THE Government troops in Chili have been defeated and the insurgents are advancing upon the capital. feb20-21.

PROTECTION Democrats have become so scarce that they now come under the head of political relics. feb20-21.

It is a self evident truth that one of the greatest needs of North Carolina rural districts is good roads; the great want of our towns and cities is macadamized streets and paved sidewalks. feb20-21.

BISMARCK is evidently not wanted in Germany. Let him come to America. But, he will not come. He made the German Empire, and his devotion to the fatherland knows no abatement. feb20-21.

THE law of evolution works in language as well as in other things. Twenty thousand words have been added to the English language in the department of biology alone since Darwin's discoveries. feb20-21.

THE census returns thus far show that the negro population of America instead of increasing with such rapidity as to make negro rule the inevitable consequence of universal suffrage in the gulf states, has in fact been relatively falling off. feb20-21.

WE suppose it may be stated truthfully in general terms that the best roads in N. Carolina as she was before the war between the States took place were to be found in those counties where it was most difficult to make good roads and the worst roads in those counties where it was easiest to make good roads. "By the same token" we have now, we may guess, worse roads in Eastern Carolina than are to be found in the mountainous regions of the State. feb20-21.

In an article on the late General Sherman, the Detroit Free Press says: Gen. Sherman has probably been held in more absolute hatred throughout the coast states of the South than any northern leader. This is due, first to the theory lying behind his march to the sea, that the destruction of all means of subsistence for the South was as important as the subduing of its armed troops; next to the number of "bummers" allowed to follow the army. The application of the theory led to the burning or destruction by other means of millions of dollars' worth of property, and the presence of the "bummers" was responsible for many atrocities, or what the South regarded as such. The march from Atlanta to the sea was one of the most theatrical episodes of the civil war, but it lacked much of being the greatest. It bisected the Confederacy at a time when such a result was fatal to the hopes of the South, but it involved generalship rather than danger, and it is by the test of danger that all soldiers are ultimately tried. feb20-21.

SENATOR QUAY has long been the subject of animadversions. Heretofore he has been silent. A few days ago in speaking in the Senate he said: "Partly through indifference to slander, a weapon which has never had a place in my political arsenal, and partly by the advice of friends, who urged me to treat the assassins of reputation as undeserving of open controversy, I have permitted, without comment, the passing of the flood of falsehood. Its malodorous waters chance at this time to be quiescent, and now, when no heated political conflict is raging, when neither hope nor fear can be deemed the inspiration of my utterance, I choose briefly to confront accusations with truth. I would not allude to this subject in this presence had not members of the other House made it a matter of debate there. Looking to the future, and knowing that the records of this Congress will remain for other generations to read when most of us composing it will be forgotten, I choose, for the truth of history, and for that which is dearer to all men than riches, to dispel the mist of falsehood with the clear light of fact. feb20-21.

A young garden pea about 11 inches long was left at our office yesterday. It grew in Stephen Fonville's garden. feb20-21.

A good many visitors are already arriving in the city, preparatory to the Fair. The outlook is that there is going to be a large attendance. feb20-21.

The hydrants through the business portion of the city have been re-started. It is only an instance of the wonderful pluck and determination of our townsmen Major A. R. Dennison. The smoke has not yet subsided from the ruins of his mill, but he has managed some way to start a portion of the machinery and furnish water. feb20-21.

One of the new locomotives built for the A. & N. C. R. R. by the Richmond and Danville Machine Works arrived yesterday morning and took an extra freight train down to Morehead last night. It is a third larger than any other on the A. & N. C. road, and is as large as any in use in the State. The other engine is expected Tuesday. feb20-21.

The Legislature and Our New Railroad.

