THOSE who suppose that the Democratic party is not already organizing for victory in 1892 do not keep up with the work of the leaders of the Democracy. The campaign of education against the party which gave us the Billion Dollar Congress is on, and there will not be a truce until the Presidency and the Senate, as well as the House of Representatives, are controlled by the Democratic party.

On the first Monday in May at the regular city election our people will be called upon to decide whether they wish to do as other progressive towns and cities have done in taking on new life by the acceptance of public improvements. Our citizens should give the question their most careful attention and if it has any hopes of adding more prosperity to the city and our people, the situation should be grasped while the opportunity offers itself. THE JOURNAL will endeavor to present the leading points that are at issue in tomorrow's paper.

Personal.

Mr. Thos. H. Davis left yesterday morning to travel as a grocery drummer. He has just concluded a successful canvass of New Berne, Beaufort and Morehead City.

Mr. Geo. B. Gardner left to engage in the planting mill business in the western part of the State.

Mr. John S. Manix, book keeper at the E. C. D. line, returned on the steamer Neuse from a business trip to Elizabeth City.

The Truck Prospect. Throughout this section there is one of the most favorable outlooks for truck that has ever been at this season of the year.

Three months ago the shipping season begun and large amounts of cabbage, spinach, asparagus and radishes have been and are now being shipped and excellent prices obtained.

The cabbage crop is the best that ever was raised here. Leaves the city by any road and you will find fields of them. We notice 55 acres of Messrs. Hackburn & Willett's that are beautiful. They have already shipped quantities of them and are expecting to ship 10,000 boxes. They also have 200 acres in potatoes that are looking fine. Their whole immense plantation, which is one of the best equipped and best managed in this section—shows splendid.

Working is being pressed forward on the farms. The growing cabbages are receiving their last working, beans are up, tomato plants set out, cucumbers and melons planted, and the matured crops are being gathered and shipped. Strawberries are expected to be ready for market in two weeks.

Crops generally are in a flourishing condition and truckers are corresponding stated.

Store and Dwelling Burned.

About 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in a building on the corner of West and Ash streets, which belonged to Mr. O. Marks and was occupied as a grocery store and residence by Mr. John Slade. The fire had gained such headway before being discovered that none of the stock and but little of the furniture was saved and the building was destroyed by the time the fire department reached the spot. The adjoining building caught and sustained slight injury. Both buildings belonged to Mr. O. Marks. The loss on them was $800 and the loss on Mr. Slade's stock and furniture about five hundred dollars. The buildings were insured for $400, the stock for $200 and the furniture for $200 in companies represented by Mr. W. H. Oliver. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The shad fisherman of Pamlico sound are having a splendid catch this season—the best for many years. I was informed by a fisherman this morning that he had made clear, over all expenses, up to date, four hundred dollars. This for two months work, with about one hundred dollars invested, makes a very good showing for the monetary resources of this region. The farmers also made good crops of corn last year and are now getting tip top prices. If these things keep on we will expect you New Berne people to put a handle to our names when we go to see you. ## THE CHARLOTTE TROUBLE.

A Brutal Murder—Lynching Threatened—Council of Races—Citizens Arm Themselves.

For the past two days Charlotte has been more or less excited, at times, intensely excited. Saturday night between the hours of eleven and twelve o'clock, just as The Chronicle was going to press, one of the most brutal, cowardly, quiet, and at the same time, daring murders in the annals of this city was committed within twenty-five steps of this office. The victim was an Italian, who kept a small fruit store on the corner of Poplar and Trade streets, nearly opposite the First Presbyterian church. A negro gambler from Charleston was arrested as the murderer and incarcerated in the jail Sunday morning.

BEATEN WITH A CAR CUPPER.

John B. Mocco, the victim, was in the act of drawing a glass of cider for the negro, Henry Brandham, when the latter struck him on the back of the head with a pin used for coupling freight cars, completely crushing the base of his skull. The negro then went to the cash drawer, took $22 out and made his escape without detection. A few minutes after, Sergeant Riggler heard the groans of the dying man from the street, went into the store and found him prostrated in a pool of blood and in a semi-comatose state. He was carried to his room, and Sunday morning at 10 o'clock he expired. The lamentation of this poor man's family all day Sunday was heartrending and his blood boiled with indignation.

THE VICTIM.

John B. Mocco, was a quiet and well known Italian, who came to Charlotte from Italy some time in January, and opened a little fruit and confectionary store. He was an Italian subject, who murdered, which makes his taking of all the more sensational.

THE MURDERER.

Henry Brandham, who is charged with the murder, came from Charleston, S. C., a few weeks ago and is known as a professional gambler in Charleston, Savannah, and Atlanta. He was hanging around Mocco's store all day and a few minutes before he murdered Mocco the latter's son saw him sitting around nodding.

Next day when he was arrested at the Miller building on 4th street by chief of police Griffith and policeman Riggler, he was dressed in the height of colored fashion, wearing an elegant silk hat, a cutaway mackintosh, rattlesnake pants patent leather pumps, kid gloves and a walking cane. He did not ask for what he was arrested, and when asked if that were the suit he wore when he murdered Mocco, he is reported to have said "no." He sold the suit he had on at the store to a porter at the Buford Hotel.

