POISON IVY.

FACTS OF INTEREST ABOUT A WOODLAND KYL

Its Violent Effects and the Best Remedies for Them—How to Tell It From Virginia Creeper.

If you have never fallen a victim to that stren of the woods and fields, the poison ivy, read this and take warning...

Like mosquitoes, the poison ivy is found pretty nearly everywhere. You brush it as you steal along the Canadian stream, tempting the trout to rise...

The most exasperating thing about poison ivy is its resemblance to the harmless and beautiful woodbine or Virginia creeper. Nearly everybody is on the lookout for poison ivy, and it is probable that, but for this unfortunate resemblance...

Stranded, Like a Modern Ark. Private Secretary Tate had a visitor the other day who has had a wonderful experience. It was Commodore Gilkeson, late of the United States Navy...

One Horse's Grief For Another. There is a pathetic story about High Tariff, the colt that fell dead in the race for the America Derby at Chicago, and the Post-Scout...

Poison ivy has a cousin, which country folks often call poison dogwood or poison elder. It is more correctly known as the poison sumach, although that name might also apply to the poison ivy...

Disinfects for Nauseous Doses. A strong solution of extract of licorice destroys the disagreeable taste of aloes. Peppermint water disguises the nauseous taste of Epsom salts...

WHERE HE PUTS HIS ARM.

He stood outside the gate awhile, And said "Good night," with a love-sick smile. "Good night," she said, "Good night," once more...

The Postoffice in China.

For many centuries public despatches have been conveyed through China by means of a Department of the Board of War. Post roads, originally excellent but now disgraceful, radiate from Peking to all parts of the empire...

PITH AND POINT.

Worn out with hard work—Overalls. State secrets—Most of those who know 'em. The man who sells honey is on a bee-line to success.—Pack.

The rose is red and the violet's blue, and so is a man whose roat is due.—Peck's Sun. The editor's waste basket is proof that he is always prepared for the worst.—Boston Courier.

Cor.—"Isn't Simpson a man after your heart?" Dora (drumly).—"I'm told he is, but he'll not win it."—New York Herald.

"Roberts fell off a thirty-foot ladder and wasn't hurt a bit." "Not hurt! I don't believe it." "Yes, it's so. He fell off the bottom round."—Brooklyn Life.

"How beautiful and rosy white Miss Peachment looks to-night." "She does, but still I don't talk to her." "Why?" "I think she's talking under false colors."—Philadelphia Times.

"You know what a rabbit is; well, a donkey is an edition de luxe of a rabbit."—Literary World. On laden feet the flies goes by; As you walk for her at the pasture bars; But oh, how sweetly she moans; When you're standing with her under the stars!

Physician—"I told you that you needed change, and here I find you at the bank as usual." Patient—"Well, isn't this the place to go; change? Where can I find more of it?"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

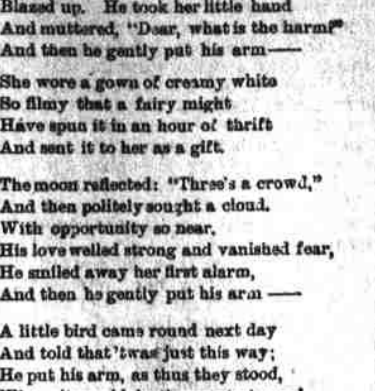

"Warm, ain't it?" said a cool man to a fussy man checking a trunk at Market street ferry the other day. "Warm!" cried the fussy man. "Look at my back! I'm perspiring like a hired man when the boss is around."—Philadelphia Record.

Owing to an ailment that is "puzzling the doctors," a Swedish patient in Milwaukee pulls up enormously about the body every night so that the clothes he wears in the daytime don't begin to fit him. He is the well evening party of the neighborhood. —Philadelphia Ledger.

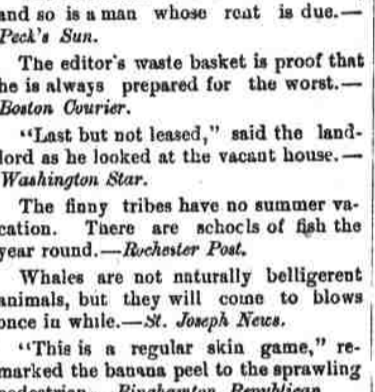

"Of the German people," he says, "at least fifty per cent. understand music; of the French not more than sixteen per cent., while among the English—the least musical of people—not more than two per cent. can be found who have any knowledge of music. Even the Americans have a higher appreciation of music than we have."—Chicago Herald.

TRAVELING THROUGH THE AIR.

How a New York Man Would Solve Aerial Navigation. C. J. Waldron, of Medina, Albany County, N. Y., has devised a means of aerial navigation based on the electric trolley system... which, with its own buoyancy, keep it elevated. The cable is strung on poles placed at regular distances according to the weight of the cable. They are placed independent of the elevations or depressions on the earth's surface...

"You bore me," said the stick of timber, wearily. "Well, I'm nearly through," answered the auger. —Chicago Tribune.
