MONEY easy in New York at 2 per cent.

The revolution in Chili is increasing in force.

It is probable that Boswell B. Flower will be the next Governor of New York.

A HARRIS, a Hebrew Rabbi, fell dead in a pulpit in Richmond, last Saturday, just after delivering his sermon.

Will the people pardon Gov. Fowle for pardoning Cross and White? One more salute, Governor Tillman.

The German Reichstag voted down a motion to repeal the law prohibiting the importation of American pork into the Empire.

MR. JOHN W. MOORE, business manager of the Norfolk Landmark died in New York under an operation of cutting out a cancer under his tongue, which came from smoking.

"The dressing that Representative Mills, of Texas, gave the great American Bulldozer, Tom Reed, was most richly deserved." Provided it was not oyster and cranberry.

SENATOR INGALLS is quoted as saying that the great blunder of his life was voting for the tariff bill. "The Wilmington Star kindly corrects the Senator and graciously informs him that the great blunder of his life was in being born."

The British Minister is to receive new instructions from the Home Government. Salisbury is in for allowing the controverted questions to lapse, and proposes to deal more with the industrial than the political aspects of the case.

SARAH BERNHARDT has sailed for America. A large crowd assembled to see her off. Bidding goodby to her friends, she said this was her last tour, and when it was over she would retire from the stage. Now let the managers invite her to the New Berne Fair.

The National Democrat says the astonishing thing about the Force bill agitation in Congress is that there is absolutely nothing behind it except Harrison and his ambition to be re-elected. Take away Harrison's influence from the Republican side of the Senate and the Force bill would be dropped in an hour.

The Boston Globe has it in a nutshell. It says: "If the Democrats succeed in defeating the Force bill they will deserve a magnificent triumph in 1892. If the Republicans succeed in passing this bill they hope for a triumph in 1892 without deserving it. The bill will help to make an ignoble and dishonest triumph possible to them."

There will be a lecture tonight by the pastor at the Hancock Street Methodist Church.

Western North Carolina is now furnishing mules and horses in this section. Mr. E. S. Street has purchased a lot that is entirely North Carolina raised.

Mr. James Hawkins was killed near Trenton, Monday, by having a tree fall on him. He and a grandson were cutting down trees when one fell on Mr. Hawkins and killed him.

City Marshal Hargett desires us to state that donations of clothes left at his office for the founding baby will be thankfully received, as it is insufficiently supplied and the party who has it is not able to buy more.

A gentleman who left Wilmington Monday morning informs us that it was announced there that the track would be laid on the railroad bridge at Jacksonville and the trains be running over it and into the town yesterday.

Mr. Josephus Peede, of Idalia, killed two hogs on the 19th inst., of the Jersey Red breed, that would not have been two years old until next March. One weighed 595 pounds and the other exactly 600. Wouldn't they have been a magnificent pair to have shown at the Fair? Mr. Peede intends to send up the hams for exhibition.

As the question of public improvements is now being agitated in this city we call attention to the fact that a bill is before the Legislature to amend the charter of Salisbury so that $50,000 bonds may be issued for the macadamizing and improving the streets of that town. Will New Berne be slow in attempting what smaller towns are accomplishing?

The series of sermons being delivered at the Church of Christ this week by Rev. D. W. Davis will not be upon the doctrine of that denomination at present as formerly stated but will probably be given at a later period. The public is cordially invited to attend these services which will begin at 7:30 p. m. every night. Subject this evening, "The Trinity of The Gospel."

The following constitute the Honor Roll of the New Berne Collegiate Institute for the month ending Jan. 28: Misses Jennie Steinhilper, Eva Willis, Rosa Dall, Mary Barrington, Laura Switzer, Pearl Wallace, Bessie Patterson, Laura Suter, Lena Hines, Anna Hanff, Alberta Ulrich, Eliza Simmons; Masters David Congdon, Jno. Erdman, Benson Lane, Alfred Gaskins, John Meadows, John Suter, Frank Willis.

New Berne can boast of a new law firm. Hon. W. T. Caho, of Pamlico, and Mr. J. B. Leigh, of Tyrrell, have formed a partnership under the firm name of Caho & Leigh, and opened an office in front of the Gaston House. Mr. Caho has been in town about a week making preparations. Their books were opened, placed in position, and their sign hung out yesterday. Mr. Leigh is expected to arrive today. Success to the new firm.

The question of bonding the city and county for public improvements is still being considered and it behooves those who have accepted the position as guardians of the public to give it unbiased and most careful attention. In conversation with a number of our best business men, nearly all of them favor the movement. We hope to see it adopted and earnestly pushed forward. It is only to be regretted that we have been so late in the prosecution of more enterprises.

