THREE German war ships are at San Francisco.

THE grape crop of the State is said to be very much injured.

DR. PHILLIPS BROOKS has received the consent of enough standing committee to his consecration of Bishop of Massachusetts.

REV. THOMAS H. GAILOK, chancellor of the University of the South, has declined the Episcopal bishopric of Georgia, to which he was recently elected.

HENRY CABOT LODGE still has confidence in the Force bill. Mr. Lodge should run for Governor of Massachusetts on the Force bill platform.—Washington Post.

A QUESTION is raised as to the constitutionality of the appropriations to the Inter-State Exposition. The opinion of the Attorney-General is looked for with much interest.

THE season have been highly favorable to "truck" in this section of the State and it has done well, but not so with cotton. The crop is very backward, and it will require the best conditions in the future to make it an average one.

THE widow of President Harrison's brother, Mrs. Elizabeth L. Harrison, has been paid a pension of $3,329.93. Mrs. Harrison has lived in Chicago six years. The claim was passed upon favorably in Washington three weeks ago. It had been disallowed twice before. So much for being the sister-in-law of the President!

THE people of Kansas want more money. No wonder. The total indebtedness of the State is $695,000,000, while the total assessed valuation of property is $347,717,218. How to make a people prosperous with these conditions is a problem which no party can solve. Even the science of political economy cannot furnish the solution.

It is not surprising that the Prince of Wales leads a dissipated life. With no business engagements to demand his attention; having nothing to do but wait for the British crown, time hangs heavily upon him and he naturally drifts into dissipation. It is fault of the English people that the heir apparent to the throne is not more of a man. If it was the custom of the realm for English princes to be men of affairs Aldrich would be a very different person. Nothing so unmanly as the utter absence of responsible duties and obligations.

AT the late commencement of the United States Naval Academy, Dr. Atherton, of Pennsylvania, delivered a most eloquent address in which he said: "First, second, last, and all the time, officers of the Navy must have a high sense of honor—an honor that feels a wound like a stain, an honor that prefers a thousand deaths to a single stain. While you all assent to this, in the strife men may forget." "There is no separation between personal and official duty, and there is no true life that does not take the spiritual forces into consideration. The man who does not bring himself in contact with them, who does not get into these higher regions, has not put himself on sound anchorage. Unless a man has to himself this, and rules by contact with the spiritual forces, that man's life is a failure. I pray that you may not only fulfill the idea I have set before you, and that you may be an honor to yourselves, your friends, your country, but that you may have anchorage in the great eternal forces that swing the universe."

LOCAL NEWS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

O. H. Guion—Steamer for sale.
J. W. Stewart—Still at the front.
Bargain Store—Summer underwear.
Howard—Dress in good taste, etc.
C. E. Slover—Northern potatoes, etc.

Beans are getting low, but potatoes are holding up pretty good. New York quotations, as given by Palmer, are potatoes $1.75 to $5.00; wax beans $2.00 to $2.50; green 75c. to $2.00; huckleberries 10c. to 12c.

The following counties have made appropriations to have suitable exhibits of their products at the Southern Exposition: Wake county $2,000; New Hanover, Greene, Wayne, Vance and Forsythe $500 each, Craven $300.

The steamer Neuse took out another large cargo (between four and five thousand packages) of truck yesterday. There was a good shipment also by rail. Remember that the bulk of these are potatoes, and that potatoes are $4 50 to $5.00 per barrel, and you will see this means big money for New Berne.

Another exceedingly handsome monument 9 feet high from the East Carolina Marble Works has been placed in Cedar Grove cemetery. It was erected in memory of Mr. Hardy B. Lane and the deceased members of his family by his daughter, Miss Harriette Lane.

Messrs. M. Hahn & Co., made sale yesterday of one of their finest horses to Mr. L. W. Humphrey of Goldsboro. It was a coal black animal, rather above medium size, and generally considered among horsemen to be one of the handsomest and most stylish ever brought to the New Berne market.

Mr. John S. Thomas, of the New Berne Collegiate Institute, gives three prizes this year to the pupils of his department. The presentation will take place Friday night. The gold medal for excellence in writing will be presented by Judge H. B. Bryan; the gold medal for excellence in general recitations by Rev. C. G. Vardell, and the prize for greatest progress in the civil government class by Mr. W. D. Molver.

After Messrs. T. A. Green and Jas. A. Bryan are through with their business in Washington as members of the committee to invite President Harrison and his cabinet to the Southern Exposition, they will proceed to Philadelphia to look after New Berne's interests in the matter of the Norfolk, Wilmington and Charleston railroad. They will confer with the head authorities, and by presenting the need of a quick through line at this point seek to secure such a location of the route that New Berne will be on the main line.

