Mrs. Needham Case and her son Willie left on the steamer Newberne of the O. D. line to visit her daughter, Mrs. Melzer Orr, in Norfolk.

At a meeting of Thistle Alliance held Saturday August 21st, 1891, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the will of Providence, we feel that the Sunday school and the church have lost an active friend.

In the field of benevolence she was always foremost in action. Wherever the cry of distress was heard her ear was bent to its plea, her heart responded in sympathy, and her hand was enlisted to give relief.

The poor and rich alike shared her attention in sickness. She seemed never to tire in the office she performed for suffering humanity. We laid her in the grave with a well-grounded hope of a joyful resurrection.

THE COLORED FAIR.

The Procession—Opening Exercises—The Exhibit.

Yesterday morning ushered in the second annual exhibition of the Oriental, Industrial, Stock, Fruit and Agricultural Fair. At 11 o'clock the procession, consisting of the Golden Link band, Chief Marshal, Geo. H. White, and assistants, four New Berne base ball clubs, (the Atlantics, Stirrers, Mutuals and Excelsiors) and carriages with the speakers of the day and other citizens formed on Broad street and paraded through the business part of the city.

Before the procession reached the grounds a rain commenced, on account of which the opening exercises were delayed for a short time and then held on the grand stand. After lively playing by the band, the Chief Marshal, Hon. Geo. H. White, with a few patriotic and encouraging remarks, introduced the orator of the day, Judge H. R. Eryan, who delivered an address, not lengthy but excellent, which was well received and heartily applauded during its delivery.

At the close of the address the Marshal read the order of exercises which had been arranged for the several days of the Fair and in the absence of acting Mayor Ellis, formally declared the Fair open and in doing so took occasion to heartily endorse the sentiments of the address to which he had just listened and speak words of encouragement and approval of the work of the Fair.

These exercises being ended the crowd betook themselves to an examination of the various exhibits displayed in the several departments. The first building reached after leaving the grand stand contains native animals, some field products, and other articles of interest.

The next building is used for a restaurant and a number of parties have space in it from which they supply the wants of the visitors in that line.

The basement of the main building contains nice farm and garden products, fruits, fine specimens of native ornamental grasses, etc.

The floral department is well filled with beautiful plants and presents quite an attractive appearance, as does also the display of preserves, jellies, pickles, etc.

There is a good supply of quite of pretty and unique patterns, also tides, cushions, embroidery and other fancy work.

The taxidermy and live stock and poultry exhibits are not large, but there are some good specimens shown.

A merry-go-round on the grounds furnishes amusements to those inclined to that kind of sport; and Mr. J. D. Hensley is exhibiting his admirable collection of about three dozen different varieties of native animals, birds and reptiles, embracing both familiar and rare and curious kinds.

Among them are a large bear; a pair of bald eagles, five months old, which were taken from their nest five miles from New Berne, that now measure seven feet from tip to tip; an odd and frightful looking but harmless horned frog; a snake known as the water-rattler, six and a half feet long; another a little smaller; a panther cat and her kittens, and numbers of others that are interesting and well worth seeing.

The heavy rain which commenced yesterday morning and lasted until well in the afternoon was considerable of a drawback, but all seemed to take it cheerfully and hope for more propitious weather during the remaining days.

IN MEMORIAM. Resolutions of the Newport Sunday School, Passed Aug. 22d, 1891.

Whereas, Mrs. Sarah A. Dennis, one of our beloved members, in the fifty-first year of her life, has been taken from us, by the hand of death on the 19th of August, 1891. Therefore,

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the will of Providence, we feel that the Sunday school and the church have lost an active friend.

In the field of benevolence she was always foremost in action. Wherever the cry of distress was heard her ear was bent to its plea, her heart responded in sympathy, and her hand was enlisted to give relief.

The poor and rich alike shared her attention in sickness. She seemed never to tire in the office she performed for suffering humanity. We laid her in the grave with a well-grounded hope of a joyful resurrection.

STUMP SOUND ITEMS.

Rain—Prolific Cucumbers—Corn and Peas—Protracted Meeting—Alliance Talk.

The rains have caused the farmers to lose their fodder. We have never seen so much rain in July and August.

We can't beat the cucumber story we saw in the JOURNAL, in size, but we have some cucumbers down this way, and big ones, too. Mrs. Maggie Bethes planted one row of cucumbers in her garden 46 feet long.

She commenced pulling in June, and now, 23d of August, can pull from a peck to half a bushel every other day. She has fattened 5 good size hogs, made barrel of pickles, gave away another barrel, besides her own family of eleven eating all the time, and has plenty of cucumbers now and expects to have until frost. They were not the large kind, only a few grew over a foot long.

Hill King has the brag piece of corn in the neighborhood, highland, planted the middle of July, and now is some every stalk has three red silks on it, while the corn is almost black to look at. In height it is about 13 feet on a level. We measured one stalk 14 feet high. Col. E. W. Foville on New River has the largest piece of corn we ever saw, we mean the largest stalk and longest stalk. King's corn is the usual distance, while Foville's is 8 ft. apart in rows, 3 ft. on drill with 2 rows peanuts in between the rows.

Jeff Capps has a piece of corn, 74 feet long, with two rows of field peas in between. Jeff expects to make 5 bushels corn and 100 bushels peas to acre. Jeff Capps or T. J. Capps, is one of the soldiers that helped to carry Stonewall Jackson of the battle field at Chancellorsville when he was wounded.

David Canaday is one of our best farmers and fruiterer, he has now the finest peaches, pears, figs, apples, etc., of any one we have seen here. His peaches are the best. We saw a pear tree at Dave Canaday's, ("Morgan" variety) with 33 large pears on it, some of them would weigh two pounds and the tree was only about 8 feet high.

A protracted meeting is going on at Salem church near here. There are eight preachers in attendance, some from South Carolina, one or two from Wilmington and some from Duplin county. Missionary Baptist denomination. Several have joined and more are expected.

Sheriff Spicer is a strong Alliance man; he has made some good speeches for the order, and while he disagrees with some as to politics, we think all will come together soon.

Children Enjoy The pleasant flavor, gentle action and soothing effects of Syrup of Figs, when in need of a laxative and if the father or mother be coercive or bilious the most gratifying results follow its use, so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a bottle.

Selling Out at Cost. Now is the time to make your purchases for Dry Goods and Notions. Owing to the large stock to be procured this fall, the balance of goods on hand must be disposed of positively at cost to make room for my goods.

We had a sign placed under our large sign with "D. M. Jones and Charlie Roberts, Salesmen," painted on it, but our city fathers say the bottoms of all signs must be eight feet from sidewalk.

Ours is so large it will not go up the right height. What could we do but send Mr. Jones and Charlie down to The Clark Store, where there is plenty of room for their sign. Their friends in future will find them there. We were sorry to make this change, but could not lose the sign.
