

THE JOURNAL.

MR. GEORGE P. PELL, associate editor of the State Chronicle, has purchased the Yachin Valley News, at Mount Airy, N. C., and has gone to take editorial charge of the paper, which will be enlarged and otherwise improved.

It was noticeable, during the recent session of the Alliance Convention at Morehead, that the Republicans who had joined the Alliance were the principal talkers in favor of a third party.

THE PRESS ASSOCIATION. From all accounts, the late meeting of the Press Association at Winston must have been one of the most profitable and pleasant in its history.

Topics were ably discussed, and the standard of journalism lifted higher. Winston displayed her hospitality to the best advantage, and many an editor will long remember the good things at Winston with grateful heart.

There was quite a warm contest between New Berne and Charlotte for the honor of entertaining the Association next year.

Charlotte won in the end, and while we regret that New Berne lost, we confess that no better place could have been selected than beautiful and progressive Charlotte.

CLEVELAND. Mr Cleveland is today the foremost Democratic American citizen.

Like all public men, Mr. Cleveland has enemies within his own party. Conspicuous among these is the New York World.

It is perfectly natural for him to accept the advice of this very able paper with many grains of allowance.

The World is pressing Mr. Cleveland for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the State of New York, and it is not at all surprising that the ex-President does not respond to the suggestion with alacrity and delight.

Governor Hill lost popularity when he declined to resign the office of Governor after having been elected to the United States Senate. Indeed it may be said that it was a prime factor in his elimination from the presidential problem.

Should Mr. Cleveland become a candidate for Governor, it would be claimed by his enemies as an acknowledgement of his inability to regain the presidential office, and the World would not hesitate to announce that it was fatal to his presidential aspirations.

There is no reason why Mr. Cleveland should become a candidate for Governor. If the Empire State needed his services, if there was some State issue of paramount importance with which he was personally associated, his patriotism would induce him to lay aside the higher ambition and go to the rescue of his State. But, there is no such necessity. There are a dozen or more men in that great State upon either one of whom the Democratic party can unite and achieve a glorious victory.

The suggestion of the World is not the offspring of friendship. While there is no State issue with which Mr. Cleveland is personally identified, he is the very soul of the paramount national issues of the day.

The country, to a very large extent, demands the return of Grover Cleveland to the chief magistracy of the nation. There are many good Democrats who disagree with Mr. Cleveland on the silver question, but the National Democratic Convention will adjust that matter, and its nominee will receive the enthusiastic support of all true Democrats.

There is no better exemplification of American manhood than that which is furnished in the life and public services of Grover Cleveland. Fearless of personal consequences, he acts upon his convictions of duty and crowns pre-eminently able with a moral heroism that rings a reluctant tribute from his bitterest opponents.

Who but Cleveland would have written his ever memorable message on the tariff immediately preceding a presidential election? He knew it would make him enemies, but duty was his supreme dictator, and he went forward in obedience to its command. Who but Cleveland would have saluted the South as an equal in the Union, entitled alike to equal rights and equal honors? A disciple of Jefferson with the iron qualities of Jackson, no man is so well suited to lead the Democracy, in the great contest '03, as the peerless patriot and statesman Grover Cleveland.

FOOLHARDY ENTERPRISE.

A Manned Ship to Be Wrecked at Bar Harbor to Test the Life-Saving Service. BOSTON, MASS., Aug. 16.—(Special)—Bar Harbor is to have a novel entertainment, consisting of nothing less than a real shipwreck, so as to demonstrate for a consideration the perfect workings of the life-saving service. The details of the exhibition shipwreck have been arranged by W. G. Milliken, a boss wrecker. The performance will take place immediately after the first storm following August 10 that raises a heavy sea, and the craft selected to be sacrificed is the old schooner S. P. Adams, 150 tons.

This old craft, which was built twenty-seven years ago will be sent to sea with a volunteer crew of foolhardy sailors, who for a paltry consideration, risk their own lives to entertain others. The old boat will be allowed to drift ashore and east herself away on the rock just east of Otter Creek Point, and the life-saving crew from the station at Cranberry Island will be on hand to fish the bold mariners by means of mortar, lines, breachers buoy, life line, etc.

