TODAY it will be pleasing to refer to him as ex-Speaker Reed!

The heaviest snow storm on record prevails at Chattanooga Tenn.

THERE is to be a division of silk culture in the Agricultural Department.

TODAY at 12 m. the 51st Congress will become a bleak and dreary memory.

BALLOT reform is progressing all over the country. It has passed the legislatures of Kansas and Idaho.

A GREAT University will probably be established at Asheville in the near future. It will be Presbyterian and be named "The South Atlantic University."

SENATOR HEARST, of California, died in Washington City last Saturday. He was a sound Democrat, a genial gentleman, and a rich man who blessed others with his riches.

MR. CLEVELAND never dodges. He is never ambiguous. When he gets ready to take himself out of the field of choice for the Presidential nomination of 1892, he will do it in his own way and every body will understand him.

DESPITE the fact that Charlie Foster the new Secretary of the Treasury is a Republican, we rather like him. Foster's speech in the House in February 1877, was the first declaration of the Hayes Southern policy. "The Flag" said Foster "should float over States not provinces: over freemen, not subjects."

A CITIZEN of Savannah once tried to draw out Sherman against Grant. Said Tecumseh: "It won't do; it won't do. Gen. Grant is a great general. I know him well. He stood by me when I was crazy, and I stood by him when he was drunk, and now, sir, we stand by each other, always." — Augusta Chronicle.

WE endorse the communication, in yesterday's JOURNAL, presenting Gen. Robert Ransom for Railroad Commissioner. We only wish it had appeared earlier. We know of no man, in the State or out of it, who would make a better Railroad Commissioner than the incorruptible patriot, brave soldier, pure and enlightened citizen, Robert Ransom.

ALL Europe is on the verge of hostilities. Italy has withdrawn from the Triple Alliance, leaving Germany and Austria alone. No formal alliance is announced between France, Italy and Russia, but a community of interests must make them friends. A London dispatch of Feb. 28th says: "As a result of the agitation in France and Germany over the visit of Empress Frederick to Paris, foreign securities opened on the Stock Exchange this morning 1/2 per cent. lower than yesterday's closing."

THE 51st Congress dies without action on silver. During the next ten months it will be the duty of Democrats to study the whole matter thoroughly. A Democratic Congress must meet the issue, and a Democratic National Convention determine the position of the party in regard to it. No man, no section, can speak for a National Organization, either as to its platform or its candidate.

The Republican press are highly elated over what they assert is Mr. Cleveland's political suicide over the silver question. But how can that be of any comfort to them when even so ultra Radical a President as Harrison has just appointed "a Western man with Eastern notions of finance" as Secretary of the Treasury, and the appointment was promptly confirmed by a Republican Senate. If opposition to the unlimited coinage of silver is a bar to the Presidential prerogative, where will the Republicans get a candidate.—Richmond Times.

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
C. T. HANCOCK—Rooms for rent.
C. E. SLOVER—Horse radish, etc.

There will be a lecture tonight by the pastor at the Hancock Street Methodist church.

The Methodist Church Working Society will meet at the parsonage tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Excelsior Hose company will have a business meeting at their hall tonight at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to attend.

The Eastern North Carolina Truckers and Fruit Growers' Association will hold an annual meeting on the 10th of March at Mt. Olive. The truckers and fruit growers of this section should be represented there, and we hope to see a large delegation go up. It is proposed to make this an interesting and profitable meeting to all concerned.

We had the pleasure of listening to Prof. McIver's lecture yesterday afternoon. He devotes about half an hour to one subject and then takes up another. He is a rapid, fluent speaker, uses familiar words, makes his hearers feel perfectly at ease and holds their attention from the first word he utters to the last. To hear him once is to kindle a desire to hear him again. Everybody is welcome to attend and equally welcome to leave at any moment business or other matters renders it necessary for them to do so.

Bulletin 73 of the N. C. Experiment Station is a volume of 100 pages, on the "Best Agricultural Grasses." There are 26 full-page cuts of grasses; 29 figures showing illustrations of grass seeds and seed adulteration, and 20 additional illustrations to increase the value of the description matter. It is sent to all names on the mailing list of the Station and others in the State free of charge. To those outside of the State, 10 cents will be charged. Apply to the Experiment Station at Raleigh for it.

The other new locomotive for the A. & N. C. R. R. has arrived. It is known as No. 11, and is an exact mate to the No. 10, or "Governor Fowle" which arrived a short time ago. These engines are twice the size of the smallest one in use on the road, and 1/2 larger than the largest of the old ones. They are of the American type, and the cylinders measure 17x24. The two cost between $15,000 and $16,000. Each one weighs 84,000 pounds and each tender 36,000—a total of 120,000 pounds. Each engine is capable of drawing 40 40,000 pound cars at the rate of 25 or 30 miles an hour. They are equipped with all the latest improvements—air brakes and driver brakes and have the Janney coupler to tender. The road is having heavy freights and the passenger travel is also good. The increasing patronage of the road requires these better transportation facilities.

Prof. McIver's Work.

Prof. C. D. McIver, the State Institute instructor, appointed by the State Board of Education, will be at work in this section about four weeks. He began his labors in this city yesterday morning and will continue here until Friday. Next week, beginning with Monday morning, he will be at Beaufort. From thence he will proceed to Bayboro, beginning there Monday the 16th, inst., after which he will go to Kinston, commencing there on Monday the 23d inst., and continuing through the week at that place.

This Institute supercedes the white summer Normal schools established by the Legislature about a dozen years ago. The public school teachers, in whatever county the Institute is being held, are required to close their schools if they are in session and attend its meetings, but the work of the Institute is not confined to the teachers. Prof. McIver wishes to arouse the people generally on educational matters and a full attendance of our citizens is desired.

