THE storm around the Prince of Wales is growing. The middle classes, the bone and sinew of the land, are arrayed against him.

IT has been announced that the Craven County Veterans' Association will meet at the court house, in New Berne, at 12 m., on the 4th of July. We trust that President Manly and his executive committee will prepare for a grand celebration of the glorious fourth.

QUEEN VICTORIA is now duly authorized by act of Parliament to prohibit the catching of seal in Behring Sea, and if her government and that of the United States can come to some agreement on the subject the industry that was threatened with destruction may yet be saved.

DISPATCHES from Shanghai announce fresh excesses upon the part of the anti-European element in the population of China. There is great excitement. In the vicinity of lake Poyang, near Kin Kiang, several missionary establishments have been looted and burned by the riotous Chinese.

"GEORGE W. JONES, to whom is given the credit of naming both Wisconsin and Iowa, is still living at Dubuque, and enjoys good health, at the age of 87 years. He was serving as Minister to Bogota during the war, when he was recalled and sent to Fort Lafayette for writing a personal letter to Jefferson Davis."

GOVERNOR PATTISON, of Pennsylvania, has a presidential bee in his bonnet. It may sting him without making any honey for him. Pattison is a sound Democrat and he is strong in his own State, but it is not probable that he will be entered against Cleveland. If Hill and Cleveland handicap each other Pittison may win as a dark horse.

STATE TREASURER BAIN made a ruling as to the income tax matter that only "net" incomes are taxable. The chairman of the Wake county board of commissioners directed the tax list takers to list the gross incomes and to disregard the ruling of the State Treasurer. The list takers, however, very wisely decided to recognize Mr. Bain and ignore the chairman of the county commissioners. Mr. Bain is, of course, the authority in the matter. He is one of the men who do not act until they know what they are doing.—Wilmington Messenger.

SIR EDWARD CLARKE is represented as having created a sensation because he treated the Prince of Wales as he would have treated any other witness in the baccarat case. He acted like the juror who put pointed questions to the Prince that more polite counsel appeared to be afraid to ask. Sir Edward Clarke is an office holder under the Crown and may be made to suffer for his temerity, but England is sufficiently Liberal to make a hero of him if any attempt should be made to humiliate him for doing his duty by his client

Collegiate Institute Club Drill.

The Indian club drill, at the closing exercises of the New Berne Collegiate Institute, elicited praise from all quarters, and it was well deserved. The club drill is a higher order of callisthenics than the dumb-bell, or wand drill, usually given at school entertainments, and requires a greater amount of practice to master the different movements and to execute them smoothly.

The boys who took part in the drill are young, and they captivated the audience by the mastery way in which they handled their clubs. They came on the rear of the stage from the sides in two files, met at the center and formed a column of twos and marched to the front, then countermarched to the rear in files, and turning, right and left obliqued into position. They executed the movements and made the changes gracefully and simultaneously, and their performance would have done credit to older club swingers. A gentleman, who had seen several Indian club drills, said, for the size of the club, it was the finest he had ever witnessed.

Their success was the result of hard work on the part of the boys, and of faithful teaching on the part of their instructor, Mr. Chas. J. McSorley, who, we believe, handles the clubs with as much if not more skill than any man in Eastern Carolina. We understand the drill was formulated by him.

Boys, you did well, and we congratulate you.

TEACHERS' ASSEMBLY.

Eight Annual Session—Members Arriving—Large Crowd Expected To-night.

Morehead City, June 15th, 1891. ED. JOURNAL:—Tomorrow the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly begins their Eight Annual Session here which promises to be the grandest of any ever held.

There is a long list of distinguished persons to be present, participate in the work and deliver addresses. The most noted of these is the Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage of Brooklyn, who is to lecture on the evening of the 18th.

The proceedings Wednesday are laid out to include the opening address by the Rev. G. W. Sanderlin D. D. A complimentary sail to be given the members by the "Sharpie Fleet," of Beaufort and Morehead; and the Annual Address by President McIver.

A good sprinkling of members have already arrived, among them President McIver, but the greatest rush is looked for Tuesday evening when Secretary Harrell comes down with car loads from all directions in the State.

Of this and all the proceedings of interest I will endeavor to inform you.

Chocowinity School Commencement.

The commencement exercises of Trinity school at Chocowinity were held last week beginning on Tuesday and continuing three days. Interesting literary exercises, which were very creditable to the school and nicely enjoyed by the visitors, were held Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Those of Tuesday were by the pupils under 15 years of age.

On Wednesday there was a lawn tennis tournament, in which Master John Williams, of Greenville, came off victorious. The prize, a racket, was presented Thursday night with other awards.

Thursday at 12 m. the commencement sermon, an admirable discourse, was preached by Rev. T. M. N. George, of New Berne.

The closing exercises proper were held Thursday night. They consisted of music, recitations, Shakespearean selections, two original orations by students, and the distribution of gold medals, other prizes and certificates of distinction.

The medal for the best debator was won by Julius Dunbar, of Leechville. Handsome gold medals were also presented to Misses Mary E. Harding, daughter of Rev. Nat Harding, of Washington, Blanche Hoell, Martha E. Winfield and Patrick, of Chocowinity.

The most complimentary prize given, an elegant copy of standard poems, was awarded to Master Frederick Harriman Harding, a son of Rev. Nat Harding. It was for being "the best boy in school." Those to whom Master Harding is not known must not infer from this that he is a listless, "goody-goody" fellow, blameless in deportment because he has not life enough to be otherwise, for the reverse is true—he is a fine, manly youth, of noble impulses and is respected and admired by his acquaintances. The medal was given because of exhibitions of high moral principle, an eminent honor, and all the greater because it was not sought—in fact, could not be—for the prize was not among those offered and therefore it was not even known that it would be given. This prize was presented by Prof. Sleeman, who has constant oversight of the boys.

Trinity school is one of high order. It is a boarding school for both sexes and its pupils come from neighboring counties, and from all parts of Eastern Carolina. The buildings for the boys and girls are entirely separate. The instruction embraces the classics, music, etc.

Rev. N. Colin Hughes, D. D., an uncle of Drs. J. B. and F. W. Hughes, of this city, is the principal. He is assisted by his son, Rev. N. Colin Hughes, jr., and other competent instructors and the school is in a flourishing condition.

Dr. Hughes has been teaching at Chocowinity for forty years past, with the exception of an intermission caused by the war, and he has prepared many young men for college.

The distinguished Rev. John W. Beckwith who, at the time of his death a few months ago, was Bishop of Georgia, was prior to the war, one of the assistants in this school.