The affair promises to be a great success, and all the wealth and beauty around Mount Desert and vicinity will attend. There have been many objections raised to this careless jeopardizing of valuable lives, but as the volunteers are satisfied every one else seems to be also. The main objection is, however, should any wreck occur near Cranberry Island during the exhibition, the victims will have to hustle for themselves, for the life savers will all be at Bar Harbor.

A Ballon Bursts in the Clouds. DENVER, Col., Aug. 16.—A balloon ascension, at Manhattan Beach, a summer resort near here, this afternoon, came near resulting fatally for three persons. Several thousand people had assembled to witness the ascension of the mammoth airship, which was to carry, besides Prof. King, a couple to be married in the basket just before the rope was cut. The balloon shot up in the air, and at a height of 3,000 feet it encountered a storm and burst. It fell for over a mile like so much lead, then, fortunately for the occupants of the car, the silk formed itself into a parachute, thus stopping the rapidity of the fall. All three alighted in a corn field about seven miles from the city, but with such force that they were unconscious for several hours afterward.

Hot Springs. Have you ever visited Hot Springs? Alas! you meet while there so many instances of terrible blood poison, evidenced by disfigurement of face and form. Hither rush sufferers from scrofula, syphilis, eczema, salt rheum, ulcers, diseased skin, twisted and aching joints, limbs made crooked by rheumatism, etc., etc. Some find relief, some do not and come away poor in purse and grievously disappointed. It costs money to visit and sojourn at Hot Springs. The experiment of going there cannot be indulged in without considerable expense. How can I find relief, then should everyone know there is a remedy even more beneficial in cases of blood poison than Hot Springs. We refer to Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) as it merits thousands will testify.

Z. T. Hallerton, Macon, Ga., writes: "I contracted blood poison. I first consulted a physician and then went to Hot Springs. I returned home a ruined man physically. Nothing seemed to do me any good. My mother persuaded me to try B. B. B. To my utter astonishment every ulcer quickly healed." Jas. L. Bosworth, Atlanta, Ga., says: "Some years ago I contracted blood poison. I had no appetite, my digestion was ruined, rheumatism drew up my limbs so I could scarcely walk, my throat was cancerized five times. Hot Springs gave me no benefit and my life was one of torture until I gave B. B. B. a trial, and surprising as it may seem, the use of five bottles cured me."

THE CHILDREN. Ah! what would the world be to us if the children were no more? We should dread the desert behind us. Worse than the dark before. They are better than all the ballads. That ever were sung or said. For they are living poems. And all the rest are dead.

DISASTROUS STORM. Crops Ruined by Wind and Rain and Hail—A Hall Stone Two Feet in Diameter. ST. CLOUD, Minn., Aug. 15.—The storm proves to have been much more serious than at first supposed. Hail first began to fall when the storm which came from the North reached Samuel Gilman's farm about three miles northeast of Sank Rapids and from there almost to Elk river in the extreme southern portion of Sherburne county a distance of about ten miles, it was a perfect fury. In Benton county its width varied from a one-half mile, and as it began to spend its force it broadened out to about four miles wide.

All the corn and standing grain in its path were utterly ruined, immense stones crushing them into the ground, and the grain in shocks also suffered severely, that being shocked in parallel rows with no caps being nearly threshed. Grain shocked with caps was not damaged so severely. Many men in the hay and harvest fields were badly bruised and cut about the head by the devastating downfall of hail. Twenty hours after the storm's passage, Capt. William Smith, of Widen, brought to this city a huge lump of snow and ice which he picked up on his farm. When he started from home the monster was about two feet in diameter. No conservative estimate can be made of the damage accomplished but it must of necessity reach into the thousands.

THE BAKEP. Listen to plain facts about the Kabo corset. You can't break the bones—for one thing. If you do, within a year, you'll have your money back. Soft eyelets—that's another thing that can't be had with other corsets. And hear how it's sold: if you're not satisfied, after a few weeks' wear, you can return it and get your money. O. MARKS & SON.
