THE State of Texas has $1,000,000 in its Treasury.

If woman lost us Eden, such as she alone restore it.—Whittier.

NEGROES are leaving Arkansas for Oklahoma in great numbers.

SENATOR WILSON, of Maryland died suddenly last Tuesday night.

It is said that Bismarck will be tried by court martial for his attacks upon the German government.

LITTLE Rhode Island seems to have contracted the Democratic majority habit in its most aggravated form.

ABSOLUTELY stationary in religion we can not be. We must either advance or recede. If Christians are not growing in grace, they are certainly relapsing.

HONOR is like the eye which can not suffer the least impurity without danger. It is a precious stone, the price of which is lessened by the least flaw.—Bossuet.

OSMAN DIGMA is meeting defeat on every side. Ought to be able to form a very accurate idea of what an 1890 Republican Congressional nomination meant.

PENNSYLVANIA is a great State. The Legislature has appropriated $1,000,000 for the improvement of public roads and $150,000 to defray the expenses of the State exhibit at the World's Fair.

THE Ohio women are organizing a league to make a campaign on indecent show bills. It is now in order for the bald headed Buck-eyes to combine for the purpose of fighting outrageous store bills.

NOT every soul can extend its influence right and left, but every soul can extend its progress upward. "It's a small piece of ground," said a householder of his building lot, "but I own all the way up."—Sunday School Times.

NOTHING will yield you richer reward of gladness and a greater wealth of joy, than faithfully to cultivate and develop the happier, warmer, sunnier side of your nature, that you may be a blessing to yourself and a blessing to all around you.—Schnyder Colfax.

As long as we refuse a warm, loving sympathy with Christ's missionary purpose, and hold aloof from earnest co operation with him in missionary enterprise, we shall have a poor, dwarfed spiritual life, and be faithless to the greatest work that God has put into human hands.—Rev. George Wilson.

THE very great prominence and popularity of Mr. Cleveland has subjected him recently to sharp criticism and wild misrepresentation. These neither disturb his well balanced self-possession nor materially lessen popular affection for the great Democrat, and this is creditable to the Democracy. Instead of attempting to dictate the Presidential candidate of the party in 1892, or with inordinate ambition and selfishness seeking renomination, it is becoming transparent that his whole course, first and last, has been the result of anxiety to redress grievances of the people.—Norfolk Virginian.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PROF. BELL—Compliments, etc.
C. L. GASKILL & CO.—The Mehlin.
BARRINGTON & BAXTER—Derbies, etc.

Mr. W. F. Crockett will make a shipment of radishes today.

H. B. Smith, the Canadian runner, challenges any man in North Carolina to run him on the Fair grounds track from one to twenty miles.

"Taken all in all, it is the best Fair I have attended in the State in years," said a gentleman yesterday who has traveled the State for eight years.

Among the noted visitors at the Fair was Hon. Wm. Windom, son of the late Secretary of the Treasury. He has come to select the site for the public building.

The telegraphic line of the Western Union Telegraphic Company has been finished between Wilmington and Jacksonville. An office was established at the latter place this week. The first message to New Berne was received Wednesday.

The companies composing the New Berne fire department paraded at the Fair grounds yesterday morning in uniform with their engines and hose carriages. They presented a fine appearance and were much admired by the visitors. The Star band accompanied them.

There was music in the air last night when an hundred yelping dogs were loosed on the Fair grounds in pursuit of Sir Reynard. The chase was hotly contested by mounted horsemen until the midnight prowler was overtaken securely perched in a tree. Mr. Hunter is the king of the chase and revels in the sport.

Mr. W. H. Oliver has just received advice that an English steamer bound from Galveston, Texas, to Liverpool with five thousand five hundred bales of cotton, is ashore at Ocracoke. The cargo is insured in one of his companies and he will probably go to the steamer tonight.

Of the many compliments paid the Fair, none surpasses the following: "Your Fair is deserving of success. I see no licensed gamblers, or sharpers of tricksters with their games to impose on an innocent public." This is what can be expected when the right kind of men are at the helm.

The stock parade was an interesting feature yesterday. It was witnessed by a great crowd and many were the expressions of pride, that there were so many and such fine cattle in line, exhibited by our stock raisers. We cannot go into particulars, but suffice it to say that the parade was very creditable and a complete success. It showed what can be done in stock raising in this section.

THE FAIR.

The Floral and Agricultural Departments.—Exhibits of Cotton and Woolen Goods.

Musical Instruments.

The Floral department presents a scene of bewitching loveliness that would be hard to surpass. Fronting the entrance is a handsome temple made in the Roman style of architecture with four Ionic pillars. It represents the temple of the Grecian Goddess Flora the queen of flowers who was said to have a festival beginning about this season.

The temple is made of lovely ever greens and flowers. The steps leading to it are covered with growing mosses of different kinds, some of them in bloom, with a plentiful sprinkling of daisies, growing violets and a bouquet of roses rests at the very top.

