U. S. Senator by the Democratic members of the Wisconsin Legislature.

ACCOUNTS of terrible suffering from cold in Europe continue to arrive. Even in the South of Spain, where the winter is usually mild, many have died and the distillation is very great.

It is said that the German educational requirements are too exacting. Recently quite a number of students have occurred among students because of their inability to pass the examinations.

THE Democrats have a great deal to bear in the present Congress, and if there is an occasional display of temper it is to be pardoned, but there is no excuse for flat shaking and the use of language that has no place in polite society.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS, James R. Randall and Richard Malcom Johnson are to be editors of the new Southern magazine which it is proposed to start in Atlanta. All are good writers. Dick Johnston probably the ablest magazine writer, but he must be about 70 years old.

THE Force bill will doubtless pass. We will not attempt to predict the result that will follow. There will be a storm and in all probability a fearful one, but "the white crest" will at last ride the wave. In plain words, we mean that bayonets, spies, marshalls, and all the creatures conceived by despotism and the Devil cannot keep down the great dauntless, unconquerable Anglo Saxon race.—Charlotte Chronicle.

In the Alabama State Senate a bill to make an appropriation for an exhibit of Alabama's resources and industries at the World's Fair in Chicago was, on motion of Mr. Miller, of Birmingham, laid on the table to await the fate of the Elections bill. Senators took the position that if the Force bill became a law it would so injure the State that it would be useless to spend money to try to induce immigration. The vote was unanimous.

A LONDON United Press dispatch of Jan. 23, says: Appalling accounts of destitution continue from the East district of Wolverhampton. The charity office reports that in some instances it is actually dangerous to administer food, owing to the peril attendant upon ravenous hunger when food is first offered. A clergyman says it is impossible to describe the misery that prevails. Homes are without fire; the rooms without furniture; the women have only a single garment covering them, and the children are almost as bad. A good deal of misery in Birmingham and other places is due to work being cut off by the new American tariff.

COTTON—New Berne Market—Sales of 83 bales at 8 to 8 3/4. Sales for the week 338 bales against 140 bales same week last year.

Messrs. Haakburn & Willett made another nice shipment of cabbages yesterday.

The East North Carolina Marble Works made shipments of tombstones yesterday to Hyde and Carteret counties.

The Pasquotank Rifles are a courteous and fine looking body of gentlemen. We extend them a hearty invitation to our Winter Fair next month.

The spirit of public enterprise is quietly but firmly developing itself in New Berne. A number of new and important features are on the tapis.

A correspondent writing from Marshallburg, Carteret county, furnishes the information that Graham Academy of that place is in a flourishing condition, employs four teachers, and has 120 students enrolled.

Secretary Windom's son, William, who is an officer in the Treasury Department, is expected in New Berne soon, possibly within a week to select the site of the new public building. He left Washington about two weeks ago, but had to visit other places before coming here.

Mr. T. C. Howard has begun the work of building his new large marine railways. The old ones were 125 feet in length, the new ones will be 300 feet long, and capable of taking any vessel that comes to New Berne. A workshop is also being built in the shipyard to be used in connection with the ways.

Dr. E. W. Battle, of Asheville, who has recently returned from Berlin with Dr. Koch's fluid, writes to a gentleman in this city that he has been using it quite extensively and satisfactorily, and that he witnessed the exhibition of it in Berlin under Dr. Koch, and it proved very beneficial when properly and judiciously used, but that it has to be used with great care, and that he regards it as the most wonderful medical discovery of the age.

Mr. K. Denmark, the book keeper at Messrs. M. Hahn & Co's livery stables, who met with the accident of having his leg cut off by a train on the A. & N. O. R. R. at Goldsboro, sixteen years ago, when he was a boy eight years old, obtained judgment against the road for $5,000 after he became of age, but the Supreme Court granted a new trial and the case was set for next Tuesday at Goldsboro, but the matter has been settled by a compromise by which the railroad company pays Mr. Denmark $3,000.

Personal.
Mrs. Lucretia Chester, of Englewood, N. J., came in yesterday morning for a visit to her relatives, and is at present stopping with her brother, Mr. Geo. H. Roberts.

Miss Gertrude Abbott came home on the steamer Neuse from a visit to relatives in Norfolk.

Mr. M. A. Robinson, of Robesonville, Martin county, is in the city visiting his son, Claud, a pupil of Vance Academy.

Rev. D. I. Craig, of Reidsville, came in Friday night and is the guest of Mr. C. L. Ives. He will conduct the services at the Presbyterian church today.

Mr. W. B. Chadwick, the President, and Mr. S. L. Dill, the Superintendent, of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad returned last night from a trip to Baltimore on railroad business.

Mr. Chadwick went through to his home at Beaufort.

Pasquotank Rifles Arrive.
The Pasquotank Rifles, 88 strong, arrived here last night at 8 o'clock under the following officers:
Col. J. E. Wood, in command of the expedition, Capt. W. J. Griffin, First Lieut. W. C. Glover, Second Lieut. J. H. White, Adjutant J. W. Albertson, jr.

They left Elizabeth City by command of Governor Fowle Wednesday afternoon on the steamer Vesper, Capt. G. W. Wallace, to cruise in Pamlico sound against violators of the oyster laws.

According to instruction they simply notified violators what the provisions of the law are and warned them to desist. They cruised all over the sound and found about fifty dredgers who ceased work and went away when told to do so.