In the case of Henry S. Jenkins Bro. & Co. and other creditors of T. J. Turner & Co. vs. T. J. Turner and J. W. Turner, assignee of J. W. Turner and J. W. Turner, upon motion to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed and the injunction continued to the final hearing, was heard before his honor E. E. Bryan, Judge, on Monday and judgment rendered on Tuesday, that said injunction be continued and Capt. John A. Richardson appointed receiver, qualified and entered upon the discharge of his duties. Green & Stevenson, C. E. Thomas and P. H. Feltner represented the plaintiffs and Clark & Clark and L. J. Moore the defendant.

Marine Disasters.
The schooner Chas. C. Lister, Capt. J. W. Coverdale, owned by ex-Governor Jas. F. Hall, of Frederica, Delaware, on her way to Wilmington with a cargo of fertilizer, encountered the storm of last week and was driven ashore at South Point, off Hatteras Inlet. The vessel and cargo is a total loss; the crew were saved.

The three-mast schooner Nathan Lank, which we have already reported lost at Kinnebeck last week, twenty miles from where this wreck occurred and her Captain drowned, also belonged to ex-Governor Hall.

The schooner Melvin, Captain Sam. Howland, left the West Indies over a month ago for New Berne with a cargo of fruit. Three weeks ago she was disabled by a storm and her sails were nearly all blown away, but she succeeded in getting to the mouth of Neuse river and was there met by the revenue cutter Winona going down for a cruise. Being signalled by the Melvin, the cutter went to her assistance, supplied her with water, which had given out on the Melvin, and then towed her to New Berne. The cargo, with the exception of 3,000 coconuts, spoiled and had been thrown overboard.

The Winona thus proved of great service, and this assistance rendered helps to show the necessity for having such a boat in our waters.

Talent Appreciated.
In an Augusta, Ga., exchange is a complimentary notice of Mr. Geo. H. Marshall, a former New Bernean, and son of our townsman, Mr. Wm. H. Marshall.

Mr. Marshall is car and locomotive painter in the Georgia railroad works; and in appreciation of his skill and esteem held for him by the employees, he has been presented a full set of mechanical tools used in his trade. We quote one paragraph from the Chronicle: "Mr. Marshall is one of the finest painters in the country, and the Georgia railroad is to be congratulated on retaining his services."

Surely it must be gratifying to the inhabitants of this city to know that her sons, who have sought other fields for a livelihood, are ascending the ladder of honor and success. While we prefer their remaining with us, we are glad to note their prosperity in their new homes.

Why was this emigration a few years ago of our young blood, and why is it that they do not do as well here?

Gentlemen this is a grave question and one that should have long ago received the consideration and action of the business men of this locality—those who have interests here. Should this question be answered no doubt there would be various statements, but to us the first and leading reason is because our business men, men of property and influence take no united stand to prevent it, and if they are not the ones in whose hands the balances of destiny hang, then we would like to learn better. The young men who have left North Carolina and won a name of talent and position for their integrity, and devotion to duty are too numerous to mention, and until our men of means and business capacity give a portion of their time, which is now so much occupied in temporary personal gain, to check this evil, we need not expect to keep pace with the times. We have endeavored for a long time in this section to induce a desirable class of foreigners to come in our midst, and though unknown, it is well enough, but for gracious sakes let's keep our own blood.

We hope not to be misunderstood in citing the above. While we believe it to be a strong barrier in the way of our prosperity, we are confident that today there is a brighter outlook for New Berne and all Eastern North Carolina than ever before. The loss of her many honored sons has only inspired a new energy and determination to utilize our advantages and undeveloped resources.

St. Cecilia Entertainment.
The St. Cecilia will give an entertainment at the Opera House on Friday, February 6th, at 8 p. m. The programme will consist of vocal and instrumental music; a Mother Goose quadrille for children in costume, and finishing with a farce comedy in which Misses Roberts and Amyette, and Messrs. Lamontague and Bryan, will take part. Rehearsals have been going on for the last ten days, and no trouble or expense have been spared to insure success. This entertainment will be for charity and worthy of help from all, but aside from that such a programme should give enjoyment such as we are sorry to say, we don't have more of in New Berne. Tickets will be ready for sale early next week.

Shrewd Hunters Outwitted.
A well known New Berne sport, in company with a New Yorker, were out hunting a few days ago. They didn't have a single bit of luck and on returning were twitted by their fellow-sportsmen. Tuesday the hunt was renewed by the same parties, this time determined to bring back something.