Professor McIver will hold the exercises of the Institute hereafter at the court house. His work is addressed to the people as well as teachers. The people have flocked to hear him in every county. His mission is to help the people and the cause of education through the people. Come to the court house if you wish to be instructed, interested and pleased. You can stay as long as you wish, and leave when you get ready.

Professor McIver is a scholar and an orator. He is fully up in the work of education. He loves to talk to the people and have them present. Ladies and gentlemen, parents and children, guardians and wards, professional men and tradesmen, everybody is invited and expected to attend. Many side lights on education and many new thoughts will be presented and discussed.

The hours are from 9 o'clock in the morning, to 12, and from 3 to 5 in the evening. Even a half hour will benefit you. Come without further invitation.

Tourists.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c. and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

Oysters and Dredging.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—We have been very much interested in this oyster question for sometime, as our county has quite a natural oyster supply. We, as a people are willing to look out for our interest and give our well wishers the advantages that we can't successfully handle. It is true that we owe the people of Washington, N. C., a fat living from our county and they want to get it from our oyster grounds, without consulting us or giving us one word to say in the matter. So they hold a mass meeting and pass resolutions to allow them to bleed from us the natural supply of oysters in a certain area, which lies almost entirely in Pamlico county. They have canning factories that will be useless unless they can get legal permission to dredge our oysters to keep them running. Those Washington people act and dictate to us as if they have the only factory of the kind in Eastern Carolina and if there are others in other towns they must close up for Washington's sake. Now we have one of the largest factories in North Carolina here in our county at Vandemere, and we want to keep it alive with oysters caught as near home as possible, but if Washington's future is dependent on our bottoms for a livelihood we can only say to them that she must go. The Washington Progress slings mud at the transactions of the conjoint meeting held in New Berne concerning the oyster protection of our State, and claims also that Craven county has not one foot of oyster bottom anywhere on her borders. If it is a fair question, we would like to know of the people of Beaufort where her oyster grounds are, and why she don't ask legislation allowing them to get oysters from their own county? Surely, if the writer had sufficient supply in his own county he would not ask poor and dependent Pamlico to give to their rich and inexhaustible industry, to the detriment of herself. Though some people have enough gall in their sacks to vomit up their spleens.

We are not very much surprised when Washington has spent so much money in the culture, protection and development of the oyster industry. She allowed men to go in her very midst and take from her own industry that she was too poor to handle. This industry has nursed and fondled her like a fondling babe until she can almost stand alone, but if you take Pamlico county's support from the babe she must die in spite of all that can be done. We feel sorry for Washington and her industries. We sympathize for her away down in our boot heels. It would not surprise us at any moment to hear that Washington is draped in grape over her loss, especially Water street, which Mr. Randolph claims is dead. I tell you her symptoms are bad and the fever is very high; unless some febrifuge, more powerful than antifebrin, antifebrine, or some other febrifuge is used she will surely die of the vagrant fever. The educated negroes will have to teach the old blue back spelling book, and the little cubs will have to go barely clad. This is too bad.

The area that the Washingtonians propose to dredge is misrepresented when they claim that the water is too deep for tongers. We have interviewed several of the oystermen from that part of their county since Washington's mass meeting and they all tell us "that oystermen are tonging there every day that they can work anywhere, and they, as tongers, are opposed to being run out by a posse of dredgers employed in such a manner that they, the tongers, can't sell their oysters."

We people in Pamlico county have not held a mass meeting to check this Washington move, but not a single man in the county has refused to sign a petition asking the law makers not to grant any such legislation. We want all the oystermen to fare alike so far as legislation goes.

The oyster question has excited so much interest all over Eastern Carolina that it is almost impossible to do anything with it this year. No doubt more petitions have been signed on this question than any other that has been before the Legislature this term. There is trouble ahead for some one to investigate. The Virginia and Maryland vessels are in our waters every week loading with oysters for planting purposes in other bottoms. They claim that North Carolina has no right to cut their interstate's traffic, and they intend to have an investigation or carry off all the oysters they can get.

We are very sorry that quite a number of dredgers disregard the law so much as to dredge at night. Several tongers have told us that it is frequently the case in Pamlico sound that oystermen dredge all night. They keep one eye open for the patrol boat, and if they think it is coming up on them they cut loose, and go on as if nothing had gone wrong, usually having a small float or buoy of some kind attached to the dredge line so it can be easily found when all is over that might betray them.

All this being an authenticated truth, is it not clear to any rational mind that a man who dredges for oysters with the present restrictions hanging over him would dredge some other than that which Washington proposes to turn loose to her own industries and oystermen? F. P. GATES, Bayboro, Pamlico county, N. C.

DUFFY'S

CROUP SYRUP.

Recipe of the late Dr. Walter Duffy.

DIRECTIONS:

Dose for a child two or three months old, one teaspoonful; for a child three months old, two drops; for a child six months old, twenty drops; for one twelve months old, nearly half a teaspoonful—repeating these doses frequently if necessary until relief is produced.

This is to certify that I have used DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP in my family for over six months and I believe it to be a most excellent remedy for croup with children, especially as a preventive. Our youngest child had a severe attack of croup about a year ago, inasmuch that we felt anxious about his recovery, but was successfully treated by our physician, but thinking it probable that other attacks might follow we frequently used DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP and the child has had no marked symptoms of croup since, and I believe it is due to the use of the CROUP SYRUP, and we now keep a bottle of it at our house at all times, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.

E. H. BAARUM. Also very effective in relieving coughs and colds. PREPARED AND SOLD BY R. N. DUFFY, New Bern, N. C. jan16 dwlf