Our young townsmen, Messrs. Roscoe Nunn and Shepard Bryan hold prominent places on the published Honor Roll of the State University in their respective studies. Mr. Nunn's lowest grade is 94 and his highest 97. Another New Berne young man Mr. H. B. Thomas, who is a cadet in Fishburn Military school, Waynesboro, Va., has come off with flying colors and taken the first prize, a gold medal for best declamation at the commencement exercises. New Berne boys will make themselves heard from.

Removal of Vance Academy.

It was hoped when Vance Academy opened in New Berne that it would remain here permanently and be one of the prominent educational institutions of the town, but Prof. W. R. Skinner, the principal, has announced his intention of moving his school to Seven Springs, and he gives us the following information relative to the contemplated change:

He has the offer of the donation of a desirably located lot that will make a nice campus, and a good sum has been subscribed towards the erection of a suitable and well fitted-up building thereon. The school, as in the past, will be for both boys and girls; the male department will be a military school with a full set of equipments and all the cadets will be uniformed. There will also be a brass band composed of the pupils.

Prof. Skinner says further that he will have none but the best teachers for the different divisions of his school and that he will have an able corps of them, one of whom Mr. C. D. Bradham has taught with him this year and given perfect satisfaction to the principal and his patrons.

Miss Bayard of Canada, a graduate of the Boston conservatory of music who has been highly recommended, will give instructions in both vocal and instrumental music.

Prof. Skinner has taught near the place selected in previous years, and had patronage from contiguous territory and beyond it and ever since he left, the residents have been trying to get him back. Other places offered inducements to secure his services but he chose the old familiar neighborhood which he knew and where he was best known—one of the prime factions leading to its selection being the healthful location.

Personal.
Rev. R. A. Willis and his daughter Miss Eva, went up to Raleigh yesterday morning on a short trip.

Mr. J. S. Basnight who has been on a visit to relatives in Tyrrell county, returned home on the steamer Neuse of the E. C. D. line.

Mr. W. B. Blade returned on the steamer Neuse from a business trip to Elizabeth City.

Mrs. Augusta Oaksmith, of Hollywood, came up yesterday morning and will remain in the city several weeks.

Dr. G. K. Bagby returned last night from a visit to his family at Kinston.

Miss Lillie E. Lucas, daughter of Senator W. H. Lucas of Hyde, who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. J. Haynes, has returned to her home in Hyde county.

The steamer Neuse of the E. C. D. line took out the following persons: Messrs. T. A. Green and Jas. A. Bryan, members of the International Committee from North Carolina, on their way to Washington City to invite President Harrison and his cabinet to attend the Inter-State Exposition; Capt. J. A. Richardson, going to New York on a business trip; Mrs. Jas. A. Bryan, leaving for New York to visit her son, Mr. C. S. Bryan; Mrs. C. Barton, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. A. S. Seymour, returning to her home in Clinton, N. Y., accompanied back by Mrs. Seymour to spend the summer; Mr. F. J. Wetherbee, of Burlington, and Mr. P. F. Pickles, of Oriental, en route to Elizabeth City on business trips.

Mr. Thomas Wilson has resigned as policeman and Mr. Eli Elliott has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

The Savannah Times says that the work of building the parsonage for the church of which Dr. L. C. Vass is now pastor was begun last Monday. Mrs. Vass, entered apprentice of the brick mason's fraternity, laid the first brick in the presence of an interested assembly, principally ladies of the Aid Society. The Times says the plan of the manse is an admirable one, that it will be a beautiful building, a credit to the church and an ornament to the city, and that the work will be rapidly pushed and completed by the first of October.

To Invite the President.

Tomorrow is the time fixed by President Harrison to receive the delegates from the South that have been appointed to invite him and his cabinet to attend the Southern Inter-State Convention at Raleigh next fall. A good delegation of representatives regularly appointed will go from every Southern State. Greensboro, N. C., is the gathering point at which they are to assemble and proceed to Washington in a body. It is estimated that there will be thirteen car loads of them to leave Greensboro for Washington today. Messrs. T. A. Green and Jas. A. Bryan, who were two of the delegates appointed, left here yesterday by another route on this business.

A good opportunity is now afforded to become the owner of a desirable residence at Morehead. Messrs. C. R. and James Thomas, executors, offer for sale, the well-known "Dill House" which is in full view of the sound, convenient to the hotels and railroad and during the hot days of July and August is an elegant and comfortable summer home at this leading summer resort.

The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons will meet in the Teachers' Assembly building at Morehead tonight and the Grand Commandry of Knight Templars Thursday. About fifty delegates are expected to attend. About a dozen went down last night from Goldsboro, Winston, Durham and Raleigh. State Secretary, D. W. Bain, who is Grand Secretary of the Chapter, was among those who went down from Raleigh last night.