A gentleman in the city happened to run up with a boy with a lot of partridges for sale that had been trapped. He bought them, and having an idea on what road the foresaid huntsmen would return, he employed the boy to take the birds that way, having previously taken the precaution to mark them so they could be recognized.

The plan hit and the jubilant sports rode in town with all the pomp of a Nimrod, thinking their shrewdness of having fired shot into the already dead birds would be sufficient evidence of their good faith, but when the parties to whom they first made their first exhibit of luck, examined beneath the wing of each bird and found a small rubber band, the two celebrities turned off in despair, proclaiming, "It's no good place to hunt around here no way."

Personal.
Mr. J. W. Timberlake left yesterday morning to take a position in the office of the Williams Ink Manufacturing Company, Salem, Virginia.

Mr. Wm. Sultan left for the North to lay in a spring stock of goods.

Mrs. Della Koonce left on a business trip to Dunn.

Miss Verna Dixon, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. I. L. Chestnut, returned to her home at Wilson's Mills.

Rev. W. S. Rone returned to his home at Goldsboro from holding quarterly conference at Beaufort.

NO FORCE BILL.

The Obnoxious Measure Killed in the Senate on Monday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—When the Senate met at noon today Mr. Morgan was recognized and continued his argument against the proposed closure rule and the two Election bills.

At 1:30 Senator Wolcott asked Senator Morgan to yield the floor to him, so that he might move to take up the apportionment bill. Senator Morgan said that he would do so, although he was at a very interesting point in his speech, which he trusted he would never have the opportunity to resume. Senator Wolcott then made the motion and Senator Dolph moved to lay it on the table.

The vote was proceeded with amid excitement and confusion, and some ill-feeling in relation to pairs.

The motion to lay on the table was rejected; yeas 34, nays 35. The announcement was greeted with applause on the Democratic side and in the galleries. Mr. Edmunds insisted that the Chair should enforce the rules of the Senate, and that if there was a repetition of disturbance the galleries should be cleared. After a few minutes wrangling the vote was taken, yeas 34, nays 35, Senators Cameron, Jones, of Nevada, Stewart, Teller, Washburn and Wolcott voting with the Democrats.

The vote was then taken on Mr. Wolcott's motion to take up the Apportionment bill, and it was carried by a like vote, yeas 35, nays 34; the only difference being that Mr. Pettigrew's pair was transferred from Mr. Fawcett to Mr. Call. There was no distinct outbreak of applause at the final success of the movement against the Elections bill and the proposed rule, but the feeling of jubilation was none the less great on the Democratic side. The consideration of the Apportionment bill was then proceeded with. The reading of the bill and report continued until three o'clock. The bill was then laid aside until tomorrow at 3 o'clock, when it comes up as unfinished business.

IN THE HOUSE.
Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, moved that the House go into the Committee of the Whole on the Naval Appropriation bill. The yeas and nays were ordered.

After a few names had been called Mr. Monser, Mr. Heard of Missouri, who had just returned from the Senate spoke a few words to his Democratic colleagues. Immediately Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, interrupting the call informed the House that the force bill had been defeated. Cheer after cheer went up from the Democratic side. The speaker's gavel being in effectual use for some minutes to check the Democratic enthusiasm. "Another Bull Run," ejaculated Mr. Brewer, of Michigan. Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, said there was no longer any necessity for a roll call and suggested that it be dispensed with. The roll call was continued and the House went into committee on the naval appropriation bill.

the world, and in order for the church to do the good intended by the Builder of the church, the wolf must be gotten out. His remarks made me think of the story of the porcupine and the orange tree. The porcupine would watch the tree and when the oranges would fall he would take one in his mouth, then roll over, filling his quills full, and take them to his den. The lean, jumpy, hungry and voracious animal seemed to find more ways of carrying off limbs than the porcupine of carrying oranges.

I think I shall go to hear Mr. Davis again.

DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP.

Recipe of the late Dr. Walter Duffy.

DIRECTIONS:
Dose for a child two or three years old, one teaspoonful; for a child three months old, ten drops; for a child six months old, twenty drops; for one twelve months old, nearly half a teaspoonful—repeating these doses frequently if necessary until relief is procured.

This is to certify that I have used DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP in my family for over six months and I believe it to be a most excellent remedy for croup with children, especially as a preventive. Our youngest child had a severe attack of croup about a year ago, inasmuch that we felt anxious about its recovery, but was successfully treated by our physician, but thinking it possible that other attacks might follow, we frequently used DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP and the child has had no marked symptoms of croup since, and I believe it is due to the use of the CROUP SYRUP, and we now keep a bottle or in our house at all times, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