Small birds are seen sporting here and there among the leaves and enshrined in the interior is a handsome doll representing "Flora" with a crown of flowers on her head, one hand grasping a bouquet and the other resting on a calla lily. Miss Carrie Maybaw was the one who conceived the idea of this temple and who donated it to the Fair. Mr. Herbert W. Simpson was the architect and its attractiveness is a credit to both.

In one corner of the room is a stand containing thirty varieties of growing flowers. Other portions are as plentifully supplied with a grand profusion, there being over a hundred varieties in all, from the modest violet to rare tropical plants, coconut, palms, orange trees etc.

There is a great variety of lovely cut flowers and the whole is charming. It must be seen to be appreciated.

Two rooms of the main building are devoted to the Agricultural department. They are a marvel of vegetable wealth. The finest kinds of specimens of field and garden crops and home-made meat filled all available space. In the center of each room is a vast pyramid formed of products of the soil, and all around the rooms on the floor and on shelves they are piled in lavish profusion. Huge cabbages, white collards, mammoth pumpkins and turnips, numerous varieties of sweet potatoes, field peas, beans and corn; beets, radishes, tobacco; splendid hams, shoulders and sides, lard, sorghum and many other things showing the surprising fertility of our farms and the skill that is being used in farming. No visitor should fail to examine this department.

In another room products of quite a different kind gathered from over a large territory are shown. It is an exhibit of cotton and woolen goods manufactured in the South. There are stockings here manufactured by the Kineton, Goldsboro and Tarboro mills, a larger variety of bags from the Kerr bag factory, samples of sheeting from the Augusta, J. P. Hill, and Beaver Creek mills. There are fifty varieties of ginghams and not less than 100 samples of woolen goods. The Charlotteville woolen mills make a splendid exhibit of the fine cassimeres and other goods they manufacture. With these manufactured goods are samples of the leading varieties of cotton raised in the South and far away Peruvian and Egyptian cotton.

This exhibit was gotten up by Mr. W. H. Oliver at his own trouble and expense. Gov. Fowle pronounced the opinion that it was one of the most interesting collections shown.

Mr. C. L. Gaskill makes a large display of high-grade organs and pianos, representing eight different first class makes.

Mr. R. B. Shaw of Washington and Mr. A. Cohn also make excellent exhibits in the same line. The playing of Professor Eugene Wallnau, the professional piano tuner on Mr. Cohn's Hardman piano attracts considerable attention.

Compliments of the Oxford Day.

JANUARY 1st, 1901.

UNIQUE DROP CHARM.

We had a call today from Prof. H. H. Bell, proprietor of the Eureka Scalp Cleaner and Hair Purifier. He has been in Oxford several months, and has been liberally patronized by our people.

The professor is a progressive and intelligent colored man, and has made a study of hair. Besides selling and applying his remedy, he is an expert maker of hair jewelry. He has just completed a drop charm made of a piece of hair from Gen. Robert E. Lee's war horse. It is a beautiful and artistic piece of work. The hair was given to him by an Oxford lady, whose father secured it in the '60's. He has also a piece of jewelry made from the tail of Stonewall Jackson's "Old Sorrel."

Prof. Bell deserves much credit and is deservedly successful. He sets a good example for his race.

Devastation by Flood.

BILA BEND, A. T., Feb. 24.—The Colorado river broke over the levee at Yuma last night. A portion of the place is already under water and the damage done is estimated at $150,000. Dry Salt river rose ten feet in an hour near Phoenix, sweeping away many adobe houses. Over 1,000 people are homeless in the Salt River Valley. A ranchman named Gus Lee was drowned in his bed, and a large portion of his stock perished. About thirty miles from Yuma, the Gila river has overflowed the tracks of the Southern Pacific railroad. Many washouts and landslides along the line of the road are reported.

Remarkable Rescue.

HAZLETON, Pa., Feb. 24.—Four men rescued alive from the Jeanevill mine last night. Twenty-three men were in the mine when the water broke in; six escaped and seventeen were caught by the waters. Thirteen bodies have been taken out. They were in the mine nineteen days and nineteen hours. The water rose in the slope 834 feet in five minutes. They supported life on the contents of their dinner pails and oil in lamps and bottles, and when these were gone, upon water in the mine, which was horribly foul with sulphur.

DUFFY'S

CROUP SYRUP.

Recipe of the late Dr. Walter Duffy.

DIRECTIONS:

Dose for a child two or three years old, one teaspoonful; for a child three months old, ten drops; for a child six months old, twenty drops; for one twelve months old, nearly half a teaspoonful—repeating these doses frequently if necessary until relief is procured.

This is to certify that I have used DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP in my family for over six months and I believe it to be a most excellent remedy for croup with children, especially as a preventive. Our youngest child had a severe attack of croup about a year ago, inasmuch that we felt anxious about its recovery, but was successfully treated by our physician, but thinking it probable that other attacks might follow we frequently used DUFFY'S Croup Syrup and the child has had no marked symptoms of croup since, and I believe it is due to the use of the Croup Syrup, and we now keep a bottle of it at our house at all times, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