The officers found $5 on his person and the handkerchief which he wrapped the car pin in, before the murder. This handkerchief was soiled with rust and bore a plain imprint of the car pin. This negro was identified by Mocco's son and by other parties as the one at the store before the crime was committed. He has been living in style since he came to Charlotte, and is supposed to be the burglar, who went into Mr. Johnston's room at the Buford Hotel two weeks ago and stole $200 and his clothes and watch.

TROUBLE BREWING.

All day Sunday the city wore a serious despondent. Men collected here and there in knots and threats of lynching were heard on every hand. The city has not been so shocked and so angry in years. Everybody was, expecting the night to bring forth serious results. It was whispered that a mob would move on the jail during the evening exercises in the churches.

THE HORNETS AT THE JAIL.

There was sufficient warning to the authorities to cause them to take extraordinary precaution in guarding the jail. Sunday at 7 o'clock Capt. T. R. Robertson marched about forty of the Hornets Nest Riflemen to the jail to assist the sheriff and the police of the city.

WHITES AND BLACKS GATHER.

Before 9 o'clock as many as four hundred white men had massed in front of the jail. Some of the men were armed, and evidently desired to lynch, but the majority of them were unarmed and went as spectators. Almost an equal number of negroes had collected near the jail at the signal of their church bell near by. White men had gone apparently for the purpose of lynching. The negroes had gone to rescue the prisoner. The scene was angry and threatening.

ALMOST A BLOT.

Some negro was disorderly and was arrested by two of the policemen and no sooner was he arrested than the negroes rescued him from the officers, Caucasian blood was boiling and it took the intervention of mighty cool men to prevent a bloody conflict. Such men as Rev. Mr. McManaway, Rev. Mr. Cheshire, and Mayor McDowell and A. Brady plead with both races to disperse. There they stood face to face, stubborn, angry and determined, the negroes armed with clubs, razors and a few old pistols and guns. Had the white people been generally armed at the time, with the provocation of the moment, there would have been a battle. The military held the jail in a firm grip and all idea of lynching was abandoned. The whites gradually dispersed and the negroes slowly retreated to their church near by. The night wore on, but the indignation provoked at the conduct of the negroes cooled off very slowly. The stores were all closed and it was very difficult for men to get firearms.

NEGROES OPEN FIRE.

The negroes held their bay at the church until three o'clock in the morning when the church bell commenced to ring again. The military and police immediately advanced on the church to know what was the matter. They were fired upon from the cupola of the church and returned it with two other volleys fairly riddling the church and emptying it of negroes.

Two white men, George Giffard and John Gray were slightly wounded.

Thus terminated the disturbance of Sunday night, when so many people of this city were up, some anxious but the great majority of them angry.

Excited by their preachers. Of the thirteen thousand population, there are about five thousand negroes. It was reliably stated yesterday that the negro preachers in several of the churches had instructed their flocks that when their church bells were tapped at night they were signals for them to go to the jail armed to rescue the prisoner.

The negro preachers of some of their churches are held responsible for the disorder on Sunday night, and they will be told to leave the city at once.

EVERYBODY ARMED.

There was a great deal of talk about the streets being noisy and that trouble would come last night. Every body in town, even to small boys were armed to their teeth with every sort of a deadly weapon yesterday and there were rumors passing as to what the negroes were going to do.

MILITARY IN CHARGE.

Sheriff Z. S. Smith assisted by the Hornets and the police has the jail in charge. All the idea of lynching has been abandoned, but there is much intense and suppressed feeling that the smallest spark would kindle into a consuming flame.

TO BE TRIED AT ONCE.

There is every prospect that the prisoner will have a trial immediately. The criminal court convened yesterday. The coroner's jury report has been filed and the grand jury will soon have the case. Judge Mears, in his charge to the grand jury and the citizens yesterday said the majesty of the law must be vindicated, if the authorities had to draw through blood to do it. His address was very emphatic, and the officers are determined that the law shall have its course.—Charlotte Chronicle.

LATER—The grand jury found a true bill against Brandham and his trial is fixed for next Monday.

AT HOWARD'S.

DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP. Receipt of the late Dr. Walter Duffy.

DIRECTIONS: Dose for a child two or three years old, one teaspoonful; for a child between 2 and 10 ten drops; for a child six months old, twenty drops; for one twelve months old, nearly half a teaspoonful—repeating these doses frequently if necessary until relief is produced.

This is to certify that I have used DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP in my family for over six months and I believe it to be a most excellent remedy for croup with children, especially as a preventive. Our youngest child had a severe attack of croup about a year ago, inasmuch that we felt anxious about its recovery, but was successfully treated by our physician, but thinking it probable that other attacks might follow we frequently used DUFFY'S CROUP SYRUP and the child has had no marked symptoms of croup since, and I believe it is due to the use of the Croup Syrup, and we now keep a bottle of it at our house at all times, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