We see from the Raleigh papers that the Wilmington, Onslow and Eastern Carolina Railroad Company are asking for some amendments to their Charter. We do not know what those amendments are, but we do know that the Northern gentlemen who own this charter have spent a large amount of money in helping to develop Eastern North Carolina, and are locating their road from Jacksonville to this city. It would indeed be unfair to the people of Onslow county and to this city to hamper this road with any legislation that would hinder or delay it. We hope the legislature will not repeal any part of the E. C. L. and R. Y. Co.'s charter, or put difficulties in the way, to delay this road or to try to force them to build on any particular route. Let our senators and representatives from the East stand together on this subject, and let us for one time stand up for the people who have the money and the nerve to build this road from Wilmington to New Berne, an enterprise that will do good to the whole State of North Carolina and will help to make our people happy and prosperous and content to live at home. feb20-21.

Send Exhibits Today. feb20-21.

The ladies and gentlemen on the different Fair committees wish to urge on our citizens the importance of sending up all the exhibits possible today, so that there will be sufficient time to arrange them properly. Today and tomorrow is all the time left in which to work before the Fair opens. feb20-21.

Delay no longer but in this instance follow the advice of the old proverb and do not put off until tomorrow what you can just as easily do today. It will lighten the labors of the workers and materially help forward the Fair if the request of the committees is heeded. Send along all the exhibits at the earliest moment possible. The names of the ladies and gentlemen composing the committees is a sufficient guarantee that everything will be properly cared for, so do not wait until the last day when there may be a rush but remember to send up your exhibit this morning if it is ready, or this afternoon if you can get it ready by then. feb20-21.

Miss Mattie Dail came home from Henderson where she has been teaching school. feb20-21.

Brain the Swamp. feb20-21.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—I saw in the JOURNAL of the 12th an article giving a few points in regard to cutting a canal from Bryce's creek to Neuse river. I have thought for several years that the drainage of those rich swamp lands would be the best thing for Craven county that could happen, and a good thing for the State. The road from Pettipher's creek by way of Long lake could then be cut. It would be worth to the State a large amount. feb20-21.

Three years ago there was an expert sent here by a company from New York on a project, that was to see what it would cost to make a wagon road from Long lake to the New Berne and Beaufort road. The object was to make Long lake a place for summer and winter resort, for hunting and fishing and boating. The company said the lake filled the bill in every respect, but no road could be made until the lands were drained. Fish can be caught every month in the year; wild geese are plentiful in the winter, and deer and bears are very thick. CITIZEN. feb20-21.

We are pleased to see that a bill was introduced in the Legislature Tuesday to drain the lands referred to by convict labor. We hope for the sake of the inhabitants of that neighborhood, for the good that will ensue to this entire section and the Onslow region adjacent, and to the State itself, that some most of the lands that will be made valuable by this drainage, that the bill will be passed without opposition. feb20-21.

This old time and favorite comedian will hold the boards at the New Berne theatre all next week during the Fair. On Monday evening "The Castaways" will be presented and special scenic effects will be introduced. Secure your seats in advance, as they are now on sale at usual place. Prices as before, 50c. JOHNSTOWN AGAIN.

ANOTHER DELUGE THREATENS THE ILL-FATED CITY.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 17.—Another deluge threatens the city, caused by heavy and increased rains. Thousands of people are rushing for places of safety amid the hills and high lands. This morning, quite unexpectedly too, the flood assumed a most serious aspect, startling the whole community, which last night reposed in the fullest sense of security. feb20-21.

John L. Sullivan on a Rampage. feb20-21.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 18.—John L. Sullivan ended his dramatic engagement in this city last night. While breakfasting at his hotel this morning he became restless and began swearing at a negro waiter named Miller. Miller told him that he must not swear in the ladies' dining room. Sullivan then made a break for Miller. The negro had a coffee pot in his hand and hurled it at Sullivan's head. Sullivan dodged the pot and jumped to his feet. Miller grabbed at a chair and was about to throw it at Sullivan, but suddenly concluded that discretion was the better part of valor and made a hurried exit and hid himself. feb20-21.

Bold Robbery at Mt. Airy.
DANVILLE, Va., Feb. 17.—The Register has information of a daring case of robbery at Mt. Airy, N. C. Harry Taylor and an accomplice named Stone, entered the residence of Taylor's grandmother, Mrs. Samuel H. Taylor, and one of the rascals held her on the floor while the other robbed the safe of $2,100. The robbers escaped. feb20-21.
