It is further boldly asserted that those taking up grounds are possessing themselves of natural beds intended for public use.

Our townsman Mr. J. S. Mann who was the Representative from Hyde county in the last legislature and the author of the law then passed is firm in his conviction that this is the real standing of the case and that wholesale evasions of the law are the order of the day.

The so-called "oyster question" has become a very serious one in the east. The oystermen are much concerned over the vast number of acres that have been made in Pamlico sound and its tributaries.

I dislike very much to question the motives of men, but I must say I believe this wholesale entry of oyster grounds is simply a plan the opponents of the present oyster law have settled upon by which to defeat the oystermen.

A favorite scheme of the entry-makers I have heard of is to secure grants for large sections of ground wherever oysters are growing rapidly and already exist abundantly and after securing the title they propose to let the oystermen work this area on shares, that is to say by paying the owner a third or fourth of some other specified amount.

It is a settled fact that large areas of what should be public oyster grounds were left out of the Winslow survey. These grounds ought never to be granted by the State, but unfortunately they are the very grounds that are sought so eagerly for entry, and the oystermen say it means ruin to them to be deprived of oystering on these grounds.