The company came to New Berne last night to lay in provision, to telegraph Governor Fowle what they had accomplished, and get orders from him for further action.

We notice that the Norfolk Landmark states that a number of men employed by the oyster dredgers in North Carolina passed through Norfolk Friday on their way to their homes in Maryland. They stated that the North Carolina authorities are making it too uncomfortable to remain longer at work down there.

They are very wise in not wishing to resist the Elizabeth City Military Company with their rifles and cannon. We expect we'd have run too.

Captain Griffin is well informed upon the oyster question, and we will give some of his views in a subsequent issue.

Macadamize Your Public Roads Leading into New Berne.
There is no improvement that does more substantial good to a community than good roads. If we had the three public roads leading from this city macadamized, say for two miles distant, from the foot of Broad, Pollock and South Front streets on the Neuse river, to the railroad crossing on the Neuse and Washington road, the two mile post on the Trent road, and Clairmont bridge on the Pembroke road, the improvement to this city and the eighth township would more than compensate for the outlay. Will some of our enterprising citizens consider this question among other proposed improvements.

Both Sides.
It is claimed by those who are interested in the canneries that this will break up their business entirely and throw thousands of hands out of employment in consequence.—News Item.
This is said in reference to the oyster-canning industries at Elizabeth City, N. C. and other points where they have been supplied by the dredgers who are now to be driven away. It is a claim which cannot be substantiated. On the contrary, the law which forbids dredging will simply make multiplied work for the tongs, will preserve the oyster from the fatal effect of the dredges, and thus in the end furnish more work for the canneries and the people. If left to the present system of wholesale scouring of the oyster bottoms the goes that lays the golden egg would soon be dead, killed by the very persons most interested in her life.—Norfolk Landmark.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

January 23, 1891.
Special meeting held this evening. Mayor in chair and a full board present.

Mayor stated meeting was called at request of Councilman Miller and the attorney to consider proposed amendments to the city charter for internal improvements and other purposes.

Mr. Pelletier submitted several propositions and invited discussion.

After considerable expression of opinion by members of the board and citizens present—
On motion of Councilman Miller the Mayor was authorized to appoint a committee of six, consisting of two members of the board and four citizens, to discuss the propositions, formulate plans, and report to a called meeting of citizens, and after such meeting report to the board of council.

Adjourned.
S. H. LANE, Clerk.

Come to the Fair.
The East Carolina Fish, Oyster, Game and Industrial Association is not, as it is sometimes called, a New Berne Fair, but is an exposition of the resources of Eastern Carolina, the garden spot of the State.

Among the rare and wonderful things to be seen will be an exhibit of the workings of Capt. S. H. Gray's Plate Factory. It is a wonderful piece of machinery; it can't talk, neither can it vote, but the results that flow from its workings are astonishing, and it shows the great inventive genius of the proprietor.

On Wednesday, the 25th day of February, is the day set apart by the exposition as the Alliance day. On that day, that powerful and useful organization known as the Farmer's Alliance will be addressed by that eloquent orator and chivalrous Confederate soldier, Hon. G. W. Sanderlin. Come one, come all, yea come. J. H.

The Closure Rule.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The long expected Republican quorum appeared in the Senate today. It was secured through the return of Mr. Chandler from New Hampshire, and Messrs Quay and Carnegie, of Pennsylvania, which resulted in the presence in the city of forty-five Republican Senators, or one more than a quorum.

Information is also said to have been received to the effect that Mr. Squire, of Washington, is on his way to the capital. It is hardly expected that an effort will be made to get a vote upon the Closure resolution, however, before the early part of next week, and just what form the proceedings will take the Republicans refuse to divulge, as was indicated by Senator Aldrich today when Senator Teller sought to get this information from him in the course of debate.

Farther Testimonials.
OXFORD, N. C., January, 1891.
This is to certify that I have used Prof. H. H. Bell's remedy for a diseased scalp of my head. I have been entirely relieved from all humor of the scalp, and am satisfied his treatment is the remedy to cure the scalp.
J. B. PARHAM.

RALPHIGH, N. C., Aug. 8, 1889.
To the Public:—It gives me pleasure to state that I had on the right side of my head, just above the right ear, a bald spot about the size of a silver half dollar, which continued to grow larger. It was treated without any satisfactory results, until I put the case into the hands of Mr. H. H. Bell. Within a month after beginning his treatment, signs of new hair began to appear, and in three months a new growth of fine, live hair had covered the spot so that it could not be discovered that my hair had ever been gone. The bald place had been there six months before he began work on it, and had shown no indication of filling in, except by the appearance of three or four gray hairs, which Mr. Bell cut out.

I am glad that I can recommend his "Eureka" to be a first-class scalp medicine, and him to be a gentleman skilled in his profession.

HOUSATONIC FLOOD.
DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $800,000—THE PANIC SUBSIDED.
ANSONIA, Conn., January 23.—The flood in the Housatonic has subsided, and the terrorized people who were awake all night have gone to seek rest. The dam this morning is dry on top. The break is about one hundred and fifty feet long and extends to the foundation. The eastern gate house went down the river at midnight. Three pieces, about fifty feet long, of solid masonry, were twisted body around, and now stand at right angles with the dam. Engineer Brinsmade, who has the supervision of the structure, estimates the damage at about $300,000.
