THERE is great excitement in Ogden, Utah, over the reported discovery of lead ore, almost pure, and a paying quantity of silver about twenty-five miles from that point.

In an interview with the Richmond Dispatch, Col. Polk said it was not true that he had said that Hon. M. W. Ransom ought to be defeated for the United States when his term expires. It is now in order for the Atlanta Constitution to explain why its correspondent misrepresented him.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has just visited Albany, N. Y., and made a speech. He spoke of silver in such a way as to induce the Washington Post to say: Another unmistakable inference is that should a bill for the free and unlimited coinage of silver pass the next House of Congress and by hook or crook make its way through the senate, it will never be allowed to become a law either with the President's approval or without his signature.

THE White Star Line steamer Tonic, which arrived at New York Aug. 19, from Liverpool, beat the record for western passages. Her time from the bar at Queens-town to the Sandy Hook bar was five days, sixteen hours and thirty-one minutes. This is one hour and thirty-seven minutes faster than the time of her sister ship, the Majestic, on her last trip from Liverpool, which then made the fastest westward passage up to that time. One day the Tonic steamed 517 miles, which also beats the record of speed for a day.

We give this morning a short, pointed communication from Prof. Edward Graham Daves, a talented and accomplished native New Bernian, who speaks not only from his literary information as to the spelling of Bern, of which our city is the namesake, but from personal observation, as he spent several years in Switzerland, and has visited that city a number of times.

Good Racing for the Fair.
The Perquimans Record, in noticing the State Fair premium list, remarks: "The premiums on racing will be such as to insure a good turn out of stock. No horse except those owned in North Carolina will be allowed to compete."
"Pamlico, the famous trotter owned by Mr. Clarence Bateholder, that took the premium all over the Northern States, will be placed on the track weekly during the Exposition by special request of the Exposition management. He will not compete against North Carolina horses as Pamlico is a most excellent trotter and Mr. Bateholder would win all the prizes, but he will only trot Pamlico for the amusement of visitors, and not to take the premiums."

SEEK BUSINESS.

One Success Leads to Others—Need for Board of Trade to Work Up Such Matters.

In the stock line yesterday Mr. J. W. Stewart received another supply of handsome Kentucky horses and mules, and Messrs. M. Hahn & Co. sold a pair of elegant bays to Dr. Geo. S. Attmore of Stonewall.

The JOURNAL has worked faithfully for the upbuilding of the stock trade of New Berne, believing as we do that it adds to the prosperity of the city; it is far reaching in the extent of the country to which the trade extends, and it brings money here for other purposes. A man will not come here to buy his horses and mules without making other purchases also.

Our relations with Pamlico on this and other lines increase the need for improvement that has long been talked of, and that is a bridge over Neuse river. Our citizens generally desire it, but the cost and the cramped condition of the county's finances has heretofore debarred the project from taking any definite shape, but it seems to us that the time has arrived when action should be taken in the matter. It has been suggested that, if necessary, private individuals should assist the county in the matter, and one of our citizens says he would take pleasure in heading a subscription paper with a good sum for that purpose.

The bridge, as has been repeatedly and truthfully argued, will increase the value of land on the north side of Neuse river, lead to its more rapid settlement, bring more trade to New Berne, and put the citizens of that side into closer market relations with our flourishing city.

Such important moves as these cannot be well looked after by individuals or by unorganized efforts of masses, no matter how great is the need for them or how urgently they are desired. This is one of the questions that should be dealt with by a board of trade.

The lack of such an organization in thorough working order is a drawback to the city's advancement, and it is astonishing that our business men should be content without active organized effort in reaching out after trade.

This agitation is only one among many that the JOURNAL has urged.

The Goldsboro Fair.
The Goldsboro Fair is not quite a month off. It will hold its eighth annual exhibition on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 15-17. The premium list, of which we have just received a copy, shows well. There are 571 liberal premiums offered for the best exhibits in the twelve distinct departments of the Fair in addition to those offered for trials of speed which will be for purses ranging from $50 to $200.

The rate of one cent a mile each way has been made with all railroads in the State and also arrangements for free transportation of exhibits—the money being refunded at the station from which the articles are shipped upon presentation of the freight receipt and a certificate that the articles were exhibited at the Fair.

The managers say that strenuous efforts will be made to make this the most successful Fair yet held by the Association.

A WEST INDIA STORM CALAMITY.
The Island of Martinique Visited by One of the Most Destructive Hurricanes in Its History.

St. Thomas, West Indies, Aug. 20.—A terrific hurricane swept over Martinique Tuesday night. Every vessel in the harbor of Fort de France was destroyed.

So far as can be learned there have been nearly sixteen deaths on land as the result of the visitation.

The calamity is said to be the most severe since the year 1817, and is said to equal the famous cyclone which swept over the island of Antigua in 1861. It will be some time before the full extent of the disaster is known.

At Fort de France, alone, there have been twelve lives lost in both Fort de France and St. Pierre, to say nothing of the country districts; there have been large numbers of people injured.

At St. Pierre, five persons are known to have been killed, but it is feared that this number does not represent the entire loss of life in the capital.

The latest reports received at St. Pierre from Lametin show that the hurricane counts ten victims in that place, in addition to a large number of injured.

At Francois there have been sixteen people killed and large numbers injured, and at Riviere Pilote there have been two or more deaths, and so on from all parts of the islands comes the tale of woe and desolation.

La Trinite sends in the list of its dead at ten and numbers of more or less severely injured.

The damage done to shipping and property may safely be classed as stupendous. About two fifths of the island was under cultivation, and the mountain slopes were covered with forests. All the cultivation and all the forests in the path of the hurricane appear to have been swept away.

The dispatch makes no reference to loss of life among the ships' crews, and there is great anxiety to receive fuller particulars of the disaster.

Trustees' Meeting.

MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

To H. W. Grady—A Memorial that will Honor the Dead and Bless the Living.

Expending vast sums of money by the erection of grand monuments in honor of popular public men to perpetuate their memories and to serve as incentives to imitation of their virtues by survivors and succeeding generations answers those purposes but how much real benefit accrues therefrom? Cannot the same money be so expended as to accomplish the same results and still be beneficial to the living? The people of Georgia seem to have taken this problem into consideration and have worked out a very sensible and satisfactory solution. They highly esteem their late talented public-spirited and indefatigable worker, Henry W. Grady, and they are going to do more than build a simple statue to his memory. They have raised $80,000 and with it they will build a memorial hospital in Atlanta in his honor and this institution, bearing his name, and diffusive of blessings to suffering humanity will ineffaceably stamp his name and to some extent his deeds in the minds of many a grateful recipient of its benefits and not only in the minds of its beneficiaries and visitors to the institution but also in the minds of those who know of it simply by sight or reputation and it will be approved of by all benevolently inclined individuals of every place and age that know of it. Is not this vastly better than marble columns, life-like statues, etc., which scatter no blessings to the living?

AN EMINENT SCHOLAR SPEAKS.

Big B is Preferable—Final is Wrong.

Mr. Editor:—The noise of your controversy about the spelling of New Bern reaches this distant spot, and I venture to add my voice to the din.

Use a small or large B as you will, though the latter is preferable,—but let us all unite in driving out the intrusive final s.

The Swiss Bern is a German town, and there is not the least reason for adopting the French spelling of it. The English were formerly wont to adopt the French versions of German names: as Cologne & Munich for Coeln & Munchen. But the German scholars of the present day are striving to correct this anomaly, and recent historians refuse to give the name of Charlemagne to the German Emperor Charles the Great, or that of Aix-la-Chapelle to the German town Aachen.

Let us in like manner return to the correct form Bern, and this is a gracious moment for such a recognition of our ancestry, when the mother city is celebrating the six hundredth year of her glorious existence, and has invited her Carolinian daughter to be an honored guest at the family feast.
